

Celebrity Couple Predictions: Chrissy Teigen, Jessica Alba and Eve

By Shoshi

For today's post, let's look at three celebrity couples with happy and strong relationships – one twosome settling into married life, one duo with two adorable daughters, and one pair of newlyweds:

Chrissy Teigen and John Legend: This beautiful supermodel and her husband are just simply one of the cutest couples in entertainment. They were together for seven years before the sexy singer put a ring on it, and now, the couple appears to be blissfully married.

What makes these two work is that they allow each other to be who they are. In case you haven't noticed, Teigen is a bit of a wild woman, while Legend is more reserved. It's a great balance in their relationship, and there is a wonderful foundation of love and respect that keeps them going strong.

Baby energy is swirling around Teigen, so expect an announcement that they will be welcoming a bundle of joy by late September or early October. I keep seeing two babies arriving at the same time, which could be a sign of twins. Once Teigen starts to have kids, she will have a clothing line for little ones, which will be a huge success around the world. It will be such a hit that she will pretty much drop modeling to focus on being an entrepreneur.

Jessica Alba and Cash Warren: There are rumblings that this pair are having marital troubles due to The Honest Company founder being the breadwinner. They met on the set of Fantastic Four – she was the lead actress in the movie, while he was a production assistant. At the time, Alba was the more famous of the two, but who knew she would go from being a B-list actress to a savvy entrepreneur and spokesperson?

Fans, rest easy: Alba and Warren are not separating or getting a divorce. They are best friends and trust each other with everything. However, there is a some tension in their marriage. Warren is trying to figure out how to leave his mark on the entertainment business by being known as more than “Jessica Alba’s husband.”

Luckily, Warren is beginning to gain some ground as a producer. He will end up producing a movie that gets him some notoriety and even nominated for an award – and Alba will be there right by his side, cheering him on. This couple will continue to go strong.

Eve and Maximillion Cooper: Eve is officially off the market! This past weekend, she married her longtime boyfriend, Gumball 3000 entrepreneur Maximillion Cooper, in an intimate ceremony in Ibiza, Spain. The two met at the Gumball 2010 rally when Eve was a participant in the race, and they have been together ever since.

While some may think that they're an odd couple, they are a great match. Eve became really clear about the type of relationship that she wanted, and she made big changes in her life for love, including moving to London. Long story short, girlfriend did what she had to do to get her dream guy. It can also be said that the singer is exactly what Cooper was looking for. After his first marriage ended, he wasn't sure he would get married again, but now, he cannot imagine his life without Eve; she is his backbone.

Recently, the rapper formed her own label and released an album, but all of that is going to take a backseat now. She's going to focus on her new television show about interracial couples and getting pregnant. Cooper has four children with ex-wife Julie Brangstrup, but Eve is so ready to have a little one of her own with him. She also recently said that her stepchildren want her to make them a brown baby sister. A baby is indeed on the way but not until 2015.

How do you know if you should give your ex a second chance?

Cupid’s Advice:

Second chances are risky. Love isn't like baseball when you get a definitive three strikes rule, this is your heart we are talking about and it isn't something to be toyed with. When it comes to giving your ex a second chance you have to go with your gut and see if there is something here to be fighting for:

1. They have made an effort to change: Doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results is the definition of insanity. The same rule applies to human behavior. Obviously the way things were wasn't working for the two of you together, so something has to give. If your ex has made a measurable effort to better himself for the sake of your relationship, that is something to take into account when granting a second chance to dating them again .

2. He has given you a sincere apology, and meant it: There isn't much you can do with the words "I'm sorry." After a while of hearing the repetitive apologies, they begin to lose their meaning. A real apology entails acknowledgment of their wrongdoing, recognition of the consequences, and a plan of action for what they're going to do to improve. If your ex has sat you down, looked you in the eye, and apologized explicitly for whatever he may have done, that is credible.

