Celebrity Exes: Scarlett Johansson Attends Event with Romain Dauriac Amid Divorce

By

Noelle Downey

Former celebrity couple Scarlett Johansson and Romain Dauriac were spotted out together on April 5th, less than a month after Johansson had officially filed for divorce from Dauriac. While there's no doubt this must be a troublesome time for both of them, according to UsMagazine.com, these celebrity exes seem at peace with their decision to separate, and remained amicable throughout the night as they sipped on cocktails and admired the art at 53W53 Gallery in NYC. Despite Dauriac's lawyer recently stating that there would be a custody battle in this celebrity divorce over the couple's now two year old daughter, Rose, both Johansson and Dauriac seem determined to remain civil, even posing for photographs together throughout the night despite their conspicuously bare ring fingers.

It seems these celebrity exes are absolutely amicable! What are some ways to keep the drama out of your divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

In a celebrity break-up, just like any other, there's bound to be some conflict and crushed feelings. But just like these sensible stars, there's no need to bring that angst into the public eye. Here are Cupid's top three tips for keeping your divorce cordial and calm:

1. Define your boundaries: In an early statement to the press about her impending divorce, Johansson clarified, "I would only like to say that I will never, ever be commenting on the dissolution of my marriage. Out of respect for my desires as a parent and out of respect for all working moms, it is with kindness that I ask other parties involved... to do the same." Just like this celebrity parent, be careful who you choose to divulge the dirty details of your divorce to. While confiding in close friends and confidants is healthy, don't be afraid to tell someone when they're prying into your personal business – and let them know, firmly and kindly, that your divorce is between you, your family and your lawyers.

2. Form a friendly truce with your ex: Just like Johansson and former flame Dauriac, it's possible to be able to associate casually with your ex even when tensions are high. By forming a working friendship, these celebrity co-parents are presenting a united front to the world despite their recent separation, which will help them in future negotiations, especially over their daughter, Rose. Try doing the same with your ex to ease the stress of separation.

3. Focus on what really matters: Whether that's your child's happiness, your own personal mental and physical health or making sure that you and your ex can remain on friendly terms even after the divorce is finalized, prioritize what really matters, and try not to get caught up in petty squabbles over things that don't. While it can be tempting to lash out at your ex for hurting you, remember that in the end, focusing on the most important things will help you heal faster and adjust more quickly to this life change.

Relationship Advice: Prepare for Unexpected Love Like Blake Shelton & Gwen Stefani

By Dr.

Jane Greer

Country star Blake Shelton revealed that his current love, Gwen Stefani, was “the last person” who he expected to have his back after his celebrity divorce from Miranda Lambert. They've only been a celebrity couple for six months, but already he's crazy about her. This is a great example of a couple finding love when they least expect it. Sometimes when you aren't actively looking for it to happen is exactly when love may find you.

These pieces of relationship advice will dive into the unexpected love found between celebrity couple Blake Shelton and Gwen Stefani.

When you are getting over a betrayal or heartbreak, as both Blake and Gwen were after their respective marriages ended, it is hard to imagine yourself in another relationship. At that point, the last thing you want to do is take a chance and risk being wounded again by someone else. But if you can trust yourself in turning to someone who is supportive and there for you, not only can you start anew, but it's even possible that a new romance could blossom.

It can be difficult to talk about what you've been through and share your pain with a friend. A lot of times people want to shut down, and are not always comfortable reaching out and asking for support. They might feel embarrassed, humiliated, or unsure about trusting that the friend won't gossip about their story and private thoughts with someone else. However, you may find that in expressing your situation to a friend, and giving them the chance to offer empathy, you might begin to feel understood in a way that makes all the difference in the world.

The tendency is to shut down when you've been hurt, but letting yourself remain open can become the first step in the process of healing. They're able to see the best in you, and help bring out that side of you, so that you can move forward feeling stronger and better about yourself. This is a key piece of relationship advice of falling in love, which is being made to feel valued, terrific about yourself, desired, and, especially on the heels of losing all that when you are dealing with a break up, it can be an elixir of the heart. In fact, Blake was quoted as saying Gwen saved his life. There is no underestimating companionship – it can feel lifesaving.

While you may have only seen this person in one light – strictly platonic – that can shift as your circumstances and interactions with each other change. If that does happen, it can be a bonding experience and bring you together in a way that feels like a gain, where before you felt only lost and alone. With this in mind it can be positive to share your emotional pain with someone, rather than remaining closed off and keeping the heartache to yourself. It's natural to feel vulnerable if you suddenly find yourself being drawn to this person after everything you've been through, but it is worth it to let the relationship go forward. A good piece of relationship advice is to not be afraid to let these feelings naturally progress.

The celebrity couple recently sang a duet together on The Voice called, "Go Ahead and Break My Heart." Blake explained that they chose that title and the words to go with it because they are smart enough to know at this point that all relationships will have ups and downs. So why not just put it out there? They've been through it before, and they know there will be good and bad ahead, but right now they are so happy they found each other and they will deal with what's ahead. After a celebrity break-up or any kind of break-up, sometimes you just need someone there for you.

While Blake and Gwen are singing about it, it is equally beneficial to talk about it. Though it can feel scary, being involved in this relationship, facing your fears and acknowledging your insecurities can actually make you stronger. While you want to protect yourself and might typically look to keeping these feelings private, if you can instead be honest and genuine with someone you feel has your back, who knows where it might lead you, maybe even to a new love.
