By Kerri Sheehan

Real Housewives of Atlanta star NeNe Leakes chose to give marriage a second go with ex-husband, Gregg Leakes. The couple remarried Saturday, June 22, according to UsMagazine.com. Nene, 45 tweeted on June 21, "Got big plans this weekend? Cause I do," she wrote with a smiley face.

How do you know if you should get back together with your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

A big part of life is giving out second chances. Cupid has some ways to tell if you should give one to your ex:

1. All has been forgiven: Obviously, the two of you broke up for a reason. It's important to be sure that the reason has been completely resolved before giving the relationship another go. You can't start on a new journey until the old one has ended.

2. Don't bail: Before getting back together with an ex the two of you should make a pact not to abandon the efforts to revive the relationship. Getting back together will take some work so you have to be in it for the long haul.

3. Check your goals: If the two of you have similar goals in life then it is likely you can make a relationship work. If your goals are completely different than rebuilding after a breakup might not be worth the effort.

Celebrity News: Former STP Frontman Scott Weiland Marries Jamie Wachtel

By Kerri Sheehan

Former Stone Temple Pilots frontman Scott Weiland tied the knot with photographer Jamie Wachtel this past Saturday. UsMagazine.com confirmed that the couple chose to hold the ceremony at their home in Los Angeles. When asked about his bride Weiland said, “I am incredibly happy. She is incredibly beautiful in every aspect of the word. Lovely, smart, passionate. And she loves my kids and I love her son.”

What are some reasons to tie the knot at home?

Cupid's Advice:

Choosing a venue is an important part of any wedding. Sometimes the best choice is to stay close to home. Cupid has some advice:

- 1. Cost efficient: Not having to pay to rent out a venue will definitely save you some dough in the end. That money can be better spent elsewhere, like on your honeymoon.
- 2. No guest limit: Many venues have an occupancy limit, but getting married at your own home means that you're able to set your own limit. You won't have to stress as much over who exactly to invite to witness your special day.

3. It's more personal: Marriage is scary territory for those who have never experienced it before so being in your own home will help as you will be surrounded by familiarity. In addition, the bride can now get ready for the ceremony in her own bedroom as opposed to some dingy hotel room.

playing with a volleyball and enjoying the summer sun. I want to probably be married at some point.”

What are some ways to announce your relationship to family and friends?

Cupid’s Advice:

Introducing your new girlfriend or boyfriend to the people in your life can be intimidating. Cupid has some ideas:

- 1. Show your partner off: Invite your friends to meet your new beau somewhere where his or her talent’s really shine. For example, if your new partner is bilingual, you might consider inviting your friends to a restaurant where your partner can show off his or her linguistic skills by ordering in another language.
- 2. Avoid dinners: Advice #1 set aside, if you are particularly nervous about what your friends might think, it might be best not to stage the introduction at a meal. While it is the traditional setting for such get-togethers, eating is a stationary activity and so there is little to distract you from awkward pauses and failed attempts at humor if your friends don’t take to your partner right away.
- 3. Skype: If distance or hectic schedules separate you from friends and family, go ahead and announce your relationship via Skype. It’s far more intimate than a phone call or Facebook because it offers your friends and family to opportunity to both see and talk to your new partner.

How do you know when it's time to move on from a past relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

It's reasonable to go through a grieving period after the end of a relationship. Eventually, though, you have to move on. How do you know when you're ready? Cupid is here to help:

1. You've readjusted to single life: Strange as it may sound, it's probably best to wait until you're reaccustomed to single-living before you jump into another relationship. As wonderful as romance can be, it's important to not become so dependent on it that you're incapable of living life on your own.

2. You really are over it: If you're still crying yourself to sleep every night, whispering your ex's name in the darkness, then you're not ready for another relationship. You are simply not emotionally prepared to invest in another person yet. Take some time to heal. There really is no rush.