3. Take your past into consideration: Was your relationship toxic? Did your nights end in tears more often than kisses? Can you see yourself dating this person again ? Relationships end in one of two ways: in a break up or they don't end at all, you're with them until you pass. If you can look into your past and smile about it, and look into the future and see him there, he may be worth the second shot, similar to what Selena Gomez did with dating Justin Bieber.

Cupid's Advice

Usually, when you think of two people getting married you might picture a church, large wedding dress, the guests, a bridal party, the list could go on. 1. The day is actually about YOU: Everyone says that weddings are all about the bride and groom. After all, it is THEIR day, right? Let's face it; most of the time the couple is trying to meet the needs of their guests, stay within budget, and wrapped up in accomplishing whatever it takes to please everyone else that the day becomes more about the guests than themselves.

Eve and Maximillion Cooper Tied the Knot in Spain

By Shannon Seibert

The wedding bells are chiming again. Eve and Maximillion Cooper tied the knot at Blue Marlin, Cala Jondal Beach in Ibiza, Spain, on Saturday, June 14. The couple exchanged “I dos” next to the ocean with their guests dressed in elegant beach attire. The couple has a history with international travel. They met at a 3000- mile international car rally, and got engaged in Scotland after three years together. Together, the pair has never seemed happier, according to UsMagazine.com.

What are some advantages to an international wedding?

Cupid’s Advice:

For some people their ideal wedding location is in their backyard. But for a few, their dreams lie beyond their country’s borders. International weddings have become increasingly popular and we’ve discovered the reasons why.

1. You are basically creating your own fairytale: This is your love story, so therefore, it’s only right if you get to pick the setting. Places such as Spain, Greece, and Italy are growing in popularity for destination weddings. The exotic feel about being somewhere new brings about a whole new essence of romance. This new place becomes yours and your partner’s forever. You will never think of the destination the same way again, for this sacred place has a whole new meaning.

Related: Will Smith and Jada Pinkett-Smith Show Their Love in Hawaii

2. You get to choose your guests: International flights are expensive, therefore you have to be extremely selective when it comes to picking out who gets the plane tickets. This can also allow you to get the intimate feel that you may be searching for. Your friends and family are more likely to understand you not being able to drop thousands on numerous international flights than not receiving an invite to your local church ceremony. Those who are invited to experience this day with you will also recognize how much they mean to you, making your wedding even more wonderful.

3. You're one step closer to your honeymoon: When you're already out of the country, you're only a hop skip and a jump away from kicking off your honeymoon. A lot of couples are starting to hop on the international wedding train and begin their world tours for their honeymoon. This is also a good way to get a little world travel under your belt before you buckle down and start making a family. It's just good planning, really.

Jenny McCarthy and Donnie Wahlberg Say Wedding Won't Be Like Kimye's

By Sanetra Richards

No Kimye copycats this way! According to UsMagazine.com, Donnie Wahlberg and wife-to-be Jenny McCarthy have their own wedding ideas in mind and are sticking to them. The 44-year-old New Kids on the Block singer laughed about how their ceremony will be the opposite of the Wests' luxurious nuptials: "We'll have a small wedding in a really beautiful place and we both want do it right this time," Wahlberg said to Extra at the NYC hotspot The Attic. "We've both been married before and we want to make it special – this is the last wedding." Wahlberg continued, "We're not getting married in Istanbul with eight million guests." McCarthy also added: "I won't have three dresses." "No seven dresses, not going to happen...that's their thing, good for them," said the Blue Bloods actor. McCarthy announced their engagement during an episode of the ABC daytime talk show The View back in April. Although no official dates or plans have been thought of yet, the two have poked fun at where the reception could take place. The 41-year-old show co-host recently received an open invitation to have the celebration at one of the Applebee's locations after she joked to the Boston Herald about having the ceremony at the restaurant. "I thought it was very cute that Applebee's tweeted us, so we went in on it, we actually said maybe we should have them do the appetizers," she told Extra. "Or the wedding rehearsal dinner, it was really sweet of them," Wahlberg said.

How do you personalize your wedding festivities?

