

Celebrity Couple News: Find Out More About Taylor Swift and Joe Alwyn's Undercover Romance

By Melissa Lee

Even after EOnline.com learned about their celebrity relationship in May, celebrity couple Taylor Swift and Joe Alwyn have continued to keep their relationship on the down low. The pair have been quite secretive about their visits, especially after Swift's extremely public past relationships. Swift has reportedly been in London with Alwyn, a 26-year-old British film and theater actor, over the past few weeks.

This new celebrity couple is definitely keeping things under wraps. What are some benefits to keep your relationship on the down-low at first?

Cupid's Advice:

New relationships can be super fun, but sometimes it's nicer to keep those moments private. Cupid has some advice on why it can be beneficial to stay quiet at first:

1. There's minimal pressure: When you keep your relationship private for a bit, pressures from your friends and family won't be as common. Your mom won't be constantly asking when she can meet your partner, and sometimes those low-key nights in seem a bit more fun than going out with all of their friends!

2. Say goodbye to negativity: By posting about your relationship on social media, everyone will see your new significant other – and let's face it, not everybody will be happy for you. When your relationship is on the down-low, you don't have to worry about people's negative comments bringing you down.

3. Oversharing won't be a problem: Relationships are usually only meant for the two people involved. If your relationship becomes public after constantly posting about it, oversharing can become a fast issue. Special dates or moments may get ruined after you share it with all 500 of your “closest friends”.

Celebrity Couple News: Pink & Carey Hart Are ‘Solid’ After Two Breaks from Their Marriage

By Cortney Moore

Pink and Carey Hart have made celebrity news in the last 16 years due to their tumultuous relationship. However, after celebrating their 11th anniversary back in January, it seems that this celebrity couple have found a way to make it work. How were Pink and Hart able to save their relationship? Well, Pink credits the two breaks her and Hart took in 2003 and 2008 as factors that transformed their love for each other. "The first one was about a year. And the second one was 11 months," Pink explains in an interview with UsMagazine.com. An insider also spoke with the magazine and agreed that Pink and Hart are a solid celebrity couple, "They love their life together." Taking a break during marriage might be a little unorthodox, but this strategy has helped them avoid divorce. Let's applaud this famous couple for making it work. There are so many in Hollywood who aren't as lucky.

This celebrity couple proves that sometimes breaks in a relationship can be beneficial. How do you know if a break will help or hurt your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

The very idea of taking a break is scary for many couples. However, if your relationship has been on the rocks for some time, a break might be just what you need. Before you decide to go all-in, let Cupid help you figure out whether a break will be beneficial or hurtful for your relationship:

1. There's a weak foundation: The reason you're considering a break is due to a failing relationship. Some things just aren't working out anymore and you need space to see if this is something you really want. Taking a break helps you find the cracks in your relationship, and hopefully with some time apart you can fix these problems together. But, you also need to be wary. Being able to see all of your relationship's flaws might also tempt you to run away. You need to go into a break with the intention of possibly getting back together. If you don't do this then it's just a plain breakup and not an actual break.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Carey Hart Shares Sweet Family Photo on Anniversary with Pink

2. Get on the same page: Before you and your partner officially decide to part ways, you need to discuss what you're both okay with and what you're both not. Will this be a break that allows you to both date other people, or do you both expect monogamy during your time apart? These nitty-gritty details might not be something you want to discuss during tough times, but it's a conversation that must be had. If you're both not on the same page about the break, then someone is going to get hurt and your relationship will be strained even more than before. So talk it out, you might even be pleased to see you both share similar ideologies.

3. Gives you very much needed 'me time': Taking a break from your relationship helps to free up your schedule. This is great because it provides you the opportunity to reassess your priorities personally and professionally. If there's something you always to do, it's time you pursue those dreams. Whatever it is that makes you happy may translate over to your strained relationship. When you feel good about yourself, you're confident, and that positive energy might be something your partner was missing in you. Just make sure you're not too busy for a relationship. Remember, the point of a break is that you and your partner intend to reunite.

Celebrity Wedding: 'Bachelor' Alum Britt Nilsson Is Engaged

By Noelle Downey

Bring out the champagne because it's time to celebrate! According to UsMagazine.com, Bachelor alum Britt Nilsson is officially going to celebrate a celebrity wedding with boyfriend Jeremy Byrne! The celebrity couple started dating last year after Nilsson's split from Brady Toops, another alum of the hit reality TV show, The Bachelor, and shared news of their celebrity engagement via a series of Instagram posts of the ring and the couple laughing and kissing in excitement. Nilsson wrote in the caption, ""WE ARE ENGAGED!!!! I'm over the moon!!! The man of my dreams and the most godly, amazing, fun, life-giving, silly, intelligent, wonderful best friend I could ever ask for is my future husband!!!! I have been dreaming of this day forever!! Thank You Jesus!!! Wooo hooooo!!!!!! I had no idea it was coming and it was the best day of my life! I love you forever Jeremy Byrne!!!"

This controversial Bachelor alum has said goodbye to the single life and hello to a celebrity wedding! What are some things to consider before getting engaged?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to getting engaged, it can be hard to know when you're ready as a couple! Cupid is here with the top three things you should consider before popping the questions or saying yes when your partner gets down on one knee:

1. Do you have the same goals?: Ideally in a long-term relationship you two would be looking for the same things and have a similar vision of the future. If you know for a fact that your ideas of the future differ greatly but you've never really sat down and worked that out, definitely take the effort before you move forward with an engagement. If you're both on the same page you can breathe a sigh of relief knowing that ring on your finger doesn't mean you have to give up your dreams or future plans.

