"Justin had friends with him but they all left and Justin and Baskin were alone together for the night." We wonder what Gomez has to say about this.

Was their break an actual celebrity break-up?

In celebrity news, we're wondering if Jelena is old news. What are some ways to know you're ready to move on after a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Moving on from a past relationship can be hard. However, when it's done, it's done, and you have to move on. Cupid has some ideas on how to know when it's time to not look back and carry on from a former relationship:

1. There is no future with the relationship: If you no longer see a future with an ex flame, it's time to ditch them and move on. If you know this valuable piece of information, then you're just waiting for the inevitable at this point. Why waste more time on the relationship when you can spend that time moving on and actually doing things that will benefit the future you have without that person?

2. The other person has moved on: If your ex has moved on, then it is probably safe to say that you should too. It may hurt to see them with someone else, but things happen for a reason. Don't let seeing them with someone else throw you into a jealous fit. Instead, take it with a grain of salt, and move on.

3. You're worn out: Relationships can be tiresome. However, if you feel absolutely drained, this could be a sign that it's time to move on. You can only try so hard and oh so much. If you gave it your best shot, that's what matters. If your relationship still doesn't work after all your efforts, you may be seeing a dead end, and so it is time to carry on without your ex.

Donald Trump Jr.'s celebrity break-up may have something to do with his infidelity. What are some signs that your partner is being unfaithful?

Cupid's Advice:

If things have just not been the same lately between you and your partner, there may be something sneaky occurring. Don't jump to conclusions, as we all have a tendency to do. But, if you notice any of these signs, sit down with your partner and have a mature conversation about the thoughts you are having. Here are some signs that indicate that your partner may be cheating:

1. Intimacy has halted: It is normal during long-time relationships that the intimacy between you two may slow down at points. If it has completely stopped and when you try to get close to your partner they back away constantly, then that is a red flag.

2. Constant private phone usage: If out of the blue your partner starts to use their phone a lot more often in a very private manner, then that is a little fishy. If your partner has always been a big phone user, then maybe it is normal. Ask them if they have something going on at work or another occurrence that may be causing them to use their phone instead of spending time with you.

By

Jessica Gomez

We get along very well, it's just there's a little something missing and you can't really pinpoint what it is. That's just how I feel." Wendt confirmed, saying, "I feel like that's normal and I feel like you get those connections all the time where if you take away our outside world and just put Ashley and me on an island together, we'd probably get along really well. And that's what Vermont was."

This celebrity break-up happened after a very short relationship. What are some ways to know your relationship doesn't have longevity early on?

Cupid's Advice:

For the most part, we want the relationships we enter to last. Sometimes there are signs to look out for to tell if the relationship is most likely going to hit a dead end down the line. Cupid has a few red flags to share, get ready for some relationship advice:

1. Lack of trust: Trust is built overtime, but if there is no amount of trust, then the relationship will likely end soon. Trust is essential and can make or break a relationship. Consider the following: do you not trust them because of your own issues or actually because of them? Sometimes we have trouble trusting people, not because of what they do or the way they are, but because of what we've been through before them. This is something to consider before you go crazy over not trusting them, and thinking your relationship won't last. However, at the end, you need to learn to trust those who have earned it.

2. You can't agree on anything: There are certain things you should be agreeing on. It's okay to have differences in opinion, but if you can't agree on things like goals and the future, then this is a red flag. There should be some similarities when it comes to the important stuff. To add on, when disagreeing on things, the situation shouldn't get out of hand. You should be able to approach and get through the conversation calmly, not always ending in a fight— so this is something else to also look out for.

3. Commitment issues: The inability to fully commit to you and the relationship is an obvious red flag. But that is not the only thing we mean when we say commitment issues. There are other things to look out for. If you notice that your partner in general has an inability to commit to things, then that's a possible red flag that you guys won't work out. In a successful relationship, we need consistency and devotion. If your partner isn't dedicated, responsible, or is unable to pull through with their obligations, then it's a definite bad sign. We need someone we can count on at the end of the day.

Celebrity Divorce: Vanessa Trump Files for Divorce from

Donald Trump Jr.

By

Jessica DeRubbo

It looks like Vanessa and Donald Trump Jr. are calling it quits on their marriage. According to EOnline.com, Vanessa filed for a celebrity divorce on Thursday in Manhattan Supreme Court. The celebrity couple have been married for 12 years and share five children. Since she filed for an uncontested proceeding, it looks like there more than likely won't be a custody battle. Donald Trump Jr. married Vanessa in 2005 at President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago estate in Palm Beach, FL. The President reportedly played matchmaker for the duo, as he introduced his eldest son to the model at a fashion show in 2003.