Cupid's Advice:

A wedding is the perfect event to add your own personal ideas and touches to. After all, the entire ceremony is devoted to you and your partner. During all of the chaos that may be happening, it is possible to lose that vision you once had in mind. You may even find yourself adding the not so favorable ideas of others. So, how do you go about making it your own? Cupid has some tips to keep in mind while planning:

1. Venue: Try not to settle for a location that does not make your eyes light up every time you see it. This is your opportunity to decorate in any style you desire and let your creativity flourish throughout the decor. Your venue will reflect the wedding style you are aiming for.

2. Music: The songs played represent the love you and your partner share. Each song is personal and means something to both of you. Maybe choose your favorite artist(s) to play or favorite live band to perform.

3. Reception: Give your guests a look inside your love by leaving note cards on their tables of how you both met, memories created over time, or funny jokes shared between the two of you. This will keep the guests entertained from beginning to end.

Now that you are older, you have probably adapted to going on single dates and would not mind changing it up for once. Whoever said inviting your friend(s) on a date couldn't make for a great time? Cupid has three thrilling date ideas to consider when planning for a double day/night out:

1. Skating rink: This is the absolute perfect place to regain your mojo that was lost over the years, while having a ton of fun doing so. Lace up your skates and go until your feet become sore. Between the music and multiple falls, laughter is sure to be created among the four of you.

Rumor: Jake Gyllenhaal Dating Rachel McAdams

By Laura Seaman

Rumor has it that Jake Gyllenhaal dating Rachel McAdams. They have been spotted together once again as they left the Miguel Cotto vs. Sergio Martinez fight on June 9. Rumors have been flying about whether or not these outings means that they are actually dating, but sources tell UsMagazine.com that the two are just friends, and that the reason they're spending so much time together is to prepare for their upcoming movie Southpaw. Not only that, but McAdams is still with Patrick Sambrook, the couple showing some PDA back in May.

How do you know if you should risk your friendship for love?

Cupid's Advice:

It's a situation that has plagued almost everyone at some point, like Jake Gyllenhaal : Should you turn your friendship into a relationship? This often leads to people being 'friend-zoned' and told that the risk isn't worth it, or that they can't be anything more than a friend because the person "just doesn't see them that way". With all of this in mind, sometimes it's worth the risk of asking your friend to be more than your friend.

1. Figure out your feelings. Make sure that you truly want to start dating this person, not because you just got out of a breakup or you suddenly find them attractive, but because you truly care about them more than the normal friend would. If you're risking your friendship, you need to be sure that it's for something you really want.

Related: Five Ways To Get His Undivided Attention

2. Read the signs. As strong as your feelings might be, they won't get you very far if your friend doesn't return them. Look for phrases such as "you're like a brother/sister to me," or conversations about other people they're interested in. If your friend comes to you on dating advice about other men/women, they probably haven't considered dating you.

Related: How to Prevent Yourself from Rushing into a Relationship

3. Make sure they're ready for a relationship. Timing is important, and as a friend you should know better than anyone how they're feeling about love. If your friend just got dumped, or is in a stage of their life where they're just enjoying being single, it's probably not the best time to confess your feelings. You need to be there as a friend, so don't be selfish! Wait until they're ready.

What are some ways to support your partner's career?

Cupid's Advice:

A relationship is similar to a business partnership. There are strengths and weaknesses that both people bring to the table, and together, both parties become one. Cupid has some ways to support your partner in his or her career:

1. Ask for frequent updates: By having interest in your partner's career, it demonstrates your efforts to support what they are passionate about. If there is something weighing on their heart in the workplace, you are supposed to represent a safe haven where they can come to when they need advice or a shoulder to lean on. Ask questions about the projects they're working on, or clients they have and try to understand what your honey is doing on a day to day basis. Even make suggestions when he asks for a creative edge. This can also create a stronger bond for you and your love through the ability to connect on career interests.