2. Are you ready for a forever commitment?: There's no doubt about it, a wedding and an engagement are a huge deal, but marriage itself is an even bigger one. Ask yourself honestly, am I ready for a lifetime commitment to one person? Analyze your answer and share it with your partner. Admit if you don't feel ready for that big step right at the moment or confess that you've thought it through and think that's a good next step to take in the future.

3. Do you both want to get married?: This one seems like a no-brainer, but you'd be amazed how many people feel pressured into proposing or to saying yes to an offer of marriage just because they never sat down and talked about their feelings toward marriage in general, and also specifically for them at some point in the future. It's perfectly possible that for either you or your partner, getting married just isn't a priority, and if that's the case, you need to have a mature discussion about it where you communicate your wants and needs effectively.

By Noelle Downey

In celebrity news, wife of late singer Chris Cornell wrote a truly beautiful, if saddening, epistle in honor of her husband. According to UsMagazine.com, Vicky Karayiannis, Cornell's wife, wrote an open letter that was posted to Billboard.com following the musician's suicide by hanging on May 17th. "To my sweet Christopher, you were the best father, husband and son-in-law. Your patience, empathy and love always showed through," she confessed. "I'm sorry, my sweet love, that I did not see what happened to you that night. I'm sorry you were alone, and I know that was not you, my sweet Christopher. Your children know that too, so you can rest in peace," Karayiannis reassured. She went on to write of her Hollywood relationship, saying Cornell was her "soulmate" and that while she is "broken" she will stand up for him always. The letter closed, "I love you more than anyone has ever loved anyone in the history of loving and more than anyone ever will. Always and forever, your Vicky." Karayiannis has stated that she believes Cornell, a recovering drug addict, may have taken too much Ativan, which caused him to not be in his right mind. "What happened is inexplicable," Karayiannis admitted, "and I am hopeful that further medical reports will provide additional details." The celebrity couple have two celebrity children together, Toni and Christopher, as well as daughter Lillian from Cornell's previous marriage.

This celebrity news has us down in the dumps. What are some ways to cope with the loss of your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Dealing with the loss of a partner is always difficult, but here are the top three ways to get you through this difficult time:

- 1. Find someone to talk to: There's no shame in finding a therapist to talk to after the emotional fallout of the death of your partner. Remember that your partner would want you to deal with this in a healthy way, so prioritize taking care of yourself. Visit a counselor and let your feelings out, even if they confuse or embarrass or anger you. Grief is experienced in a host of different ways, and by talking it out and committing to dealing with that grief, you open yourself up to eventual healing and acceptance.

2. Reach out to your support system: If you're struggling after the death of a partner, or any loved one, reach out to those around you that care about you and are still here. Tell them you're not doing well and allow them to take care of you for a portion of time until you're back on your feet. Admitting that you need help during a difficult period of your life can be difficult, and can even make you feel weak, but in actuality this proves your strength as a person who can recognize their limitations and ask for help when they need it.

3. Seek closure: Whether that means making a charitable donation to your partner's favorite non-profit every month in their memory or going through all your photos together one last time before deciding which ones to put away for now and which ones to leave up, or even taking off your wedding ring for the first time since the funeral, take steps to seek and find closure continuously, however that looks for you as an individual. Many think closure is a final state you achieve, when in reality closure is a state of being you can consciously pursue. Often finding closure is a journey, so it's important to give yourself the grace to take that journey however you need to.

Cupid’s Advice:

If you’ve been in a relationship for some time now, you might wonder if marriage is right for you and your partner. Cupid is here to help you figure out if you’re both ready to tie the knot:

1. Marriage excites you: A huge sign that you’re ready to walk down the aisle is if the idea of marriage excites you rather than terrifies. New Celebrity Couple? Nicki Minaj Responds to Nas Dating Rumors on 'Ellen DeGeneres Show'

By Noelle Downey

It's possible there's a new celebrity couple in Hollywood, and Cupid is here with all the hot gossip on this celebrity news. According to UsMagazine.com, Nicki Minaj played it cool when speaking to talk show host Ellen DeGeneres on whether or not she and rapper Nas were dating or not. When pressed, Minaj admitted, "He's so dope." Upon further discussion it was revealed that while Minaj thought Nas was "kind of cute" and she admitted they had had some sleepovers, she also asserted, "I'm just chilling right now. I'm celibate. I wanted to go a year without dating men. I might make an exception to the rule for him 'cause he's so dope." The Hollywood relationship was first noted when Minaj shared an Instagram post of the two cuddling at a restaurant. A source claims, "They were laughing a lot. They looked very cute together. No PDA, but they looked like a couple."

There may be a new celebrity couple, but Nicki Minaj is being coy about it. What are some benefits to waiting to tell your friends and family about your new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to keeping a relationship private, Cupid is here with three benefits to not telling your friends and family when you enter a new relationship:

1. You can enjoy the honeymoon phase in peace: When you first start dating someone there's a period where it's all just total bliss and discovery. You're newly together and getting to know all the things that you love about the person in a new and more intimate way. You probably have stars in your eyes and your heart is constantly fluttering. There's something to be said for riding that high as long as possible and staying in your fantasy world where it's just you and your partner at the beginning. It can be nice to feel like your secret romance is just between you two, and remember, you can always reveal your relationship, but you'll never be able to get this sweet private time back.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple Predictions: Kendall Jenner, Nicki Minaj and Minka Kelly

2. You can avoid family drama: It's an unfortunate but true fact, many families pass judgment on the people that their family members bring home. If you're sure there's some silly reason that your parents and/or siblings will find fault with your significant other, then there's no need to draw your partner into that mess before you're ready. It's important to note that every one has a different relationship with their family, and if yours is tumultuous, there's no contract that says you have to reveal the details of your personal life to them. If your relationship is healthier without them meddling in it or casting judgment, then take refuge in privacy and avoid any unnecessary family drama.

