The reality tv star went on four individual dates during the episode and made the heartbreaking decision to send one man home.

In celebrity couple news, Tayshia Adams is down to her final three suitors. What are some ways to know that someone is right for you?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes we encounter a person who we find both attractive and kind, but inevitably do not have the best chemistry with. These situations can be challenging because you may be reluctant to let go of someone when nothing is necessarily wrong, they are just not your perfect match. If you are looking for some ways to know that someone is right for you, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Your bond feels natural: While it may not be love at first sight, creating a bond with someone should feel easy and natural if they are the right person for you. There may be awkward silences in conversations or mild miscommunications while you are getting to know someone, but the overall progression of the relationship should never feel forced.

2. You're progressing at the same pace: There is no set timeline that you need to follow when you are getting to know or dating someone new. However, the two of you should be progressing at relatively the same pace as the relationship continues. If one person is still holding back months into the relationship, it may be a sign they are not the right person for you.

3. You don't feel stressed: Your intuition is your best friend when starting a relationship with someone new. Sometimes we still feel stressed with things appearing to be going perfectly, which may be a result of some underlying factor you are avoiding. If the current situation you are in causes you to feel a constant low level of stress, it may be a sign that person is not your perfect match.

According to UsMagazine.com, Hudgens is open to dating someone whether they are in the public eye or not. Hudgens and Butler separated in January of this year after dating for nearly nine years. Since their break-up, Hudgens has revealed that she has not been dating amid the coronavirus pandemic and her busy acting schedule.

In celebrity news, Vanessa Hudgens is reevaluating what she looks for in a partner after her split from Austin Butler. What are some ways to learn from a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Although challenging, break-ups provide a great opportunity for learning lessons from a past relationship, as well as determining what you want out of future relationships. If you are looking for some ways to learn from a break-up, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Set priorities: Break-ups provide a great time to reestablish your priorities and expectations about what you want in a future relationship. While you likely had an idea of your priorities before you even started dating, going through an unsuccessful relationship can reveal what you truly need from a partner to make things work. Take this time to update your priorities so that you know what is a must-have the next time around.

2. Establish deal-breakers: Deciding on deal-breakers is just as important as setting priorities. A person can have all of the characteristics you favor, but if they have a major lifestyle habit that you disagree with, it can cause conflict in the future. Deal breakers also don't have to be "negative" attributes about the person, but can simply be factors like distance and the type of relationship you are both looking for.

3. Consider external factors: When we're in a relationship, we sometimes tend to put that aspect of your life above others. Break-ups are a great time to look at other aspects of your life and decide if you'd like to spend some time improving them as well. By working to better yourself professionally or mentally between partners, you will enter your next relationship with a more solid foundation and be ready to put in all the necessary effort.

By Nicole Maher

In the latest celebrity news, Lamar Odom and Sabrina Parr have decided to call off their engagement. According to UsMagazine.com, Odom and Parr's celebrity break-up stems from personal issues that Odom needs to work through on his own. The couple was engaged in November of 2019, just three months after first being seen together in Atlanta, and had planned their wedding for November 2021.

According to Sabrina, this celebrity break-up is a result of Lamar Odom needing to work on himself. How do you know if you're in a good place mentally and emotionally for a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes the state of a relationship is dependent on internal factors, such as mental and emotional readiness, rather than external factors. If you are wondering if you're mentally and emotionally ready for a relationship, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You have other outlets of happiness: Being in a relationship should be one of the highlights of your current life, but it should not be your only outlet of happiness. If the only thing that truly brings you joy is being around your partner, then you may not be mentally or emotionally ready for a relationship. Placing all of your happiness on one person can lead to unhealthy standards and more disappointments even if neither partner is in the wrong.

2. You're happy with the timing: When you are in a sound mental and emotional place, you are often happy with the progression of your life. If you are content with the rate at which your relationship is moving, as well as how it fits into your life overall, then you are ready to be in that relationship. However, if you feel that this relationship will cause you to miss out on different areas of your life, you may be in the spot to commit mentally.

3. You've processed past experiences: An obstacle that many people face in relationships is getting over negative past experiences caused by an ex. If you are entering a new relationship but are still holding onto issues caused by a past partner, you may not be emotionally ready. However, if you've processed and coped with these past issues, then you are likely in a good spot to go forward with a relationship.

