How do you keep your new relationship on the down-low?

Cupid's Advice:

When your relationship is just blossoming, it can be difficult to figure out your own feelings about that person if your relationship is highly publicized. With everyone giving you their input, and pestering you about the latest details of your love life, you may get caught up in the attention and neglect the fact that it may not even be working. By initially keeping your new relationship on the down-low, you'll be able to discover your feelings for your new beau, and find out whether or not you could really gal for this person:

1. Hold off on updating your social media status: Until you get out of the murky waters of "What direction is this going in?" you don't need to make your relationship Facebook Official. These days defining your relationship is harder than it looks, so at first your don't want to jump to conclusions about your relationship status with your man. Just keep cool, calm and collective, and once you both have your feet on the ground you can upload those adorable selfies you have on your camera roll.

2. Do a trial run: Get out of town for the day. Go to a place where there's no pressure because you won't run into anyone you know. This way you don't have to worry about awkward introductions such as wondering whether to refer to your guy as your friend, boyfriend, or anything else. Now the two of you can test the waters of what it's like to be out in public together, while still getting to know each other on a deeper level.

It may send the wrong signals to your guy by including loved ones in your dating life. He may think you're trying to get serious too quick, and you don't want your family to get confused if things don't work out.

Rihanna and Drake Are Off-Again

By Sanetra Richards

AubRih is over, once again. According to UsMagazine.com, after working out their differences a few months ago, Rihanna and Drake decided to give the dating thing another try – only for it to lead to a breakup. “Rihanna and Drake had another fight,” says a source. “He is too in love with her, which has always been the problem. They have been fighting, but that could all change any day now. It is how it always is with them.” The two stars were first spotted as a re-emerging couple in Paris back in February and by March the couple seemed to be hitting it off pretty hard again. However, at Rihanna’s Met Gala after party, her actor turned rapper [ex] boyfriend was not in attendance. A source added that the artists are “currently on yet another break.”

How do you know whether to get back together with an ex?

Cupid’s Advice:

There comes a time when the post-breakup emotions start to roll in and you find yourself contemplating whether or not you and your ex belong together. Cupid has a few things for you to keep in mind while considering:

1. The factors: Think about the reason why you and your ex parted ways. Was it because of infidelity? Was it because you could not agree on anything? Chances are, these problems will not go away if you decide to go another round – they are the reason why you all are not together today. Remember the saying, if you want different results, do something differently.

2. The feelings: A lot of times, people allow their hearts overpower their intelligence. If you know for certain your ex is absolutely terrible for you, do not put in the effort trying to reconcile. Replay the good versus bad instances throughout your relationship. Question whether the good outweighs the bad. This could possibly lead you to the answer on if you and your former lover should work things out.

3. The change: One of the most important conversations to have with your ex before reuniting is how will the relationship change? If you two have not grown enough individually, then you should not want to risk it again. It will be a repeating cycle: same differences, same arguments, and same outcomes. Think about the failed relationship's faults and create methods to better them for the next time.

What are some ways to remain friends with your ex after a breakup?

Cupid’s Advice:

Remaining friends with your ex seems virtually impossible, especially when you are dealing with the post-breakup blues and lingering resentment. Cupid has some questions for you to consider:

1. Were you friends before the relationship? If the answer is yes, a breakup can lead to one of two things: you despise each other and completely ruin your friendship OR you go back to being strictly platonic friends. Most couples who were friends before entering a romantic relationship find it less difficult to transition back to that. If you and your ex-partner were pals before lovers, try reverting.

2. Was the split a mutual decision? Being friends after a breakup is most likely to happen if the separation was a mutual agreement. If things ended on not-so-bad terms, you both will be more willing to just be friends instead. However, if you weren’t able to agree on anything in the relationship (which may be a reason why it ended), then you possibly won’t even agree on having a friendship afterwards.

because you already have their approval.

What are some ways to keep your marriage alive?

Cupid's Advice:

Ideas of marriage have transformed over the last century. In this day and age it's difficult to uphold the traditionalist views of marriage, which can lead to cheating, scandal and fall-out. To keep the love alive it is a process that both partners have to be invested in to make ends meet.

