

Celebrity Couple News: Find Out More About Taylor Swift and Joe Alwyn's Undercover Romance

By Melissa Lee

Even after EOnline.com learned about their celebrity relationship in May, celebrity couple Taylor Swift and Joe Alwyn have continued to keep their relationship on the down low. The pair have been quite secretive about their visits, especially after Swift's extremely public past relationships. Swift has reportedly been in London with Alwyn, a 26-year-old British film and theater actor, over the past few weeks.

This new celebrity couple is definitely keeping things under wraps. What are some benefits to keep your relationship on the down-low at first?

Cupid's Advice:

New relationships can be super fun, but sometimes it's nicer to keep those moments private. Cupid has some advice on why it can be beneficial to stay quiet at first:

1. There's minimal pressure: When you keep your relationship private for a bit, pressures from your friends and family won't be as common. Your mom won't be constantly asking when she can meet your partner, and sometimes those low-key nights in seem a bit more fun than going out with all of their friends!

2. Say goodbye to negativity: By posting about your relationship on social media, everyone will see your new significant other – and let's face it, not everybody will be happy for you. When your relationship is on the down-low, you don't have to worry about people's negative comments bringing you down.

3. Oversharing won't be a problem: Relationships are usually only meant for the two people involved. If your relationship becomes public after constantly posting about it, oversharing can become a fast issue. Special dates or moments may get ruined after you share it with all 500 of your “closest friends”.

Celebrity Wedding: 'Bachelor' Alum Britt Nilsson Is Engaged

By Noelle Downey

Bring out the champagne because it's time to celebrate! According to UsMagazine.com, Bachelor alum Britt Nilsson is officially going to celebrate a celebrity wedding with boyfriend Jeremy Byrne! The celebrity couple started dating last year after Nilsson's split from Brady Toops, another alum of the hit reality TV show, The Bachelor, and shared news of their celebrity engagement via a series of Instagram posts of the ring and the couple laughing and kissing in excitement. Nilsson wrote in the caption, ""WE ARE ENGAGED!!!! I'm over the moon!!! The man of my dreams and the most godly, amazing, fun, life-giving, silly, intelligent, wonderful best friend I could ever ask for is my future husband!!!! I have been dreaming of this day forever!! Thank You Jesus!!! Woo hooooo!!!! I had no idea it was coming and it was the best day of my life! I love you forever Jeremy Byrne!!!"

This controversial Bachelor alum has said goodbye to the single life and hello to a celebrity wedding! What are some things to consider before getting engaged?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to getting engaged, it can be hard to know when you're ready as a couple! Cupid is here with the top three things you should consider before popping the questions or saying yes when your partner gets down on one knee:

1. Do you have the same goals?: Ideally in a long-term relationship you two would be looking for the same things and have a similar vision of the future. If you know for a fact that your ideas of the future differ greatly but you've never really sat down and worked that out, definitely take the effort before you move forward with an engagement. If you're both on the same page you can breathe a sigh of relief knowing that ring on your finger doesn't mean you have to give up your dreams or future plans.

2. Are you ready for a forever commitment?: There's no doubt about it, a wedding and an engagement are a huge deal, but marriage itself is an even bigger one. Ask yourself honestly, am I ready for a lifetime commitment to one person? Analyze your answer and share it with your partner. Admit if you don't feel ready for that big step right at the moment or confess that you've thought it through and think that's a good next step to take in the future.

3. Do you both want to get married?: This one seems like a no-brainer, but you'd be amazed how many people feel pressured into proposing or to saying yes to an offer of marriage just because they never sat down and talked about their feelings toward marriage in general, and also specifically for them at some point in the future. It's perfectly possible that for either you or your partner, getting married just isn't a priority, and if that's the case, you need to have a mature discussion about it where you communicate your wants and needs effectively.

New Celebrity Couple? Nicki Minaj Responds to Nas Dating Rumors on 'Ellen DeGeneres Show'

By Noelle Downey

It's possible there's a new celebrity couple in Hollywood, and Cupid is here with all the hot gossip on this celebrity news. According to UsMagazine.com, Nicki Minaj played it cool when speaking to talk show host Ellen DeGeneres on whether or not she and rapper Nas were dating or not. When pressed, Minaj admitted, "He's so dope." Upon further discussion it was revealed that while Minaj thought Nas was "kind of cute" and she admitted they had had some sleepovers, she also asserted, "I'm just chilling right now. I'm celibate. I wanted to go a year without dating men. I might make an exception to the rule for him 'cause he's so dope." The Hollywood relationship was first noted when Minaj shared an Instagram post of the two cuddling at a restaurant. A source claims, "They were laughing a lot. They looked very cute together. No PDA, but they looked like a couple."

