1. Recognize your own emotions: You need to learn to establish a sense of self to feel whole, something that is key in a romantic relationship. Sometimes it can get easy to get caught up in your partner's emotions and they can muddy your own. Some good ways to do this include daily meditation or taking time to calmly breathe for a few minutes every day and just focus on yourself.

Sometimes what seems like the best of marriages run into issues that create cracks in the relationship and cannot be repaired. This celebrity couple made the decision to separate

1. You live life like you're single: If you're married and either you or your partner are essentially living separate lives, it may be a sign that your marriage is beyond fixing. As partners, you should be putting each other first, and enjoying spending time together. If you are both spending most of your time apart, and making decisions without considering your spouse first, it's a good chance your marriage may be nearing the end.

2. Thinking of your spouse with someone else doesn't hurt: Your spouse should be your priority; someone you want to spend time with and who you want to prioritize the love between the two of you. If you think they may be spending time with someone else and that doesn't bother you or make you sad, then your marriage is hurt and this may be a sign it is cracked beyond repair.

3. You stop having sex: Sex isn't everything, but when you're married, it is something. It is a definite sign that your marriage is not looking so great.

Cupid's Advice:

Once news of a relationship hits the rumor mill, it'll keep spinning out of control. While you'll never eliminate gossip there are a few steps you can take to diminish it's power:

1. Present a strong front: Make sure you and your partner are on the same page regarding your public relationship. Talk with you partner about the ins and outs of PDA, social media, and what can be said when. It's a delicate balance of respecting each other's boundaries and standing united.

3. Keep your relationship low-key: This may not be for everyone. Even I'm not immune to a good Instagram post celebrating inner aspects of my life. Break-ups can be stressful and often come with a lot of heartaches. The best ways to cope with a recent split can be different for everyone, from hanging out with your friends to eating ice cream from the carton. Cupid has some advice on coping with a recent break-up:

1. Lean on your friends: Sometimes the worst thing you can do after a split is to sit at home alone and dwell on the past. Take this time to spend time with your friends. Go out, dance, and let them help you take your mind off of your break-up; let them be there for you the way you'd be for them if the roles were reversed.

Celebrity News: How Prince William and Duchess Kate Bounced Back After Rumors He Had an Affair

By

Bonnie Griffin

In celebrity news, Prince William and Duchess Kate focus on their marriage and don't let the rumors that William cheated ruin their relationship. The celebrity couple decided not to let the negative rumors negatively impact their marriage, and they are still in a strong and committed marriage today.

In celebrity news, Prince William and Duchess Kate recently went through a tough time with hateful rumors. What are some ways to keep rumors from affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

In the era of social media and online news, rumors get started faster than ever, and most people don't take the time to check the facts before they believe whatever they hear or read. Rumors can tear a good relationship apart if either party feeds into them. Here are some tips from Cupid to keep rumors from affecting your relationship:

1. Keep your private life private: It is easy to get sucked into social media and many people wind up oversharing. The problem with sharing every little detail about your relationships is that those details can get stretched, and people can make of them whatever they want. Venting when you're upset online can make things even worse. Your relationship is between you and your partner, and it should not be fuel for your social media feed.

2. Trust: One of the most important things in a successful relationship is having trust between you and your partner. A relationship without trust is bound for failure. Trust is developed over time based on your actions in your relationship and the actions of your partner. If you trust your partner then it won't be so easy for something as trivial as a rumor to come between the two of you, and you will be better prepared to work through any harmful rumors thrown your way.

3. Don't easily condemn your partner: If you don't have peace in your relationship and are constantly arguing with your partner over small things, a rift will develop and it can make it easier for you to believe rumors. Remember that nobody is perfect and try to cut each other some slack when it comes to the small things. If you constantly fighting and worried your partner is going to do something bad then you will feed into any harmful rumor you may hear. If you love your partner give them the benefit of doubt and don't always expect the worse.
