As reported by UsMagazine.com, the singer shared a beautiful photo of herself holding her baby bump on Instagram with the caption: “We would like to share our love and happiness. We have been blessed two times over. We are incredibly grateful that our family will be growing by two, and we thank you for your well wishes. – The Carters.” Beyoncé made this celebrity baby announcement ahead of her February 12th performance at the Grammy Awards, where she leads the nominations with nine nods for her album Lemonade.

This celebrity baby news is the talk of the town! What are some ways to prepare for twins versus an individual child?

Cupid's Advice:

You have to prepare before welcoming a baby into your family – and with twins, double the babies means double the preparation. You need two cribs, two sets of clothing, twice as many diapers...the list goes on! Below, Cupid shares three ways to prep for twins versus an individual child:

1. Find a good stroller: It's important to pick out the best double stroller for your family – side-by-side, tandem, or jogger – before your babies arrive. It'll make challenging tasks like taking them to the grocery store or even on a walk around the neighborhood that much easier. Plus, it may be your saving grace if they have trouble sleeping in those first few weeks!

2. Set-up a nursery: Will your twins share a crib? Will they share a room with two cribs? Or will they each have their own room? Be smart as you decorate their room(s) and buy the essentials. You'll have to buy two of some items (like highchairs), but other things (like a changing table), they can share.

3. Arrange for help: Even with one newborn, help is essential. With two babies, you'll need all hands on deck! Make plans for your mom or mother-in-law to come stay with you soon after they're born. During that time, interview trustworthy babysitters or nannies so that you have back-up whenever you need it.

2. Hand-me-downs: The good thing about having gone through pregnancy and birth already is that you still have all your old equipment. First of all, you still have your maternity clothes, so you don't need to go shopping again. But there's also the benefit of having a crib, baby clothes that your first child grew out of, a stroller, etc. You get to save some cash when having a second child, which will be important in the long run.

3. Less parenting books, and more hands-on experience: When preparing for your first child, you spent most of your time reading pregnancy, birth and parenting books to ensure your child was healthy. However, now that you already have your first child, you've experienced what it's like to be hands on with your child. You know how to hold your baby, how to put them to sleep, and how to feed them. Hopefully, this will make you a little more at ease when you're expecting your second child.

Relationship Advice: The Baby Predicament

By Dr. Jane Greer

Former reality TV star Heidi Montag is hopeful that she'll be starting a family next year with her husband Spencer Pratt. He hasn't always been fond of the idea of fatherhood, admitting he's "baby blocking" her. However, Heidi believes she can change his mind about having a celebrity baby. This is something that many couples go through – one partner is absolutely ready to become pregnant, but the other is either not sure or is against it.

It is typical for spouses to find themselves in this predicament than to be on the exact same page at the exact same time about when to expand their twosome. Dr. Jane Greer continues with relationship advice:

There are many variations on the theme of why one or the other is not ready for the responsibility of offspring. Perhaps there is the fear that the connection the couple shares will change with the arrival of a baby, and one person might worry that the love and attention he or she gets now will shift and it could end up feeling more like a loss than a gain. Or possibly someone is concerned about being financially settled before embarking on the adventure of parenthood. Maybe it is just the looming responsibility itself that holds one partner back, and on occasion people are dealing with their own childhood experiences that might color their desire to be a parent. Or in some cases one partner has been married before, and has a child with that first spouse and might not be eager to do it again. Whatever the reason, the back and forth can begin for couples before they even become engaged, and can sometimes be a deal breaker if there is no way to reach an agreement or even leave open the possibility of it happening one day. More often than not, though, the relationship will move forward with the hope that the partner who is holding out will come around. What do you do then if you find yourself married and ready, but your spouse is not sure or still saying no?

Related Link: Reality Stars Who Found Real Love

The first thing to do is to set aside time to discuss your concerns. When you do sit down to talk this through, allow each of you to share your respective vision of your life together and the role that having children will or will not play in your future. Assuming you were up front about your desire to have a family from the beginning, it is important to remind your partner that you were clear from the get-go. Establish if this is a “not now” or a “not ever” situation. Assuming it is the first, ask your partner to describe what they are feeling and what is holding them back. Ask if their feelings have changed at all over time. See if there is anything you can do, or that you can do together, to make your spouse more comfortable with the idea.

Having this conversation with each other, and having a chance to share your honest feelings, will help to bring you together as a team so you can feel like you are on the same side rather than being opponents who want different outcomes. Talk about a timeframe that feels agreeable to both of you, and decide on a point in the future when you can either revisit the discussion or when you might be able to take first steps toward the goal of having a baby. As long as the door is open, and you know the subject hasn't been tabled forever, you will hopefully be able to avoid feeling controlled and resentful.