There may be a new celebrity couple, but Nicki Minaj is being coy about it. What are some benefits to waiting to tell your friends and family about your new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to keeping a relationship private, Cupid is here with three benefits to not telling your friends and family when you enter a new relationship:

1. You can enjoy the honeymoon phase in peace: When you first start dating someone there's a period where it's all just total bliss and discovery. You're newly together and getting to know all the things that you love about the person in a new and more intimate way. You probably have stars in your eyes and your heart is constantly fluttering. There's something to be said for riding that high as long as possible and staying in your fantasy world where it's just you and your partner at the beginning. It can be nice to feel like your secret romance is just between you two, and remember, you can always reveal your relationship, but you'll never be able to get this sweet private time back.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple Predictions: Kendall Jenner, Nicki Minaj and Minka Kelly

2. You can avoid family drama: It's an unfortunate but true fact, many families pass judgment on the people that their family members bring home. If you're sure there's some silly reason that your parents and/or siblings will find fault with your significant other, then there's no need to draw your partner into that mess before you're ready. It's important to note that every one has a different relationship with their family, and if yours is tumultuous, there's no contract that says you have to reveal the details of your personal life to them. If your relationship is healthier without them meddling in it or casting judgment, then take refuge in privacy and avoid any unnecessary family drama.

3. You can sneak around: Many couples find it romantic or even sexy when they're keeping a relationship a secret, even if it's for no real, high-stakes reason. Meeting up at hotels, sneaking kisses behind your friend's backs, holding hands under the table, there's something exciting about turning your newfound relationship into a covert operation. While most likely eventually this magic will fade and you'll start wanting the more traditional openness of a relationship, if it's still fun or you and your partner to sneak around, then by all means, indulge yourselves!

Celebrity Wedding: Meghan Markle Arrives in London for

Pippa Middleton's Wedding

By Noelle Downey

It looks like things are getting really serious in Prince Harry and Meghan Markle's celebrity relationship! According to EOnline.com, Markle recently arrived in London and made an appearance at Kensington Palace just days before she and Prince Harry are set to attend Pippa Middleton's celebrity wedding together. This is big news for the celebrity couple, as Markle has never attended an event with Prince Harry's family before, or been photographed meeting them. Could it be this is Markle and Prince Harry's "meet the parents" moment when it comes their Hollywood relationship? It's hard to say, but either way, attending a wedding together, particularly one as high-profile as this with the rest of the royal family in attendance, is a major deal, especially given how private the pair has been up to this point. Although their relationship was confirmed last November, the two only made their first public appearance together this month, when Markle was spotted cheering Prince Harry on at a his charity polo match, and later stealing a discreet kiss in the parking lot.

This celebrity wedding marks Meghan Markle's first public interaction with Prince Harry's family. What are some ways to know you're ready to involve your family in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt about it, taking your partner to meet your family can be stressful! Here are the top three ways to know you and your sweetie are ready for that big step:

1. You feel secure in the relationship: You don't want to bring someone home who you're pretty sure won't be in your life by next month. If you're introducing your special someone to your parents and siblings, make sure that's just what they are; special. If you're secure in your relationship you can be sure that no matter how it goes with your family that your S.O. will do their best to be well-liked by people who are so important to you and that your family will recognize how amazing and special your partner is.

2. Marriage is a possibility: If you feel like the one you're dating might just be the one, then you should definitely consider introducing them to your family. Even if such a big commitment could be months or years down the road for you two lovebirds, establishing a relationship with your family as a couple will only make your bond stronger and help your family adjust to the idea of an eventual addition to their inner circle.

3. You've met their family: If you've already met your significant other's family, why not introduce them to your own? While taking your partner to meet your family can be scary and hard, especially if you have a complicated relationship with them, it may put a damper on your relationship if your partner feels they've been open and shared their family life with you and you haven't reciprocated. Show your partner that you trust and appreciate them by taking down your walls and allowing them to see behind the scenes of your life and upbringing.

