

Reese Witherspoon Feels Sexier with Age

As little girls, we're afraid of monsters in the closet. But when we grow up, that monster is replaced with a fear of aging. But Reese Witherspoon isn't afraid of getting older! "Funny doesn't sag!" Witherspoon tells Us Weekly. The 34-year-old actress assures us that age brings more sexual confidence. "You're not as intimidated by it, not as embarrassed by it. Sexuality and femininity is an accumulation of age and wisdom and comfort in your own skin." Is it tougher to date as you get older?

Cupid's Advice:

Reese Witherspoon is living proof that aging isn't a a bad thing. Cupid has a few reasons that dating gets easier with age:

1. Experience: First dates can be awkward when you're young and haven't been on many of them. When you've been dating for a long time, things will come much more natural to you than they did when you were 20.

2. Knowledge: On top of the experience, you now have dating knowledge. Because you've been dating for a long time, you know how to handle things if they take a turn for the worse. Preparation is key!

3. Confidence: When we get older, we really discover and embrace who we are. Now that you're comfortable with yourself, your confidence will shine through. That's a rare gift only age can give!

How can you keep your divorce under wraps?

Cupid’s Advice:

When you decide to part ways with your spouse, sometimes you just need some privacy for a little while. Here’s how to keep your divorce confidential:

- 1. Talk to your spouse: You and your ex-partner should agree on when to go public with your divorce. Make sure you’re on the same page so that your mate doesn’t tell anyone too soon.
- 2. Don’t say the D-word: If friends and family start noticing something has changed in your relationship, just tell them that you and your spouse are going through a difficult time, which is true.

3. Keep your records private: Most people don't realize that divorce records are public information. If you don't want the public to be able to access your papers, file a motion to have your divorce documents impounded.

Russell Crowe has a reputation for being brash, egotistical and even violent. And now for the first time, his wife even admits he can be “volatile,” according to DigitalSpy. How do you deal with your partner’s temper?

Cupid’s Advice:

Everyone gets angry sometimes, but some of us have a hard time controlling our temper. If your partner has that problem, here are some ways to deal:

- 1. Anger equals passion: If your partner has a temper, it means he is a passionate person who feels deeply. Keep that in mind before you judge.
- 2. Seek help: If your mate’s anger gets out of control, suggest therapy or anger management. Tell them you care about them and want them to be healthy and happy.
- 3. Get away: You can only live with your partner’s anger issues up to a certain point. If he becomes violent, leave immediately and call the police.

What are ways to split family responsibilities in a relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

A relationship is all about sharing. No one person can bear all the responsibility, no matter how capable they seem.

Cupid has some ways to help distribute the family responsibilities fairly:

1. Based on availability: Some weeks are more hectic than others. Figure out how much free time both of you have, and then distribute the responsibilities accordingly.

2. Based on skills: Whether it's shopping or fixing the car, you each have your own strengths. In order to get everything done efficiently, split up responsibilities based on each other's skillsets.

3. Based on past decisions: Whatever way you decide to split up the responsibilities, you should come to a decision each week or month about what each person is able and willing to take on. Then, stick to it!

Prince William and Kate Middleton Set Good Relationship Examples

By

Roy Sheppard

Here in the UK, we are being drenched with Prince William and Kate Middleton stories in the media. They are everywhere!

Unlike the loved-up celebrities who can't wait to show off the latest in a long line of soul mates, what's different about Prince William and Middleton is their quiet togetherness. They already exude a sense of being an 'us,' rather than part of a 'me + me' relationship. Their focus is on each other, and they're not trying to convince their friends or the world that they're together. They just are.

They royal couple each have what I describe in my book, How to Be The One – a well-developed Emotional Core, the emotional equivalent of a strong physical core stability known to anyone who has ever practiced Yoga or Pilates. The emotional 'muscles' they have developed in life include: a healthy self-esteem, an appealing attitude to life, a deep sense of inner happiness and kindness towards others.

Faced by the world's media at a press conference announcing their engagement, did you notice how William so gently reassured and supported his bride-to-be, knowing how nervous she must have been? That's classy. But you don't have to be royalty to be considerate. So, for the next month, commit yourself to the following:

1. Instead of focusing on what you want from a date, put some effort into being that sort of person for them. Adopt or develop those same qualities you value so much in others. You want someone loving, trustworthy, reliable and considerate? Well, how would you score on those same qualities?

2. William and Kate are best friends. Decide to be nice to everyone you meet and everyone you date. Just be friendly with no agenda. And forget the so-called 'dating rules.' Let's face it, they mostly encourage you to treat people like you dislike them!

3. Those who have exhausted "just having fun" are looking for someone special with whom to share their lives. There are men and women out there who create idealized fantasy figures in their heads, and no one can live up to them. My fear is that millions of people will keep looking, but will fail to realize that their wish list may be completely unrealistic. Happy, long-lasting relationships are based on trust, love and commitment; but there seems to be a lot of confusion about the definitions of those qualities. In my book, I talk about how commitment has been diluted into "Commitment Light," a diet cola version of the quality.

