By Petra Halbur

Jennie Garth and Peter Facinelli's marriage officially ended on Tuesday, June 11. Though the two actors filed for divorce in March 2012, their split has been amicable. Garth and Facinelli have agreed upon a 50-50 custody arrangement with their three daughters, Luca Bella, 15, Lola Ray, 10, and Fiona Eve, 6. Garth spoke to People about her initial resistance to the idea of divorce. "I didn't want it to happen," she said. "It took me some time to come to peace with it."

What are some ways to keep your divorce amicable?

Cupid's Advice:

Divorce is never fun, but there is a way to keep the separation amicable. Cupid has some ideas:

1. Don't assign blame: Holding your partner responsible for the failure of your marriage will only generate negative feelings between you two. Brooding about the past will accomplish nothing. Though it may be difficult, let go and move towards the future.

2. Hold your tongue: Just because you have something to say, doesn't mean you have to say it. You may feel angry and hurt but for the sake of those around you, particularly if you have children, exert some self-control and keep things civil.

3. Forgive each other: It won't be easy, but try your best to make peace with the end of your marriage and reach a point where you can forgive your spouse and yourself for whatever factors led to the separation.

Will Arnett Says Dating Seems ‘Very Scary’ Right Now

By Kerri Sheehan

Since his split from fellow actor comedienne, Amy Poehler, Will Arnett has taken a step back when it comes to dating. After nine years of marriage and two sons together, Arnett isn't looking to rush back into dating. "I'm 43 and I've found my happiness – which is my kids," Arnett said according to People. He added, "Yeah, I don't know what you do. Do you put out an announcement in the trades? I'M DATING! It all seems very scary to me, to be honest."

How do you get back in the dating game after being out of it for a long time?

Cupid's Advice:

The dating world is scary for everyone. It's a jungle full of random people and you never know who is in it just to play and who is in it to find love. Cupid has some advice:

1. Put yourself out there: You never know who you're going to meet and where you're going to meet them so always be open to new settings and environments. Maybe your soul mate was hiding somewhere at that party you did want to go to last week, but you'll never really know.

2. Don't be afraid to strike out: You can't let the fear of striking out keep you from winning the game. Just because you don't succeed once, twice, or a thousand times doesn't mean that your next home run isn't just around the corner. Dating has always been hot or miss, so just keep hoping for a hit.

3. Know yourself: You can't truly fall in love with someone else unless you know who you are first. Expecting someone to fall in love with you without first loving yourself is like expecting a halfhearted salesman to get any business.

Short Term Celebrity Marriages (Learn From Their Mistakes)

By Andrea Surujnauth

Celebrities seem to always be in and out of marriage faster than the rest of us. Take Kim Kardashian and Kris Humphries, for example. The couple dated for a mere six months before deciding they were ready to tie the knot. Then lo and behold, 72 days later, the story of their split hit newsstands everywhere. A 72-day marriage is not something you hear about everyday, but in Hollywood, short-term marriages happen all the time. Kim and Kris may be getting a lot of heat for their marriage, but believe it or not, they are not the shortest-lived marriage to ever hit Hollywood. Let's take a look at some celebrities who jumped the broom then called it quits shortly after:

Britney Spears and Jason Alexander:

This couple tied and untied the knot faster than Kim and Kris! This pop princess had a little too much fun in Sin City with a childhood friend, and it ended with a drunken wedding ceremony. Spears and Alexander were married for a total of 55 hours. The couple got their marriage annulled. We doubt they will be partying that hard ever again!

Dennis Rodman and Carmen Electra:

These lovebirds seemed to have fallen under Las Vegas' spell as well. At 7a.m., these two decided to jump the broom. The two denied intoxication and said their holy union was legit. However, actions speak louder than words because 9 days later, the couple got their marriage annulled.

Mario Lopez and Ali Landry:

This Saved By The Bell heartthrob married actress Ali Landry in April 2004. Sadly, their marriage didn't even last long enough to make it to the honeymoon. The couple had their marriage annulled 18 days later. After dating for 6 years, Landry found out that Lopez had been unfaithful to her throughout their time together. Too bad she didn't find out 19 days earlier.

Renee Zellweger and Kenny Chesney:

This couple got hitched in the Caribbean after dating for only 4 months. They met at a tsunami-relief event and thought it was love at first sight. After 225 days, they annulled their marriage. Zelleger cited "fraud" as the reason for the split.