3. You can sneak around: Many couples find it romantic or even sexy when they're keeping a relationship a secret, even if it's for no real, high-stakes reason. Meeting up at hotels, sneaking kisses behind your friend's backs, holding hands under the table, there's something exciting about turning your newfound relationship into a covert operation. While most likely eventually this magic will fade and you'll start wanting the more traditional openness of a relationship, if it's still fun or you and your partner to sneak around, then by all means, indulge yourselves!

New Celebrity Couple?
Kourtney Kardashian Cuddles

with Younes Bendjima in France

By Noelle Downey

Is there a new celebrity couple on the horizon? According to UsMagazine.com, Kourtney Kardashian was recently spotted getting cozy with hot model Younes Bendjima on what appeared to be a romantic getaway at Hotel du Cap-Eden-Roc in Antibes, France. Bendjima wrapped his arms around Kardashian from behind in a sweet embrace on the terrace of the hotel in an adorable photo snapped by press. However, although there are rumors that the pair have been spending time together since December, a source claims that Bendjima and Kardashian are keeping it casual. "Kourtney and Younes are not serious," the source explained, "they are hooking up." Whatever the label on their celebrity relationship, however, it's been enough to stir up some trouble when it comes to Kardashian's celebrity ex, Scott Disick. When photos of Kardashian and Bendjima surfaced, a source claims Disick felt some real pain. "Scott is jealous of Kourtney's relationship," the source affirmed. Before this sweet cuddle in France, Kardashian and Bendjima were most recently spotted enjoying their Hollywood relationship in LA in early May.

This celebrity couple says they aren't defining their relationship. What are some reasons to wait on labeling your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're unsure whether or not you should put a label on your relationship, here are the top three ways to know it may not be time to take that big step:

1. When you're not looking for a commitment: If you're more interested in a fun fling than a long term relationship, consider holding off on defining your relationship. Once labels are involved, talks of exclusivity and boundaries in your relationship are inevitable. If you're looking to keep your flirtation fun but free, then don't burden either you or the person you're dating with a label the neither of you want. Keep things casual and tell your friends or any nosy family members that for right now, you two are just hanging out and enjoying each other's company, with no pressure on either side to make it something more.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple News: Kourtney Kardashian is Hooking Up with Sexy Model Younes Bendjima

2. When you want different things: If you ever feel as though your partner is pressuring you into a label that you're not ready for, step back and call a time out on any further talks about your relationship's identity. Don't allow yourself to be pressured into making a choice you're not ready to make, and if your partner is absolutely adamant that you need a label in order to continue your relationship, than it might be time to say goodbye before either one of you gets hurt. You should never have to apologize for not wanting to be in a relationship with someone, so if you're not ready, you're just not ready. Don't force it.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Scott Disick Reveals He Once Proposed to Kourtney Kardashian

3. When you don't have time: There's no doubt about it, relationships take a lot of work and effort. If you just don't know how you'd fit in the demands of a relationship into the stress and business of your daily life, then it may not be a good idea to try for anything beyond a casual fling. To be in a healthy relationship, both partners need to be giving of themselves equally, and if you're not in a position where you can make room in your life for the needs and desires of another person, then hold off on the labels until you're in the right time of your life for that big step.

Have you ever had a relationship without labels? How did it go? Let us know in the comments!

This celebrity wedding was highly anticipated. What are some ways to add personal touches to your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

Planning the details of a wedding can be stressful, here are the top three tips on how to add a perfect personal touch to your special day:

1. Create photo center pieces: If you're looking for a sweet way to remind your guests of all you and your partner have been through leading up to the big day, feature a photo of you and your sweetheart in the centerpieces at every table and have each table guess as a group what special moment this photo is referencing. For the most fun, pick a variety of precious photos from different milestones in your relationship, like the day you met, your first date, the day you moved in together, the day you said I love you, etc. This is a great way to get your guests talking and reminiscing about their favorite memories of you as a couple and get to know each other in the process too!

2. Toast each other: Many weddings feature toasts from the maid of honor or best man, but it's rare that the bride or groom step up to the mic themselves. For a tear-jerking moment where all eyes are on you, take some time during your reception to share a special toast dedicated to your partner, and let your significant other and new spouse do the same for you as well. While you'll have already made some beautiful promises to each other in the vows, this is the perfect time to share a funny story about when you knew they were "the one" or explain all the beautiful things you know are waiting in the future for you two!

3. Ask for advice: Set up a decorative chalkboard and let your guests write their favorite pieces of advice for a happy and healthy marriage. When they're done, you can hang it up in your apartment or take a picture to always remind you of all the wonderful ways your friends and family reminded you to take care of and love each other unconditionally. This is a great opportunity not only to learn the best tricks and tips for a happy marriage from couples you love, but it's also a wonderful way to get some funny advice or crazy doodles from your single friends.