3. You've reaccessed your priorities: You probably changed a bit (or a lot) during your relationship. Your goals, priorities and interests may have changed. What you were looking for in a partner the last time you were single may no longer be what you want or need. Consider this before getting back in the game.

Celebrity News: Are Kanye and Kim Ready to Tie the Knot?

By Petra Halbur

Now that Kim Kardashian's well-publicized pregnancy is over and beautiful baby, North West, has been introduced to the world, media attention has turned to the next phase of Kardashian and Kanye West's relationship. Are they going to get married? A source confided to People that a wedding may be somewhere on the horizon but for now the new parents' top priority is their daughter. "I can't imagine them not getting married," the source assured. "That's in their future!"

How do you know when you're ready to get married?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're in a loving and committed relationship, perhaps the possibility of marriage has entered your mind. But how do you know that you're ready? Cupid has some advice:

1. You think in terms of "we": When you're married, you don't get to be #1 anymore. 2 years in the Peace Corps? A job offer in Tokyo? As a single person, you have the right to drop everything and pursue such opportunities without a second thought. But as a spouse, you have to take your partner into serious consideration. If you're not prepared to put another's needs ahead of your own, then you're not ready to get married.

2. You want to spend the rest of your life with him/her: With the high divorce rate in this country, it's easy to forget that marriage is supposed to be a lifelong commitment. If you can't imagine yourself spending the next 50 years with your partner, then call off the wedding- now!

3. You know who you are: Soul-searching and growth will always be a part of your life but you need to be comfortable in your own skin before you get married. Confidence and self-respect are not things that your spouse can give you. If you're expecting matrimony to fix you or provide you with an identity, then your marriage will be doomed from the get-go.

This is a nice escape from the drama," the source said.

How do you know when it's time to move on from an on-off relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

You can only put up with an on-again-off-again relationship for so long. Eventually, you have to decide whether or not to just move on. Cupid has some advice:

1. The situation isn't improving: If you keep breaking up over the same issues, then chances are those problems are not going away- ever. If these aren't flaws that you can live with, then you need to break things off now.

2. You're attracted to someone else: If you've noticed someone else who you think could offer you a more stable relationship, that might be a sign to end things with your current partner.

3. You're unhappy: You don't need a long, articulate excuse to justify ending your relationship. If being with your on-off partner isn't making you feel good, then that's validation enough to call it quits.

What are some ways to keep rumors from affecting your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Perhaps nothing disproves the old saying, “Sticks and stones can break my bones but words can never hurt me” quite like the impact that rumors can have on a relationship. Cupid has some advice to help get you and your partner through it:

1. Get away: Running from your troubles is never a long-term solution but in this case it might be beneficial if you and your beau take some for just each other. Rent out a rustic cabin or check into a bed and breakfast and reaffirm your love for each other.

2. Talk about it: There's only one way to differentiate between rumors and truth: ask! Maintain an open line of communication with your partner and make sure that you are both comfortable addressing the gossip circulation about you two.

3. Clear the air: Confrontation may not be fun but sometimes it's necessary. Go ahead and address those who are spreading rumors about your relationship and set the record straight. As long as you're calm and respectful, there should be no problem.

Blair Late from Bravo's 'Newlyweds' Chats About Divorce and Gay Marriage

By Marisa Spano

Imagine inviting strangers into your home to observe your first year of marriage and allowing millions of people to watch the honeymoon stage of your love life. Newly-minted reality star Blair Late can tell you a thing or two about that experience – all good things. Late and his spouse Jeff Pedersen were all for having cameras follow them around as they transitioned into married life.

Of course, reality television was a familiar world for the couple: “I first met Jeff when I was working on a reality series for Melanie Brown from Spice Girls,” he explains. “A producer friend who hung out with us commented that we were a really odd couple.” A year later, they got engaged, and that same friend suggested that they audition for Bravo’s new documentary series, Newlyweds: The First Year. They soon got a call from the network, and after an extensive three-month background check, they agreed to be part of the show.