2. Attend work related events: Like Meester and Brody, show the world how strong you are as a unit by being a united front. Attending work related events may or may not be interesting to you but it'll mean the world to your partner. A company party or a fundraiser is a great place to socialize with your man's coworkers. As his leading lady, you are the foundation to his passions, and number one supporter of his goals. Wow his bosses with your winning smile, and adoration for your love, showing that you support everything that he is about, and in turn, your sweetheart will do the same for you.

3. Make sacrifices when needed: Relationships are hard enough, trying to make two lives into one, so sometimes sacrifices are inevitable. If your love's job requires him to move to a different city, or work long hours, try being accommodating to his needs. If this promotion will open doors for him, don't be the one to stand in the way. Love always finds a way to make things work, no matter the circumstances. Stay strong in your faith of your relationship and everything will work out in the end.

What are some ways to spice up your wedding rehearsal?

Cupid's Advice:

Weddings rehearsals can be much the same. You go through the steps of the wedding and then eat some dinner with family/friends. Cupid has some ways to spice it up a little:

1. Make it themed: A fun idea would be to make your wedding rehearsals themed. Have everyone dress up in the same style or era and make the festivities match what you want. Bethenny Frankel and Jason Hoppy Settle Custody Dispute

By Sanetra Richards

The smoke has cleared and everything is settled between Bethenny Frankel and Jason Hoppy ... at least for now. According to UsMagazine.com, the estranged couple has come to an agreement in divorce court, involving the custody battle for daughter Bryn. Hoppy's attorney, Bernard Clair, released a confirmation statement saying, "My client is delighted that this custody dispute has been resolved; that his co-parenting status has been acknowledged; that the parties' child will have the benefit of being raised by both parents; and most importantly, that his daughter will no longer be at the mercy of a high-profile courtroom battle.”

What are some ways to shield your child from divorce proceedings?

Cupid's Advice:

Every divorce that involves children leads to questions revolving what is best for him or her. Whatever decision you and your ex make, you want to keep your child's best interest in mind, which includes not exposing them to the messy divorce proceedings. Cupid has some tips to help you achieve this:

1. Have respect and decency: The best way to not taint the image your child may have of the other parent is to avoid bashing, at all costs. Your child is already coping with the separation and any unnecessary arguing in their presence will only make matters worse. However, if you and your ex are respecting each other, your child will do the same.

2. Be honest: Do not keep your child completely out of the loop with what is going on between the two of you. If he or she has question involving the separation, answer it honestly to the best of your ability. As stated before, maintain that respect and reassure them that you and your ex will always be their parents.

3. Do not play the blame game: This means absolutely not pointing fingers. Your child is in a very vulnerable state (just like you) and will possibly believe anything negative you may tell them about the other parent. Remember what is most important –being a parent and protecting your child from any danger, including those harsh words you may want to say.

You and your new partner have been in hiding so long, and now you are ready to take it to the next step and go public. Unfortunately, you are concerned about the timing and possible reactions. Cupid has some advice to make the decision a little bit easier for you and your latest love:

1. Everything is going smoothly: When you cannot deny the feelings and there is nothing to complain about, you should probably begin to brace yourself for making the big announcement. You are more than satisfied and secure in the new relationship, so why hide it any longer? However, be sure you are absolutely comfortable and willing to inform everyone.

When you're with the special someone, you know just how amazing they are. Sometime it's easy to forget that maybe the whole world doesn't know what you know. Here are some of Cupid's tips on how to show the world how incredible your partner is without having to scream it from the top of a skyscraper:

1. Show little signs of affection in public. Holding someone's hand or giving them a peck on the cheek while you're out on the town is a simple, romantic way to show the world that you're proud to be with your partner. Be careful not to take it too far, because too much PDA can be obnoxious.

2. Use the gifts they've given you. Whether this means wearing an accessory, using that dorky coffee mug, or listening to the mix CD they made, it means a lot to see your partner use the gift you've bought them. It means even more when they boast "I got this from my wife/husband."

