Celebrity News: Kate Spade's Husband Breaks Silence After Her Death By Suicide

By Haley Lerner

In recent celebrity news, Kate Spade's husband, Andy Spade, released a statement a day after the 55-year-old fashion designer was found dead in her New York City apartment from an apparent suicide. Andy, 55, wrote in a statement to The New York Times, saying, "Kate was the most beautiful woman in the world. She was the kindest person I've ever known and my best friend for 35 years. My daughter and I are devastated by her loss, and can't even begin to fathom life without her. We are deeply heartbroken and miss her already." Andy also added that "Kate suffered from depression and anxiety for many years. She was actively seeking help and working closely with her doctors to treat her disease, one that takes far too many lives. We were in touch with her the night before and she sounded happy. There was no indication and no warning that she would do this. It was a complete shock. And it clearly wasn't her. There were personal demons she was battling." According to UsMagazine.com, Kate and Andy, who married in 1994, had recently decided to separate due to marital issues. The couple had one child together, Frances Beatrix, who is now 13. The pair launched the fashion brand Kate Spade New York in the '90s. Andy addressed his separation with his now deceased wife in the statement, saying "For the past 10 months we had been living separately, but within a few blocks of each other. Bea was living with both of us and we saw each other or spoke every day. We ate many meals together as a family and continued to vacation together as a family. Our daughter was our priority. We were not legally separated, and never even discussed divorce. We were best friends trying to work through our problems in the best way we knew how. We were together for 35 years. We loved each other very much and simply needed a break." Rest in peace, Kate Spade.

Celebrity News: Chris Cornell's Wife Pens Heartbreaking Letter Before Funeral

By Noelle Downey

In celebrity news, wife of late singer Chris Cornell wrote a truly beautiful, if saddening, epistle in honor of her husband. According to UsMagazine.com, Vicky Karayiannis, Cornell's wife, wrote an open letter that was posted to Billboard.com following the musician's suicide by hanging on May 17th. "To my sweet Christopher, you were the best father, husband and son-in-law. Your patience, empathy and love always showed through," she confessed. "I'm sorry, my sweet love, that I did not see what happened to you that night. I'm sorry you were alone, and I know that was not you, my sweet Christopher. Your children know that too, so you can rest in peace," Karayiannis reassured. She went on to write of her Hollywood relationship, saying Cornell was her "soulmate" and that while she is "broken" she will stand up for him always. The letter closed, "I love you more than anyone has ever loved anyone in the history of loving and more than anyone ever will. Always and forever, your Vicky." Karayiannis has stated that she believes Cornell, a recovering drug addict, may have taken too much Ativan, which caused him to not be in his right mind. "What happened is inexplicable," Karayiannis admitted, “and I am hopeful that further medical reports will provide additional details.” The celebrity couple have two celebrity children together, Toni and Christopher, as well as daughter Lillian from Cornell’s previous marriage.

This celebrity news has us down in the dumps. What are some ways to cope with the loss of your partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

Dealing with the loss of a partner is always difficult, but here are the top three ways to get you through this difficult time:

1. Find someone to talk to: There’s no shame in finding a therapist to talk to after the emotional fallout of the death of your partner. Remember that your partner would want you to deal with this in a healthy way, so prioritize taking care of yourself. Visit a counselor and let your feelings out, even if they confuse or embarrass or anger you. Grief is experienced in a host of different ways, and by talking it out and committing to dealing with that grief, you open yourself up to eventual healing and acceptance.

2. Reach out to your support system: If you’re struggling after the death of a partner, or any loved one, reach out to those around you that care about you and are still here. Tell them you’re not doing well and allow them to take care of you for a portion of time until you’re back on your feet. Admitting that you need help during a difficult period of your life can be difficult, and can even make you feel weak, but in actuality this proves your strength as a person who can recognize their limitations and ask for help when they need it.

3. Seek closure: Whether that means making a charitable donation to your partner's favorite non-profit every month in their memory or going through all your photos together one last time before deciding which ones to put away for now and which ones to leave up, or even taking off your wedding ring for the first time since the funeral, take steps to seek and find closure continuously, however that looks for you as an individual. Many think closure is a final state you achieve, when in reality closure is a state of being you can consciously pursue. Often finding closure is a journey, so it's important to give yourself the grace to take that journey however you need to.