The objective is that by the time you reopen the discussion you will find yourselves on the same page. Only time will tell if this will be the case for Heidi and Spencer.

‘DWTS’ Pro Allison Holker on Her Celebrity Baby with Stephen “tWitch” Boss: “Carrying a Baby Around the House is the Biggest Workout!”

By Kayla Garritano

Not only have their dance careers flourished since they appeared on So You Think You Can Dance but so have their love lives. Professional dancers Allison Holker, who competed on SYTYCD during season 2, and Stephen “tWitch” Boss, who first auditioned during seasons 3 and 4, met on the famous reality TV show when they both returned as All-Stars during season 7. Three years later, in 2013, they were married, and Boss became a stepfather to Holker’s daughter Weslie.

Of course, 28-year-old Holker and 34-year-old Boss are more than just a power pair in the dance world. In our exclusive celebrity interview, the celebrity couple opened up to CupidsPulse.com about their family life and reality TV careers as well as their recent partnership with Airtime Labs.

Allison Holker and Stephen “tWitch” Boss Open Up About Celebrity Baby and Reality TV Careers

This past spring, the musically-inclined duo welcomed their first celebrity baby, son Maddox Laurel, together. It's no surprise that his big sister is relishing her new role. "She changes diapers; she does the feedings; she always wants to help," Boss says of 8-year-old Weslie. "She's been really excited about having a sibling for a very long time."

Holker and Boss announced their celebrity pregnancy live on-air during season 21 of Dancing With the Stars, where Holker was paired with singer Andy Grammer and finished in 7th place (when she was five months pregnant!). After taking time off for the birth of her son, she's back for her fourth season on the dance competition show and already in great shape. "Carrying a baby around the house is the biggest workout you could ever imagine," she jokes.

But the excitement of her return doesn't stop there: For season 23, the pro is dancing with R&B musician, singer-songwriter, and record producer Kenneth "Babyface" Edmonds. When asked about working with the iconic man, Holker shares, "I wasn't really nervous. I felt honored – I feel like I'm learning so much from him. He's so knowledgable about life and who he is."

Boss, on the other hand, was ecstatic to hear the news, saying, "I grew up on him!"

As fans know, Boss has quite a history with SYTYCD. After he finished as the runner-up during season 4, he returned during season 5 to perform the Emmy-nominated piece "Mercy" that he danced the year before. He was a frequent All-Star during seasons 7 through 9 and performed many memorable dance routines. Then, during season 12, he served as Team Captain for “Team Street.”

Most recently, Boss made an appearance as a guest judge on the latest season of SYTYCD, which is mixing things up by featuring young dancers between the ages of 8 and 13. “When they first announced it, I wasn’t completely on board. Switching formats so drastically, I didn’t know how to feel about it,” he explains when asked about So You Think You Can Dance: The Next Generation. “But then, after watching an episode, getting to know the contestants, getting to see the dances, and – when I was a judge – seeing it live and getting a dose of their personalities, I was like, ‘Wow, this makes a lot of sense.’”

Keeping busy, the reality TV star who makes regular appearances on The Ellen Show, is developing an exercise/dance fitness program, and is continuing to attend dance auditions. As he puts it, he is “waiting to create the next opportunity, whatever that may be.”

Celebrity Couple Partners with Airtime Labs

For Holker and Boss, it was a no-brainer to partner with Airtime Labs, a mobile telecommunication solutions company that strives to find affordable and safe technology options for families by offering monthly phone and tablet plans for children and teens. The celebrity couple will inform and educate parents about the company’s flexible mobile services and inexpensive devices. By providing their children with their own phones and/or tablets, parents can teach them responsibility but still monitor their usage.

This celebrity couple is already using Airtime Labs for their daughter. “It’s family-based. It’s about connecting better. Not only were we able to get Weslie a phone, but we were able to teach her how to use it,” Boss explains. “We are still able to monitor what websites she’s going to and how she spends most of her time on the phone, whether it’s playing games or watching YouTube videos. That made me feel better about getting her a phone.”

Chiming in, Holker adds that she wanted their daughter to have a phone but with a fair amount of supervision. “I wanted her to be able to reach out to me, but she can’t just be on her phone all day,” she shares.