This celebrity divorce is very unfortunate for the pair's five children. What are some important factors to consider regarding your children during a split or divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Divorces and/or splits are never fun for anyone involved, but sometimes it has the most lasting effects on kids. Cupid has some things to consider:

1. Always be open and honest with your kids: There's nothing worse than lying to your children, even if they're little white lies, because eventually the truth will come out. Sure, you don't necessarily want to air your dirty laundry about issues you have with your significant other with your kids, but try to be as straightforward as possible when letting them know about your split and the ramifications of it. They'll appreciate it in the end.

3. Listen to what your children are saying: Make sure to keep open lines of communication with your kids during this trying time. It's important that they feel they can talk to both you and your significant other and can ask any questions on their

By

Jessica Gomez

In celebrity news, celebrity couple Justin Bieber and Selena Gomez put their relationship on hold due to her family's disapproval of Bieber, according to UsMagazine.com. "Selena and Justin decided to take a break mainly because of Selena's mom and her disapproval of Justin," a source said. "Justin's family loves Selena, but Selena's family has put her in a very conflicting spot because they still don't trust Justin. Selena has tried to convince her family that Justin has changed ... but her family just isn't budging right now." Because Gomez's relationship with Mommy Dearest was affected after she got back with Bieber, there is tons of pressure and negativity in the air. "It's been hard for her because she is super close with her mom. Her mom was her rock when she was having her health complications," the source added. "Justin and Selena decided to take a break to give her family some more time to heal and take in the idea of her and Justin being a couple again." As if that's not enough, Bieber "doesn't care about anyone but himself," another source said. "The second she saw it, she walked away, especially now with her health. She knows she doesn't need him." Let's see what happens in this messy situation.

This celebrity break-up is said to be sparked by Selena's mom. What are some ways to deal with a parent who doesn't like your significant other?

Cupid's Advice:

Being with and loving someone who your fam does not approve of can be stressful and just plain hard. Cupid has some love advice on things to consider and ow to deal with a parent not liking your partner:

1. Consider if your partner is worth the fight: This may sound harsh, but if you're close to your family, you have to evaluate this. Is this person for right now or are you guys both thinking long-term? You have to assess the seriousness of your relationship before you go jumping through hoops for a person that may not be there in the not-so-distant future.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Justin Bieber Celebrates 24th Birthday Without Selena Gomez

2. Communicate with your family and partner: If you're serious about your partner, then you have to talk with both parties about the situation. First talk to your fam. Express to them your feelings about the person and relationship, and don't forget to include how the disapproval is affecting you. Do the same with your partner –discuss your feelings about them and your family, along with the way their disapproval of them is affecting you and your relationship. Sometimes it will take more than communicating, but communicating constantly is important.

3. Take some time apart if needed: This may not work for everyone, but it may work for Selena Gomez and Justin Bieber, we'll see. Taking a break isn't ideal for every relationship, so you must know if it is something that is convenient and can help yours. Taking time apart may show your family that you really care about their opinions and it can even show them how you are affected by not being with your partner. This should not be taken as a sign of submission, but as a way to cope in the meantime.

There's a celebrity wedding in the works, but not the one we thought! What are some ways to make up your mind if you're torn between dating two people?

Cupid's Advice:

The universe works in mysterious ways and sometimes two important people will come into your life all at once. It can be difficult to decide who you truly want to be with! Fortunately, Cupid has some tips on how to decide who to date:

1. Make a list: Yes, the old-fashioned pros and cons list. Sit down and deeply ponder what each of these people have to offer. How do they make you feel? Who do you get more excited to see? Do you have similar plans for the future? Take time to really think about it and you can even try to spend two consecutive days with each of them to explore the best qualities in each.

Rumors are stirring about a potential celebrity break-up. What are some ways to decrease break-up speculation?

Cupid's Advice:

People have a tendency to be nosy. They may begin to assume things in regards to your relationship if there are notable changes on social media, or in person. Whether these changes have any truth to them, it can be annoying to have people constantly discussing these rumors. Luckily, Cupid is here with some advice on how to decrease this talk:

1. Be honest: If you don't mind people knowing the truth, then share your break-up right after it occurs. This will stop people from formulating their own conclusions as to if you and your partner have broken up and why. Let people know about your break-up, and give them an explanation to the extent at which you feel comfortable so that further rumors don't begin to arise regarding the reasons why.