Armie Hammer and Wife Prepare For First Baby

By Laura Seaman

The star of Lone Ranger, Armie Hammer, and his wife Elizabeth Chambers are expecting their first baby, as confirmed by their rep to UsMagazine.com. “They talk about having a couple, though they’re thrilled with one now,” says a source. Hammer had some experience with kids when he read Oh, the Places You’ll Go by Dr. Seuss at the Kids’ Art Museum Project event at Hammer Museum. “I’m practicing for when I do have kids,” he said.

What are some ways to prepare your relationship for a baby?

Cupid’s Advice:

Having a baby is a huge step in a relationship, and you’ll need all the preparation you can get. There’s no fail-proof way to raise a child, and you’re bound to run into some problems, but the more you prepare for the future the better equipped you will be to handle whatever life throws at you.

1. Spend time with kids and pay attention. If you have relatives or friends with young children, it might be a good idea to babysit or go to the park with the family. Watch how the parents interact with their children and take note of what does and doesn't work.

She was eating what UsMagazine.com assumes to be her pregnancy craving food of orange soda and sandwiches. The couple when on a sailing lesson and soaked up the sun while pregnant Bilson wore a black bikini that showed off her growing baby bump.

How do you support your partner during pregnancy?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancy is a very big, scary, and exciting time for many women. The best thing a partner can do is be there to support them. There are many ways to support your partner during pregnancy, and the more support you give, the better the process will be for everyone involved; even the baby, when it arrives! Cupid has some advice:

1. Take time off and make sure you're there: While it's important to make money to support the baby, it's also important to take the time to support the mother. During this pregnancy, things might become difficult or confusing, and it means a lot if you're there to make things better. Your time is probably the most important thing you can give to another person, so make sure your partner is getting plenty of it.

What are some ways to show your excitement about your engagement?

Cupid's Advice:

You are more than happy at the idea of spending the rest of your life with that special person and want to shout it at the top of your lungs. In the meantime, you would rather show your enthusiasm in other ways, but not exactly sure how to. Here are a few of Cupid's tips:

1. Speak highly of your partner: This will become second nature if you are completely over the moon with your significant other. You will find yourself talking about their greatest traits that make you blush or have butterflies. For example, if they are selfless, you may find yourself telling others about this characteristic.

2. Inform others: Share with everyone that you are soon to be happily married. Tell family, friends, whoever is in sight! Broadcast it if you feel the need, unless you both have agreed to keep it a secret). If the highest mountain top were accessible, you would do it.

3. Wear your engagement jewelry: Whether that be a ring, necklace, what ever symbolizes the engagement, be sure to rock it every chance you get. This let's everyone know, including your partner, that you are looking forward to the day when you exchange vows.

Evan Rachel Wood and Jamie Bell Split After 2 Years of Marriage

By Sanetra Richards

The wedding bands are off for! According to UsMagazine.com, Evan Rachel Wood and Jamie Bell have decided to go their separate ways after two years of marriage. In an exclusive statement, a rep told Us, “Evan Rachel Wood and Jamie Bell have decided to separate. They both love and respect one another and will of course remain committed to co-parenting their son. This is a mutual decision and the two remain close friends." A source also added, "They love each other so much but it just wasn't right." The pair met back in 2004 on the video set of Green Day's "Wake Me Up When September Ends" and walked down the aisle eight years later in 2012. The 26 and 28-year-old also welcomed a new addition to their family last July. The new mom shared with Us in November what motherhood was like and her busy schedule: "I've been having separation anxiety because I'm so used to him being right here all the time. They kind of become a part of you, you know?" said Wood as she blushed about their baby boy. "It was my dream to be a mom, so I'm loving it. I love it." "He's smiling and laughing. He started rolling over," she went onto add about his steps through babyhood. "He's grabbing things. You know, he's making oohs and aahs." How do you know when it's time to call it quits on your marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Unfortunately, every marriage cannot be salvaged, and it's best to know when you should part ways before letting time pass you by. Here are a few things Cupid thinks will help you come to the realization:

1. Everyday bickering: The time you spend together is consumed by arguments, whether petty or major. And at the end of the day, you and your partner cannot come to an agreement on anything. Compromise definitely does not exist in your household! Pay attention to the disputes revolving around some of the smallest issues and if there is constant finger pointing. Although proper communication can repair a relationship, there is not a 100% guarantee.