According to UsMagazine.com, the celebrity couple shared a romantic meal together earlier this month at Indianapolis' Iozzo's Garden of Italy. The Bush frontman and No Doubt singer announced their celebrity divorce in November 2015 after Stefani discovered Rossdale's longtime affair with their former nanny. "There's been a lot of pain and sadness. It really teaches you perspective on life. It's really health, happiness and safety," the rocker said of his divorce, which was finalized in April 2016.

There's a new celebrity couple following Gavin Rossdale's divorce from Gwen Stefani. How do you know when it's time to move on after a split?

Cupid's Advice:

This celebrity relationship is the first one for Rossdale since his split from Stefani. So how do you know when it's time to date again following a break-up? Consider this love advice below:

1. You've allowed yourself to heal: There's no right time to jump into a new relationship after a split. Don't rush things. Instead, do whatever feels right for you. It's important to heal your broken heart first. After all, no one wants to be part of a rebound relationship.

2. You've spent some time alone: Self-reflection is always a good thing. Take your newly-found freedom to rediscover who you are. Allow yourself to grieve your loss and then focus on whatever makes you happy. Figure out what you want in your next relationship – and then, go after it!

3. You're truly over your ex: It's normal to have lingering feelings after a break-up. Before you start dating again, do a self-check: How would you react if your ex called you? What if you saw them out with someone new? How do you feel when you see old pictures of the two of you together? If you can handle these situations with grace, you're ready to move on.

Celebrity Wedding: Meghan Markle Arrives in London for Pippa Middleton's Wedding

By Noelle Downey

It looks like things are getting really serious in Prince Harry and Meghan Markle's celebrity relationship! According to EOnline.com, Markle recently arrived in London and made an appearance at Kensington Palace just days before she and Prince Harry are set to attend Pippa Middleton's celebrity wedding together. This is big news for the celebrity couple, as Markle has never attended an event with Prince Harry's family before, or been photographed meeting them. Could it be this is Markle and Prince Harry's "meet the parents" moment when it comes their Hollywood relationship? It's hard to say, but either way, attending a wedding together, particularly one as high-profile as this with the rest of the royal family in attendance, is a major deal, especially given how private the pair has been up to this point. Although their relationship was confirmed last November, the two only made their first public appearance together this month, when Markle was spotted cheering Prince Harry on at a his charity polo match, and later stealing a discreet kiss in the parking lot.

This celebrity wedding marks Meghan Markle's first public interaction with Prince Harry's family. What are some ways to know you're ready to involve your family in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt about it, taking your partner to meet your family can be stressful! Here are the top three ways to know you and your sweetie are ready for that big step:

1. You feel secure in the relationship: You don't want to bring someone home who you're pretty sure won't be in your life by next month. If you're introducing your special someone to your parents and siblings, make sure that's just what they are; special. If you're secure in your relationship you can be sure that no matter how it goes with your family that your S.O. will do their best to be well-liked by people who are so important to you and that your family will recognize how amazing and special your partner is.

2. Marriage is a possibility: If you feel like the one you're dating might just be the one, then you should definitely consider introducing them to your family. Even if such a big commitment could be months or years down the road for you two lovebirds, establishing a relationship with your family as a couple will only make your bond stronger and help your family adjust to the idea of an eventual addition to their inner circle.

3. You've met their family: If you've already met your significant other's family, why not introduce them to your own? While taking your partner to meet your family can be scary and hard, especially if you have a complicated relationship with them, it may put a damper on your relationship if your partner feels they've been open and shared their family life with you and you haven't reciprocated. Show your partner that you trust and appreciate them by taking down your walls and allowing them to see behind the scenes of your life and upbringing.

Celebrity Break-Up: 'Bachelor' Ben Higgins Sheds Light on 'Tough' Split from Lauren Bushnell

By Noelle Downey

Bachelor star Ben Higgins is opening up about his celebrity break-up from Lauren Bushnell. According to EOnline.com, Higgins is letting it all out when it comes to the end of his celebrity relationship on his upcoming podcast with fellow reality TV star, Ashley Iaconetti. In the first episode, Higgins claimed, “Lauren will always be one of my best friends. I learned a lot about myself; I think she learned a lot about herself. It’s tough.” Higgins went on to share that his heartbreak over celebrity ex Bushnell is still “very fresh” because he truly thought that, “[she] was the one.” However, Higgins is also the first to acknowledge that the Hollywood relationship had real problems. “Mutually Lauren and I saw that life was getting more difficult,” Higgins admitted, “I would say the joy that we felt toward our relationship at the beginning was—for some reason—slipping away.” He confessed there was “no real saving or redemption to be done” and that ultimately he felt that their split was “for the best.” Regardless, Higgins has hope for both of them, even if it’s as individuals, instead of a celebrity couple and stated, “I am a better man today because of Lauren and because of our relationship.”

This celebrity break-up proves that when a relationship becomes more work than pleasure, it’s time to let go. What are some ways to know your relationship has run its course?

Cupid’s Advice:

It can be tough to know when a relationship is really over, but here are the top three ways that you can be sure:

1. When you no longer see a future together: A good way to figure out if what you’re experiencing is a rough patch or really the end is to analyze whether or not you can still imagine a future with your partner. Can you picture a time when realistically things get better and you as a couple move past whatever it is that's causing stress on your relationship? Or is this conflict destined to be a part of your relationship forever? Your answer can help you determine whether or not it's time to move forward or move on.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: 'Bachelor' Stars Lauren Bushnell & Ben Higgins Split

2. When the love is gone: If you genuinely feel as if you've fallen out of love with your partner, then it's time to move on. If the thought of leaving provides you with more relief than you won't have to fake it any more than sadness, you can be sure that ending the relationship is the best thing for both of you. Don't try to force love or affection after a certain point. If you're not feeling it, you're just not. Let go.

