By Nicole Maher

In the latest celebrity news, Bachelorette Tayshia Adams narrowed down her remaining contestants to just three men after hometown dates. According to UsMagazine.com, Adams hoped these dates would provide an opportunity to get to know both the men and their families better. The reality tv star went on four individual dates during the episode and made the heartbreaking decision to send one man home.

In celebrity couple news, Tayshia Adams is down to her final three suitors. What are some ways to know that someone is right for you?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes we encounter a person who we find both attractive and kind, but inevitably do not have the best chemistry with. These situations can be challenging because you may be reluctant to let go of someone when nothing is necessarily wrong, they are just not your perfect match. If you are looking for some ways to know that someone is right for you, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Your bond feels natural: While it may not be love at first sight, creating a bond with someone should feel easy and natural if they are the right person for you. There may be awkward silences in conversations or mild miscommunications while you are getting to know someone, but the overall progression of the relationship should never feel forced.

2. You're progressing at the same pace: There is no set timeline that you need to follow when you are getting to know or dating someone new. However, the two of you should be progressing at relatively the same pace as the relationship continues. If one person is still holding back months into the relationship, it may be a sign they are not the right person for you.

3. You don't feel stressed: Your intuition is your best friend when starting a relationship with someone new. Sometimes we still feel stressed with things appearing to be going perfectly, which may be a result of some underlying factor you are avoiding. If the current situation you are in causes you to feel a constant low level of stress, it may be a sign that person is not your perfect match.

Cupid’s Advice:

Every relationship is bound to run into issues at some point, whether it is early-on or after some time. While tough to navigate, these issues can point you to the areas of your relationship that need some more attention. If you are looking for some signs that your relationship needs help, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You've stopped trying to problem-solve: In a healthy relationship, most issues are addressed with problem-solving and compromise. However, if these issues have caused you to avoid discussing possible solutions and led you to avoid the topic altogether, then it is a sign that your relationship needs help. Looking for new areas of compromise or different communication strategies may help you work through this rocky period.

By Nicole Maher

she wants in the ideal partner following her celebrity break-up with Austin Butler. According to UsMagazine.com, Hudgens is open to dating someone whether they are in the public eye or not. Hudgens and Butler separated in January of this year after dating for nearly nine years. Since their break-up, Hudgens has revealed that she has not been dating amid the coronavirus pandemic and her busy acting schedule.

In celebrity news, Vanessa Hudgens is reevaluating what she looks for in a partner after her split from Austin Butler. What are some ways to learn from a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Although challenging, break-ups provide a great opportunity for learning lessons from a past relationship, as well as determining what you want out of future relationships. If you are looking for some ways to learn from a break-up, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Set priorities: Break-ups provide a great time to reestablish your priorities and expectations about what you want in a future relationship. While you likely had an idea of your priorities before you even started dating, going through an unsuccessful relationship can reveal what you truly need from a partner to make things work. Take this time to update your priorities so that you know what is a must-have the next time around.

2. Establish deal-breakers: Deciding on deal-breakers is just as important as setting priorities. A person can have all of the characteristics you favor, but if they have a major lifestyle habit that you disagree with, it can cause conflict in the future. Deal breakers also don't have to be "negative" attributes about the person, but can simply be factors like distance and the type of relationship you are both looking for.

3. Consider external factors: When we're in a relationship, we sometimes tend to put that aspect of your life above others. Break-ups are a great time to look at other aspects of your life and decide if you'd like to spend some time improving them as well. By working to better yourself professionally or mentally between partners, you will enter your next relationship with a more solid foundation and be ready to put in all the necessary effort.

Celebrity Break-Up: Olivia Wilde Ditches Engagement Ring After Jason Sudeikis Split

By Nicole Maher

In the latest celebrity news, Olivia Wilde has removed her engagement ring after her celebrity break-up with fiancé Jason Sudeikis. According to UsMagazine.com, Wilde was first spotted without her ring while spending some time at a horse stable in Los Angeles, California. The couple began dating in November of 2011 and announced their engagement in January of 2013.

In celebrity break-up news, Olivia Wilde is no longer sporting the engagement ring she got from ex Jason Sudeikis. What are some physical ways you can cope with a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

One of the hardest things to deal with in a break-up is letting go of some of the physical reminders of your relationship. If you are looking for some physical ways you can cope with a break-up, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Lose the jewelry: Whether it's an engagement ring or a necklace, taking off any jewelry that was given to you by your ex is a good first step in removing physical reminders of your break-up. This will also give others the clue that your relationship has ended without you necessarily needing to tell everyone verbally. After some time has passed, you can decide what to do with the jewelry long-term.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Lamar Odom & Fiancée Sabrina Parr Call It Quits

2. Clean your social media: In the modern age, nearly everyone in a relationship has shared some pictures with their partner on social media. Another physical way of coping with a break-up is to clear that person from your field. This can include archiving pictures of you two together, removing tags from past photos, and muting or unfollowing your ex's account.

3. Put away past gifts: While you may have a sentimental attachment to some of the gifts your ex has given you in the past, it is a good idea to remove these gifts from view. Just like with jewelry, placing the gifts you've received in a box and putting them away for a while can help take your mind off the break-up. Once your emotions have settled, then you can decide what to keep, return, and get rid of.

In celebrity news, Amanza Smith says her ex Taye Diggs took care of her and her kids for the five years they were together. What are some ways to rebuild your life (and your finances) after a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Among the many challenges people face following a break-up, rebuilding your life and finances are some of the most difficult. If you are looking for some ways to get back on the right track following a break-up, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Scale down: Whether it is downsizing where you're living or canceling a few memberships/subscriptions, scaling down might be necessary following a financially dependent break-up. Don't be disheartened by the need to cut back in a few areas after a relationship ends. Scaling down is only temporary, and these novelties can be added back into your life once you're on your feet again.

