These celebrity dating rumors just aren't true. What are some ways to shoot down untrue rumors about your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes rumors go around, and it can really suck. People handle untrue rumors differently, and it depends on the situation and the type of people involved. Cupid has some ideas on how to approach false rumors:

1. Be straightforward: Don't go around the bush. If you want to shoot down a rumor, being straight up is one of the best ways to go. Don't stay quiet and act like things are just fine. Just like Olivia Munn did publicly, face it head on and express yourself – shoot it down! Whether you're being upfront in person or otherwise, laying things down on the table is the simplest way to do it sometimes.

2. Don't show frustration: Do not allow others to see how much the rumors are affecting you because it can lead to the rumors escalating. Many times people make up rumors out of jealousy, boredom, attention, revenge, etc. Therefore, it's not a good idea to show that they're actually getting to you. Try to stay as calm as possible and handle the situation with grace.

3. Don't fight fire with fire: Handle things correctly. Don't let your emotions get the best of you because you need to think clearly. Think about what gives this rumor credibility, and tackle it from there. Find out where the rumor started and confront the source. Doing these things with a clear mentality is important because the situation can easily get out of hand when neither party is thinking straight.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Alum Rachel Lindsay Reveals the Most Awkward Part of Finding Love on Reality TV

By Jessica Gomez

Bachelorette alum Rachel Lindsay opened up about the most awkward part of finding love on a reality TV show, according to EOnline.com. And, it's not necessarily what you would expect. Lindsay got engaged to Bryan Abasolo in 2017 on the finale of her Bachelorette season. The celebrity couple do not have a definite date for their celebrity wedding as of yet, but what Lindsay believes is the weirdest part of the process is the moment the show is over and the cameras stop rolling. "I tell people the most awkward day is the day the cameras go off. Not even your first date. It's like, 'I've been proposed to.' It's this amazing experience. And then they're like, 'That's a wrap.' Like, show's done, and then you're just standing with each other," the bride-to-be explained. "And once we got past that, everything else was a breeze... Because you don't know if the person is really the same person they showed you on camera – and I think that's what's scary."

This celebrity news shows that there are awkward moments even when it comes to finding love on TV. What are some ways to reduce those awkward moments on your quest to finding love?

Cupid's Advice:

Oh, the journey of finding love, how wonderful and scary it can be. Alas, not to worry, Cupid has some advice on reducing awkward moments that could be avoided with a few steps:

1. Don't rush: Take things at a good pace – not too fast, not too slow. When rushing into things, we often miss signs that we should be looking out for in order to avoid making the mistake of further pursuing a relationship or to avoid certain awkward moments. Things should happen in their own time and not be rushed by you or the other person. Love isn't a race, it takes time. You need to learn the way the person is and the way your new relationship is in order to avoid negativity and awkwardness. After that, then the trust needs to roll in, which is why taking things steady is many times a good idea.

2. Don't try too hard: Impress others, but don't stop being yourself. Pretending to be someone you're not is bound to end in an awkward moment. It's important to put energy into trying to putting your best foot forward and being the best version of yourself. However, in the process, make sure to stay true to yourself. Don't let your mind roam too far, causing you to act out of desperation. It's understandable to maybe not want to be your whole, total self – just remember to not stray away from what really makes you you. Insecurities can easily pop up when you're playing a role that isn't like you.

3. Don't worry: Like said before, love and relationships take time. Sometimes certain concerns creep up on us and we become worrywarts. The unknown can be terrifying, and you may not feel completely comfortable because of that. However, don't let unvalidated feelings take over. Get to know the person without judging them from past experiences you've had that have nothing to do with them. As time passes by, you will also build emotional intimacy, which should ease the worrying due to having a more open relationship with one another.

This celebrity news has us clapping. What are some ways to get support when your partner's parents don't approve of you?

Cupid's Advice:

The only realistic expectations you should have should not be for anyone other than yourself. It is upsetting though if your partner's parents don't approve of you and your relationship. Don't worry- Cupid is here to help with some tips on how to put your best self forward to potentially make a better impression with your partner's parents:

1. Find out activities they like: Talk to your significant other and find out some things that their parents are into. Maybe boating, cooking, going on walks, etc. Then, reach out to them to do one of their favorite activities with them. This will seem like less of a "kiss-up" move since you're not buying them anything, you are just simply creating a comfortable situation for them to truly get to know your amazing self!