In celebrity break-up news, it's over for Erika and Tom, who have been together for over two decades. How do you know when a long-term relationship has run its course?

Cupid's Advice:

Break-ups are never easy, no matter how long you and your partner have been together. However, spending years, or even decades, with another person can make the process of breaking up even more challenging. If you are looking for signs that your long-term relationship has run its course, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Holding on to happier times: Creating memories together can be one of the best parts of a relationship, but it can also cause people to remain in relationships that are reaching their end. If you find yourself holding on to memories that happened months or years ago, but have not made the same type of memories since, your relationship may have run its course. Breaking-up doesn't mean you have to forget all the great times in your relationship, it opens you up to new experiences.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Julianne Hough Files for Divorce from Brooks Laich 5 Months After Split

2. You've grown in different directions: People are constantly growing and changing over the years. It's possible that you and your long-term partner have grown in different ways since the beginning of your relationship. While this is no one's fault, staying together despite your different paths in life may continue to cause conflicts that you're already facing.

3. Loss of feelings: No one wants to be told that their partner has lost feelings for them. Likewise, many people might not want to admit they've lost feelings for their partner. However, it's possible over the course of a long-term relationship for feelings to change, and holding on to past feelings of love that have disappeared will eventually lead to an unhealthy relationship.

In celebrity news, Kylie and Travis may be giving things another go after a steamy photo shoot. What are some ways to know if you should give a past relationship another shot?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes exes find their way back to each other only to form healthier, stronger relationships. If you are looking for some ways to decide if you should give a past relationship another chance, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Time has passed: After a break-up, it is necessary to allow enough time to pass before reaching out again with the hope of rekindling. It is likely that there were some large issues leading up to the break-up, and these will not be resolved overnight. By allowing each other enough time to learn and grow, your second try at the relationship may be more successful.

2. Emotions have calmed: In order for your rekindled relationship to work, you have to let go of any negative emotions surrounding the past attempt at dating. If you still feel yourself holding onto instances where your partner upset or angered you, it may not be the right time to give the relationship another try. Once these emotions have truly vanished, then you can consider a second try with your partner.

Cupid's Advice:

Among the many challenges people face following a break-up, rebuilding your life and finances are some of the most difficult. If you are looking for some ways to get back on the right track following a break-up, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Scale down: Whether it is downsizing where you're living or canceling a few memberships/subscriptions, scaling down might be necessary following a financially dependent break-up. Don't be disheartened by the need to cut back in a few areas after a relationship ends. Scaling down is only temporary, and these novelties can be added back into your life once you're on your feet again.

Going through a divorce is challenging in any circumstance, but can be even more difficult when the divorce turns dramatic. Not only are you facing the end of a relationship, but you are also forced to confront other hardships in your life. If you are looking for ways to stay supported during a dramatic divorce, Cupid has some advice for you.

1. Family and friends: The first people you can find support in amid a dramatic divorce are those closest to you. Friends and family can be the perfect outlets to allow you to express your feelings and escape any drama caused by your divorce. You may also have someone in your circle that has gone through a similar experience and can offer some insight of their own.

2. A lawyer: The last person you probably want to spend more time with amid your divorce is your lawyer, but they can be one of your best support systems. The actor described how his cast members watched the event unfold and helped him get back into character to continue filming.

In celebrity break-up news, Max Ehrich claims he heard about his break-up from Demi Lovato via a tabloid. If you've decided to break things off with your partner, what are the best ways to go about it?

Cupid's Advice:

Breaking up with your partner can be one of the most difficult conversations to have. However, just because the conversation is challenging does not mean it's okay to go about ending the relationship without consulting your partner. If you are looking for the best ways to go about breaking things off with your partner, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Address the issues: Before you even get to the point of breaking up, it is important to discuss the issues you are having within the relationship with your partner. Try to find any last minute areas of compromise before you decide that the relationship is officially over. If the issues that the two of you are facing appear to be unrepairable, then continue forward with the split.

2. Privately and in-person: Even though a relationship is failing and there may be some ill-feelings between you and your partner, it is still important to respect the other person throughout the process. One of the main ways to show respect is to go about the break-up in a private setting and preferably in person. If distance is an issue, try to make the conversation as personable as possible by making a phone call rather than sending a text.