2. Create a new budget: Your style of living usually changes following a break-up, especially if you were living with your ex partner. Celebrity News: 'Pump Rules' Tom Sandoval & Ariana Madix Weren't Invited to Co-Stars' Gender Reveal Parties

By Nicole Maher

In the latest celebrity news, Vanderpump Rules stars Tom Sandoval and Ariana Madix revealed they weren't invited to any of their co-stars' gender reveal parties. According to UsMagazine.com, the celebrity couple didn't make the guest list for at least three gender reveal parties hosted by their co-stars. However, Sandoval and Madix were not the only couples excluded from these gatherings, as cast member Scheana Shay and her boyfriend Brock Davies also weren't invited to one of the parties.

In celebrity news, the drama is heating up off-screen for current and former Vanderpump Rules stars. How do you decide who to invite to important events in your life?

Cupid's Advice:

Social gathering restrictions or not, it can be hard to narrow down the guest list for important events in your life. While you may not be looking to hurt anyone's feelings, leaving someone off the guest list can cause drama. If you are looking for ways to decide who to invite to important events, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Establish a limit: The first step in planning a gathering is to determine how many people you want to invite. If the event you are hosting is at a venue, this number may already be established for you. Don't let the pressure of feeling the need to invite everyone overpower how many people you actually want in attendance.

2. Make a priority list: After establishing a number of people, you need to decide who exactly you want to invite by creating a priority list. If the event involves more than one person, such as a gender reveal or wedding, make sure each host has a priority list of about the same length.

3. Acknowledge others after: In the world of social media, it's impossible to have a party without people who weren't invited finding out about it eventually. By creating a post thanking all those in attendance and those who showed their support through social media, you will make everyone feel like they had a part in your event, even if they weren't there in person.

This celebrity baby was named after Joaquin's late brother. What are some ways to incorporate an important family member's name into your child's name?

Cupid's Advice:

Whether it's the name of a parent, grandparent, or lost sibling, many people look to incorporate important family names into the names of their children. If you are looking for the best ways to incorporate these important family member's names into that of your child, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Middle name: If you and your partner have already decided on the first name of your child, then opt for using the family member's name as the middle name. This can be a great option if you feel that the important family member's name is out-of-date, or simply does not seem to match the personality of your family and newborn child.

Related Link: Celebrity Baby News: 'Vanderpump Rules' Stars Brittany Cartwright & Jax Taylor Are Expecting First Child Together

2. Switch the gender: Sometimes the gender of the child is different from that of the past family member. One way to incorporate the family name despite this difference is to find the gender-equivalent. Many names are unisex or have male and female versions, such as Michael and Michelle, which can make it easy to incorporate an important family name even if the gender of your baby is different.

3. Right up front: Just as Mara and Phoenix did, place the important family member's name right up front. There is so much excitement around expecting a child with your partner, and the last thing you want to consider is the possibility of having a miscarriage. Unfortunately, many couples do experience miscarriages during their pregnancy journeys. If you are looking for ways to support your partner and relationship through a miscarriage, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Relieve any guilt: Miscarriages are one of the most emotional events a couple can experience when trying to have a child. Despite following all of the pregnancy guidelines and visiting doctors regularly, an issue such as miscarriage can still occur. It is important to remove any guilt or blame surrounding a miscarriage, and assure both partners that neither of them are at fault.

2. Develop a plan: Deciding on the next-steps following a miscarriage are painful but necessary. the attention goes to the woman who was pregnant. While it is essential to support her through this process, it is also important to tend to the rest of the family. Both partners and any existing children were all likely looking forward to welcoming a new child into the family, and will all have their own grief processes following a miscarriage.

Cupid's Advice:

It's normal to sometimes feel jealous of your partner's ex, even in the happiest relationships. But obsessing over that jealousy can cause serious harm. If you need help getting your partner past their jealousy, Cupid has some advice for you.

1. Reassure them: Remind your partner that you and your ex broke up for a reason. Remind them that you chose to be with them, not your ex. It's easy to get lost in overthinking, so reassure your partner of your feelings. Ask if there's more you can be doing to help them feel comfortable.

In celebrity couple news, Khloé and Tristan are on such good terms again that they're looking to buy a home together. What do you do if you and your partner disagree on the features you want in a home?

Cupid's Advice:

When you and your partner are ready to move into a new place together, you're likely excited about this next step in your relationship. Unfortunately, you might find out you and your partner can't agree on what you want in a home. If you're worried about making this compromise, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Decide your must-haves: Both you and your partner should make separate lists of your must-haves for your new home. Compare lists afterward and find out what you agree on from the get-go. Use these features you already agree on as the foundation for your house search.

2. Focus on your budget: Most couples have a hard time deciding on a budget. A good rule of thumb is your monthly payments should be less than 25% of your net pay. Cupid's Advice:

Post-break-up drama can be overwhelming, especially if you're trying to distance yourself from it. If your ex refuses to leave the drama in the past, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Find your support system: Surround yourself with people you trust. Distance yourself from your ex and other people you're worried might try to bring you down with unnecessary drama. Lean on close friends and family who you trust have your best interests at heart.

Expecting a child is an exciting time! Your family is growing and there's a lot to prepare for. It's important to know that a baby's brain develops differently for each sex. If you want a sneak peek into your little girl talents and struggles, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Talking: On average, girls start talking a month earlier than boys. Girls also tend to have larger vocabularies than boys as early as 18 and 24 months. However, reading to your child has more of an impact on their vocabulary than biological sex does, so be sure to talk and read to your baby as much as you can!

2. Spatial skills: Boys tend to better understand the space objects take up. Boys can usually understand how objects appear rotated between three to five months old, which is earlier than girls.