Celebrity Break-Up:
'Bachelor' Ben Higgins Sheds

Light on 'Tough' Split from Lauren Bushnell

By Noelle Downey

Bachelor star Ben Higgins is opening up about his celebrity break-up from Lauren Bushnell. According to EOnline.com, Higgins is letting it all out when it comes to the end of his celebrity relationship on his upcoming podcast with fellow reality TV star, Ashley Iaconetti. In the first episode, Higgins claimed, "Lauren will always be one of my best friends. I learned a lot about myself; I think she learned a lot about herself. It's tough." Higgins went on to share that his heartbreak over celebrity ex Bushnell is still "very fresh" because he truly thought that, "[she] was the one." However, Higgins is also the first to acknowledge that the Hollywood relationship had real problems. “Mutually Lauren and I saw that life was getting more difficult,” Higgins admitted, “I would say the joy that we felt toward our relationship at the beginning was—for some reason—slipping away.” He confessed there was “no real saving or redemption to be done” and that ultimately he felt that their split was “for the best.” Regardless, Higgins has hope for both of them, even if it’s as individuals, instead of a celebrity couple and stated, “I am a better man today because of Lauren and because of our relationship.”

This celebrity break-up proves that when a relationship becomes more work than pleasure, it’s time to let go. What are some ways to know your relationship has run its course?

Cupid’s Advice:

It can be tough to know when a relationship is really over, but here are the top three ways that you can be sure:

1. When you no longer see a future together: A good way to figure out if what you’re experiencing is a rough patch or really the end is to analyze whether or not you can still imagine a future with your partner. Can you picture a time when realistically things get better and you as a couple move past whatever it is that’s causing stress on your relationship? Or is this conflict destined to be a part of your relationship forever? Your answer can help you determine whether or not it’s time to move forward or move on.

2. When the love is gone: If you genuinely feel as if you've fallen out of love with your partner, then it's time to move on. If the thought of leaving provides you with more relief than you won't have to fake it any more than sadness, you can be sure that ending the relationship is the best thing for both of you. Don't try to force love or affection after a certain point. If you're not feeling it, you're just not. Let go.

3. When you feel trapped constantly: If your relationship has been reduced to nothing but a ball and chain around your ankle, think long and hard about whether or not you want it to continue. If you feel that the only thing your partner does is hold you back, consider the fact that you both might be able to go farther without each other. Sometimes the most loving thing you can do for another person is set them free knowing that both of you will actually be better off without one another, even if at first the split is painful.

Dating isn't easy, this is especially true when heartbreak is involved. Everyone deals with break-ups differently, but sometimes it's tricky to put yourself out there after ending a relationship. For those questioning their next steps, let Cupid help you figure out if you should start dating again:

1. Bitterness is gone: You're ready to date again when you're no longer listening to sad love songs and getting hit with flashbacks. Having memories of your ex is fine, but if they're plagued with strong emotions you're simply not over them yet. You don't need to carry those sentiments into another relationship, so wait until your bitterness has passed before pursuing anything new.

2. You want to have fun: Sure, you can have a grieving period over your broken relationship, but staying home and being miserable gets old quick. Celebrity Wedding: Jennifer Lopez & Alex Rodriguez Are Already Talking About Marriage

By Cortney Moore

Jennifer Lopez and Alex Rodriguez made celebrity news when they first got together in March. Now fans are excited to learn that a celebrity wedding may be underway sometime soon. When it comes to family, this famous couple has also received a stamp of approval from their children. "They are perfect for each other. Their families love how they are together," the source made sure to add. Fingers crossed that we're treated to a New York inspired celebrity wedding!

There could be another celebrity wedding in the works! What are some ways to know you're ready for marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

People always ask when is the right time to get married, but relationships aren't monolithic. Instead you should ask yourself what signs show you're ready for a lifetime partnership. Here are three relationship milestones to consider before you agree to be someone's other half:

1. When 'I' becomes 'we': In the early dating phase, you're content with your independence. Thinking of the future usually goes along the lines of "I'm going to do XYZ, and no one can stop me." But the second you find yourself including your partner in your future plans it's no longer all about you. Desiring someone's companionship and input long-term are traits that show you're ready for serious commitment.