Invest time developing your emotional core. You'll pass more 'auditions,' which will open up options. Plus, you'll be able to share the limelight with an A-list partner in a Blockbuster relationship, rather than a low-budget soap opera!

Cameron Diaz and Alex Rodriguez Vacation in Mexico for Thanksgiving

Cameron Diaz and on-again-off-again Yankee boyfriend, Alex Rodriguez were caught canoodling in Mexico over the Thanksgiving holiday last week, according to Us Weekly. The pair spent time in the sand showing off their beach bods and taking dips in the water. The two were originally spotted together over the summer, but kept things cool in October. "They break up and get back together all the time," says a source. Is an on-again-off-again relationship healthy?

Cupid's Advice:

If you find yourself continuously cutting things off only to get back together a few weeks later, it may not be healthy.

Cupid has some tips on how to evaluate your relationship:

1. Look at the big picture: Step back and try to see your relationship from an outside perspective. Breaking up and getting back together may seem normal to you, but it may be destructive behavior.

2. Make a list: Sometimes a pros and cons list can help sort out confused feelings. Take a page from Miranda in the Sex And The City movie, as she used one to determine her feelings for her husband, Steve. It's an old stand-by for a reason.

3. Question it: Ask yourself, "Why am I going back?" If you can't answer the question with clarity, getting back together may be the right decision. If not, calling it quits may be the way to go.

NCIS Star Cote de Pablo Loves Her Boyfriend for Being a Bad Influence

NC

IS actress Cote de Pablo loves her boyfriend, despite their opposite personalities, according to People. “I’m in a long-term relationship with [actor] Diego Serrano, and I’m very happy,” said the actress. “He’s the worst influence that I have ever had in my life, and I love him for it.” De Pablo, 31, elaborated, saying, “Every once in a while, he turns to me and goes, ‘Live a little.’ I’ll have chicken with broccoli and he’s like, ‘What about the chocolate cake?’ If it weren’t for him, I’d be the most boring person in Los Angeles...we balance each other.”

What are the benefits of having the opposite personality of your partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

While many feel that two people need to have similar personalities in order to make a relationship work, the old cliché “opposites attract” does have some merit. Here are some reasons:

1. It’s exciting: While it’s possible to have fun with a partner who has the same interests as you, true thrill often springs from the excitement you get from stepping out of your comfort zone.

2. You can learn new things: If you like shopping and your partner enjoys hiking, then the two of you can learn a lot from each other. You may discover a love of nature and your partner may begin to appreciate the indoors. You can encourage each other to be open-minded.

3. You become well-rounded: By dating people different than yourself, you gain more points of view and life experience than you would gain by staying only with what you already know.

Th e Amazing Race is full of surprises, like underdogs winning it all, leaders falling into last place and challenges that test the mind and body. Since the couple's elimination and intermission from the spotlight, they completed their nuptials, and are expecting their first child.

How do you cut back on fighting in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Chad Waltrip and Stephanie Smith's relationship hasn't always been smooth sailing. Cupid has some ideas to make your relationship calmer:

1. Figure out the reason: It's important to recognize why you're fighting, and from where the problems come. By recognizing what sparks your arguments, you can work on strengthening your relationship.

2. Listen closely: Sometimes when people are angry, true feelings spill out. Pay attention to what your partner is saying, even in anger. Then, talk about those true feelings instead of the extra fluff surrounding them.

3. Discuss in depth: If you make nice too quickly and don't discuss why you started arguing in the first place, chances are that you'll be fighting again before you know it. Sit down with your partner and have a calm discussion about what you can do to strengthen your relationship and prevent further arguments.

Is it okay to date only for fun?

Cupid's Advice:

We all know how amazing it is to be in love. But sometimes you might just want to play the dating game without all the extra responsibility. Here are sometimes when that's okay:

1. When you're young: You have your whole life to be tied down, and once you find Mr. Right, he'll probably be around for a while. Get a feel for what's out there before you make a decision.

2. You just got out of a relationship: If you just called it quits on a serious relationship, take some time to have a little fun. See what else is out there!

3. When you're figuring yourself out: Sometimes we have so much going on in our lives that the last thing we need is another obligation. It's perfectly fine to go out, let loose, and have some fun on the dating scene without all the pressure.

Hunting for Love Later in Life

By

KB in NYC

We all know that dating is a minefield, right? But here's the thing; getting older doesn't help. A lot of 40-year-old men only want to date 25-year-olds. And here's why: a woman in her 30's or 40's knows what she wants. She's been around the block a few times, and she's less willing to compromise. She's less easily impressed and she is, in a word, more discerning.

Now that's not necessarily a bad thing, but it does make dating harder. Also, when man hunting at an older age, you tend to want different things. At 24, a cocktail and a great make out session will suffice; at 40, not so much.

Hollywood is filled with fabulous women, all of whom have achieved enormous success and are finding themselves single in their mid-30's and 40's – think Jennifer Aniston, Charlize Theron, Sandra Bullock and Sheryl Crow.

