Cupid's Advice:

New couples dream of a getaway for some one-on-one time, but finding the perfect destination can be difficult. Here are some unique travel destinations so that your vacation doesn't fall into the 'been there, done that,' category:

1. Ice hotel in Quebec: If you have already been to Quebec, experience it like you never have before by staying at an ice hotel called the Hôtel de Glace. Your room and even your bed is made of sculpted ice, giving you and your partner a chance to cuddle in an arctic sleeping bag together to keep cozy.

2. Madagascar: Madagascar, just off the Eastern Coast of Africa in the Indian Ocean, is a perfect isolated getaway for new couples to not only relax, but to explore. Whales can be seen from the beaches, and ninety percent of its native plant life is found nowhere else in the world, giving new couples a chance to experience new things together.

3. Mosquito Bay: Mosquito Bay is a bioluminescent bay located on the shore of the island of Isla de Vieques, Puerto Rico. The two have had three children together since they met in 2002 and plan to marry sometime next year.

What are some important things to keep in mind while planning a proposal?

Cupid's Advice:

Proposing to your significant other is something anyone in a relationship wants to play out perfectly. Here are some tips to keep in mind while planning your proposal to make it as memorable as possible:

1. Speak from the heart: Explaining why you want to marry her should come naturally and easily. Avoid memorizing lines, which can cause you to stumble over your words.

2. Intimate setting: The location should reflect the mood of your proposal. A romantic and private setting will make her feel like she is the only one in the world that matters.

3. Comfortable environment: Find a spot where both you and your love can both be calm enough to share the special moment. An uncomfortable environment can lead to nervousness, which should always be avoided.

How do you know whether to give your ex a second chance?

Cupid's Advice:

Break ups are often messy, but even a clean getaway leaves unresolved feelings. Some exes should stay exes, while other may deserve another shot if they follow these guidelines:

1. Standing the test of time: If a good amount of time has passed and your former partner still wants you, it's a good sign. The week after a break up can be the most vulnerable time, so let at least a couple of months pass. If your ex still wants to be with you when you've both cleared your minds, it's time for a second chance.

2. Expression of genuine sorrow: No one is happy after a break up. But, if the sorrow continues into the months after the split and you are receiving an abundance of 'I miss you' and 'I'm sorry' voicemail, letters and texts, it may be time to reevaluate your relationship.

3. Over-the-top gestures: If your ex repeatedly tries to win you back, chances are they mean it. When flowers are constantly sent to your office or a singing band appears at your door, these humorous yet heartfelt acts prove you should consider getting back together.

Under what circumstances would you give your ex a second chance? Tell us below.

The two rejoiced in the festivities and "danced and looked very happy," the source says.

What are some unique ideas for an engagement party?

Cupid's Advice:

Many couples celebrate their engagements in the same old way: rent a hall and invite the generic guest list. But why not do something a little more interesting and unique to your relationship? Here are a few ideas to consider:

1. Where You First Met: When selecting a venue for your engagement party, why not take advantage of the place you met your future spouse? From the local pub to a museum, most of these places are viable options to announce your pending nuptials to your loved ones.

2. The Park: Many couples have large extended families. A picturesque picnic in the park is a great way to include everyone. The little ones can play games while the adults indulge in tasty cocktails and classic picnic munchies.

3. Have a House Party: One of the best ways to declare your love for one another to your loved ones is to invite them into your own home. Whether it's a catered cocktail party or you simply grill in the yard, this idea is always a welcomed one.

'Bones' Star Tamara Taylor Finalizes Her Divorce

Summer may be the time for love and romance for some couples, but for 41-year-old actress, Tamara Taylor, and her attorney husband Miles Cooley, it's time to finalize their divorce, according to People. The couple put the kibosh on their marriage back in February, with Taylor being the one to file for divorce. Since their union in 2007, the two never had any children. This has made the split a lot less messy, and it's easier for each of them to accept the situation in order to move on from their failed relationship.

What are some ways to remain amicable after a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Breaking up is never easy, which is true in any relationship or marriage. If you and your partner are going separate ways, it's important to remain amicable towards one another. Cupid has some tips:

1. Give each other some breathing room: You're both experiencing a lot of hurt, so it's not going to help either of you if you're constantly at one another's throats. Keep some space between the two of you so that you can each take your own approach in handling it.

2. Be nice: You don't even have to go out of your way to do this one. Just treat your past loved one with kindness, because it may be the end of the road now, but you did once love each other.

