By Kayla Garritano

Love for your kids will never fade. In the latest celebrity divorce, Brad Pitt will be fighting for custody of his six kids from his soon to be ex-wife, Angelina Jolie. According to UsMagazine.com, it can be confirmed that Pitt hired divorce attorney Lance Spiegel. But, despite the problems he and Jolie are having, he still has his children's best interests in mind. "He wants to have a significant role in his kids' lives, and he wants to be with them consistently, but he also wants them to be in the most protected and proper environment," said a source.

This celebrity divorce could get ugly. What are some ways to shield your children from your divorce drama?

Cupid's Advice:

If there's one thing that's most important in a divorce, it's to make sure that you protect your kids from the "ugly." Cupid is here to help:

1. Remind them that you love them: A problem with parents divorcing is that the child may feel like it's their fault, or that you don't love them anymore and that's why you're getting the divorce. Reassure them that it is not their fault, and that they are what's most important.

2. Keep it private: Sometimes, divorcing involves a lot of fighting. If you do end up arguing, make sure it's not around your children. Your child will get upset from hearing mom and dad fight and yell at each other. Try to move away from your kids to ensure that they won't be emotionally affected by your argument.

3. Don't talk trash: You don't like your soon-to-be ex if you're divorcing them; that's a fact. But that doesn't mean you're allowed to go around and talk poorly about them, especially in front of the kids. In order to keep your kid happy, you have to make sure that both of their parents are in their lives. No good will come from talking badly about the other parent. Your child shouldn't have to choose sides.

Allison Holker and Stephen “tWitch” Boss Open Up About Celebrity Baby and Reality TV Careers

This past spring, the musically-inclined duo welcomed their first celebrity baby, son Maddox Laurel, together. It’s no surprise that his big sister is relishing her new role. “She changes diapers; she does the feedings; she always wants to help,” Boss says of 8-year-old Weslie. “She’s been really excited about having a sibling for a very long time.”

Holker and Boss announced their celebrity pregnancy live on-air during season 21 of Dancing With the Stars, where Holker was paired with singer Andy Grammer and finished in 7th place (when she was five months pregnant!). After taking time off for the birth of her son, she’s back for her fourth season on the dance competition show and already in great shape. “Carrying a baby around the house is the biggest workout you could ever imagine,” she jokes.

But the excitement of her return doesn't stop there: For season 23, the pro is dancing with R&B musician, singer-songwriter, and record producer Kenneth "Babyface" Edmonds. When asked about working with the iconic man, Holker shares, "I wasn't really nervous. I felt honored – I feel like I'm learning so much from him. He's so knowledgeable about life and who he is."

Boss, on the other hand, was ecstatic to hear the news, saying, "I grew up on him!"

As fans know, Boss has quite a history with SYTYCD. After he finished as the runner-up during season 4, he returned during season 5 to perform the Emmy-nominated piece "Mercy" that he danced the year before. He was a frequent All-Star during seasons 7 through 9 and performed many memorable dance routines. Then, during season 12, he served as Team Captain for "Team Street."

Most recently, Boss made an appearance as a guest judge on the latest season of SYTYCD, which is mixing things up by featuring young dancers between the ages of 8 and 13. "When they first announced it, I wasn't completely on board. Switching formats so drastically, I didn't know how to feel about it," he explains when asked about So You Think You Can Dance: The Next Generation. "But then, after watching an episode, getting to know the contestants, getting to see the dances, and – when I was a judge – seeing it live and getting a dose of their personalities, I was like, 'Wow, this makes a lot of sense.'"

Keeping busy, the reality TV star who makes regular appearances on The Ellen Show, is developing an exercise/dance fitness program, and is continuing to attend dance auditions.

As he puts it, he is “waiting to create the next opportunity, whatever that may be.”

Celebrity Couple Partners with Airtime Labs

For Holker and Boss, it was a no-brainer to partner with Airtime Labs, a mobile telecommunication solutions company that strives to find affordable and safe technology options for families by offering monthly phone and tablet plans for children and teens. The celebrity couple will inform and educate parents about the company’s flexible mobile services and inexpensive devices. By providing their children with their own phones and/or tablets, parents can teach them responsibility but still monitor their usage.

That made me feel better about getting her a phone.”

Chiming in, Holker adds that she wanted their daughter to have a phone but with a fair amount of supervision. “I wanted her to be able to reach out to me, but she can’t just be on her phone all day,” she shares.

Cupid's Advice:

Exes can be permanent or they can be on and off. Sometimes you get back together and it works out for the best. Cupid is here to help:

1. Growth: Only consider getting back together with an ex if there's growth in the relationship. If you both have grown up and found that you were immature or too young and think it's a good time now to try again, by all means. Four years is a long time to have grown and to be a new person.