2. Delete social media: After your break-up, you may want to take a break from social media anyway. Also, if you temporarily delete your social media during this time, it will decrease speculation that can form from people analyzing who you are following, who is liking your pictures, and such. Sometimes it's nice to take a break from it all.

3. Be yourself: The number one reason why break-up speculation arises is because people notice changes in individual's personalities. If you and your partner actually did not break-up but you are just going through some other personal changes, let your friends and family know so that they don't assume otherwise. If you and your partner did break-up but you don't want people to know yet, try your best to still act like yourself so speculation doesn't occur.

Cherish the moments that you did get to share together and be thankful for that wonderful time. Here are some common reasons that a pair may separate after being together for a long time:

3. Keep intimate facts to yourself: Even if the word of your break-up does get released when you were trying to keep it a secret, you can still decrease the false information that is out there by refraining from revealing intimate details regarding the break-up. You don't need to explain to anyone the reason why you broke up if you don't want you. Keep it short and simple, and just let people know that it is over, but that everything is okay.

Celebrity Break-Up: Sarah Silverman Announces Split from Michael Sheen On His Birthday

By

Carly Horowitz

According to UsMagazine.com, Sarah Silverman announced her celebrity break-up from Michael Sheen on his birthday without realizing the unfortunate timing. Comedian Silverman was able to make light of the situation as she took to Twitter to reveal what she did: “The joke here is I just realized I posted our breakup tweet on his actual birthday and I can’t believe what a dick I am,” she wrote. “Can u believe it?? He said I wasn’t THOUGHTFUL. Jerk... Anyway, Happy Birthday, Michael...” This former celebrity couple dated for almost four years.

After four years, Sarah and Michael experienced a celebrity break-up. What are some ways to know it’s time to give up on a long-term relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Sometimes you can get so secure in a long-term relationship that it just seems easier to stay with your partner because it is comfortable. But even relationships that have lasted long may be due for a split. How do you know when? Cupid is here with some advice on how to know if your relationship may be ready for a change:

1. You only communicate when you have to: If you are in a long-term relationship, it may seem as if you already know so much about your partner. You may lose that curiosity that was fluttering in the beginning of your relationship. Therefore, you only talk to them when necessary. If you realize this is happening, you can work to change it, but if it feels too forced, that’s when you know.

2. Time with each other is scarce: In relation to the point mentioned above, sometimes you can get so close to your partner that you stop going out of your way to make time for cute dates and just special time together in general. Again, you can work to change this, but you need to make sure that your partner is in on it, too. Be open and communicative, and make the effort if you feel as if your relationship is worth saving.

3. You're just not happy: It is painful when you really do love your partner but you are just not happy in your relationship anymore. It takes maturity to realize this. If you discern that you are simply not happy anymore, bring it up to your partner and see if they are on board for making changes in your relationship. Although, sometimes the best change of all is to take time for yourself and realize your true capabilities outside of this long-term relationship.

Celebrity Break-Ups: Jennifer Meyer Says Tobey Maguire Is the 'Greatest Ex-Husband'

By

Carly Horowitz

In latest celebrity news, Jennifer Meyer classifies her celebrity ex Tobey Maguire as her “best friend”. According to UsMagazine.com, this celebrity break-up worked out as well as can be expected, as the couple really put their children first. After being together for nine years and having two children together, daughter Ruby, 11, and son Otis, 9, Meyer and Maguire have seemingly cracked the code to healthy celebrity break-ups.

This celebrity break-up didn't leave any hard feelings. What are some ways to build a friendship with your ex after a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

It takes a good amount of maturity and open-mindedness to be able to co-exist with your ex in a healthy manner without any hard feelings. It's so important to make it work for your kids, and getting along helps with the process. Even if you don't share children together, it is still possible to build a friendship with your ex after a break-up. Cupid has some advice:

1. Don't doubt the break-up: If you are going to commit to being friends with your ex, then that is exactly what you have to do. Get it through your mind that this is no longer a person that you look at in a romantic way. They are your friend. With that said, you both may need some mourning time before you begin to form a friendship. Allow that time for yourselves before forcing things. Once you do venture down the path of friendship, try not to get so close that you begin to doubt that you broke-up in the first place. If it is meant to be, it will be, and you can make that judgement call along the way. That being said, try to stick to just being friends again at first.