3. Don't pick unnecessary fights: Obviously what's done is done, so don't waste your energy on arguments with your ex. That negativity will only stress both of you out more, so pick and choose your battles to avoid petty drama.

Rumor: Is Tara Reid Dating a 60-Year-Old Jeweler?

Although major age gaps in celebrity relationships have become more common, people were shocked when Tara Reid was spotted looking quite comfortable with Fawaz Gruosi, a man 26 years her senior. So is it true? Are the two really dating? According to Reid's rep, the rumors are "totally false" and the two are just friends. That said, Reid recently told E! host, Giuliana Rancic, that while she is very content being single, she wouldn't say "no" to meeting a new guy, according to E! Online.

What are some ways to tell that your age difference is affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Most celebrity relationships with a significant age gap don't last very long. Here are some warning signs that your age difference is affecting your relationship:

1. Jealousy: If you start to notice your mate getting fed up with all the attention you're getting from others, then beware! Whether he's older or younger, he may be feeling insecure about his own age. Similarly, if you begin feeling insecure about your own worth to him, it can hinder your relationship.

2. One of you wants to try new things but the other doesn't:

While one of you is still in an “up for anything” mentality, the other has already been there and might not want to do certain things. When it becomes a constant trend that one of you stays in while the other goes out, it may be time to call it quits.

3. You have the same arguments: The fact that you're in different places in your lives can lead to conflict over the same topic. You want kids, he doesn't. He wants to move, you don't. No matter how mature both of you are, or how in love, recognizing your own wants and needs first is a must.

What are some thrilling activities you can partake in on your honeymoon?

Cupid's Advice:

As you embark on a new life together, why not take part in a little adventure as well? Here are some ways you and your man can create exciting and unforgettable memories:

1. Take a surf lesson: Learning something new gives you and your mate a chance to help each other out. You'll both be a little out of your element, but it will be fun to make mistakes together and watch the other succeed.

2. Go bungee jumping: Doing something completely out of your comfort zone gives each of you a chance to show your support for the other. Helping each other overcome a fear is rewarding in itself and will inevitably bring you closer together.

3. Get immersed in the culture: Heading to Hawaii? Go to a Hula Dance performance. Off to Italy? Enjoy a delicious pasta dinner. Taking advantage of your travels and exploring a different lifestyle together will give you and your new partner something to remember for ages.

How do you know if your partner is a bad influence?

Cupid's Advice:

Your significant other is supposed to bring out the best in you, but sometimes he or she may have the opposite affect. Here are some ways to tell your partner is a bad influence:

1. You do things that you used to feel were wrong: Doing things you wouldn't normally do can often be a good thing, as your partner should encourage you to come out of your shell. That said, if you find yourself partaking in things that used to trigger your moral radar, it's time to come to your senses.

2. You're breaking the law: This may seem obvious, but if you find yourself doing drugs you never used to consider or driving after drinking as you used to refrain from, beware of the bad influence.

3. Your friends are pulling away: One great way to tell that your partner is changing you for the worse is to judge your friend's reactions. If you notice the contact you have with your friends is dwindling, it could be because of the negative affect your mate is having on you.

Jessica Biel Says Married Life with Justin Timberlake Won't Change Anything

Newly engaged actress Jessica Biel says married life with Justin Timberlake won't change a thing once they tie the knot. In fact, Biel says her role as housewife will be limited, as her career keeps her away from home, according to People. Biel, 30, and Timberlake, 31 plan to marry this summer.

What are some ways life changes after you get married?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting married is a big deal for many reasons. Although you may agree with Biel that married life isn't that different, there are some changes that come with the territory:

1. Family: Even if you already have kids or don't plan on having them, your spouse is now your family and that's a big change. You are committing yourself to this person, and he or she will be present during all of the great (and all the not-so-great) moments in your life.

2. Single life: Single fun is different than married fun, but don't give up on dates and flirting with your spouse. Incorporate the things you found fun while single into your marriage so things don't change too much.

3. A new you: Even if you and your partner were living together before, you're going to spend a lot more time together as a couple. Don't be surprised if you adopt new mannerisms, your tastes broaden and you find yourself developing and expanding who you are.

What are some other things that change when you get married?

How do you know if your partner would be a good parent?