2. Compromise is second nature: Marriage is all about compromise. It requires tying yourself down to one person, which can be tricky if you have differing philosophies and lifestyles. However, the ability to give and take is a relationship skill that all great marriages have mastered. If you're able to negotiate with your significant other, then chances are you're both ready for the long haul.

3. Don't feel like you're missing out: Cold feet can happen, but your concerns shouldn't be centered around all the potential partners you might miss out on. If you're suffering from FOMO, then you're not ready for marriage. But if the idea of coupling up with someone permanently doesn't bother you, then marriage is right for you. Your future spouse will definitely appreciate your dedication!

There may be a new celebrity couple in town! What are some creative ways to make your crush notice you?

Cupid’s Advice:

If you’re trying to get that new cutie you’ve got your eye on to notice you exist, Cupid is here to help:

1. Find common ground: If you’re looking to make a connection with a crush, but you’re virtually strangers, find some common ground with them that you’re sure you share. This doesn’t have to be something super complicated or personal, in fact it’s way better if it isn’t. Focus on surface-level commonalities at first, even if there one’s that seem obvious, like the fact that you work at the same place or go to the same school. Think about what you have in common – classes, bosses, friends, hobbies – and go from there. The next time you see them at a party or on break at work, walk up and introduce yourself and find a fun conversational tidbit to break the ice that relies on your joint experiences. Remember, if you go blank and are stuck in a pinch, virtually every one loves to talk about themselves!

Related Link: David Foster Talks Life After Celebrity Divorce from Yolanda Hadid

2. Create an inside joke: Once you have common ground with the person you're crushing on and are friendly with them, find an inside joke that you two can share. This can be based on something funny that happens in the office or a professor you both love to hate at school. This will bond you two together further and also be a great lead-in for more flirty teasing. Don't be afraid to move from friendly and funny to actually flirty pretty soon though; after all you want to make sure your crush understands you want to be their partner, not just their buddy!

Related Link: Katharine McPhee Calls It Quits on Affair with Michael Morris

3. Give them a compliment: If you've developed a fun, flirty teasing relationship, don't get so wrapped up in giving your crush a hard time that you forget that you're trying to sweep them off their feet. Throw in a compliment every so often to remind them that you genuinely like and admire them. Remember to keep it light but also personal, something that not every one would notice or that you think they'd really appreciate hearing. And when they blushingly accept the compliment? Give them a smile and a long, soft look to take things from merely flirty to truly romantic.

This celebrity news has us rooting for this mysterious couple. What are some ways to keep your relationship away from prying eyes?

Cupid’s Advice:

In today’s world, keeping a relationship on the down low can be a bit tricky. Here are the top tips for keeping things between you and your significant other private:

1. Stay away from social media: If you’re looking to keep your relationship private and away from prying eyes, the first step is to make sure your social media is in line with that goal. If you’re constantly snapping romantic pics of your partner and posting them on the web, people are going to put two and two together. Still want the experience of sharing your special moments, but want to control who gets to see those posts? Make sure your privacy settings on apps like Facebook and Instagram are set in such a way that you can limit who gets to take a peek into your private life.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Jamie Foxx Celebrates 48th Birthday with Katie Holmes

2. Practice polite shutdowns: We’ve all come face to face with a nosy person in our lifetime who is way too interested in the intimate minutiae of our private lives. If someone is trying to press you for more information than you're willing to give about your romantic relationship or anything else, practice kindly but firmly indicating that that information is private and you'd like to change the topic. For instance, try something non-confrontational but clear at first like, "Thanks for your interest, but honestly I usually like to keep those details private. Would you mind if we talked about something else?" And if the person keeps pressing? There's no harm in simply saying, "Like I said, that's not really something I want to discuss right now," and extracting yourself from the conversation.

3. Choose your friends wisely: If you're trying to keep your relationship more private, be mindful of the people with whom you share the details of your life with. If you have a friend who loves spreading the latest gossip and posting photos of people without their knowledge or permission, then you might want to think twice about sharing news of your relationship with them. Focus on finding the people in your life who will respect your wishes to keep things quiet and make sure before you go on a double date or take your significant other to meet your friends that you're sure everyone there is willing to help you keep your relationship private.

"He's a great guy," beloved actress Hawn enthused, "Yeah, he's very special actually." Russell added his praise, saying, “I always approve. Kate brings good guys.”