3. Listen to their requests: After a break-up, there are often new boundaries that need to be established between you and your ex. Take some time after the break-up to establish what kind of relationship the two of you will have moving forward. While one of you may wish to remain friends, the other may need some time without any contact to process this new change before agreeing to an ongoing relationship of any kind.

Cupid's Advice:

Watching someone we care about go through an emotional break-up can be almost as painful as going through a break-up ourselves. If you are looking for ways to support a friend or family member through a rough split, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Listen to them: The best way to show your support for someone in any situation, especially someone going through a rough split, is to simply listen to them. While it is great to offer advice and insight into similar situations you have been through, it is also important to make sure you are simply listening as the other person expresses their feelings. The last thing you want is for someone to falsely think you are trying to make the situation about yourself.

2. Spend time together: One of the most difficult things that follows a break-up is filling the time that you used to spend with your significant other. If you know someone who is going through a painful break-up, a great way to support them is to offer them your time. Make plans to go out to lunch or watch a movie and allow them to escape from thinking about their break-up for a few hours.

3. Reserve your opinions: Right after a break-up, many people turn to talking poorly about their new ex as a way of processing what they are going through. While you may have opinions about this person's ex or their relationship in general, it is better to reserve these opinions in the beginning. Whether you have been waiting for the couple to break-up or shocked that their relationship didn't work, waiting until all emotions have subsided to express your opinions can prevent any confusion or ill feelings between you and the person you are supporting.

In celebrity break-up news, Savannah and Nic have decided to go call it quits on their relationship. What are some last ditch efforts you can make before deciding to split from your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Deciding if it is time to split from your current partner is one of the most difficult decisions to make in a relationship. It can be hard to tell your relationship has reached its end, or if you are simply going through a rough patch. If you are looking for ways to prolong your relationship, Cupid has some advice for you.

1. Look to the beginning: As a relationship progresses it tends to change, and there are likely some aspects that you have left in the past. By revisiting some of your favorite activities from when you first started dating, you may be able to rekindle the spark you are currently missing.

Related link: Celebrity News: Cassie Randolph Is Granted Restraining Order Against 'Bachelor' Colton Underwood

2. Take a step back: Sometimes we have to see just how much we will miss a person before we let them go. Taking a step back from your relationship is a great way of determining if your partner's absence brings you unhappiness or peace.

3. Seek professional help: Involving a relationship professional is the perfect way to get another perspective on your relationship. Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes break-ups can get heated, especially when intense feelings are involved. If you're starting to think your ex has become unstable and/or dangerous, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Stop contacting them completely: If your ex is starting to make you feel unsafe in any way, it's important to stop contacting them completely. Don't answer their calls or texts, and definitely don't make plans to see them in person. You can even unfollow or block them on social media accounts to ensure that they can't reach you.

Celebrity Break-Up: Kelly Clarkson Says Life Has Been a 'Dumpster' Amid Divorce from Brandon Blackstock

By Nicole Maher

In the latest celebrity news, singer Kelly Clarkson opened up about some of the challenges she has been facing since her celebrity divorce from estranged husband Brandon Blackstock. According to UsMagazine.com, Clarkson and Blackstock filed for divorce in June of this year, putting an end to their seven year marriage. While the couple was experiencing problems before, these issues were heightened while the pair was quarantining together amid the coronavirus pandemic.

In celebrity break-up news, Kelly Clarkson is having a tough time amid her divorce from Brandon Blackstock. What are some ways to keep the drama at bay during a split?

Cupid's Advice:

One of the unfortunate added side effects that often follows a break-up is drama. Despite all the efforts we may make, it is normal to be faced with rumors or awkward questions once a relationship ends. If you are looking for ways to keep the drama at bay during a split, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Keep it neutral: Negative words seem to travel the quickest during the time of a break-up, and are likely to make their way back to your ex partner if you share mutual friends. While it is necessary to process your break-up with others, avoiding an excessive amount of negativity around the situation can help alleviate some of the drama. Try to keep statements as neutral as possible when speaking with your mutual friends to avoid anything accidentally being taken out of context.

Related link: Celebrity Divorce: What Went Wrong for Kelly Clarkson & Brandon Blackstock?

2. Focus on yourself: Drama is often started when we are focusing on another person. Instead of worrying about if your ex partner is going on dates or talking to someone else, focus on what you are doing post break-up. If you refuse to give this budding drama the time of day by prioritizing yourself, then it will not be able to grow!