Robin William Dies From Suspected Suicide; Wife Releases Statement

By Laura Seaman

On August 11, 2014, the world lost beloved actor and comedian Robin Williams. He was known for legendary roles in movies such as Dead Poets Society, Mrs. Doubtfire, Jumanji, and many others. The star died at age 63 and left behind a wife and three children from previous marriages. His third and current wife, Susan Schneider, told UsMagazine.com, "This morning, I lost my husband and my best friend, while the world lost one of its more beloved artists and beautiful human beings. I am utterly heartbroken. On behalf of Robin's family, we are asking for privacy during our time of profound grief. As he is remembered, it is our hope that the focus will not be on Robin's death, but on the countless moments of joy and laughter he gave to millions." Rest in peace, Robin Williams.

What are some ways to deal with the loss of a loved one?

Cupid's Advice:

Death is a topic everyone tries to avoid, and yet it's something everyone has to deal with in their lifetime. It's a big, permanent change for those who were close to the deceased. It's having to know that someone who was once a part of your everyday life is no longer around, and they never will be again. This is a stressful time, and understandably so. You don't have to go through it alone, and there are plenty of ways to try and cope with the pain:

1. Remember the good times. Death is a sad occasion, but it is still possible to be happy. After all, your loved one wouldn't want you to suffer. Remember their lifetime instead of dwelling on their death, and keep those memories alive. Put together a scrapbook, or take a day to sit with friends or family and go through all of your memories of being with your loved one and how great it was having them around.

2. Surround yourself with caring people. Chances are you're not the only one dealing with the death of your loved one. Find others who were affected and come together to give each other support. It's better to remind yourself that you're not alone in this situation and to use this time to help others who are also hurting.

3. Do what feels right to you. Everyone handles death differently. Your friend might cope by keeping busy and moving on right away, while you might need to take some time to adjust to this loss. And that's okay! Cope with this the way you feel comfortable with, and don't pressure yourself to act differently or move on faster than you're ready to.

Eric Hill's Death Casts a Shadow on 'Bachelorette' Hometown Dates

By Laura Seaman

On week eight of this season's Bachelorette, a tragedy stuns the reality stars just after their hometown dates. A former contestant, Eric Hill, died in a paragliding accident. According to UsMagazine.com, the cast was told after returning from their hometown dates and given time to mourn the loss, though the cameras were still rolling. The rose ceremony was even more emotional than usual, with bachelorette Andi Dorfman saying, "Tonight was always gonna be tough, but I don't think anyone could've imagined that it would be like this."

What are some ways to support your partner through a tragedy?

Cupid's Advice:

Nobody truly knows how to handle a tragedy; if they did, maybe it wouldn't be such a tragedy. However, if your partner is going through a very emotional time, you can try to handle the situation the best way you know how. Here are some tips for helping your partner through tough times:

1. Give them any alone time they might need. For some people, piling on the attention and affection might seem like a good idea, but sometimes what your partner might really need is time alone to think, reflect, or just acknowledge their feelings. Respect their wishes and keep your distance.

Related: Screwing the Rules Dating Tips: Communicating About Tough Topics

2. Be the help they need. This could mean keeping your distance, or it would mean being the shoulder to cry on. There are many ways to support your partner, and you have to be willing to try all of them, even if they are out of your comfort zone. If your partner needs you to be there and listen, you need to be there and do just that. If you need to take a few days off work to make sure they're okay, do so.

3. Don't tiptoe around it. Tears and heavy emotions can be awkward and stressful, but you can't just avoid them. The last thing your partner needs is someone who ignores their pain or pretends like nothing is going on. Acknowledge their emotions and be there in the moment. This is a huge part of any relationship!

Lea Michele Dedicates Teen Choice Awards Glee Win to Cory Monteith

By Kerri Sheehan

Gleeks far and wide had to dry their eyes this Sunday night during the Teen Choice Awards. Lea Michele, 26, dedicated the award she won for her portrayal of Glee's Rachel Berry to deceased boyfriend and cast member, Cory Monteith. Her appearance at the awards show is the Glee beauty's first since Monteith's July 13th death. She made sure to thank fans for their love and support during, "These very difficult past few weeks," reported People.

What are some ways to honor a deceased partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Finding ways to honor a deceased loved one is an important part of learning to live with their death. Cupid has some ideas on how to do so:

- 1. Love what they loved: Anyone who passes leaves behind a great number of things. Whether they are children, pets, family, friends or mementos, hold on to those things your partner once treasured. This will help to remind you of them and all the great times you had together.
- 2. Remember them: As time passes, you may wish to forget about your time together completely as you think that will hurt less, however that is not the case. The time you two spent loving and supporting each other can't be replaced and it was special. Choosing to forget it would be a shame.
- 3. Accomplish their goals for them: Go somewhere your loved one always wanted to visit, or take up a hobby that they wish they had time for. This will help you feel more connected to the deceased person and will help you accept their passing.