2. Be blunt if they are: If your partner's parents really make it clear that they are not a fan of you, be blunt and ask them sincerely what you can do in order to gain their trust. Communication is key. Ask and then make efforts to do what they feel is necessary as long as it is reasonable and does not interfere with changing who you truly are.

3. Show them how much you love their child: If they can't get past who you are, and it is a struggle for you to see the good qualities in your partner's parents as well, there is a genuine force that cannot be denied- the love that you have for your partner. Instead of trying to boost your self-image, make it clear how much you love and care for your partner. Their parents cannot be too upset with the fact that their child is getting the love and care that they deserve.

Celebrity Getaway: Scott Disick & Sofia Richie Enjoy PDA on Mexican Vacation

By Jessica Gomez

Kourtney Kardashian's ex Scott Disick and girlfriend Sofia Richie were all lovey dovey during their celebrity vacation in Mexico, according to EOnline.com. The celebrity couple posted photos on Instagram. Both were having fun and a ton of PDA was going on. According to a source, the couple is very happy, always have fun, and were making out and all over one another often during the vacay.

This celebrity getaway is getting steamy. What are some things to consider when it comes to public displays of affection?

Cupid's Advice:

PDA is a controversial topic. Some people are fine with it, and some people are hardcore against it. There are different levels of PDA, from holding hands to make out sessions and butt grabbing – so different levels call for different measures. Cupid has some tips on things you should consider when it comes to public displays of affection:

1. Are there kids around?: This matters depending on the level of PDA of course. Are you just kissing one another innocently or is it to the point of someone telling you to get a room? Children are innocent and you wouldn't want to influence them in a particular way, especially if they aren't your kids.

Related Link: Prince Harry & Meghan Markle Plan Vacation Ahead of Wedding

2. Are you making others uncomfortable?: Generally, we are told to not care about what others think. However, it can be annoying when a group of friends are hanging out, and there's that couple all over each other the whole time. Do as you please, but try to keep in mind whether or not you're overdoing it. Everything in moderation.

3. The place: PDA stands for public displays of affection (as we all know), but certain public places may be more acceptable than others. For example: work, school, a funeral home, children's playgrounds, and hospitals are obvious places where most people would agree couples should stray away from intense PDA. So just keep your eyes open and be aware of your surroundings, and of course pay attention to the level of PDA.

This celebrity baby news is great to hear! What are some ways to compromise with your partner on baby names?

Cupid's Advice:

Choosing your baby's name is exciting, but can also be a bit tedious considering you and your partner should be in agreement with the name chosen. Cupid has some advice on how to get on the same page when it comes to the name of your tiny loved one:

1. Try using a compromising tool online: Babynamester.com has this tool, along with many suggested baby names for you and your partner to check out. The way it works is you enter the sex of the baby, then you and your partner each type in what your top baby names are. Next, you choose which one you each like best from your partner's list. And lastly, the site generates a long list of combined baby name preferences. Try it and see if it may work for you!

2. The Middle Name: One of you can choose the first name and the other one can choose the middle name. Many couples compromise in this manner. Although, choosing the first name is most likely ideal for both parties, the middle name is the one that gives the name uniqueness considering that not everyone has a middle name, and on top of that, a middle name is a nice differentiating addition to a first name.

3. Combine the names: This isn't always possible, but it sometimes is. You can create a beautiful, unique name! 1. Stay busy: This is an important factor because it tests and shows your true inner strength. Celebrity Wedding: Ricky

Martin Confirms He's Married to Jwan Yosef

By Jessica Gomez

Ricky Martin has tied the knot with Jwan Yosef, according to EOnline.com! "It feels amazing... He's my husband. He's my man," Martin told E! excitedly. The celebrity couple is planning a big celebration and plan on living "la vida loca" with their guests by aiming to party for days straight! "The typical three-day party, the dinner, the rehearsal, the party, and the recovery," Martin said. Congrats to the married couple!