2. Accept the new relationship: Don't go into the friendship with your ex with the same expectations that you had when you were in a relationship with them. It is going to be different. You won't spend as much time together and the way you interact is going to be altered. Don't get hung up on the past and long for that relationship. Rather, embrace this new pleasant friendship that you have formed.

3. Go into it with a positive attitude: This is the key for everything. If you keep your mind focused on the fact that you are excited to have this healthy new friendship with your ex, then that is what will occur. If you litter your mind with doubt that this won't work out or you feed into the disapproving thoughts of others, you will become consumed with looking for a reason to make it not work. Stay positive!

Celebrity Break-Up: 'Vanderpump Rules' Star Sheana Marie & Robert Valletta 'Kind of Broke Up'

By

Ashleigh Underwood

Celebrity couple Sheana Marie and Robert Valletta are in the midst of a celebrity break-up...or are they? According to UsMagazine.com the couple announced their split via an Instagram comment section. A fan asked Valletta where his “beautiful girlfriend” was, and Valletta responded with “sadly we broke up, we are still amazing friends and we adore each other. We will see what happens.” However, it seems as though the the pair are still on, since they have been on several dates since then. While this celebrity relationship is in a tricky spot, they continue to have hopes of working things out and are still planning a future together.

There may have been a celebrity break-up in Hollywood, but we're not quite sure. What are some reasons to avoid being wishy washy about your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Not knowing what you want or where you want to be in your relationship can cause a lot of issues within yourself and your relationship. Here are a few more reasons to avoid being wishy washy in your relationship:

1. It can be confusing: If you are on the fence about your relationship, your partner could easily get confused. If there are at a certain level in the relationship that you're not at yet, they may not understand what is going on. They may begin to wonder if you are as committed as they are or if you really want to be with them. It is best to make up your mind about them and communicate it clearly.

2. Feelings are at risk: If your partner feels that you both are on the same page when it comes to your romance but you are really several steps behind them, their entire world will apart when they figure it out. When you are wishy washy about your relationship, you are easily leading on your partner unless you make it clear that you are unsure. This way, they will not be blind sided by your feelings and they can adjust their expectations in the relationship.

3. You might settle: Sometimes, when we are unsure about something, we settle with what we have instead of making a hard choice. If this happens in a relationship, you will regret always. Instead of being comfortable with your indifference, make the decision. If you think that this relationship is the one you want, go for it. If you can't see yourself with your partner in the future, end it now.

After being engaged for several months, the couple announced their split in August and embraced single life. In a recent celebrity interview, Viall finally opened up about being single. This celebrity break-up talk has us feeling bad for this Bachelor. What are some ways to embrace the single Life after a split?

Cupid's Pulse:

Break-ups are always tough and can be hard to handle. While there is no magic cure to the pain of heartbreak, here are a few ways to embrace single life:

1. Focus on you: There is no better time to spoil yourself and learn about who you are, than when you are single. When you become single, you are flooded with a large amount of free time. This can be overwhelming and disheartening if you don't know how to fill that time. So, instead, spend this time trying new things and learning about yourself.

2. Be with your friends: Being in a relationship sometimes means that you have less time to be with your friends. When you are single though, you have endless time to be with your friends and catch up. They are the ones who will carry you through this break up and stand by your side no matter what. So, take this time to be with your squad and live it up.

1. Try to make it positive: We know it's easier said than done, but try looking at the break-up in the most positive way possible. Commend yourself for getting this far and keep it moving.

I'm not afraid to say that," Viall admitted at the Wrangler by Peter Max line debut party. According to UsMagazine.com, he wants to stay friends with Grimaldi, despite the difficulty of the separation.

This celebrity break-up really wasn't that shocking. What are some ways to know you're not a good match with someone?

Cupid's Advice:

Heartbreak is real, but it comes as a result of realizing the person you're dating just isn't for you. If you're wondering whether or not your partner is a good match, check out some of Cupid's advice below:

1. Differences and similarities: Although they say opposites attract, there is such a thing as too many differences. If it gets to a point where you realize that the differences between you two are starting to take a toll on your relationship (and result in frequent arguments), it might be a sign that you're not the best match. Differences in morals, attitudes, and personalities can be an on-going conflict in relationships, so make sure to pay attention.