1. Take a trip without leaving: Maybe it's just a little "You and Him" time that you need. A stay-cation is a great idea for worker-bees to relax with each other and focus on the love they always had. Throw some beach towels out in the back yard, fill a cooler, and have some fun in the sun with your man.

2. Give up the gadgets: In a modern world of cell-phone and virtual communication, it can be difficult to establish a personal connection. You and your honey try leaving the phones, computers and devices in another room for a night, and just enjoy each other's company. You'll be surprised by the levels of conversation you can reach without a phone screen between you!

3. Renew and revise your vows: Ideas of marriage have been constantly evolving, so naturally, the traditional marriage vows should keep up with the change in pace. Go through the vows you and your man took on your special day, and see how you've kept up with your promises. If you see the results aren't what you originally thought, go for some modern revisions. Try "I vow to pick the kids up from practice when I say I will" or "I promise I will listen to you talk about your day." These may seem small, but in the scheme of a marriage, these vows can make every bit of difference in it being successful.

What are some ways to keep things civil between you and your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

There is nothing more uncomfortable than being caught in a social setting with your ex. There is awkward eye contact, weird feelings and an aura of tension in the air—and everyone notices. Sometimes the best way to be civil is to fake it till you make it, and be an adult about the situation:

1. Don't speak poorly of your ex: This is someone who you were once an item with. Speaking ill of your past relationship with your ex, no matter how terrible the relationship may have been, reflects more poorly of you than it will your ex. If you are the one doing the bad-mouthing, it will only resonate as your personal level of maturity. Ex-shaming is a practice that must be stopped!

Related: Justin Bieber Has Dinner with Kendall Jenner

2. Be polite but don't overdo it: You want to be respectful, but you don't want to seem fake about it. By going out of your way to say 'Hello!' or approaching them without warning could send the wrong signal about your intentions. If you do happen to run into each other, smile and ask how everything is going, but don't press for details. The shallow conversation will keep the mood light, and there will be no room for disagreements to arise.

3. Focus on you: This is the time where you can be your own person, without your name being attached to his. If people ask about your ex, quickly steer the subject to something positive you're doing with your life. You don't need to get caught up in what your ex is doing on social media, with someone else or anything else regarding his business because it isn't yours anymore.

Many former couples have a theory that there is no possibly way to end a relationship and be somewhat friendly to one another. It is far from easy! Cupid has a few tips to help you and your ex even things out and remain pleasant:

Celebrity Couple Predictions: Mariah Carey, Mila Kunis and Lupita Nyong'o

By Shoshi

For today's column, let's take a look at three celebrity couples that are hot topics of relationship gossip – whether it's because of a whirlwind relationship that's still going strong, a seemingly-perfect twosome that recently announced their engagement and pregnancy, or a possible new coupling:

Mariah Carey and Nick Cannon: Since the day these two got together, they've made headlines. Their quick wedding had people predicting that they'd be divorced within months. Looks like the critics were wrong – at least for now! This quirky couple is celebrating six years of marriage yesterday.

Cannon has been very verbal about their sex life, even to the degree that it can be too much information. Did we really need to know that a lot of nookie is what keeps their relationship alive? Carey is not always thrilled that her hubby shares their marriage with the world. As a matter of fact, it's reported that she told him to stop talking about all of the women he was with before her because she didn't want to hear about it anymore.

Even though there are a lot of questions that surround them, this couple is a good fit. Since they started dating, Carey has calmed down, while Cannon has grown up a bit. They both enjoy adventures, so they always seem to be dressing up in costumes or doing something fun with their twins. On the flip side, the songstress is not fond of the comic's antics, which causes some stress and strain on their marriage. There may come a day when she is totally over his behavior, but it won't happen until their children are older.

Mila Kunis and Ashton Kutcher: This adorable couple originally met while working on That 70's Show where their characters, Jackie and Kelso, dated and talked about having a baby. Looks like the show predicted real life since they're engaged with a baby on the way!

All is looking good for the famous pair, and there shouldn't be any roadblocks before their upcoming wedding. The two of them are just enjoying all of the good things in their lives. They're an ideal duo since they have the same values and are both down-to-earth in their approach to life.