2. Future? More like past: Your significant other starts off as a good time – you can see planning and building your entire life with him/her . . . but then you begin to realize that you do not see them in your future. The dream of making a home, starting a family, etc., slowly vanishes. The nitpicking and dislikes become greater than ever – and so does calling it quits.

3. Attraction fizzles: No more wild and spontaneous dates, or romance, period. You no longer desire to have your partner around. Do not ignore the warning signs! Keep in mind, they are always there before the storm approaches.

Wladimir Klitschko and Hayden Panettiere Prepare Relationship For Kid

By Laura Seaman

Hayden Panettiere is pregnant! Panettiere and fiancé Wladimir Klitschko are expecting their first child, a source tells UsMagazine.com. The couple has been engaged for a year, and have been dating on and off since 2009. “I’ve lived a very big life, and I don’t feel my age, and I feel like I was born to be a mother,” said Panettiere. “Motherhood is the most beautiful, exciting thing, and there’s nothing that I feel like I can’t accomplish while having children in my life.”

How does your relationship change when you have a child?

Cupid’s Advice:

Having a kid is a huge step in any relationship. You and your partner are going from being a couple to being parents. You’re responsible for another life, and that baby won’t be a baby forever. It’s a lifetime responsibility, and you have to be prepared for the changes that come with it:

1. There’s less alone time and more family time. When you have a child, you need to know where they are and what they’re doing 24/7. With such a demanding new role, it's no wonder that you and your partner will have less time alone with each other. Learn to take advantage of your time together and make the most of family time.

2. Work should take a back seat for a while. As committed as you are to your job, but have to be even more committed to your family. You can't expect one person to do all the work, so even if you're the breadwinner for your family, you need to make sure you do your part and spend time with your new baby.

3. Watch your health and habits. There's a chance that some of your previous habits weren't child friendly. For example, smoking in the house or around the baby is a big no-no. Maybe you're a bit of a slob, and you leave things around the house. There's a chance some of those things might not be good for the baby to find. Just make sure you've prepared your life to fit the new addition to your family.

LeAnn Rimes and Eddie Cibrian Ready for Children

By Laura Seaman

There are two things Hollywood is full of: reality shows and celebrity children. LeAnn Rimes and Eddie Cibrian, who have their own upcoming reality show on VH1, told UsMagazine.com that they are wanting to bring some children into the mix. “He’s the best Dad already,” said Rimes. “I have a little bit of experience with the kids now so, I feel like I wouldn’t be too crazed. It doesn’t feel like a real first, first!” Cibrian has two children with ex-wife Brandi Glanville, sons Mason and Jake. After Rimes’ comment on kids, Cibrian joked, “Look, maybe we should just get another dog and then see how that goes.” Rimes said, “Other than the reason of us wanting to work together and be home with the kids, why not have fun and poke fun at everything that’s gone on for the last five years.”

How can you tell if your relationship is strong enough to take on children?

Cupid’s Advice:

Once a couple has been together for a certain amount of time, many might start thinking about whether their partner is family material, and questions of whether or not they want kids and how many they want can start popping up in conversations. This might be one of the most important conversations you can have in life. After all, it's not just deciding to have a baby and bask in the newborn happiness. This decision will affect you for the rest of your life, and these kids are going to become adults. If you and your partner are talking about having kids, you'd better be sure you can handle them:

1. Want the kids before you have them: Maybe you've never really liked children, or you've had a bad experience with them in the past. No matter how it came about, some people just don't like being around children. This doesn't mean you won't want kids eventually, but you have to know what you're getting yourself into. If one partner wants kids and the other doesn't, a child would only create a gap in the relationship. Maybe the idea of a child seems nice, but you haven't been around kids much. Surround yourself with young relatives or babysit for a friend; get experience with children so you can be 100 percent sure you want children:

2. Give them a sense of permanence: A child is a lifelong responsibility, and you should be willing to show it. An apartment that works for you and your partner might not be big enough for a child, or it might have some big safety risks. Make sure you're ready for a child to be in your life before you even plan on having one. This means buying cribs, creating a nursery, and thinking of good schools in the area. Not only will you be better prepared for a child, but you're showing your partner that you're dedicated and not going anywhere.