Related Link: 'The Bachelor' Celebrity Couple Lauren Bushnell & Ben Higgins' Relationship 'Ain't Perfect'

3. When you feel trapped constantly: If your relationship has been reduced to nothing but a ball and chain around your ankle, think long and hard about whether or not you want it to continue. If you feel that the only thing your partner does is hold you back, consider the fact that you both might be able to go farther without each other. Sometimes the most loving thing you can do for another person is set them free knowing that both of you will actually be better off without one another, even if at first the split is painful.

There may be a new celebrity couple in town! What are some creative ways to make your crush notice you?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're trying to get that new cutie you've got your eye on to notice you exist, Cupid is here to help:

1. Find common ground: If you're looking to make a connection with a crush, but you're virtually strangers, find some common ground with them that you're sure you share. This doesn't have to be something super complicated or personal, in fact it's way better if it isn't. Focus on surface-level commonalities at first, even if there one's that seem obvious, like the fact that you work at the same place or go to the same school. Think about what you have in common – classes, bosses, friends, hobbies – and go from there. The next time you see them at a party or on break at work, walk up and introduce yourself and find a fun conversational tidbit to break the ice that relies on your joint experiences. Remember, if you go blank and are stuck in a pinch, virtually every one loves to talk about themselves!

2. Create an inside joke: Once you have common ground with the person you're crushing on and are friendly with them, find an inside joke that you two can share. This can be based on something funny that happens in the office or a professor you both love to hate at school. This will bond you two together further and also be a great lead-in for more flirty teasing. Don't be afraid to move from friendly and funny to actually flirty pretty soon though; after all you want to make sure your crush understands you want to be their partner, not just their buddy!

3. Give them a compliment: If you've developed a fun, flirty teasing relationship, don't get so wrapped up in giving your crush a hard time that you forget that you're trying to sweep them off their feet. Throw in a compliment every so often to remind them that you genuinely like and admire them. Remember to keep it light but also personal, something that not every one would notice or that you think they'd really appreciate hearing. And when they blushingly accept the compliment? Give them a smile and a long, soft look to take things from merely flirty to truly romantic.

This celebrity news has us rooting for this mysterious couple. What are some ways to keep your relationship away from prying eyes?

Cupid's Advice:

In today's world, keeping a relationship on the down low can be a bit tricky. Here are the top tips for keeping things between you and your significant other private:

1. Stay away from social media: If you're looking to keep your relationship private and away from prying eyes, the first step is to make sure your social media is in line with that goal. If you're constantly snapping romantic pics of your partner and posting them on the web, people are going to put two and two together. Still want the experience of sharing your special moments, but want to control who gets to see those posts? Make sure your privacy settings on apps like Facebook and Instagram are set in such a way that you can limit who gets to take a peek into your private life.

2. Practice polite shutdowns: We've all come face to face with a nosy person in our lifetime who is way too interested in the intimate minutiae of our private lives. If someone is trying to press you for more information than you're willing to give about your romantic relationship or anything else, practice kindly but firmly indicating that that information is private and you'd like to change the topic. For instance, try something non-confrontational but clear at first like, "Thanks for your interest, but honestly I usually like to keep those details private. Would you mind if we talked about something else?" And if the person keeps pressing? There's no harm in simply saying, "Like I said, that's not really something I want to discuss right now,” and extracting yourself from the conversation.

3. Choose your friends wisely: If you’re trying to keep your relationship more private, be mindful of the people with whom you share the details of your life with. If you have a friend who loves spreading the latest gossip and posting photos of people without their knowledge or permission, then you might want to think twice about sharing news of your relationship with them. Focus on finding the people in your life who will respect your wishes to keep things quiet and make sure before you go on a double date or take your significant other to meet your friends that you’re sure everyone there is willing to help you keep your relationship private.

Celebrity ‘Bachelor’	Stars	Break-Up: Lauren
---------------------------------	--------------	-----------------------------

Bushnell & Ben Higgins Split

By Noelle Downey

In breaking celebrity news, there's an item that may have reality TV lovers less than enthused; The Bachelor alums Lauren Bushnell and Ben Higgins have officially called it quits. According to UsMagazine.com, the former celebrity couple celebrated their celebrity engagement during the finale of season 20 of The Bachelor and announced their celebrity break-up months later on May 15, 2017. "It is with heavy hearts that we announce our decision to go our separate ways," Bushnell and Higgins confessed in a statement to the press, "We feel fortunate for the time we had together, and will remain friends with much love and respect for one another. We wish nothing but the best for each other, and ask for your support and understanding at this time." Although the romance of their Hollywood relationship was well-documented on The Bachelor and on their follow-up show, Ben & Lauren: Happily Ever After? audiences also witnessed some tumultuous signs of trouble in the couple's celebrity relationship, especially when it was revealed that Higgins had also confessed his love to contestant Joelle Fletcher during the run of the show. Bushnell acknowledged this did not sit well with her in several celebrity interviews, sharing, "I did carry some resentment toward him. I will never understand. I will never be the Bachelor."