I do, however, see a bit of back-and-forth when it comes to their prenuptial agreement. Kutcher's divorce from Demi Moore is still fresh on his mind, so he knows how things can go down if a marriage ends. Other than sorting out these financial details, everything is wonderful. From what I can see in their relationship, their prenup will never need to be used.

Lupita Nyong'o and Jared Leto: Recently named the most beautiful person in the world, it's all good in the lovable actress's world. What exactly is going on in her dating life? She's extremely hot right now, so the men must be lining up to see what she is all about. Nyong'o has been linked to Academy Award winner Jared Leto and rapper K'naan.

As much as I would love to see Nyong'o with Leto, it's not happening. It's fun to see the actor flirt with Nyong'o, and they would make such a gorgeous couple (can you imagine their kids?), but it looks like the 12 Years a Slave star spends more quality time with K'naan.

Nyong'o is not thinking about dating around right now. Besides Leto, she gets attention from some of the best looking men in Hollywood. As for those rumors saying that she is going to run off and marry her rapper boyfriend, don't believe them. The spirits say that she'll soon be dating a sexy Hollywood actor who has been smitten with her for a while.

How do you tell your loved ones about the person you're dating?

Cupid's Advice:

You're dating someone new and you think you're ready to let your loved ones know about it. Who should you tell first? How should you do it? The situation depends on how long you've been dating your honey, but ultimately, the decision is up to you. Cupid has some tips:

1. Family first: The best way to begin telling your loved ones about the new love in your life is by starting with your family first. Before you introduce your partner to your family, make sure they have at least some idea of what is going on and what to expect. No one likes surprises like this one.

2. Close friends: Tell the friends you care about the most about your love life. If you're a private person, there's no need to go any farther than that. When you do tell your close friends, keep the conversation casual and try not to freak out about the situation. You don't want it to be a bigger deal than it already is.

3. Ask your significant other: Ask your partner how he/she thinks the situation should be handled? Maybe they would prefer to meet everyone all at once, or they might not be ready to announce the fact that you two are an item just yet. Whatever you decide to do, make sure your honey is comfortable with it.

'DWTS' Pro Tony Dovolani on His Celebrity Marriage: "My Wife is My Queen”

Interview by Whitney

Johnson. Written by Maria Darbenzio and Liz Kim.

Tony Dovolani has come a long way from the three-year-old learning to folk dance in Prishtina, Kosova. Early on, Dovolani's father discovered that his son had a knack for both dance and music. Dovolani eventually became a professional ballroom dancer and has been on ABC's Dancing With the Stars for a whopping 17 seasons now.

Before his career ever took off, Dovolani knew that dancing had its perks. "As I got older, I realized that the dancers got all the girls," he says with a laugh. After coming to the United States as a teenager, he was introduced to the Fred Astaire Dance Academy. "After the first step I took into the studio, I knew right away that was going to be the rest of my life."

As time progressed, he choreographed Shall We Dance with Jennifer Lopez and Richard Gere and then landed a spot on season two of DWTS, where he was paired with Stacy Keibler. Since then, he has developed The Ballroom Dancing Channel with fellow pros Maksim Chmerkovskiy and Elena Grinenko, created the Superstars of the Ballroom Dance Camp, and won the coveted mirror ball trophy with Melissa Rycroft during the All-Stars season of DWTS.

Fast forwarding to season 18 of the popular ABC reality show, Dovolani is currently paired with NeNe Leakes, one of the sassy stars of The Real Housewives of Atlanta. Although he mentions their great chemistry, they did have a minor issue after switching partners for a week. "She's great. I mean, we had one little tiff that everybody saw. Other than that, it's really been a lot of fun," he candidly shares. "She's hilarious. She has so much character. She shows up ready to work, which is good."

As viewers saw on last week's episode, the twosome used that bump in the road to strengthen their partnership and ultimately wow the judges with their salsa. "What you guys didn't see is that routine came about from us working with each other. If we had an attitude the whole week, it wouldn't have happened."