3. Find an outlet: Just as Clarkson did through her music, finding an outlet to help you process your feelings can help avoid some unnecessary drama. Songwriting, keeping a journal, or even recording quick voice-memos are good ways to channel how you are feeling without involving anyone else. Once you have a better handle on how you are truly feeling, then it can be easier to address any questions without feeling like you will be stirring up drama.

Celebrity Break-Up: Victoria Fuller Says She & Chris Soules Split Due to Geography

By Nicole Maher

In the latest celebrity news, Bachelor Nation stars Victoria Fuller and Chris Soules called off their relationship due to geographical reasons. According to UsMagazine.com, Fuller was not ready to move to Iowa and join Soules on his farm. The two had been traveling to see each other since April of this year, but were ultimately unable to reach a decision on where to settle down together. While the pair agreed to a celebrity break-up, they have reportedly been staying in contact with each other.

In celebrity break-up news, Victoria and Chris split due to location. What do you do if you're in a long distance relationship and can't agree on a place to live together eventually?

Cupid's Advice:

Distance can be one of the most difficult factors of a relationship to navigate. Whether someone is a long car ride away or only accessible by plane, the challenge of seeing each other can have a toll on the relationship. If you are looking for ways to overcome the challenges of distance as a couple, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Meet in the middle: One of the main reasons people do not want to uproot their life and move is because they are familiar with their current surroundings. It can be difficult to convince a person to leave their family and friends and move to a completely new place where they only know one person. But if both partners are willing to meet someplace in the middle, it would allow both of them to remain closer to home and to each other.

Related link: New Celebrity Couple: Is Victoria Fuller Quarantining with Former 'Bachelor' Chris Soules in Iowa?

2. Continue to travel: If the impending distance does not need to be resolved right away, then continue your current travel methods. Circumstances and priorities may change after a period of time, and the two of you may eventually reach a point of agreement on where to finally settle down together.

3. Be honest with yourself: If you and your partner have had multiple conversations about the distance and there has been no compromise on either side, it might be time to consider the alternative of breaking-up. Breaking-up does not mean that the relationship failed, it simply means that the two people involved are progressing in different directions. In this case it may be two different geographical locations.

In the latest celebrity news, Justin Hartley reveals he's not letting drama from his divorce from celebrity ex Chrishell Stause bring him down. Despite the Selling Sunset star's claims about their split, Hartley told ETOnline.com that he is staying positive: "I'm a happy guy. I sleep like a baby. I don't have anything on my mind... I am a very, very lucky, lucky individual." Hartley filed for divorce from Stause in November 2019 after almost three years of marriage.

In celebrity break-up news, Justin Hartley isn't concerning himself with his ex Chrishell's divorce drama. What are some ways to distance yourself from relationship drama?

Cupid's Advice:

Post-break-up drama can be overwhelming, especially if you're trying to distance yourself from it. If your ex refuses to leave the drama in the past, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Find your support system: Surround yourself with people you trust. Distance yourself from your ex and other people you're worried might try to bring you down with unnecessary drama. Lean on close friends and family who you trust have your best interests at heart.

1. Focus on the moment: Your kids will likely remember the moment you tell them about the divorce for their entire lives. Make sure you're sitting down as a family, with all your kids and your partner, when having this conversation. Think about where you're having this conversation and if it would be comfortable for your children.

2. Listen to your children: It's impossible to know how your child will react to this news. 3. Be united with your partner: While your divorce is hard on you, you need to be mature around your children. When announcing your separation, do not blame your partner. Both parents should take ownership and give your children the same message. Blaming your partner will make your kids think they need to reject their other parent.

Cupid's Advice:

Finding out your partner is abusive is difficult to navigate. While you may still love them, it's important to keep yourself safe. No matter what kind of violence you're facing, it isn't your fault and you aren't responsible for your partner's abusive behavior. If you need help figuring out how to leave a violent relationship, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Create a safety plan: A safety plan is a personalized plan to keep you safe while in a violent relationship. It should include telling close friends or family about the abuse and how to stay as safe as possible before leaving the relationship. Teach children how to stay safe in these emergencies.

keep negativity after a break-up from consuming your life?