This Bachelor couple has decided on a celebrity break-up. What are some ways to know you've done all you can to salvage your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to working out a rocky relationship, things can get tricky, and sometimes it's just time to call it quits. Here are Cupid's top tips on how to know when it's time to throw in the towel:

1. When you've tried talking it out... and failed: If you've sat down together, maybe even with a third party like a therapist, and honestly tried to work out your problems with little to no progress, that's a serious sign that you may have reached the final hours of your relationship. Of course, working through your problems takes time and effort, but if you feel like you've really committed to spending time working on the problem and nothing has been changing or getting better, it may be time to take a step back and take a long, hard look at whether or not this is a relationship you feel you should stay in.

Related Link: ‘The Bachelor’ Celebrity Couple Lauren Bushnell & Ben Higgins’ Relationship ‘Ain’t Perfect’

2. When they’re in love with someone else: If you feel as if your partner has some serious feelings for someone other than yourself and they’re distracting them from being in a committed relationship with you, that’s a serious problem. If your partner is in love with someone else (assuming you’re in a monogamous relationship) that’s a major deterrent to the success of your relationship. It may be time to acknowledge that it’s time to let go and let you both move on to something even better than what you have right now.

3. When all that’s left is fighting: Every couple has rough patches and seasons of their life together when they argue more than others. But if it seems that you two are constantly locked in a battle for the upper hand, and can’t even spend any amount of time together without a big fight blowing up, it’s time to call it quits. Let each other go, and let yourselves find someone else who you won’t be in constant conflict with.

Cupid's Advice:

In a new relationship? Here are the top three ways to keep things with your partner sparkling and fun, especially in the early days of getting to know each other:

1. Double date with other newer couples: For a fun date night that will have everyone enjoying themselves, try a double date with a good friend of yours who is also getting in the swing of things with a new relationship. Break the ice with a fun activity that will have every one up on their feet, like dancing in a club or bowling. Celebrity Couple: 10 Reasons Chrissy Teigen and John Legend are Relationship Goals

By Katie Gray

In Hollywood, there's a lot of lust and love in the air. Lately it seems that, sadly, marriages and relationships are falling apart left and right in Tinsel Town. This is probably due to the extra pressure and contrasting busy schedules that celebrity couples are faced with. However; our favorite celebrity couple is still holding it down: Chrissy Teigen and John Legend. They give us major relationship goals! Chrissy Teigen is a model and cookbook author – having appeared many times in Sports Illustrated. John Legend is a ten time Grammy award winning singer, songwriter and musician. He's also won an Academy Award and a Golden Globe for his music. Legend even wrote a song for Teigen, which melted our hearts: "All of Me." It's dedicated to his love, and she stars in the beautiful music video for it. This pretty pair met on the set of his music video for "Stereo" and have been in love with one another ever since then in 2007. The couple's celebrity wedding took place in Como, Italy in 2013. Their celebrity baby daughter, Luna Simone Stephens, was born in 2016. This couple is goals, whether they're lounging at home or step out on the red carpet.

Here are 10 reasons Chrissy Teigen and John Legend are relationship goals:

1. Down to earth: This couple is just like the rest of us. They are very real and genuine people, which is why they have the admiration of the country. They posted a cute candid photo of the two of them for their pregnancy announcement. You can tell just by looking at their pictures that they are down to earth. They have been open about the struggles they went through trying to get pregnant, which is something many people face and can relate with. One time back in 2015 they posted selfies at home lounging. Chrissy Teigen tweeted photos of them at 10:46 A.M. and at 2:43 P.M. in the same positions, relaxing. Just like the rest of us, they enjoy being low key at home, and sleeping in, too. Their dogs and four boxes of pizza even joined them during their entire day spent in bed! That is goals.

2. Always laughing together: This is a couple who knows that life is better when you are laughing! Whether it's in photos or videos, they are always spotted laughing and smiling together. They love to joke around and have a fun witty banter. All dressed up in formal attire, they went through security and borrowed the equipment to pose for funny pictures with it. One time Teigen even hilariously blew up Legend's spot and tweeted him about how she saw him liking her tweets, while he was in the bathroom. They posted silly videos during Thanksgiving with family using funny filters. Teigen even tweeted Legend, "John is so drunk he keeps humming 50 Cent."

3. Coolest parents at the playground: This family couldn't be happier, then when spending time together. They truly bring each other the utmost happiness. A lot of photos are swirling around of them with their baby daughter, Luna. They go on walks, to the park, take vacations and partake in fun outings for family fun. Not only are they relationship goals and parent goals – we all want them to be our mom and dad!

4. Eating constantly: Food is life, and Teigen and Legend know this. Teigen released her own cookbook Cravings last year in 2016. It is made for people who want realistic recipes. And for people who want it, “spicy, salty, sticky, crunchy, juicy and oozy.” Often times Teigen and Legend will post food photos, as well as pictures and videos of themselves in the kitchen cooking it up. They say the way to someone’s heart is through their stomach, and we all agree that is true. One of their most iconic moments to date, is when Legend was eating chicken off of a tray on Teigen’s body while they were at the pool. This pretty pair has even have taken cooking classes together! What a fun date! We know we are all craving, a relationship like this.

5. Humble: Teigen and Legend are very humble and sincere. They are also incredibly proud of one another. When Legend won an Academy Award, Teigen posted proud photos at the Oscars, and selfies that night of them sleeping with the golden Oscar statue in their bed. Often when they are at award shows, the camera catches them dancing and singing in their seats together, it’s so cute! They watch sports together, in matching team apparel.