2. Comfort level: Ideally, you would like to feel completely comfortable around your significant other, right? But... what if this isn't the case, and you can't imagine yourself ever getting particularly comfortable around them? This would be a cause for concern. Your partner should be someone that never judges you, so if you feel like this isn't the case, it may be something you need to think about.

3. Think forward: Do you see yourself having a future with this person? If you are dating seriously, it's important to think forward about whether or not you think things will last. If they have qualities that you personally don't want in a longterm partner, this could be a sign that you two aren't a great match. Although it's fun to casually date as well, you need to keep in mind what you would like to get out of the relationship.

1. You've ended on good terms: There's a good chance you ended your relationship on good terms if your ex is willing to spread the news about your split. Celebrity Break-Up: Anna Faris Opens Up About Split from Chris Pratt

By

Melissa Lee

Earlier in the week, former Hollywood celebrity couple Anna Faris and Chris Pratt announced that they were separating from one another. Though the news was revealed via social media, Faris finally broke her silence after opening up on her podcast, Unqualified. She offered relationship advice to one heartbroken listener, eventually hinting at her own situation with Pratt. People.com reported that Faris found herself feeling lost in relationships, explaining that one should always know their worth and independence.

This celebrity break-up has left Hollywood shocked and sad. What are some factors to consider when it comes to independence in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

After eight years of marriage, coming to terms with divorce must have been a hard pill to swallow for both Anna and Chris. It seems like a lot of the issues stemmed from Anna's struggle to understand her independence in the relationship. If this situation sounds familiar to you, head below to read some of Cupid's tips:

1. Try not to lose yourself: In serious relationships, it can become increasingly difficult not to lose sight of the person you are at heart. At times, we may find ourselves changing our likes and dislikes (among other things) simply due to our partner. While there's nothing wrong with change, you should always remember who you are. You should know your boundaries, in addition to knowing when you've changed too much. At the end of the day, you should always recognize the person you are.

2. Do things on your own: Going out to eat, trips to the super market, and walks in the park are always fun to do with your sweetheart, but that doesn't mean you should do everything with them. If you are constantly performing tasks and going places with your partner – and find yourself having difficulty doing the same things by yourself – you may be losing your independence as a human being. While it's enjoyable to have company when doing mundane tasks, you should still be taking the time to embrace your independence by doing things on your own as well.

3. Never stop working on yourself: A common misconception is that it's harder to grow as a person when you are in a relationship. This can be true at times, but that's usually because you're not putting the work in. Regardless of the relationship you find yourself in, you should never stop working on yourself. You should always take the time to do beneficial things for yourself, along with putting yourself first every now and then.

By

Melissa Lee

In Bachelor Nation news, Josh Murray claims that he's unbothered by his ex Amanda Stanton's current romance with Bachelor In Paradise co-star Robby Hayes. Stanton and Murray were engaged before their celebrity break-up in December 2016 after a string of events that caused the relationship to become toxic and unhealthy. According to UsMagazine.com, Murray moved on awhile ago. "I'm dating, I'm doing a lot of things, and I wish them nothing but the best."

Josh Murray isn't jealous his celebrity ex is dating someone new; quite the opposite! What are some ways to deal with your ex moving on with someone new?

Cupid's Advice:

Break-ups are already tough enough, but things can get even harder when your ex has officially moved on. If you have found yourself in a similar situation, check out some of Cupid's advice to get you through it:

1. Accept it: It's harsh, but the first thing you have to do is accept the fact that your former lover has moved on. Understand that this is most likely for the best so you can do the exact same thing. Use this as an opportunity to rid yourself of any lingering feelings, and move forward with your own life.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple News: 'Bachelor In Paradise' Star Amanda Stanton Opens Up About Dating Robby Hayes

2. Focus on yourself: While it may be difficult to ignore the thoughts surrounding your ex's new relationship, use it as fuel to work on yourself. Give yourself a makeover, change your hair, or do something you've always wanted to do. Tasks like this can slowly contribute to better self esteem, and you'll feel great about all the things you've done for yourself instead of focusing on the negative.

3. Meet new people: Lastly, do the same exact thing your ex is doing – move on! If you're not ready to start going on dates and looking for a new relationship, take small steps by meeting new people and just having fun. There's no pressure to start a brand new relationship (in fact, you should only go at the pace you're comfortable with), but there's nothing wrong with embracing your new found single life.