3. Be ready for a big change in the relationship: A child will completely change the relationship between you and your partner, and you need to be ready for it. If you two have had the same routine for years, try making changes to your schedule and seeing how it affects your mood. Time that you spend with each other might now be spent with the baby, or trying to catch up on sleep. Not only will you be a couple, but you will be parents, completely changing the nature of your relationship. New tasks, schedules, and feelings are going to put your relationship to the test, so make sure you're ready for it.

What are some ways to personalize your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

Not all weddings are supposed to be traditional and classic. Pick a style that matches your personality as a couple, the more creative the better. There are so many romantic and adventurous ideas, you just have to find the one that is right for you:

1. Choose a destination: If you are looking for a more personal feel in an exotic place, a destination wedding is just for you. Instead of going all-out in a local venue, a different city, state, or even country can spice things up for you and your honey. Choose a place that means something to you, like where you grew up, where you'd want to live together, or even a place you've always talked of visiting together.

2. Pick a crazy theme: Nothing says personality like a themed wedding. Put on your thinking cap and come up with an idea that fits the style of you and your man. Whether it's Harry Potter, under the sea, rustic, backyard country style or even murder-mystery, there are so many different ideas to choose from. Keep in mind that your wedding day is about you and your partner, so pick what you want, and don't take other people's opinions too seriously. P.S. Themes make the best wedding photos!

By Shannon Seibert

The moment we've all been waiting for has arrived: The Kimye Wedding. The couple married this past weekend, in grand European style. The couple spent the evening, dancing, laughing, and talking lovingly about each other according to UsMagazine.com.

How do you keep your wedding look flawless all night?

Cupid's Advice:

You're going to remember this day for the rest of your life, and you'll have thousands of pictures to prove it. It's most likely impossible for a bride to look anything but stunningly gorgeous, but if you're suffering from pre-wedding jitters, we have a few tricks for you:

1. Waterproof make up and hairspray are your new BFFs: Let's be honest, there will be tears. The waterproof make up will hold longer, and is less likely to run if a tear or two does seep through. To keep your make up and hair in place, use hair spray to set your look. Spray at least 10-inches from your face and hair, in order to maintain a level amount on each aspect part of your head. And remember, don't touch your face too often, it keeps the make up from smudging off.

Kardashian had multiple outfits choices on her big day, providing her a sense of security. You can do the same to ensure that your special day doesn't hit any road blocks on your way to your happily ever after.

Kim Kardashian Hopes the Rain

Doesn't Ruin Her Wedding

By Sanetra Richards

It never rains in Southern California, but it has been raining cats and dogs in Paris. According to UsMagazine.com, showers were definitely in the forecast during Kim Kardashian's costly European wedding weekend, which started on Friday, May 23rd at the Versailles Palace in Paris, France. The festivities began with the rehearsal dinner at Versailles. Guests were asked to dress in vintage French royalty-themed garb. However, the reality star bride appeared to be a bit down during the celebration activities and made it known the weather was to blame: "I hope the rain doesn't ruin my wedding," Kim stated as the Kardashian-Jenner family dined at the Hotel Costes on Wednesday, March 21st. "She made it clear that this bad weather is really getting to her. She's clearly spending millions getting married in Europe, and if it all turns into a wash-out she will be really unhappy,” an onlooker tells Us. Although her family and friends remained positive through the circumstances, the 33-year-old bride was still not pleased with the City of Love’s lack of sun. “This weather has to get better,” other restaurant guests heard Kanye West’s fiancée say after dinner. “Spring in Paris is meant to be about sunshine, but all we’re getting is rain.”