Cupid's Advice:

The end of a relationship is always hard, but avoiding drama will make it easier for you and your ex. Even if you can't avoid every awkward moment, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Take time apart: Do your best to not see your ex, even if you want to be friends after the breakup. Give yourself a couple of months to get used to life on your own before you reach out to your ex again. Staying too interconnected after a breakup will prevent you (and your ex!) from moving on.

Celebrity Break-Up: David

Eason Speaks Out After Jenelle Evans Announces Split

The other discussed Evan's road rage that was broadcast in 2018 where she followed a driver home and then brandished a gun.

In celebrity break-up news, David Eason threw some shade Jenelle Evans' way after she announced their split. What are some things to avoid on social media during a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting over a nasty breakup is hard, but it is even harder when social media is involved. Whether it is viewing their stories, stalking their profiles, or keeping up with what their friends are doing, it is a breeding ground for hurt feelings and questionable consequences. If you're going through a break-up, and you're having a hard time pulling yourself away from your ex's social media, don't worry! Cupid has some relationship advice on what to avoid on social media during a split:

1. Social media stories: Facebook has them. Instagram has them. Snapchat has them. Social media stories allow users to see exactly what's going on with someone in real-time. It's a cool feature unless you're going through a tough break-up. Seeing your ex out having fun on their stories can further fan the flame, and it might lead to feeling worse or to toxic social media behavior. Before you decide to click on their icon, think about what viewing this story is really going to help when it comes to getting over them.

Related Link: Celebrity Parents: 'Teen Mom 2' Alum Jenelle Evans & David Eason Lose Custody of Kids After Legal Battle

2. Burner accounts: If you follow their FINSTA (private Instagram) or Fake Twitter, chances are your ex will be venting about you and your relationship after it ends. If they haven't already blocked you from following their account, maybe it's a good idea to unfriend yourself from seeing those posts. And, if you are blocked, don't give in to the temptation to ask friends who are still privy to the accounts to spy on them and report back. You'll see or hear something you weren't prepared for, and it will only lead to anger or hurt.

3. Keeping up with the circle: Chances are, when a relationship ends, the friend circle won't be the same. Some people will choose to stay with your ex while others might be more neutral about the breakup. Either way, it isn't a good idea to poke your nose into the circle, especially on social media, to keep up to date about what your ex is doing. Not only does it not paint you in a good light, but it can cause issues in the friend group. It's better to keep a safe distance than to cause more distress than is necessary.

'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown

Says 'Thank You, Next' to Questions about Tyler Cameron & Gigi Hadid

By Ashley Johnson

In a celebrity interview with UsMagazine.com, Hannah Brown made it clear that she is ready to take on life as a single woman after her celebrity break-up with Tyler Cameron. The reality TV star says she is focused on exploring her new opportunities as a single woman and is ready to move forward from The Bachelorette with or without a man.

In celebrity news, Hannah isn't letting anyone draw her into talks surrounding Tyler Cameron's dating life. What are some ways to move on when you see your ex moving on?

Cupid's Advice:

While all celebrity relationships do not last, the relationship you have with yourself does. We are rooting for Hannah in her new journey! Cupid has some advice on how to move on from an ex like Hannah Brown and many other single celebrities:

1. Focus on yourself: Self-care is always the best way to go. When we take care of ourselves and give ourselves all the love and affection for a change, we realize just how much we needed it and realize that self love is enough. Focusing on yourself and taking the time to heal on your own can help you rediscover yourself and learn more about who you are. You can learn more about your likes, dislikes, and everything in between.

2. Enjoy your hobbies and friends: Just taking the time to do things you enjoy again can remind you what you really value in life. You can now focus all your time and energy on everything you have ever wanted to do, whether it be painting, going to concerts, traveling the world, or spending more time with friends. Friends are there for you when you need them the most. They can help distract you from your ex and past relationship and can be a shoulder to lean on when you just need to vent.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Bradley Cooper Enjoys a Boys' Night in L.A. After Irina Shayk Split

3. Take a break from social media: Focusing on yourself means you can't have any distractions. Social media is the easiest way to stay up to date with your friends, and unfortunately, your ex. With just one click you can get lost in your ex's feed. Being single means you now have time to focus on yourself, not your ex and their whereabouts. Embrace the distance from your ex... this may even mean blocking or unfollowing them on all social media for the time being.
