Uniquely named Wolf Rhys Meyers, the bundle of joy was long anticipated through a series of charming social media pregnancy posts on Lane's Instagram account, beginning in September when the couple announced their pregnancy. Celebrity News: Find Out Why Rob Kardashian Lashed Out at Blac Chyna

By Jessica DeRubbo

There's never a dull moment in the world of the Kardashians! Most recently, the social media world has been buzzing about the drama happening between celebrity couple Rob Kardashian and his fiancée Blac Chyna. According to EOnline.com, Kardashian removed all trace of Chyna from his Instagram account, but according to sources, it's nothing to be alarmed about. Apparently it's just the aftermath of a fight the two had. A source said, "Rob and her have been getting into little tiffs and Blac Chyna flipped on Rob. He was so pissed at how she spoke to him, so he deleted everything about her to hurt her." So, it looks like there may be trouble in paradise. We'll have to see what happens next in this duo's celebrity relationship!

This celebrity news has us getting drawn into Kardashian drama again!

What are some ways to keep your relationship issues private?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt that though relationship drama between the Kardashians may be entertaining, it's not very pleasant when you experience it yourself! Plus, it gets even more taxing when those around you know your private business. Cupid has some tips to keep things between you and your partner:

1. Avoid social media: Social media is good for a lot of things, but keeping your private life private isn't always one of them. Avoid social media when you've just had a disagreement with your partner at all costs. You may be tempted to air your dirty laundry, but you'll almost always regret it in the end.

2. Keep details from your friends: Again, it may seem therapeutic to air your frustrations to those closest to you, but resist the temptation! Often times, word will get around. Other times, your friends will simply get the wrong impression of your relationship and think it's bad all the time if you complain too much and fail to tell them about all the good things to balance it out.

3. Come to an agreement with your partner: The fact is, just because you don't tell people about any relationship issues you may be having, that doesn't mean your partner won't. When you're both calm, have a conversation about some relationship ground rules. Come to an agreement that you will not speak to those around you about any relationship issue you're having, unless you agree on it.

Relationship Advice: Post-Engagement Behavior

By Dr. Jane Greer

Only a few short months after former child star Lindsay Lohan and fiancé Egor Tarabasov professed their love for each other with an engagement, it appears there's trouble in celebrity couple paradise. Lindsay shared a series of posts on social media recently, including a video on Instagram of her fiancé in a club, which she captioned "Home?" She posted another shot with the caption, "Thanks for not coming home tonight. Fame changes people."

After you get engaged, taking that next step in your relationship, the expectation is that you will both live up to your new commitment and want to spend even more time together building your new life. What happens, though, when just the opposite seems to be taking place, and what might it mean for your future?

Sometimes it isn't such a clear path from getting engaged to getting married. For some people, undertaking such a big change and lifelong responsibility can cause people to question their choices and judgment, basically asking, did I make the right decision? That concern and insecurity can trigger their fears and hamper their ability to move forward. As one partner might be looking to be more involved and connected than ever, the other, questioning partner might actually be pulling away and become less available, spending more time elsewhere and possibly even dabbling in activities that can cause jealousy and trust issues. These actions, however, can often be more of a statement of the trepidation that becoming engaged conjures up, rather than a reflection of their true feelings for their partner.

If this happens to you, whether you are on the side of needing more space or the side of wondering what is going on with your fiancé, the most important thing to do is have a conversation with each other to explore the feelings that were triggered by this huge, life-changing event. Leave room to talk about misgivings and insecurities, even if that is difficult, so that at least you have an opportunity to express your concerns with the hope that they don't weigh you down and pull you apart permanently.

Another piece of relationship advice is to seek counseling to address whatever might be getting in the way of your future happiness. Talking to someone about this can help you determine if you jumped into the engagement prematurely, and the best thing to do would be to postpone the wedding or even walk away, or if it is just a temporary setback that can be fixed. Given Lindsay and Egor's apparent break-up, this might be a helpful step. This is a way to work through the tough time and have a better understanding of each other, know you are able to share your fears and conflicts, and perhaps move toward a happy ending.

Relationship Advice: How to Know When to Say 'I Love You'

By Josh Ringler

Falling in love is the point of every relationship, the goal of every date, and the dream of many. Love is a great thing and will definitely make for a stronger relationship. If you think you are ready to say the most important three words in a relationship, you should consider a few things. Whether it is one of your friends or one of the many celebrity couples, saying it too soon or too late can affect the future of your relationship. Use the relationship advice tips below to determine when it is the right time to say “I love you” and take your relationship to the next level.