This celebrity wedding was very low-key, but the paperwork has been signed! What are some reasons to keep your wedding festivities under the radar?

Cupid's Advice:

Celebrities are not the only ones that would want to keep their wedding under wraps. Cupid has some ideas as to why you may want to keep your wedding on the down low:

1. You just don't want people in your biz: This can happen whether you're famous or not. Some people are really private about their lives and want precious moments like these to be kept within closed doors at first. So don't take offense, some people are just real private about their business!

Related Link: Prince Harry & Meghan Markle's Official Wedding Date Revealed

2. You're eloping: Secrecy is sometimes romantic? Sometimes we do find ourselves in a situation we never thought we would be in. Maybe the fam doesn't approve? Maybe you just can't wait to get married? Or maybe you're trying to get out of testifying in court against your lover like Blair did with Chuck in Gossip Girl! Winks

3. You're shy or an introvert: If this is the case, you may not want a lot of attention, so you would keep your wedding quiet for a bit. Shy and introverted people sometimes cannot handle being in a room full of people being the center of attention – it's too much for them. So yeah, it makes sense they would keep their wedding quiet.

This celebrity baby-to-be will join his or her parents in Cleveland. What are some things to consider about the birth of your child?

Cupid's Advice:

Having a child can be both an exciting and nerve wrecking time, but planning and making arrangements before the child's birth are both key. Cupid has some tips on things to think about before bringing your little bundle of joy into the world:

1. What don't you know?: Read, read, read and ask, ask, ask! It's time to learn. Know what to expect and know what to do when you go into labor. Ask a medical professional any questions you have in order to have a full understanding on the situation. And of course, do some reading. There are a lot of books for the mommy-to-be. Understanding things will help you plan better for the big day.

2. How do you want the birth to be?: Do you want a home birth or hospital birth? Do you want epidural or no epidural? Talk to a medical professional about your options and weigh the pros and the cons of each. Every person is different, so after you have all the facts, think about which option is best for you. And be prepared, too. When your due date is approaching, prepare a bag full of necessities you need to take to the hospital, or if you're going in the home birth route, have a box of things ready – that way, once you're in labor, you're ready to go!

3. Who do you want present at the birth?: Decide and make arrangements now to ensure a higher probability for things to go as planned. This decision is a personal one, which should be well thought out, considering you will be in a different state of mind at that moment! You can also arrange for someone to take the lead and keep everyone in the loop (sending texts, making calls) once you're preoccupied.

Cupid's Advice:

Integrating a broken family can be hard on children, but sometimes it comes naturally. Either way, Cupid has some advice for the fam:

1. Resolve any issues you may have with former partners: It is important that all parents/adults create or maintain a healthy relationship with one another. This can help children against feeling like their loyalty toward their parent and their step parent must be divided somehow.

2. Establish roles: Establish expectations. Parents play many roles, but one of the most important roles that should be decided is the disciplinary role. Children must learn the role of the step parent in order to know what to expect. Once there is an understanding, a meaningful and trusting relationship can begin to mold.

Cupid's Advice:

While pregnancy can be a beautiful time, it can also be the opposite of graceful. There are many things you can do, but here are a few:

1. Something sentimental: Do you two have a certain date that’s important to you? Maybe you have a special spot you always go to, or a fun inside joke. Eva Longoria’s very own celebrity baby is coming into a full house! What are some ways to prepare step-children for a new baby?

Cupid’s Advice:

Parents are not the only ones that need to be prepared for a baby. Everyone in the household needs to be, including children. Cupid has some advice:

1. Involve them: Allow the children to bond with the baby. They can read a bedtime story, play music, or sing. Get them excited to be an older sibling! Or have them talk through your belly. This connects the children to the baby before he or she is even born.

3. Spend time with them: You have more time now than you will once the baby is born, so take advantage. Spending quality time is always important, but it is especially essential when a transition period is approaching. You can plan family outings or one-on-one time. Blocks of uninterrupted time with your kiddos now is important because it will not come by as often once the baby arrives.