Related Link: EXCLUSIVE: Jill Zarin Says, “Women Can Have It All, But Not All At The Same Time”

So why did these lovers decide to showcase their new beginning? “It was done by a very prominent documentary team who had won Oscars and Emmys, so knowing that it was a style of show that hadn't been done before definitely influenced our decision," says Late. "Plus, we were the only gay couple on the series and the first gay couple to really be featured on a show about marriage. It's a big deal when you consider that gay marriage isn't completely legal yet."

That's not to say that the couple is hoping to be spokespeople for gay marriage. They just want to share their story, a story about "a guy from Texas who has been 'out' for quite a while, who has support from his family, who's in the entertainment business and who is fun, dramatic and just loves life. That same man falls in love with a man from California who's a bit older, who didn't get family acceptance, who isn't in the business of entertainment and who is more responsible." The couple seems to be sculpting a little chunk of history with their appearance on the show.

The amount of feedback and admiration they've received is incredible. In response to whether he thinks their inclusion on Newlyweds is impacting public opinion, Late says, "We have opened people's eyes to the fact that domestic partnerships and gay marriages have little if any equal rights to straight marriages. We're certainly educating people." He believes that they're empowering young gay people across the country. "I've had so many people say, 'Oh, I'm just like you, Blair, and I hope I can find a Jeff someday.'"

Some would argue that couples often suffer from a failed relationship when they are cast into the reality show spotlight. However, Late says that the show actually helped their marriage. "We were forced to discuss certain topics and to put things on the table because of the cameras."

Even though their personal thoughts and problems were viewed in public, it never made the duo feel uncomfortable. "I try not to regret anything that happened or be embarrassed about it. Sure, people complained about us talking about our sex lives on television, but maybe it won't be such a weird thing for gay men to do in five years."

For Late, his view on relationships was affected by his parents' divorce. "It had a negative psychological impact and made me feel more needy and have a fear of abandonment. One thing that I've really focused on this year is figuring out what triggers me and what makes me a little more dramatic sometimes."

Related Link: What Does Unconditional Love Look Like?

"My parents' divorce made me realize that I only want to get married once," he adds.

It's easy to see that Late's love life is going well, and he appears to be having success in his career too. He's found fame as a songwriter, actor, television presenter and pop singer – he'll soon be performing his new single "Love Calling" in San Francisco. Additionally, he's working on his own cardigan line called Crest and Letters. And, of course, he'll be appearing on tonight's final episode of Newlyweds as well as on Watch What Happens Live with Andy Cohen after the finale airs.

We can't wait to see what he does next!

Celebrity News: Lourdes and

Boyfriend Timothee Chalamet Make Out in Front of Mom, Madonna

By Petra Halbur

Madonna may very well win “cool mother of the year” for her nonchalance on June 18. The 54-year old pop icon attended the after party for the Cinema Society screening of her documentary, Madonna: The MDNA Tour, last Tuesday with her kids, Rocco and Lourdes. According to an onlooker, Madonna didn’t seem at all frazzled when Lourdes started making out with her boyfriend, Homeland actor, Timothee Chalamet. A source told UsMagazine.com that the young lovebirds were dating but in a “loose sense.” “They are teenagers being teenagers so I guess you can call it that,” the source said.

How do you now when you’re trying to be too “cool” with your kids?

Cupid's Advice:

You want your kids to think of you as the “cool” parent, but there is a fine, fine line between being “cool” and being irresponsible with your children. Cupid is here to help you determine when you’ve crossed the line:

1. It's dangerous: It's good to let your kids take risks, but when their actions are putting their own safety, or the safety of others, in jeopardy, you have to intervene.

2. You're enforcing bad habits: As a parent, it is your job to teach your children good habits. As “cool” as you would be to let them eat brownies for dinner or slack off on their homework (to keep the examples G-rated), you know that that wouldn't be good for them in the long run.