The thing is, these celebrities are pretty much set: they have millions of dollars in the bank, they look fantastic and if motherhood tickles their fancy, there's always adoption. And yet, they can't get the man thing right. Famous or not, who doesn't want to get the man thing right?

Whether you're single by choice or on a serious manhunt, the parameters are kind of the same. Be honest with yourself and the men you're dating about what you want. If it's marriage and kids, then own that.

You may not be in your 20's anymore, but that's no reason to act desperate. Like Jen taking back John Mayer after he had publicly humiliated her? That had a whiff of desperation to it. Know what you have to offer, and never accept anything less than you deserve, no matter how desperate you may be to "put a ring on it."

Take a page out of Jen, Cheryl or Sandra's books and surround yourself with great people. Friends make the world go 'round, and being happily single is about having your emotional needs met.

It's such a cliché, but oh-so true: be comfortable in your skin, even if it requires Artefill to keep it looking as good as it once did.

We are a society obsessed with aging, and yet many celebrities are just getting better the older they get. From Halle Berry to Kate Winslet, Jenny McCarthy and Susan Sarandon, age certainly hasn't gotten in the way of dating fabulous men. Which leads one to contend that if age is just a number, attitude must be everything.

- 1. Do what you want: When you live alone, you're on your own schedule. Being able to do what you want when you want is a major plus.
 - 2. Enjoy your privacy: Living without a partner means you can do things like walk around without clothes on, sing at the top of your lungs or have conversations with yourself, like Taylor Swift!
 - 3. No roommate issues: We've all lived with someone who drives us crazy. Roommate fights are inevitable, and living by yourself helps you avoid all that drama.

Cupid's Advice:

What you say is only one form of communication. Both body language and your choice of clothing also play a significant role in how your date perceives you. Cupid has some advice on how to send the right signals:

1. Smiles are always in style: If you're enjoying yourself on date, always wear a smile.

2. Too sexy is not the way to go: Though you may want to impress your date by showing off your hot bod, leaving something to the imagination sends a more positive signal. Try showing off only one feature at a time. If you're sporting a short skirt, wear a conservative top.

3. Dress up: Though you don't have to go all-out, putting effort into what you wear on a date is always appreciated.

How can you tell if your partner is obsessive?

Cupid's Advice:

Though Heidi Montag and Dr. Frank Ryan weren't dating, many relationships can go sour due to an obsessive partner. Cupid has some tips on how to tell if your partner's too into you:

1. He checks in constantly: There's nothing wrong with the occasional text or phone call when you and your partner are apart. But if your special someone is constantly bugging you about where you are and who you're with, maybe they shouldn't have your number!

2. He's overly jealous: Jealousy is inevitable in any relationship, but if your partner is questioning you about every friend you're texting and wincing when you talk to a member of the opposite sex, he may be confusing love with infatuation.

3. He shows up uninvited: It's one thing if your boyfriend graces your workplace to give you flowers on a special occasion and quite another if he's constantly showing up uninvited. You may want to have a serious talk about boundaries.

Cupid’s Advice:

If you want a relationship to last a long time, you have to move at your own pace. Here’s how:

- 1. Wait until you’re ready: Don’t hit the milestones in a relationship just because they’re there. For example, say, “I love you” only when you feel ready.
- 2. Lighten up: If you just ended a serious relationship with someone like Gabriel Aubry did, don’t get serious again right away. For now, date without thinking about where it could lead.

3. Don't use labels: If you want to take your time in a relationship, wait a while to make it official. Using the labels "boyfriend" and "girlfriend" too early could put pressure on the relationship.

What are the benefits of dating around?

Cupid's Advice:

While avoiding relationships and constantly dating new guys can be controversial, dating around does have some benefits. Here are a few advantages:

- 1. You have extra time: When you're in a serious relationship, a large amount of your time is given to your boyfriend. By having casual flings instead, you have spare time to devote to your career and hobbies.
 - 2. You find out what you want: Especially when you're young, you may not know what kind of partner you need in. By dating around, you discover certain personality traits you prefer and other's you don't.
 - 3. Mistakes are less tragic: Everyone makes mistakes. However, they're easier to recover from in a casual relationship. The absence of pressure makes it easier to move on and to learn from your blunders more gracefully.

Cupid’s Advice:

Recovering from a breakup is hard, and it’s even tougher the children involved. Cupid has a few tips to keep your children relatively unaffected:

- 1. Cooperate with your ex: Nothing is more harmful to your children than a battle for custody. Meet your ex halfway, and make some compromises. A civil and orderly split will make the separation much easier.

- 3. Give them time: No matter how masterfully you handle your breakup, your children will be at least slightly affected. It may be rough now, but in time and with care, your children will adjust.

2. You've known them for a long time: Next, you should think about the people who have been present in your life the longest. Usually these are the people who will still be in your life long after the wedding!

3. You attended their wedding: If you still have room for more guests, invite those who invited you! If you were special enough to be in their wedding, return the favor!