Cupid's Advice:

Having a child and starting a family takes a lot of work from both you and your partner. If you're trying to tell if your significant other would be a great parent, consider these ideas:

1. Think about how your partner acts around kids: Whether it's their relatives, people at their workplace or just kids in the neighborhood, chances are that your partner deals with children once in a while. If he or she is friendly and supportive, they'll probably be a great parent. If kids seem to annoy them, you might want to reconsider your plans.

2. Try a pet: Animals are less responsibility than children, but caring for them still takes a lot of work. Taking care of a pet can strengthen your relationship and is a great way to practice being a parent. If your partner treats your pet with love and compassion, the odds are good that they'll treat your child the same way.

3. Talk about it: Sure, it seems obvious, but having kids is a decision you and your partner need to make together. He or she probably has a very good sense of whether they'd make a good parent, so ask what they think. Discussing this sooner rather than later can give you a better idea of where your relationship is headed, and will help build the openness and communication that all relationships need.

How do you keep the spark alive in a long-term relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

In long-term relationships, couples often get too comfortable with each other and forget about the spark that brought them together in the first place. Here are some ways to keep that spark lit:

- 1. Do things together: Do simple things together like helping each other out around the house. A little help can go a long way, and it leaves more room for the two of you to have alone time together.
- 2. Kick up the romantic gestures: Some think that once you put a ring on it, it’s no longer necessary to impress your partner. Wrong. Spreading rose petals, lighting a few candles and enjoying intimate dinners are all simple ideas that can keep the butterflies fluttering in your stomach even after years of being together.
- 3. Be spontaneous: In a long-term relationship, you may find yourself settling into a routine, and let’s face it, routines can be monotonous. Keep the spark alive by taking a weekend road trip or exploring different restaurants here and there. It’s important to not get stuck in a rut.

5 Ways Facebook Can Help Mark Zuckerberg Keep His Marriage Strong

By Amy Osmond Cook

On May 19, Mark Zuckerberg married longtime girlfriend, Priscilla Chan, in a private ceremony the day after Facebook went public. She wore a traditional white wedding gown, and he even put on a suit for the occasion. As the Washington Post reported, fewer than 100 guests were in attendance, and they all arrived thinking they were celebrating Chan's graduation from medical school.

Mark and Priscilla are famously low-key and grounded. For the past nine years, their relationship has grown right along with Facebook. In fact, Mark and Priscilla can use principles learned from Facebook to strengthen their personal relationships. Below are five Facebook-inspired ways that the couple can keep their marriage strong:

Related: 7 Ways to Flirt in a Web 2.0 World

1. Keep your relationship status public:

No one wants to be left wondering what about his or her relationship status. Experts agree that communicating your feelings is a vital component of a good relationship. Nothing is worse than coming home to a spouse who is angry but won't tell you why. A person who withholds his feelings to manipulate a partner is similarly despicable. So whenever possible, Mark and Priscilla need to check in with each other and keep their feelings out in the open.

2. Don't invite strangers into your inner circle:

When you're married, you have to be each other's biggest fan and keep any naysayers at arms' length. Mark does this well. He recently gave ABC News a glowing report about how hard Priscilla worked to make sure her pediatric patients were well cared for: "She'll see them getting sicker and then all of a sudden an organ becomes available and she comes home and her face is all lit up because someone's life is going to be better because of this." Clearly, Mark is proud of his wife, and the feeling is mutual. No matter who you are, there are always going to be haters who criticize your spouse or your relationship. You just have to have enough sense not to "friend" them.

3. Don't waste your time looking at other people's profiles:

There is no such thing as a perfect relationship. Most people don't like to air their issues out in the open, and serious problems can exist underneath the gloss of a perfectly touched-up family portrait. A friend of mine had long-term problems in her marriage. When it finally ended in divorce, people were stunned. "I had no idea there was a problem," friends said repeatedly. This couple kept their problems private, but they were still there eating away at the relationship. So the next time your frenemy posts an Instagram photo of herself and her movie star husband vacationing in Italy, remember that appearances can be deceiving.

4. Block the games:

There are endless ways to waste your time on Facebook. Messages, comments, causes, alerts, Farmville—so many ways to become distracted. My personal nemesis is Words with Friends. The same holds true in a relationship. Whether it's working long hours or going out excessively with the girls, anything that distracts a couple from their relationship is a threat. Priscilla knows this. The Daily Beast reports that she is mitigating the workaholic tendencies of her husband by laying down some ground rules for the relationship: 100 minutes of alone time and one date per week.