3. You're uncomfortable: Quite frankly, you're the parent. If your children's behavior is making you uncomfortable, you're entitled to step in and put a stop to it. So long of course, and don't confuse self-expression with rebellion. Chances are, though, if your child's actions aren't sitting right with you, just because you don't care for your son's taste in music or your daughter's adoration of Bella Swan doesn't mean you shouldn't of course, comfort levels vary. Just because you don't care for your son's taste in music, or your daughter's obsession with pink

Celebrity News: Johnny Depp Opens Up About Split with Vanessa Paradis

By April Littleton

UsMagazine.com has news that Johnny Depp has finally broken his silence about the end of his 14-year relationship with Vanessa Paradis. In the July 4 issue of [Rolling Stone](http://Rolling Stone), Depp said, "The last couple of years have been a bit bumpy. At times, certainly unpleasant, but that's the nature of breakups, I guess, especially when there's kiddies involved." The ex-couple never married and are parents to Lily-Rose, 14 and Jack, 11. Recently, Depp has been dating 27-year-old actress Amber Heard.

How do you know when the downs outweigh the ups in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be hard to tell when your relationship has taken a permanent turn for the worst, especially if you're working so hard to keep it intact. All relationships go through their ups and downs, but how do you know when it's time to let go of what you once had and move on? Cupid has some tips:

1. You're not satisfied: Is it hard for you and your partner to communicate well? Do you find yourself crying more often and smiling less? This may be a sign that your relationship is spiraling out of control. If you haven't been happy with your significant other in a while, then you need to be thinking about ending the relationship – no matter how painful it will be.

2. Change in behavior: Has your partner become distant? If there's a change in your behavior or your boo's, it's time to evaluate what's important in your relationship. Maybe the two of you just need space from each other, or maybe there's deeper issues the two of you haven't fully let out in the open yet. Whatever the case, now's the time to figure out whether you want to try one more time to salvage the relationship, or leave it behind.

3. Commitment: If you find it more and more difficult to stay committed to your significant other, now is the time to throw in the towel. The pressure may be too much for the both of you, or the spark may have fizzled out for good. If you can no longer envision yourself sticking it out for better or for worse, get out of the poor situation before it gets worse. You never know, maybe the two of you can eventually become friends in the end.

What are some things you should not use social media for in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Nowadays, a relationship isn't truly official until it's "Facebook official." Spilling the beans on your latest crush to your virtual friends may seem cute at the time, but if things get serious between you and the new boo, you might be setting yourself up for failure. Some things should be left completely private and left off of your Twitter updates. Cupid has some advice:

1. Cyber fighting: Many couples use social media sites like Twitter and Facebook to vent about their latest relationship problems. This would be OK if it weren't for the negative public commentary you'll be bound to receive. Putting your private business out there is never a good look for you or your partner. Plus, nasty comments left on your site could lead to bigger problems in your relationship.

2. Talking to the ex: If your ex sends you an "innocent" friend request, decline it. It's more than likely he/she will just stir the pot and cause a rift between you and your new love. If your ex is already apart of your social networking community, keep the conversations to a minimum. Your beau doesn't want to see you getting friendly with your ex for the whole world to see, and stay away from that dreaded "Like" button if you're dealing with an insecure partner. Commenting, or showing your appreciation for an old flame's picture or status will lead to an argument.

3. PDA: A few pictures of you and your boo kissing is OK, but don't overdo it. Your network of friends don't need to see what you and your partner do behind closed doors. Besides, taking too many inappropriate pictures will be a cause for your site to be blocked or permanently suspended if enough people complain about it. Keep it PG-13 when you feel like sharing the love on the World Wide Web.

What are some other things you shouldn't use social media for in a relationship? Comment below.

What are some ways to tell you've met the person you're going to marry?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating is just the journey in looking for the 'one', but how do you know when you've found that person? Cupid has some advice:

1. Comfort: While there should be sparks, you should also feel like your wearing your favorite pair of sweatpants. You should not feel like you need to try too hard or be any better than you already are.