When it comes to the rest of the season, the dancing pro has no worries about Leakes and her abilities on the dancer floor. "I think she's on a good track. We're going to keep pushing her every single week. I feel like she's the fun one in the show, and we want to keep entertaining our fans all the way to the end." Of tonight's tango, he says, "I want it to be passionate, hateful, sultry, sexy, and vulgar. I want it to be everything!"

Dovolani works hard both on and off the dance floor, making sure that his wife Lina and their three young children are always his number one priority. “My wife is my queen. I wouldn’t be anywhere without her,” he shares. “Honestly, the saying ‘Behind a great man is an even greater woman’ is absolutely true in my case. She takes care of the kids. She takes care of the house. She takes care of everything while I’m trying to do the show business thing. I think that men in general have to realize how strong women are.”

When it comes to keeping his marriage strong, he points out that proper communication is key to success. Plus, he knows that great relationships don’t just happen: “You have to constantly work on it. If you do that, there’s always a light at the end of the tunnel.”

Communication is not only important in his relationship with his wife but with his children – Luana, Adrian, and Ariana – as well. Because of his busy schedule on the show, he doesn’t get to see his children as often as he’d like, but he doesn’t let the distance stop him from being there for them. “I literally call five, six, sometimes seven times a day. Every time I’m on a break, I’m on the phone with my family,” he explains. “When they get home from school, they speak to me. Right before they go to bed, they speak to me. When they’re doing their homework, they speak to me.”

Dovolani sweetly adds, “I’m telling you it’s all about communication, and my wife deserves the credit. She’s the one that works on it with me and the kids. She’s really great about making sure we all communicate and stay on top of things.”

Luckily for him, his love of dance has been passed down to his children, and the family of five enjoys having dance parties at home. Besides that, they enjoy being outside. “Honestly, in this technology-filled world, as parents, it’s our responsibility to make sure we find reasons to get the kids out of the house and into nature. We go ice-skating. We go skiing. We do any sport that we can do as a family.”

Keeping that thought in mind, they already have some fun summer plans. He’ll be visiting Albania for his niece’s wedding, and once back home he hopes to relax and fish with his kids at a lake near their house. Of course, Dovolani and his wife make sure they have some alone time too. Their date nights are usually at a nice restaurant, enjoying a delicious meal and a few glasses of wine. “My perfect day is playing golf with my kids and ending it with dinner at the clubhouse with Lina.”

Tune in to ABC on Mondays at 8/9c to watch Tony Dovolani and Nene Leakes dance their way to the top on Dancing with the Stars! You can also keep up with Tony on Twitter @TonyDovolani.

What do you do if your partner is becoming too controlling?

Cupid’s Advice:

Loving someone for who they are is part of being in a relationship and sometimes you may brush a few things under the rug because you are accepting who they are. Nevertheless, there is one specific behavior you cannot ignore – controlling. Cupid has some tips on how to handle a controlling partner:

1. Take notice: There was a point in time when you may have thought your partner ordering food for you at a restaurant was a sign of him or her knowing what you like, or maybe you thought it was adorable when they picked out certain outfits (on a daily basis) for you to wear. However, the reasoning behind these “kind” actions soon become clear and you realize it is the need of control your partner must have. Do not overlook these signs. Instead, stand on your own two and let your significant other know you can handle your own. Or maybe even turn the tables onto him or her. Show them what it is like to constantly have their order placed before they have the chance to speak, or tell them what and what not to wear (yes, you should definitely take it to this level). As conniving as it may seem, your primary goal is getting your point across, thoroughly.

2. Communicate: Talk with your partner about any problems that have stemmed from their controlling behavior. Chances are they do not realize they are being officious. Take into mind their feelings before lashing out. Speak in calm manner that is not rooted by anger or frustration. You may even find a reason as to why they are obsessively controlling.

3. Work with your partner: Give them a few tries to adapt to actually not being controlling. If they begin to do something that resembles the behavior, stop them. You may have to repeat this quite often until they get it right. It requires you to be patient and understanding – your significant other may have a very dominant personality and is willing to ease that for the sake of your relationship.