Related: Don't Just Drop Hints When You Want Commitment

5. "Like" everything:

It's easy to get bogged down in what is wrong with a relationship instead of what is right. When your three-year-old clogs the toilet with a Barbie and the boss is making extreme demands at work, it's hard to look at your partner with the same starry-eyed perspective as you did when you were dating. But keeping a positive attitude is one of the best things you can do for a relationship. As Norman Vincent Peale outlines in his famous book, The Power of Positive Thinking, the key to becoming a positive, happy person is to be aware of your thinking patterns and replace negative thinking with positive thinking. For example, instead of saying, "My husband is so messy," look at the flip side: "I'm so glad my husband doesn't bark at me about every little household chore." Whenever possible, give your relationship a big thumbs-up.

Mark and Priscilla are off to a good start. The Facebook founder is famously low-key (still donning his hoodie from college), and his new wife is focused on humanitarian causes. As Priscilla's former science teacher said to the Daily Mail, they want to change the world together and are blessed to have the resources to do it. With a few Facebook-inspired relationship reminders, this royal couple of the tech world can beat the odds and establish a secure foundation for a happy, healthy marriage.

Cupid's Advice:

Obtaining relationship advice is important for any individual who is looking to make sense of what is going on in their love life. Here are some ways to help you choose the right experts:

2. They love him: By "they," we mean family, friends... heck, even your beloved canine. If you love him and the most important people in your life love him, too, it's a win-win situation.

3. You can be yourself: You sometimes can't truly be yourself around everyone you meet, but, when you find the one person that you can wake up next to each day, not put on any make-up and they still think you're the most beautiful person in the world – that's "the one."

Though Smith noted that they don’t always get everything right and they still have a lot of learning to do, he said, “It’s wonderful to be with the people you love.”

How do you ensure that your family remains bonded?

Cupid’s Advice:

You can choose your friends and you can choose your partner, but you can’t choose your family. Your relatives can often be the most important people in your life, but getting along with them is sometimes difficult. However, there’s a lot of ways you can keep your family ties strong. Cupid has some tips:

1. Take time to talk: Like Smith says, communication is key to building a strong and happy family. Though modern families often live largely separate lives, try to take time to share things like the events of your day, your problems, and your thoughts on issues that matter to you. You’ll find that knowing a little more about what’s going on in your family members’ lives will bring you all closer.

2. Do things together: Chances are that everyone in your family has their own busy schedules. It’s also likely that they all have different interests. Though the Smiths are always busy with their careers, Will Smith still enjoys getting the whole family together for breakfast. Spending even a small amount of time doing things like sharing meals, playing games, and going on daytrips together are all great ways to strengthen your family’s bonds by giving you something to connect over.

3. Let your family have some space: Too much togetherness can lead to an excessive amount of control. Remember that everyone in your family is a unique person who deserves chances to make their own decisions. Smith lets his children express themselves: though he didn’t think Willow should have cut her hair short, he respected her rights to her own body. Ensuring everyone gets to do what they want, at least once in a while, will keep resentment from breaking apart your family bonds.

Ace Young Proposes to Diana DeGarmo on 'Idol' Finale

American Idol has always had its fair share of surprises; surprising eliminations, surprise celebrity guests, and surprise...proposals? That's right, two former Idol contestants, Ace Young and Diana DeGarmo, shared their love with the world when Young got down on one knee on Wednesday nights season finale. But to make this happen, he needed help from the show that made him famous on its fifth season. Young told People, "I called [producer] Nigel [Lythgoe] directly last week and said, 'I want to do this. I'm going to do this. Is there any way I could do it at the show?'" A teary-eyed DeGarmo said "yes," and the long-time couple is now engaged.

What are some over-the-top proposal ideas?

Cupid's Advice:

For some, the idea of 'go big or go home' resonates well with proposals. A proposal should be momentous and representative of the love a couple shares, so here are some ideas to get that message across loud and clear:

1. Adrenaline rush proposal: It is said that the effects of attraction and love are linked to neurochemicals very similar to adrenaline. So, why not proclaim your love during an adrenaline rush? Propose in the air while sky diving, or go race car driving with your partner and scream the question out loud. Just make sure that your blood is pumping and heart is thumping.

2. Flash mob proposal: Go one step further than Justin Timberlake did in his movie Friends with Benefits and actually use the flash mob to propose. Nothing says 'I love you' more than hundreds of people dancing in sync to your favorite song in a public place. It's a story you'll be able to tell over and over.