2. We comes before me: We are all wrapped up in our own individual journeys, but the moment you find the 'one' you put their needs ahead of your own.

3. Friends and family agree: Usually when it's meant to be family and friends will welcome your partner with open arms.

Celebrity News: Former 'Hills' Star Frankie Delgado Ties the Knot

By Kerri Sheehan

Frankie Delgado of Hills fame got hitched this weekend to girlfriend Jennifer Acosta. Hills star Lauren Conrad was in attendance and posted a picture of Delgado and his new wife dancing. The caption read, "Congratulations! @kingfrankiedelgado and @shopatrend (Jen) are officially husband and wife! So happy for you both xo." According to UsMagazine.com, other guests include Brody Jenner and Reggie Bush.

How do you decide who to put your on wedding guest list?

Cupid's Advice:

Whether you want a small ceremony or a big one you always have the task of deciding whom to invite. Cupid has some advice about how to make the decision:

1. Invite who you want: In the end it's your special day so you should decide who gets invited, not your parents, friends, or other relatives. Invites to your wedding should go to those who want to see you making a happy commitment to another person.

2. And Guest?: Allowing all of your guests to bring a date will quickly add to the number of attendees and will balloon the price of the wedding astronomically. Generally if a friend or relative is in a committed relationship of more than six months then that denotes an 'and guest' wedding invite. Otherwise you don't need to allow your single friends to bring a guest. This may even relieve some pressure, as many single friends would dread having to scour for a wedding date.

3. Priorities: There will be certain people that you must invite and then other that you should invite and could invite. Make sure you include the musts before you go into the shoulds and coulds. Remember, your guests are your "witnesses" so you want them to be people who are close to you.

Comedian Marc Maron Proposes to Longtime Girlfriend

By Kerri Sheehan

Funny man Marc Maron proposed to his longtime girlfriend, Jessica earlier this month. According to UsMagazine.com, Maron let the food do the talking. "I served her pancakes on her birthday and stuck the rock right in the middle of the top cake on the stack," he said. "We cried and laughed." After two divorces, this will be Maron third journey into the marriage world and he hopes that this one will yield successful results.

What are some creative ways to propose to your partner with food?

Cupid's Advice:

Everyone loves food, that's why it's a grand idea to use food to propose. Cupid has some ways to do it:

1. Picnic: This gesture is simple, but oh so romantic. The only thing lovelier than two lovers being one with nature is when food and diamonds are involved. Being surrounded by serenity will make the proposal truly authentic.

2. Favorite food: As their partner you should know what their favorite food is. Use that knowledge to your advantage and place the ring right on top of the dish.

3. Play with your food: Try using the food to spell out the proposal. This is unorthodox and will really catch your girl or guy off guard. Some ways to do this are with either berries on a cake or maybe the pepperoni on a pizza.

What are some ways to congratulate a new mom?

Cupid’s Advice:

Having a baby is one of life’s greatest joys. Cupid has some ideas of ways that you can congratulate a new mom:

1. Send a card: If you’re a mother yourself then you can write about your own experience with raising children. The first few weeks after giving birth will likely be the hardest for a new mother so some words of encouragement will go a long way.

2. Offer to babysit: It will probably take a few months until a new mother is comfortable enough with leaving her baby’s side, but let her know that when the time comes you’re willing to babysit. This will show that you’re supportive of the changes she will have to make in her life.

3. Gift basket: Having a baby means needing a ridiculous amount of things that you never even thought of before. Throw together a basket of baby things you think the new mom may have forgotten.

How do you balance parenthood and your career?

Cupid’s Advice:

It’s the 21st century and gender roles have changed. Mothers and fathers alike are expected to manage both parenthood and careers. Cupid has some advice for how to strike the balance:

1. Weigh the costs: Would it be more economical to pay for day care or to forgo your career and be a stay at home parent? Nobody likes to boil family matters down to money but, unfortunately, cost can determine the more practical lifestyle for you and your child.