6. Love each other for who they truly are: All you need in life is, love. This celebrity couple proves that it is true. They are each other’s soulmates. Teigen and Legend both embrace one another for who they really are as people, and accept one another’s interests. During their anniversary one year, Teigen and Legend had a candlelit fancy dinner together.

She let him watch college football on his phone for some of it as a present, because she knows it means a lot to him. Even in a relationship, we still are individuals and shouldn't lose ourselves. We don't have to have all of the same likes and interests, but it's important to realize that if it's important to them, you should realize that, and then it's important to you too. Relationships are all about compromise and acceptance.

7. Family oriented: From their interviews and things they post on social media, it's apparent that they are close to their family. In life, family is always the most important thing. Teigen is very close to her mother and they both always have family over. They have family dinners and big celebrations on the holidays. These two love being parents to their baby. Legend went all out for Teigen's first Mother's Day. He had the baby in a themed onesie and captioned the photo, "To my wonderful wife, Luna and I are so lucky to have you in our lives. If our daughter can be even half as awesome as you, I will be so happy and proud. Happy 1st Mother's Day!" With Mother's Day approaching soon, we wonder what awesome surprise we can expect from them this year? Time after time, they out do themselves. We can't help but love them!

8. Loyal: The key trait of being in a relationship is to be loyal. Legend and Teigen are always on the same team, and that is very important. There was a time when people were "mom-shaming" Teigen, which is not okay. It's also sexist, so Legend stated, "Funny there's no dad-shaming. When both of us go out to dinner, shame both of us so Chrissy doesn't have to take it all. We'll split it." How wonderful is that? We are experiencing a time when women are fighting hard to have equal rights that are deserved and long overdue. This is the height of feminism and it's great that males are also on board supporting the issue, like Legend. A big issue is wage equality and also circumstances like this, mom-shaming. They score a million points in our book for the way they balance their relationship and maintain fairness!

9. Their love song: “All of Me” is a beautiful love ballad that Legend wrote about Teigen. It’s about their relationship and how much he loves her. He dedicated it to her and it is a loving homage to her. She said in an interview about the song, “I did cry when I heard it, I’m emotional, but I really don’t cry at things like that, but yeah, it’s beautiful, and live it’s pretty unreal.” The two of them even star in the amazing music video for the song. (Which is also a piece of artwork by itself.) Watching the video, and listening to the song, it’s evident that their love is true and their bond is strong.

10. Affectionate: This couple gives us goals because they know how to display the proper amount of affection. They manage to balance perfectly – not too little, not too much. Even the photo of Chrissy kissing John’s nose was perfection. You can tell when they are hanging out, they can’t keep their eyes off of each other. They literally glow. Relationships are all about affection and passion. Because if you don’t feel strongly about the person you’re with, then you probably shouldn’t be with them. It couldn’t be more crystal clear that these two are truly in love. They take mirror pictures together, dance in waffle houses in evening wear attire, and are often in their own world together – which is how it should really be!

about Fujikawa to press. "He's a great guy," beloved actress Hawn enthused, "Yeah, he's very special actually." Russell added his praise, saying, "I always approve. Kate brings good guys."

This celebrity news is certainly the next step in Kate Hudson's relationship. What are some ways to know you're ready for the next step in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Cupid is here with some top tips on how to know when you and your partner are ready to take the next big step in your relationship:

1. When you both know what you want: Make sure that before you take your relationship public or put any kind of labels on what you're doing, sit down and talk about what you're both ultimately looking for. Are you interested in a long-term commitment? Are you just looking for something casual? Do you want to get married? Will you ever want to? In casual dating these questions aren't really a concern, but when it comes to a relationship getting serious, it's vital to know where your partner stands on where you're going as a couple, so sit down and talk it out before things go any further.

Related Link: Celebrity Relationships: Kate Hudson Says 'I Am Dating'

2. When your communication is going great: If you're going to be in a serious relationship, it's time to get real about communication. If you two struggle to hold a serious conversation in which you can actually share your thoughts and emotions with one another, it's time to give some serious thought about whether you're both ready to be in a serious relationship together. Any good couple has great communication or is working hard towards that goal, so if you always know you can go and talk to your partner, that's a good sign that you're in a good place to begin something more serious.

Related Link: Kate Hudson Looks Up to Goldie Hawn and Kurt Russell's Relationship

3. When your friends and family love them: Approval from friends and family doesn't have to mean everything, and let's be honest, sometimes people just don't get along no matter how awesome they are when they're separated. However, it's also really amazing when your friends and family can see the great person you're with as... well, great. Especially if you come from a close-knit family or friend group it can be really important for you to feel like your significant other is accepted. And if every single one of the people you love is telling you that your partner doesn't seem right for you, it may be time to think about why they all seem to be saying the same thing. Relationships where it seems to be you and them against the rest of the world never end very well.

Celebrity Couple News: Ariel Winter Reveals She's Living with Boyfriend Levi Meaden

By Noelle Downey

There's big celebrity couple news this week for one well-known star and her boyfriend! According to UsMagazine.com, Ariel Winter officially revealed she and boyfriend Levi Meaden are living together during a recent interview with late-night talk show host, Jimmy Kimmel. The couple first went public with their Hollywood relationship in November of 2016, walking the red-carpet hand in hand a month later. Winter, nineteen-year-old star of Emmy-award winning Modern Family, opened up to Kimmel about how she and twenty-nine-year-old Meaden make their celebrity relationship work when it comes to keeping things up around the house. "He cooks. I can't cook at all," Winter laughed, "He takes care of all that handy stuff. He's great, he does all that." She went on to admit that she was “like the worst wifely person” and that while she does try to contribute by baking pies for her sweetheart every so often, she admitted, “he does everything else. It’s great.”