This celebrity news is certainly the next step in Kate Hudson’s relationship. What are some ways to know you’re ready for the next step in your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Cupid is here with some top tips on how to know when you and your partner are ready to take the next big step in your relationship:

1. When you both know what you want: Make sure that before you take your relationship public or put any kind of labels on what you’re doing, sit down and talk about what you’re both ultimately looking for. Are you interested in a long-term commitment? Are you just looking for something casual? Do you want to get married? Will you ever want to? In casual dating these questions aren’t really a concern, but when it comes to a relationship getting serious, it’s vital to know where your partner stands on where you’re going as a couple, so sit down and talk it out before things go any further.

2. When your communication is going great: If you’re going to be in a serious relationship, it’s time to get real about communication. If you two struggle to hold a serious conversation in which you can actually share your thoughts and emotions with one another, it’s time to give some serious thought about whether you’re both ready to be in a serious relationship together. Any good couple has great communication or is working hard towards that goal, so if you always know you can go and talk to your partner, that's a good sign that you're in a good place to begin something more serious.

3. When your friends and family love them: Approval from friends and family doesn't have to mean everything, and let's be honest, sometimes people just don't get along no matter how awesome they are when they're separated. However, it's also really amazing when your friends and family can see the great person you're with as... well, great. Especially if you come from a close-knit family or friend group it can be really important for you to feel like your significant other is accepted. And if every single one of the people you love is telling you that your partner doesn't seem right for you, it may be time to think about why they all seem to be saying the same thing. Relationships where it seems to be you and them against the rest of the world never end very well.

"As long as she's happy in a relationship, that's all we want." Safai said sweetly, "So I'm just happy that she's happy."

This celebrity couple is happy as can be! What are some things you can do about an unhappy relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to famous celebrity couples, it's great to see ones like Hadid and Malik who have officially achieved romantic bliss. But sometimes in relationships, things don't go as smoothly. Here are Cupid's top tips for dealing with an unhappy relationship in your own life:

1. Talk it out: First things first, prioritize communicating clearly with your partner. If there's building resentment, frustration or some issue that's become a roadblock to your happiness as a couple, sit them down and hash it out. It may be painful or angering in the moment, but ultimately it will do nothing but benefit your relationship and each other to know where both of you stand and that you're both seeking resolution.

2. See a counselor: While many couples cringe when they think about sharing their problems with a relationship expert and therapist, there are many upsides to bringing an unbiased third party into your discussions. Try to see this not as a sign that your relationship is not going as planned, but that you and your partner are both committed to talking your feelings out in healthy and fair ways. If anything, it's an indicator of how dedicated you both are to preserving your relationship, not the other way around.

3. Know when it's time to walk away: As painful as break-ups can be, there is nothing so painful as spending all your time trying to repair something that will simply never be truly fixed. If your partner isn't doing their share to deal with your issues as a couple or if you feel that they've permanently damaged your trust in them, don't be afraid to just say the words out loud; “It’s not working.” It may seem scary and sad in the moment, but ultimately you’ll be happier on your own and eventually with someone else than you would be staying in a relationship that isn’t meant for you.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelor' Break-Out Star Corinne Olympios Opens Up About Nanny & Promiscuous Behavior

By Cortney Moore

It seems like season 21 The Bachelor star Corinne Olympios can't stay out of trouble! The 25-year-old business woman and reality TV personality is making celebrity news once more for her appearance on The Ellen DeGeneres Show. Olympios went on to explain what she meant when spoke of her nanny. "Raquel actually works with my family. She's been with us for 18 years. She moved with us to Florida from New Jersey. She's kind of like my everything," Olympios elaborates. "Nanny is a word that I use for her because I have a lot of respect for her and she's kind of a mother figure for me, so I don't like saying cleaning lady or housekeeper." Nanny Raquel is only one reason why fellow Bachelor contestants have been skeptical of Olympios, but her sexually aggressive attempts to win over Nick Viall have also made the women in the house guarded. When asked why she's done the stuff she has on the show, Olympios says, "That is the real me. It definitely is a real side of me. But there are many other sides to me." And ex-boyfriend Keith Berman agrees that there's more to Olympios that meets the eye. This celebrity news has drama written all over it. What are some ways to know that someone wants a relationship with you for the right reasons?

