partner about baby names?

Cupid's Advice:

Expecting a baby is one of the most joyous feelings in life, but picking the baby's name can sometimes be a battle. It will be one of the first decisions that you and your partner make together as parents. For some ways to compromise with your partner about baby names, Cupid has some advice below:

1. Hear each other out: In any relationship, it's so important that you listen to each other. You should both come up with suggestions for the baby's name and then listen to what you both came up with and why. Although you may be head over heels in love with the names that you picked, you may find that your partner came up with something that you like better.

2. Narrow it down: Before you start throwing names at each other, figure out what kind of names you both are interested in. It can be long or short names, modern or old-fashioned names, or maybe even unisex names. Whatever it is, come to an agreement and go down that path together to look for names.

3. Take your time: Finding the perfect name for your baby won't be easy, but luckily you have nine long months to narrow it down. Although you're eager to have a name for the baby, understand that you may like one name today and then like another a few months later. Sometimes naming your baby after you meet them can be more efficient because the name you picked out beforehand may not match your baby's look or personality. Understanding that nothing is final until the name is on the birth certificate is key!

This will be Jenna Dewan's second child. The celebrity parent had her first child with her heart throb co-star and ex-husband Channing Tatum. According to UsMagazine.com, Dewan's celebrity ex was crying while she was giving birth to their daughter. The Magic Mike star told the magazine, “I probably went to the bathroom four times [at the hospital] and had a crying fit. Like, I’m just like, ‘I don’t know what to do!’” Tatum later added that “seeing the one you love in pain makes you feel bad, Men are useless, but we are really useless during [the delivery process].”

In celebrity baby news, Jenna Dewan is preparing to welcome her second child – her first with Steve Kazee. What are some ways to prepare for the birth of your second child?

Cupid’s Advice:

Welcoming a little one into the world can be very time consuming and stressful if you aren’t prepared. Having your second child should be easier, right? Not exactly! Sometimes it can be easier if you have the same gender as you did previously, especially if you have a lot of baby clothes and bottles left over. Babies have a mind of their own just like humans. They can’t directly tell you how they’re feeling, but you’ll catch their drift once they start crying. The second can be tricky and different for everyone. Cupid has some tips and tricks to help you through this journey:

1. Don’t assume this will be easy: Every child and pregnancy is different. Try to keep an open mind, especially with the second child. Even though this is the second child, there’s still a lot to learn about being a parent. Also, if you aren’t the one having the child, be there for your partner.

Related Link: Parenting Advice: Plan To Fail and Be Okay With It

2. Don't compare the two children: When the baby is born, it's okay to assume who they look like and whose personality they might have. It is important that you try to not compare your children in the beginning stages of life. Yes, they might do some of the same things that older brother or sister do/did, but it's not a good habit to keep comparing the two. You want your baby to be their own person and not a younger version of your first child.

3. Relax: Everything will work out fine if you are less stressed. The baby will come and you'll be fine. Don't overthink anything or expect the worse. Just hope for a healthy and happy baby, because that's truly all that matters.

Cupid's Advice:

When your expecting a child one of the hardest decisions to make can sometimes be coming up with a name you and your partner agree on. It's an important decision, and one you cannot change once it's been made. It can often mean compromises on both sides to come to an agreement. Cupid has some advice on ways to compromise with your partner on baby names:

1. Create a list: You and your partner can begin by each creating a list of baby names that you like. Compare your list and pick out any names you both put down. From there, you can work through the names each of you like to make your decision.

2. Family names: Family names can often be a sticking point when one of you has a name you are set on passing down to your child. If one of you has a family name you really want to use consider using it as a middle name as a compromise. This way the name gets incorporated without being the name used for your child every day.

3. Find a common theme: If you are having trouble narrowing down a name, start with coming up with a theme you both agree on. Maybe you both know you want a unique name, or you can agree you want your baby to have a traditional name. It isn't the final name but it is a good starting point that can help you get there and come up with a name you can both agree on.

Not every pregnancy is planned for, but this doesn’t mean it’s not a happy occasion. Still, an unexpected pregnancy can be a lot to take in, and it can add unneeded stress if you are surprised. Cupid has some advice to deal with a surprise pregnancy:

1. Ask friends and family for help: If this isn’t your first child and you’re feeling a little overwhelmed talk to your friends and family. Let them know you’re feeling tired and ask them for help. If you just ask you may find that you have all the help you need to bring your new child into this world.

Celebrity Parents: Eva Mendes & Ryan Gosling Are Running Into Trouble Teaching Their Daughters Spanish

By Bonnie Griffin

In the latest celebrity baby news, celebrity parents Eva Mendes and Ryan Gosling are discovering that children learn the language they hear the most. According to EOnline.com, Mendes, who is Cuban, wants her children to learn Spanish, but the actress is finding that what the children are actually learning is Spanglish. Mendez told The Talk that she speaks “Spanglish, and that’s what they’re picking up. So it’s adorable, but it’s technically not a language.” Even celebrity children say the darndest things.

Even celebrity parents have issues with various parenting efforts! What are three tips for teaching your child a foreign language?

Cupid’s Advice:

Teaching children a foreign language can be difficult, but if you start when they are young and remain consistent, you can teach them to be bilingual. Cupid has some advice:

1. Start teaching them while they are young: Young children have minds that absorb knowledge like a sponge. If you teach your child both languages from the beginning, they will learn quickly. When children are first learning to really speak, typically at ages 2 to 3, they can learn words quickly, even in two languages.

2. Teach them one word at a time: While formal lessons are an option, they are not a necessity to teach your child a foreign language. Use pictures and objects to teach them one word at a time, teaching them that the object or picture can be called two different things – one in each language they are learning.

3. Communicate with them in the second language: Choose specific times throughout the day where you communicate using the second language. Another option for this method is to have one parent communicate in English while the other communicates with their child in the foreign language they are learning. Consistency is key when your child is learning another language.

Cupid's Advice:

Miscarriages bring so many emotions but it's important to remain positive. Cupid has some advice on ways to support your partner through a miscarriage:

1. Emotional support: More than anything else, emotional support is what's needed at such a sensitive time. For whatever reason, it wasn't meant to be at this time but it's nobody's fault. Playing the blame game or arguing won't help. Be there for each other and remember, it is more than okay to cry. As a couple, you both will need emotional support from each other in order to heal. Don't let this break you, remain strong! Your time will come.

2. Take some time: Just because you have a miscarriage today, don't try to get pregnant again tomorrow. Give it time! Your bodies will react to your stress and although you are trying to hold it together on the outside, your heart and mind will not be ready. Remind your partner to give yourselves time to heal physically and emotionally. Take some time to not only rest but to mourn your loss. As hard as it may be, time will heal this wound.

3. Breathe: Although it may be difficult, remind your partner to breathe. In between acting like everything's fine and random crying spurts, you have to catch your breath. When going through something as traumatic as this, sometimes you feel like you literally feel your heart breaking. It is important to remind your partner to breathe! This will all pass and when the time comes, you will have your bundle of joy. Until then, if nothing else helps, just remember to take a deep breath.