What are some ways to plan a wedding around rain?

Cupid’s Advice:

Every bride seems to have at least one fear in common on their special day, and that is rain. Although it can certainly be a sign of good luck for the marriage, it is still unwanted. You plan for the date months in advance and can never be too sure of what to expect when it actually comes. Cupid has a few pointers to help you plan the big day around rain:

1. Proper shelter: Outdoor weddings can always be a bit tricky because of the unpredictable weather. What better way to take cover than to have a tent covering you, your honey, and the guests? When Mother Nature decides to make your day a little bit more stressful, do not fret. You will be prepared for the worst, somewhat.

2. Backup plan instructions: Inform everyone in attendance of what to do just in case the weather goes wrong. You may want to do this in advance before the big day – this will help ease your worries as the wedding approaches.

How do you know when you’ve found “the one”?

Cupid’s Advice:

When love crosses your path, it is indeed one of the greatest, memorable feelings. You are on cloud nine and there is no coming down. Plus, the stomach butterflies do not seem to be going away anytime soon. And if you have not experienced this yet, you are patiently waiting on the moment. Nevertheless, knowing when you have met that special person that is the reason for your insane feelings always brings up the question “Is he/she the one?” Cupid has some advice to help you figure it all out:

1. You are 100% yourself: Coming across someone who fully accepts your personality, flaws and all, is similar to finding a four leaf clover. Fortunately, when that one does come around, they are hard to pass up – the person who understands your humor, accepts your lifestyle, and so forth. If you are never hesitant to say what is on your mind or do something completely out of the norm and they value it, chances are you are a step closer to recognizing ‘the one.’

2. The fire continuously burns: A connection should always be felt between you and your partner, even if it is years down the line. 'The one' will constantly shower you with affection and appreciation.

3. Mutual understanding: A confirmation on if you genuinely have met your match usually comes about in certain situations, such as you and your partner working out a problem instead of arguing and remaining stagnant. The conversations evolve and include "we" and "us" instead of "I" and "me". If you notice more growth individually and together, then you have probably found "the one".

Hollywood Couple Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt Are Starring in a New Movie Together

By Sanetra Richards

Another Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt movie is in the works! However, it is not a Mr. and Mrs. Smith: Part Two . . . yet. Although their first project together was a memorable action film, the next one with the famous couple will be the exact opposite. According to UsMagazine.com, the 38-year-old actress opened up in an interview with Extra on Tuesday, May 20, about the new film. “It’s not a big movie; it’s not an action movie,” the Maleficent star shared. “It’s the kind of movie we love but aren’t often cast in. It’s a very experimental, independent-type film where we get to be actors together and be really raw, open, try things.”

The Oscar winner and mother of six also gushed about her celebrity love: “He’s my family. He’s not just a lover and partner, which is wonderful, but he’s my family now...We have history; we work hard to make it great; and we don’t kind of relax about it and take each other for granted.” Jolie admitted that the Hollywood couple does run into a few trials and tribulations, saying, “Like everybody, we have our challenges, but we’re fighting to make it great.”

When this Hollywood couple films another movie, they'll be spending a lot more time together. What are some drawbacks to working with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

You may imagine working with your partner as another way to spend time together. The commute to work won't be such a hassle; it'll be easier, and you'll save money on gas. It's important to consider the downside too. Cupid has some issues for you to keep in mind:

1. No alone time: Believe it or not, there is a thing as spending too much time with your significant other. Work is no longer a place for you to do your own thing because your beau is now just a cubicle away.

2. Nothing to talk about: Most couples enjoy coming home from work and discussing their days. If you work together though, the conversation may be limited because you both experienced similar situations with the same co-workers.

3. Jealousy: Imagine if you received a promotion that your significant other had secretly (or publicly) been longing for or vice versa. Your partner will either be genuinely happy for you or envious of your success. If they are in the second boat, you'll notice tension between the two of you within days, which will eventually cause a strain on your relationship and love.