By Sanetra Richards

The bun is almost ready to come out of the oven! Jenni "JWoww" Farley is three months away from her due date. The Jersey Shore cast member posted a sonogram of her baby girl onto her website Tuesday, April 15th. She went on to write, “HOLY S–T! Pregnancy and me don’t mix. I keep saying to myself, ‘how can women enjoy this s–t?!’ I’m always on edge because every appointment I find something else that’s crazy and unexpected.” According to UsMagazine.com, the reality star and mom-to-be also told readers about her recent pregnancy scare when doctors announced the baby had a “small cyst on her brain,” later revealed as a choroid plexus cyst (which would later go away): “I go numb and tears are just flowing. I can’t even begin to try and stop the tears... Literally hysterical to the point where I was hyperventilating thinking, ‘[oh my god] I did something so horrible to my daughter?’... So now no sex for a month!!!” Farley confirmed the placenta problem has since gone away, too. “My placenta is higher so I’m no longer at risk (don’t tell Roger).”

What are some ways to support your partner through her pregnancy?

Cupid’s Advice:

Pregnancy takes a woman through many mental, emotional, and physical trials. The last thing she needs is more stress added onto her plate from her partner and child’s father. So, how do you make it your mission to ensure her nothing but fewer worries on your part? Cupid has some advice to help:

1. Be attentive: As stated before, your partner is going through one of the most emotional periods in her life. Expect instant mood changes – you can thank the hormones. Take the time to listen to her concerns and as passive as this may sound, do the simple tasks she may ask of you. After all, she is carrying a load!

The REAL Reason that Gwyneth Paltrow and Chris Martin Split

By Sarah Christensen

Fu

Unless you're under a rock, you've probably heard that Gwyneth Paltrow and Chris Martin recently consciously uncoupled. It's a bummer—I thought they were the golden couple that would shame all other Hollywood divorcees by going the distance. The truth is that it's not surprising they split if you look at their astrological compatibility. The REAL reason they split is because Gwyneth, a Libra, and Chris, a Pisces, are completely star-crossed.

First, and foremost, let's take a look at Chris's horoscope (this is copied directly from Bad Birthdays: The Truth behind Your Crappy Sun Sign):

March 2: "Men are only as faithful as their options," said comedian Chris Rock. The Pisces ladies and gentlemen born on March 2 find themselves evaluating their options regularly, sometimes consciously and sometimes subconsciously. They love their partner deeply but can't help but fall prey to other sets of batting eyelashes and whispered sweet words from soft, cherry-like lips. Best to lock March 2 natives in some sort of cage if you plan to maintain a relationship with one.

Basically, Gwyn could have done everything right, and still lost her mopey Pisces poet to exotic temptations. However, Gwyneth brought her own share of icky personality traits to their relationship: she was born on September 27th, making her a vain, pretentious, wishy-washy Libra. No amount of money, class, live-in nannies, or self-righteousness, could have made this love match comfortable enough for people with this couple's sexiness and financial means to suffer through the rest of their miserable lives together.

Related: Couples Therapy: A Way to Rebuild a Struggling Relationship

At the core, Libras are obsessed with the thrill of the chase. While Pisces has a deep romantic streak, they are rarely proactive hunters when it comes to romantic interests. Gwyneth basically ended up playing a pathetic, partnerless game of Cat and Mouse, which I guess is just called "Mouse." Aw. On top of that, Libras born on September 27th have a competitive, determined fire in them, which would explain why Gwyn has tried so hard to be the best mother, wife and GOOP founder on the planet. If Chris had been supportive of all of those endeavors, the two may have found a way to remain the reigning king and queen Hollywood royalty. However, in his Piscean way, Chris very likely criticized and whined about Gwyneth's stupid lentil and lemon soup and her annoying GOOP colleagues—he actually may have literally gotten sick when she told him she planned to use the term "conscious uncoupling" to describe their split.

Sigh. They were doomed from the start. However, if you, like me, are still feeling a little low about this celebrity breakup, you should find comfort in the fact that Gwyneth Paltrow and Chris Martin probably had hotter sex during their marriage than many, many other celebrity couples. One thing's for sure: the Libra/Pisces combination emits a whole lotta sparks before it explodes and catches fire, burning everything down with it.