This celebrity couple is taking things to the next level! How do you decide whether to live with your partner or not?

Cupid’s Advice:

When it comes to moving in together, knowing when both you and your partner are ready to take the plunge can be tricky! Here are the top three ways to know if you and your significant other are ready to take things to the next level:

1. When it feels like a natural next step: If moving in together seems like the next logical thing to do in the course of a healthy relationship together, then don’t doubt yourself! It probably is. For a lot of couples, moving in together just seems to start making sense after awhile, especially if they’re anxious to spend time together but often find themselves too busy for regular date nights. Moving in together can be a great way to see each other more and enjoy a life together in every sense of the word.

Related Link: New Celebrity Couple? Ariel Winter Kisses and Holds Hands with Levi Meaden After Friendsgiving

2. When nobody feels pressured: If one or both of you feel pressured into making the move, then step back and consider why you’re feeling that way. Remember, just because you don’t want to move in with someone right away doesn’t mean you don’t like them or even love them, it just means that you’re not ready for that. That could be true for a host of reasons, and the same thing goes for your partner. If you start to feel like you're being pressured into making a big decision or you worry that your partner may feel that way, sit down and have a talk about your worries and clear the air. Communication is key, and you've both got to know you're on the same page when it comes to a huge change like this.

3. When you're basically already living together: If at this point one of you basically only has "their own place" for extra storage space for their stuff, it may be time to make the jump to officially living together. If you spend all your time together and always gravitate toward one or the other of your apartments, take the leap and move in there together. It will be a relief to have all your stuff consolidated into one space again, and it won't feel like such a chore trudging back to your own apartment after spending a week with your significant other at their place.

The celebrity exes first started seeing one another in July of last year, shortly after Lovato and long-time boyfriend Wilmer Valderrama had their celebrity break-up. Although Lovato and Vasconcelos were “just having fun” a source close to Lovato confessed, the two rekindled their Hollywood relationship in January of 2017 and have since been verbal on social media about their celebrity love story. host Ellen in April, saying, "I'm very happy. Life is really good." So what happened to break apart this famous celebrity couple? A source close to the exes claims, "It wasn't a dramatic split. Bomba is a good guy, but the relationship just ran its course."

This relationship has ended up a celebrity break-up. What are some ways to know your relationship is done for good?

Cupid's Advice:

Break-ups are never fun, but Cupid is here with the top tips on how to know when your relationship has officially run its course:

1. When the end feels inevitable: If you feel as though you're just counting down the days until something snags and you guys finally have the final fight that leads to the demise of your couplehood, it may be already time to call it quits. Relationships generally shouldn't feel like they have a looming expiration date, and if you feel as though any good times you have are constantly overshadowed with your gut-feeling that this relationship isn't going to last, then you should trust your instincts.

2. When neither of you is upset: If you feel as though your relationship has deflated to the point that neither of you is particularly invested in it continuing, then do yourself both a favor and cut it off so you can go find something that really fills you both with passion. If you can broach the topic of your break-up without either of you feeling like you're really losing anything of value, then it's probably time to cut the cord and get on with your lives, separately.

3. When you feel consistently unhappy: If you're in a relationship where you feel as though you're always waiting for the "good time" and the moment when you'll really feel like you and your partner are clicking, then take a step back and consider why that is. It could be that your relationship isn't really what you want it to be, and that could be because of the person you're in that relationship with. Remember, you don't need to have a million reasons to leave someone, you just need one good one, and being consistently unhappy in your relationship is a great reason to call it quits permanently.

troubled. What are some ways to deal with a partner who gets into legal trouble?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no way around it, if you've ever had a partner or ex who got involved in some troubling illegal activities, that's bound to lead to tension in your relationship and in your lives. Here are Cupid's top tips on how to deal with a partner in legal trouble:

1. Consider the offense: Of course, when it comes to a brush with the law, there are varying degrees of legal offenses. You should react differently based on whether your partner has, for example, been caught planning and executing elaborate heists or shoplifting petty items at a drugstore. So first things first, when a partner gets involved in some kind of crime, stop and consider the offense. It's important to recognize the nuances of legality and while many crimes should give you serious pause about continuing the relationship, others may be something you can work through as a couple.

2. Make sure you and your children are safe: Of course, sometimes the answer is clear already. If a partner has been charged with violent tendencies, domestic abuse, or owning a violent weapon and you feel that you are in some kind of danger, act immediately. Go to the police and express your concerns, and then reach out to family and friends to help you through this difficult time, whether that be by staying at your place or opening their home to you so you have a place you can go where you can feel safe and secure. The first priority in situations like that should be making sure that you and any children you have are safe so that you can start re-building your lives without the negative influence of your ex.

3. Talk to your partner: If the situation is such that you are surprised by the alleged crimes your partner is accused of, try getting a moment to talk to them. Many times if the offense is not major, you will have the opportunity to pay bail and speak to your partner as a “free” individual once more. Have an open conversation with your partner and ask them why they did what they did. Be honest about how hurt and betrayed you feel by their dishonest actions and then figure out if there’s a way you can work through it together, if that’s what you want.