Pamela Anderson and Kid Rock:

This bizarre pair had an on-and-off relationship from 2001 to 2003. In 2006, they opted for a drunken wedding on a yacht, Anderson wearing a string bikini and Kid Rock wearing a t-shirt and baseball cap. 122 days later, the two raced to the court to file for a divorce. Kid Rock beat Anderson by 53 minutes.

So the moral of the story is lying, cheating and alcohol is definitely not the basis of marriage. These celebs made the mistakes, so lets all learn from them!

How do you know when to start dating again after a divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Your love life doesn't have to end with your divorce. That said, after something as difficult and draining as a divorce is finalized, it may be difficult to tell when you're ready to start dating again. Cupid is here to help:

- 1. You've healed: Don't drag the heartbreak and turmoil left over from your divorce into your dating life. Give yourself the time you need to come to terms with your ended marriage.
- 2. The kids are ok: You may feel ready to get back out there, but make sure that your children are ready to see you with someone new. Talk to them about your feelings and encourage them to express their own.

3. No rush: Make sure you're not hurling yourself back into the dating game for fear of being alone. As difficult as it may be to be single again, this could be a wonderful opportunity to rediscover who you are. Don't pass it up in a hurry.

How do you re-establish a friendship after a bitter breakup?

Cupid's Advice:

"We can still be friends" is far easier to say than it is to do. How do you go about rebuilding a friendship after your romantic relationship has gone sour? Cupid has some ideas:

1. Take it slow: Do not rush things. Hurt feelings left over from a nasty break up can't be shrugged off. You need to give yourself and your ex time to heal before developing a platonic relationship.

2. Come clean: You need to be honest about any remaining bad blood remaining between you two. Sweeping unaddressed grudges under the rug for the sake of friendship won't work for long.

3. No green-eyed monsters: Will you be supportive when your ex starts dating someone new? If not, you need to resolve this issue within yourself now because jealousy will be a sure-fire way to destroy your newly revived friendly.

How do you know when it's time to end a marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Many married couples try to hold on to a deteriorating relationship out of fear of the unknown. They believe the problems they're facing will simply disappear or they try to stick it out for the sake of the children. As a couple, it's important to make the tough decisions – even if it means the end of marriage. Cupid has some advice:

1. Constant fighting: Having the occasional argument is normal in a relationship, but if you and your spouse are constantly abusing one another in any way – it may be time to end the marriage. Once abuse enters a relationship, it's almost always over. Marriage is about love and respect – it's not about putting each other down.

2. Counseling isn't working: If you and your significant other have been seeking professional help and it hasn't changed anything in your relationship, it may be time to call it quits. If you don't see any improvement in your marriage, then there isn't much else you can do.

3. The love is gone: The chemistry between you and your partner should stay at a constant. If you no longer feel a spark between you and your boo, it may be an early warning sign that the marriage is drawing to a close. You may feel committed to staying in the marriage for the children, but you're only doing more harm than good. Children know when they two people they love the most don't love each other.

What are some ways to remain civil with an ex for the sake of your children?

Cupid's Advice:

When you split up a marriage and have children, it is essential to stay civil for the children's sake. It is not great if your children think that mommy and daddy hate one another and don't like to talk. Although it may not be easy to remain civil with your ex, it's possible. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Dinners: If you want to remain civil with your ex for the sake of your children, have occasional dinners at either you or your partner's home. It will show your children that their parents can still talk together even if they aren't living with one another. For the adults, do not fight at dinner. It will do the complete opposite of what you're trying to show your children.

2. Parties: Most children have parties or small family dinners for their birthdays, communions, graduations. Be apart of these festivities, you and your ex. Organize them together, plan them together, go to them together. Again, it will show your kids how you two can handle being around one another.

3. School events: Are your children involved in activities at school? Do they play band? Or are apart of the school musical? If they are, or any other activity – go to them. It will show your kids that you still want to be apart of their life. Even though you aren't entirely in their life at the moment.

What are some ways to remain civil post-breakup for the sake of your children?

Cupid's Advice:

Your relationship is officially down the gutter, but you can't just pack up and move on. You still have kids to take care of. You might think it's impossible for you to hide your feelings of resentment toward your ex around them, but the fact is, it's necessary. Here are some ways to remain cool, calm and collected around the kids:

1. Don't bad-mouth your ex: Kids pick up on a lot, especially if there's tension between the two people they love the most. Your children don't need to be put in the middle of a war between their parents. Call a friend if you need to blow off some steam, but don't let your children overhear you bashing their other parent. You may only be able to see the negative traits in your ex, but your kids still love them and it's not up to you to change their view of them.