Cupid's Advice:

Throughout your lifetime, different people will try to woo you into a relationship. Although it's a sweet gesture, not everyone will want to be with you for the right reasons. Let Cupid help you determine which ones want to be with you for honorable reasons, and who to stay clear of:

1. Obsessed with your appearance: Everyone wants to be with someone that finds them attractive, however it can be bad if that's all a person wants you for. Someone who only talks about the way you look doesn't care for you. They just want you as arm candy to boost their ego or make others jealous. Find someone who likes you for you.

2. Doesn't want to be alone: Be careful when you're approached by someone who recently ended a relationship. They may be using you as a rebound without even realizing it. You can give them a chance if you want, but look out for any signs that show they legitimately like you. There's no reason why you have to waste time being with someone who can't handle being single.

3. Only wants that one thing: This seems obvious, but it should still be acknowledged. Someone who only wants to have sex with you is not relationship material. A healthy and functional relationship requires partnership and genuine love. Sure, physical intimacy is important in a relationship, but it shouldn't be the only thing.

Have you ever thought someone wanted to be with you for the wrong reasons? What did you do about it?

Celebrity News: 'The Bachelor' Nick Viall Calls Two-on-One Date with Corinne & Taylor a 'Disaster'

By Whitney Johnson

On Monday night's episode of The Bachelor, reality TV star Nick Viall says his two-on-one date with Corinne and Taylor is "pretty much a disaster." For viewers of this season of ABC's hit reality show, this celebrity news, as reported by UsMagazine.com, shouldn't come as a surprise: The two ladies fought at the end of last week's episode as Taylor questioned Corinne's "emotional intelligence." On their two-on-one date, Corinne, this season's villain, tells Viall that Taylor "emotionally attacked" her, and Taylor later reveals that Corinne lied to him. Talk about drama!

Not many of us can relate to a two-on-one date scenario like in this celebrity news. What are some factors to consider when you're deciding between two potential partners?

Cupid's Advice:

On this season of The Bachelor, fan favorite Viall has to pick between 30 women – what a challenge! Luckily, for those of us not on reality TV, the choice is often between only two potential partners. But what factors should you consider to determine who is the best fit for you? Check out our dating advice below:

1. Compatibility: Physical attraction will only take you so far. Do you enjoy spending time together? Do you share the same values? Do you want the same things out of your relationship? Determine if you're truly compatible before moving forward.

Related Link: Celebrity News: 'Bachelor' Nick Viall Meets a Past Hook-Up on First Night

2. Common interests: Sure, opposites attract, but for a long-term partnership, it's equally important to have similar hobbies and passions. If you enjoy spending a lot of your free time outdoors, it'd be difficult to main a relationship with someone who'd rather be on the couch!

Related Link: Celebrity News: 'Bachelor' Villain Corinne Temps Nick Viall with Surprises on Latest Episode

3. Compromise: A relationship will never last unless you're both willing to compromise. If you're always going to his favorite restaurant or seeing whatever movie she wants, it may be a sign that you don't belong together. You want to be with someone who will take your needs into consideration and meet you halfway.

Celebrity News: Demi Lovato Supports Rumored BF Guilherme Vasconcelos at MMA Fight

By Cortney Moore

Demi Lovato is one of the most supportive girlfriends in Hollywood. With a celebration like that, it's no wonder why this new couple is making celebrity news!

This celebrity news is pretty convincing! What are some reasons to keep the status of your relationship under wraps?

Cupid's Advice:

Some couples are really big on public displays of affection, others not so much. It might sound strange to keep your relationship under wraps, but there are some benefits to doing so. Let Cupid help you decide whether you should keep your relationship hush-hush:

1. Avoid drama: Let's be honest for a moment, some people just like getting in the middle of couples. If you know someone that's meddlesome and likes to cause drama, then it might be a good idea to keep your relationship a secret from them. You don't need unnecessary stress in your life.

2. If it's casual: Not every romantic partner is relationship worthy. There's no need introducing someone to your friends and family if you have no intention of keeping them in your life. There's nothing wrong with a casual relationship, but that doesn't mean you have to let the world to know your business.

3. You like it that way: If you're a very private person, then you might just prefer keeping your relationship status to yourself. This gives you and your partner time to really get to know each other and figure things out. There's just less pressure when your relationship isn't in the spotlight.