By Stephanie Sacco

There's a celebrity baby on board for Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green! The celebrity couple now have three little ones of their own. According to UsMagazine.com, they named their newborn baby boy, Journey River Green. This celebrity news surrounding Fox and motherhood was discussed on Chelsea Handler's Netflix show, Chelsea. Fox said, "I knew I was always going to be a mother; I felt like that was always a big part of my path." Followed by, "But I never knew I was going to have three in such rapid succession." Fox and Green filed for divorced last year, but have put things on hold for family life.

There's another celebrity baby in the mix for Megan and Brian! What do you do if you find yourself pregnant and in the midst of a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancy can cause a shift in a relationship, and it's not always positive. It's one thing when you decide to have a child together, but when you realize you're pregnant in the midst of a split, it can get dicey. Cupid is here to help:

1. Communicate: Weigh your options with your partner (or ex-partner) and decide how best to handle it. Raising a child together is a big step, especially if you aren't on the best terms. Understand that you have other options, but don't make any decisions without them.

2. Make it work: Divorced parents and separated families make it work all the time. It isn't the easiest solution, but sometimes it's all you can do. Just try to be civil toward them for your kids and act accordingly in order to provide for them.

3. Single parenting: If the situation is really bad and you can't bear to be anywhere near your ex, try raising the child on your own. The idea of a bad father being in the picture isn't good for anybody. With the help of your family, you can definitely have a strong support system without him.

Fingers crossed that this famous family gets reunited soon!

This celebrity news is very unfortunate. What are some ways to know if you're ready to have a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

Children are a blessing. Although babies can bring joy, some couples simply just aren't ready to have them. Let Cupid help you determine if you're ready for parenthood before you actually get pregnant:

1. Available: Babies require a lot of time, care, and patience. Evaluate your schedule and goals to see if you can take care of another life besides your own, just like Money did in this celebrity news. Whether you're focused on your career or trying to figure out what to do with your life you need to be honest with yourself about having the time to devote yourself to this baby.

2. Educate yourself: You'll never know if children are for you if you don't educate yourself on the topic. Take time to research what it's like to have a baby and what they need. Or if you're a hands-on learner, assist someone you know in caring for their baby. This will be the best way for you to see if you're ready to have one of your own.

3. See your doctor: Whether you think you're ready for a baby or not, you should consult your doctor if you're around child-bearing age. Your doctor will be the best resource in helping you plan accordingly. Remember that your health should always be the top priority before bringing another life into this world.

Courtney Stodden Suffers Miscarriage of Celebrity Baby

By Nicole Caico

Celebrity couple Courtney Stodden and Doug Hutchison are coping with the loss of their unborn celebrity baby. Stodden, 21, recently confirmed that she was expecting in May. According to UsMagazine.com, Stodden's rep put out a statement addressing the miscarriage on July 17, saying, "It is with a heavy heart to inform you that last week Courtney Stodden suffered a heartbreaking miscarriage. Courtney and her husband, Doug, are at an emotional loss for words and are using this time to grieve with their close family and friends.”

Courtney Stodden is broken hearted over the loss of her celebrity baby. What are some ways to support a mother who has experienced loss?

Cupid's Advice:

It is no secret that miscarrying is emotionally traumatic for an expecting mother or couple. Unfortunately, there is no way to change the situation, but supporting a woman or couple going through this experience can make a difference:

1. Share stories: Miscarriages are more common than many people know, and even though many women do not talk about their miscarriages, there is still a stigma. In order to help a mother who has experienced this loss, have other women share their experiences with miscarriages. Whether you read stories online together or have friends and family talk about it, sharing this information should help her realize that her miscarriage is not her fault, and that she is not alone.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple Rob Kardashian & Blac Chyna Tease New Reality TV Show with Instagram Post

2. Don't dwell: It is extremely important to acknowledge and talk about the emotional pain that your friend or family member is going through after this loss, but do not harp on it. Let her start the conversation. You won't know if she is ready to tell you about it, or if she can emotionally handle talking about it, unless she starts the conversation.

Constantly revisiting the topic might make her feel worse.

3. Look toward the future: A miscarriage does not mean the end of hope for parenthood. Encouraging this woman or couple to continue hoping for the baby they've always wanted will hopefully lift their spirits. Remind them that this loss is not a failure and that they should continue looking forward.

Mick Jagger has had no lack of celebrity babies in his day! What are some ways to streamline care giving for multiple kids?

Cupid's Advice:

Baby fever is a real thing. Having multiple babies is popular in this day and age, but that requires a lot of tender love and care. Cupid is here to help:

1. Hand-me-downs: Hold onto everything that you used and needed for your first baby. It'll be easier if you have a head start on supplies. You'll find that it's one less thing to worry about as your oldest kids grow out of their belongings.