These pieces of relationship advice will help you figure out if it is time to say ‘I love you’!

1. Do you feel it?: The first thing you should consider before you say “I love you” is that there should be a legitimate feeling there. A crucial piece of love advice is to really feel sparks when you are with your partner. Sparks are a great sign of things to come. Celebrity couples have been built upon first sparks, and your relationship can be, too. It is hard to describe sparks or the feeling of love, but you'll know when you feel it. It could be after a few dates, or if you are lucky, maybe instantly. As with anything, a great piece of relationship advice is to give things time, especially when it comes to love and other relationship-advancing steps.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: 10 Simple Ways to Be More Romantic

2. Are you ready?: If you feel it, that is great. The next question is if you are really prepared for what comes after you say "I love you" and after the relationship advances to the next level. An important piece of relationship advice is to make sure you have no lingering feelings from past relationships or doubts in your current one. Look to one of the best celebrity couples today, Blake Shelton and Gwen Stefani. Blake did not rush into things, and he only moved swiftly when he was ready. Being ready for the next step is really important for the future success of the relationship. If you feel ready, by all means, go for it!

3. Do you think your partner is ready?: It is really great if you feel in love or you think you are ready, but being in love is a two way street, and your partner is obviously essential to these feelings. If you think they are ready, you should experience signs. There will be more sparks, things will feel more romantic, more loving, and more passionate. Whether it is a kiss, holding hands, or just a romantic date, you should be able to feel the love. Yes, celebrity couples always talk about it, singers sing about it, and Hollywood makes it seem perfect for the silver screen, but love is real and you can find it!

Hamptons Date Night Dining: Food, Scenery, and Celebrities

By Nicole Caico

Countless single celebrities and celebrity couples alike flock to the Hamptons during the summer, and there is no reason to miss out on the action. The waterfront properties, beautiful beaches, and delicious food don't have to be confined to Instagram posts of the rich and famous. Get a taste of the celebrity lifestyle by dinning out at some of the great restaurants on Long Island's east end.

The food served at these Hamptons restaurants draws a date night crowd, and celebrities are no strangers to that group.

Eating Italian

If you are traveling to the east end in search of authentic Italian cuisine, you're in luck. Several restaurants in the Hamptons offer authentic Italian menus that incorporate fresh fish from surrounding waters. Serafina in East Hampton offers authentic Italian cuisine at prices that won't break the bank, and the atmosphere still has that signature laid back, beach vibe signature to the area. Also offering authentic Italian food in East Hampton is Nick & Toni's. In addition to a full dinner and dessert menu, Nick & Toni's features a long, diverse brunch menu.

From oven baked french toast to a Montauk fish burger, there is no more classic Hamptons experience than brunch at a local restaurant. The theme of Italian cuisine continues at Osteria Salina in Wainscott. The restaurant buys local from farmers and fisherman to create their Sicilian-inspired dishes.

Eating American

If you're looking for more of a classic American dish, or go-to summer foods, 75 Main in South Hampton offers a menu filled with burgers, variations on a BLT, lobster rolls, and seafood dishes. Also serving up an American style menu is the East Hampton Grill in East Hampton. Their menu features a fresh fish of the day, along with crab cakes, barbecued burgers and ribs, and some salads—including a scallop salad, a blue cheese wedge salad, and the tried and true caesar.

A true dining delight can be had at Red Bar Brasserie in South Hampton. A brasserie is characterized as an unpretentious restaurant or gathering place that serves simple and hearty food—and Red Bar seems to be just that. Like most other Hamptons eateries, they feature a menu largely based on local ingredients and freshly caught fish and seafood. Their interior differs from other hot spots in that they traded in the big windows and natural light for a more low lit dining room, but outdoor seating is also available.

These restaurants are only the tip of the iceberg for the long list of spots to choose from. In fact, Watch What Happens Live host Andy Cohen owns a house in Noyac Bay and can be caught out and about in the Hamptons every summer. Sarah Jessica Parker and hubby Matthew Broderick own a place in Amagansett and spend their time in areas between the Hamptons and Montauk. Kelly Ripa and Jerry Seinfeld, two stars essential to NYC, often migrate out east during summer months as well.