2. Consider logistics: In deciding whether you want to work full-time, part-time or be a stay-at-home parent, you have to consider the logistics of daily life. How will you get your child to school? Will that interfere with your commute? Where will your child be while you're at work? These are important things to work out ahead of time.

What are some ways to introduce your newborn to family and friends?

Cupid’s Advice:

1. Use social media: Thanks to the internet, you can share photos of your baby with family and friends mere minutes after birth. Be cautious of going overboard, though. As beautiful as your newborn is, flooding your Facebook account with photos of your baby sleeping will get tedious.

2. Skype: Skype is a fantastic option for showing off your little one to relations who live far away. It offers an intimacy that posted photos cannot recreate.

3. Visit in the flesh: Unless there's an outbreak of cholera or bubonic plague in the area, there's no reason why you can't debut your baby in person. Go ahead and introduce your new son or daughter at the house of a friend or relative. This way, everyone gets the chance to hold the baby and say, "hello" in person.

Divorce is never fun, but there is a way to keep the separation amicable. Cupid has some ideas:

1. Don't assign blame: Holding your partner responsible for the failure of your marriage will only generate negative feelings between you two. Brooding about the past will accomplish nothing. Though it may be difficult, let go and move towards the future.

2. Hold your tongue: Just because you have something to say, doesn't mean you have to say it. You may feel angry and hurt but for the sake of those around you, particularly if you have children, exert some self-control and keep things civil.

Cupid's Advice:

Getting engaged is one of the biggest steps you can take in a relationship. Spending the rest of your life with someone is the ultimate expression of love and you want to be sure that you're making the right decision at the right time. Cupid has some advice:

1. You want the same things: If you and your partner see eye to eye on most of the crucial aspects of your lives, you might be ready for the final commitment. The two of you don't have to be on the same page on everything, but it's very important that you have similar wants and desires when it comes to the issues that will affect the future you two will eventually have together. For instance, if one of you isn't ready for children, it may not be a good idea to start talking about marriage either.

2. Your lives intertwine: It may be time to start thinking about getting engaged if you've already starting building a life with your significant other. Do the two of you do everything together? Have the same group of friends? If you already have a daily routine going, then you might as well continue to do it with a set of wedding bands on your finger.

3. You're in love: You've been with your love for awhile now and you can't imagine being with anyone else. You're the happiest you've ever been in a relationship, and you feel like you can be completely open and honest with your partner. There isn't a single secret you haven't shared with them and when you think about the future, you think of them. This is the sign you've been looking for. You're ready to pop the question and start living the rest of your lives together.

Salma Hayek Says Her Husband Loves When She Wears Leather

By April Littleton

She said, “I actually wear a lot of leather on the red carpet. My husband loves when I wear it.”

How do you make your partner happy with your style?

Cupid’s Advice:

Every woman wants to look good for her man. It wouldn’t make anyone feel good to know that their significant other doesn’t appreciate their choice of clothing. Are you secretly dying to get that stamp of approval from your beau? Cupid has some advice:

1. Rock it: Truth be told, it really doesn’t matter what you have on as long as you’re wearing it with confidence. Your significant other is going to notice if you’re feeling uncomfortable with how you look, so don’t wear something just because you think they'll like it. Wear what makes you happy. Do you like what you see when you look in the mirror? If you do, make sure that positive attitude projects outward to others. Be proud of your fashion sense and rock whatever you have on with fierceness.

2. Wear clothes that fit: Wearing a dress that is two sizes too small isn't exactly flattering to your figure, and your partner won't like the attention you draw to yourself either. If you're on the heavier side, don't hide your curves by wearing loose fitting clothing – wearing black will make you look slimmer.

3. Show off your assets: Buy clothes that accentuate your best features, not distort them. If your beau loves your shoulders, wear a sleeveless shirt. Does he love your long legs? Try a fitted skirt. Show a little cleavage by wearing a V-neck, but make sure to keep it classy.