3. Write it out: It's not as easy as it sounds. Write it in the skyline or take a helicopter ride where the words 'Will you marry me?' can be seen below. It might cost you a pretty penny, but it will be unforgettable.

Celebrity Couples Who Let Money Ruin Their Relationship

By Lily Rose

It's 2.6 inches wide and 6.1 inches long, and we all want it. We're not sure what you're thinking, but we're talking about the Benjamin's, dough, loot, c-notes, otherwise known as ... money. The green stuff may not be the root of all evil, but it certainly is the root of a lot of relationship woes. Just ask these celebrity couples:

1. Sir Paul McCartney and Heather Mills: In June 2002, model Heather Mills and former Beatles member, Sir Paul McCartney, married, but then divorced just four years later. Money may not have ruined this couple's marriage, but it certainly made an amicable post break-up relationship seem improbable. Once the divorce papers were filed, the mudslinging started. Mills branded McCartney an abusive drug user, while she was labeled as a high-class prostitute. Watching the nasty insults and allegations flying back and forth was like watching a fast moving tennis match—it left the public dizzy and a bit nauseous. With a model on one side of the court and music royalty in the other, our bets were on McCartney. Mills ended up with a £24.3 million settlement, a mere fraction of McCartney's total net worth.

2. Rihanna and Chris Brown: It's all in the tweets, folks. Pop star Rihanna and long time ex-beau, singer Chris Brown, may be doing a little something-something on the down low. Brown's new girlfriend, aspiring model, Karrueche Tran, and Rihanna have even engaged in a little social media sparring on Twitter. If Rihanna and Brown are privately seeing each other, money is a likely factor in their unwillingness to publicize their reconciliation, as Rihanna fans may never forgive the pop princess for taking back her abusive ex. And seeing Rihanna and Brown together is just one more reminder of Brown's assault conviction— a reminder his career may not survive.

3. Nick Lachey and Jessica Simpson: No one can argue that reality television is financially lucrative. But, many celebrity couples pay the ultimate price – their relationship. Just ask Jon and Kate Gosselin, Travis Barker and Shanna Moakler or Carmen Electra and David Navarro. Maybe it's the stress of having each of your private moments taped and shared with the public, or maybe it's having a camera crew following you around, hoping for controversy. Who knows? But one thing is crystal clear – couple-centered reality TV shows are almost always a precursor for divorce. For singer Nick Lachey and Fashion Star judge, Jessica Simpson, however, divorce may not have been such a bad thing. On July 15, 2011, Lachey married television host, Vanessa Minnillo and on May 1, 2012, Simpson and fiancée, Eric Johnson welcomed their daughter, Maxwell.

Emily Maynard Says Brad Womack's Recent Comments 'Really Hurt'

The much anticipated, season-eight Bachelorette star, Emily Maynard, decided to be the bigger person when responding to her ex, Brad Womack's, recent nasty remarks. He said that "dodged a bullet" when their engagement ended, according to UsMagazine.com. The single mom faced the smack-talk on Access Hollywood Live on Wednesday, making a point to avoid confrontation. The 26-year-old told hosts, "At first, my feelings were really hurt, because we left everything very civil and I've never said a bad word about him. But knowing Brad, he didn't mean it that way." Neither half of the former couple have seen one another since filming for the new season of ABC's The Bachelorette started, which is probably for the best. Still on her quest for love, Maynard knew better than to fall for the petty 'he said, she said nonsense, showing not only her maturity, but also demonstrating that you can't believe everything you hear.

How do you deal with a vengeful ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Moving on from a breakup is difficult no matter what terms the relationship ends on. If you find your ex saying mean things that he knows will get your attention, it's usually a sign that he isn't as over you, or the split, as you thought:

1.No response is the best response: Don't give your ex the satisfaction of dropping to his or her level. If your ex is reaching out to you, it's obviously for a reason, so if you want to keep that relationship in the past, don't let them get a rise out of you – which was likely their goal in the first place.

2.Take it as a compliment: If a past partner is taking time out of their day to say things about you, it's because you're on that person's mind. Smile that they still care enough about you, as they took time out of their day to vicariously reach out to you.

3. Use it as fuel: If your ex is going to say cruel things about or towards you, just remember how much better off you are without that person. You deserve someone who is going to make you happy and your ex's immaturity can be used as a push in the right direction towards the one.