Lea Michele's Rep Requests Privacy During this 'Devastating Time'

By Kerri Sheehan

Tragedy struck in the Glee fandom this past weekend when actor Cory Monteith, who portrays Finn Hudson on Fox's hit television show, was found dead in his hotel room. For costar Lea Michele, Monteith's passing was more than just the loss of a friend, as the two were real life love interests. Michele has yet to release a statement, as she is still in the grieving process, but her rep told UsMagazine.com, "We ask that everyone kindly respect Lea's privacy during this devastating time. Thank you."

What are some ways to help a friend who has lost his/her partner?

Cupid's Advice:

The death of a partner is one of the worst things that can happen in your life, especially when you're young and in love. Cupid has some insight on how to help a friend through this difficult time:

1. Be supportive: Your friend has recently gone from being deeply in love to being single in the worst way, so they won't be used to not having someone to lean on at all times. Let your friend know that if they feel lost or alone you'll be there for them in a heartbeat. Sometimes just knowing someone is there can help tremendously.

2. Mourn: Crying is a big factor in the mourning process. Not to say you have to cry with your friend but just be there for them as they cry. A hug is the best medicine you can give.

3. Understand: There is not right or wrong way to grieve a loss. Don't judge your friend for grieving differently than you think you would. Accept them wholeheartedly and let them handle the loss in whatever way they feel is appropriate.

How do you help your partner deal with a tragic loss?

Cupid's Advice:

Dealing with a tragic loss is hard, emotionally and mentally, so how can you help your partner deal with such a tragedy? Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Just be there: Even if you don't have the right words to say, just be there and keep them company. Letting them know that you are there for them no matter what can be the most comforting of feelings. At least now they know that if they need or want someone to talk to they have you. Also, feel free to ask them if they need help with anything such as babysitting or taking them somewhere, if you offer they might be more welcome to the idea during this hard time.

2. Send a note: Send a note of comfort, especially if you can't be with them in person, and make sure it is written in your own words. It may seem cliché to send a note and flowers, but it can cause an incredible impact on someone who is suffering a loss. Even the littlest gestures go a long way during a time of need and they will remember that you spoke out of comfort to them.

3. Don't run away: Helping someone through such a tragic loss can sometimes be uncomfortable, but try and stay with them through this hard time. Don't be quick to judge if you feel uneasy about their behavior. Also remember, that you can't fix anything or make anything better, but as long as you are there you are doing something to help.

Bobbi Kristina and Whitney Houston's 'Adopted Son' Pack on PDA

Ever since the death of Whitney Houston, her daughter Bobbi Kristina Brown has been seen getting very close to her late mother's unofficial adopted son, Nick Gordon. Though Houston never officially adopted Gordon and Brown is the only beneficiary of her estate, people are questioning Brown and Gordon's PDA-filled pictures that have surfaced. According to People, the two were seen in the Starbucks in Atlanta right after Brown's interview with Oprah and have known each other for years. Gordon responded to the speculations, tweeting, "We're just close – just going through her mom's passing and grieving together."

What are some cases where someone is “off limits” to date?

Cupid’s Advice:

In society, there are many cases where someone is off limits to date. Here are some examples of people in your life who you may want to keep it strictly platonic with:

1. Your friend’s ex: Even if your friend claims to be okay with it, dating a friend’s ex can never end well. After all, you probably wouldn’t want any of your friends dating one of your exes no matter how long ago you broke up.

2. A boss or teacher: Having an intimate relationship with an authority figure is inappropriate in so many ways. If you start to have feelings for someone such as a boss or teacher, wait until you no longer work under them to act on your feelings.

3. Someone who’s taken: Never get involved with someone who you know is already committed to someone else. If someone is willing to cheat on their significant other to be with you, then they don’t respect you or their current partner.

“I Will Always Love You” by Whitney Houston

By Daniela Agurcia

Girls all over the world stood in front of their mirrors, hairbrush in hand, while singing along to Whitney Houston's hit single, "I Will Always Love You," when it first debuted in 1992. Houston's cover of Dolly Parton's "I Will Always Love You" was said to have transformed the original country song into a memorizing gospel-like song. It remained number one on the charts for weeks all over the world, a hit record.

Houston's unique voice conveyed an inspiring emotion through this song about an everlasting love to a loved one who has left. At the 54th Grammy Awards, the day after the superstar's sudden death, Jennifer Hudson sang a replica of Whitney Houston's song as a tribute, leaving chills and tears in anyone who watched the beautiful performance. "I Will Always Love You" will continue to be one of the greatest songs of all time, and Whitney Houston will forever be remembered as an inspiration for love and music.
