Celebrity News: Pregnant Holly Madison Talks Celebrity Baby No. 2

By E!

News

Holly Madison is all about moving onward and upward. According to E! News, the pregnant star has been quite the busy bee between preparing for her second celebrity baby with hubby Pasquale Rotella and releasing her latest book The Vegas Diaries, but Madison was able to sit down with E! News' Maria Menounos and Jason Kennedy to chat about everything going on in her life—including that ongoing feud with former Girls Next Door co-star Kendra Wilkinson-Baskett. But first, babies. In latest celebrity news, Madison, who is expecting a baby boy very soon, tells us that she and Rotella are still trying to decide on a name for their little one. "My husband and I are still debating. We're kind of waiting for that last-minute epiphany for a name we really love." The couple's 2-year-old daughter Rainbow Aurora is also anticipating her little brother's arrival, even if she wasn't exactly stoked about the news at first. "She's ready. When she first heard she was having a brother, she was like, 'No, I want a sister.' But now she's kinda come around and she's happy about having a brother." LOL!

Madison has always been very candid about her life with the public, from her time in the Playboy mansion to her books and family life, and when it comes to sharing her stories with her children, she's grateful that she has a way for them to know her entire story.

"I think that's the great thing about having the books. If for some reason I'm not around, they can have those stories there and know why I made the decisions I made, and what I learned from my mistakes and different things like that," she tells us. "I think it's about age-appropriateness too, so I'll play that by ear."

One thing she'll definitely be able to share with her children is the need to let go of worrying about everyone else, something she tells E! News would be her advice to her younger self.

"I would just tell myself to be more confident and not worry about constantly pleasing other people or being scared of what other people are gonna think because I feel like I lived so much of my life in fear of other people's opinions and what other people were gonna think about me that it held me back from moving forward for so long."

Madison touched on a bit of that in her latest book, which focuses on her life after leaving the mansion and ending her long-term relationship with Hugh Hefner.

“It was really when I got to know myself and it was my journey. It ends right before I meet my husband in real life. And I think my biggest lesson I learned was that we spend so much time looking for that other perfect person when we should really be looking for ourselves.”

Holly has also been recently targeted by former co-star Kendra, who took to Twitter to say some vulgar things about Madison (which she later deleted), and while the author could go on attack to defend herself, she’s just choosing not to.

“I don’t necessarily wanna clear things up specifically because I wrote my story about my time in the mansion and that’s there for everybody to read and it speaks for itself,” Madison tells E! News of the Kendra debacle. “And as far as any ongoing feuds, it’s just not something I engage in because some people wanna drag it on forever and I’ve moved on.”

However, Holly admits that Kendra’s remarks were “definitely hurtful. It got to the point where I know I can say just as mean things about her, but why would I want to?”

Cupid's Advice:

There are many things that set celebrity couples apart from normal couples, but parenthood is one aspect that does not discriminate. Whether you're famous or not, welcoming a baby is life changing and, not to mention, a little difficult:

1. Should have, could have, would have: Make a list of any items you wish you had had with baby number one, and make sure to go out and get them. Now, awaiting the arrival of your second bundle of joy, it's your opportunity to perfect your mom-skills—or at least stock up on diapers.

2. Hand-me-downs: Sift through all the baby items you were given or had bought for your first baby, and see if anything is salvageable for baby number two. This might save you and your significant other time and money in the way of baby-prep. Anything from bibs to furniture can be considered fair game for reuse. This will be especially easy if your are expecting a baby of the same gender.

3. Communicate: This is the golden rule for any change in a relationship. Welcoming one baby is life changing, and welcoming a second even more. The routine you've adjusted to as parents of one may have to change a lot depending on the age of your first born. To really prepare your relationship for a second child, it is important to share fears and excitement. Go in with a game plan that fits your family dynamic, and baby number 2 will be a breeze.

Cupid's Advice:

It is a huge decision to have one baby, let alone a second. You have to weigh the pros and cons and discuss it heavily with your partner. Cupid is here to help:

1. When your body is ready: You have to make sure that you're in good health to have another baby. Don't jump into it if you're still recovering from baby number one. There is time to make this decision, so really think it through.

2. When your partner is ready: Having a baby isn't only your decision, but also your partner's. Be sure to discuss it thoroughly with them so that you're on the same page. If they aren't ready, you aren't ready.

This celebrity baby news is lacking in details! What are some ways to announce details about your new baby to friends and family in bulk?

Cupid's Advice:

Celebrity couple Seth Meyers and his wife Alexi were excited to announce their first celebrity baby, but telling everyone the big news can be a bit overwhelming. Cupid has some helpful advice for this life-changing time:

1. Use social media: We all know it can look a tad tacky to announce anything overly personal via Facebook and Instagram, but when it comes to big news like a new baby, it's important to let your friends and family know. The easiest way to do this is by posting a status on Facebook, after telling your closest relatives and friends. You can make it as creative as you want!

2. Have your friends help: Having a child can be exhausting! Repeating the details to each and every friend and relative is the last thing on your mind, so ask one of your most talkative friends to spread the word. Hand them your contact list and have them make calls, send emails, and text everyone. They'll enjoy telling the story, your friends will be happy to hear the news, and you'll be spending time with your new baby.

3. Have a party: Sometimes the simplest way to tell everyone the same story is by inviting them all over. Whether you make it a small get-together and discuss baby details over brunch, or you have a huge party at night with everyone at your house. You can tell the story once and not worry about repeating it throughout the week. Also, your friends and family will be super excited to meet the new baby!

There's more happy celebrity baby news in Hollywood! What are some ways to compromise with your partner when it comes to naming your child?

Cupid's Advice:

Naming your child is exciting, but it can also be aggravating. There's a possibility that you and your partner may not agree on a name. However, Cupid has some advice to help you compromise with your partner when it comes to naming your child:

1. Ask questions and listen: Instead of telling your partner what to name the child, start to asking question to get their point of view on something. Ask your partner what is it that they really want. When they are ready to answer your questions and tell you, listen. Don't assume you know the answer; be open.

2. Be a team player: Approach the situation as a team player. Instead of blaming each other, solve the problem as a team. For instance, make a list of baby names you each like, and then swap that list to cross off any names of which you disapprove.

Related Link: Ne-Yo: Soon to Be Daddy

3. Be open-minded: Learn how to step out of your comfort zone and see your partner's perspective on things. Naming your baby is a touchy topic and can be emotional to discuss. Imagine how you'd feel if you had your heart set on a name and your partner shot it down. Baby names are usually tied up with one's identity, and when rejected by a partner, it feels like a personal rejection. Be conscious of your partner's feelings when figuring out a name for your baby.