2. Work together: Whether you like it or not, you will always be a part of your ex's life through your children. You may not see eye-to-eye with each other, but it's important for the two of you to develop a visitation schedule for the kids. The children shouldn't be punished for the breakup, they deserve to spend just as much time with you as they do their other parent.

3. Kids first: Ultimately, the only thing that should matter is your child. It's not about you and your ex anymore. You don't even have to be friends with him! But you have to be willing to put your differences and feelings aside for the sake of the kids.

How do you know when it’s time to call it quits in your marriage?

Cupid’s Advice:

It is difficult to determine when to call it quits on your marriage. It could be countless fighting, lack of the love you once had. It can be whether or not you feel comfortable in your marriage. It can be anything that you feel is wrong in your relationship. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Love is gone: In some cases pertaining to relationships, it is possible to lose the love you once had with your partner. If this has happened in your marriage, don't ignore the feeling and confront your mate about your thoughts. It will not make the scenario any better if you are pushing your thoughts away. Talk to your partner about calling it quits on your marriage.

2. Emotional abuse: Are you being emotionally or physically abused by your partner? If you are, this is a strong sign you should call it quits on your marriage. It is not in any way a healthy relationship if you're being abused by the one person who shouldn't be hurting you. Marriage isn't supposed to cause harm on you, so collect your bags and get out of it.

3. Unfaithfulness: Have you or your partner been unfaithful in your marriage? If you answered yes to this question, you should probably consider calling it quits on your marriage. Along with emotional and physical abuse, it is not a healthy scenario if you or your mate possess the quality of unfaithfulness. So re-evaluate your life and your marriage, and see if your marriage needs to end.

What are some ways to keep your divorce simple and civil?

Cupid's Advice:

Everyone and their mother have heard the horror stories that come hand and hand with divorces. With that many emotions running wild and free there's bound to be some intense divorce drama. Cupid has some advice:

1. Patience: Often in divorce people think the quicker it's over, the better off both parties will be, however this is not always the case. Many times taking things slowly and thinking everything through is the best way to go. Rather than rush through the process let the proceedings happen at their own pace.

2. Be firm with your decision: Once you make the decision to cut the tie from your spouse make sure you don't waver. Going back and forth won't help anyone in the situation so being resolute about your decision is the best avenue to take.

3. Communication: In many of life's important instances, communication is the key to success. While there will likely be a plethora of things you want to say to your partner, make sure that you let them get in their words too. Communication is a two way street that must be tread on lightly, especially when it comes to ending a relationship.

Katy Perry Calls Divorce From Russell Brand a 'Very Tiny Elephant'

By Meghan Fitzgerald

UsMagazine.com reports that a year after her divorce, the 28 year-old singer, Katy Perry is now more comfortable talking about her past relationship. According to Hollywood Reporter, Perry stated, "It's a very tiny elephant . . . It's like a little Tchotchke now," referring to her divorce. "The Big D – you can say it." Since her split with Brand, Perry has been in an on-and-off again relationship with John Mayer.

How do you cope with the aftermath of a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Coping with the aftermath of a split is not always the most graceful or welcoming thing to do in life. Although it is not an ideal situation, it is best to pick yourself up and move on. Of course moving on is one of the hardest aspects of life. But you can make it work, and eventually you will. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Get rid of belongings: So you just had a split from your partner, what is the next step you might ask. Get rid of everything they ever gave to you. You will never be able to even begin the coping process if you are frequently seeing him all over your room, and your house. Either give their belongings back, or be a dramatic rom-com and burn it all. The burning part releases some repressed emotions so if that's you, go purge.

2. Stay busy: Make sure you keep yourself busy with anything besides thinking of your split. Call your parents. Call your friends. Make lunch plans and follow them. Don't stay inside day and night. Get there and experience life. Even if your life may seem like it's over, it is not. Do not be a hermit, go and be with other people. Always try to be with other people after a breakup.

3. Rebound: You just went through a breakup, go and rebound it up. Of course it is not really healthy, and you may feel crappy about yourself afterwards. But you will get your mind off of your ex. This rebound relationship is a distraction from your life and thoughts about your past relationship. It's a quick fix, and something fun to do while your heart is trying to mend together.

Have you coped with the aftermath of a split? If so, how? Explain below.

Three Hollywood Breakups That Offer a Lesson In How Not To Behave During Divorce

By Sheena Clarkson

While about half of all marriages end in divorce, in Hollywood the rate is undoubtedly higher. We look to celebrities to see the latest trends in everything from hairstyles and designer shoes to baby strollers and exercise regimes. But when it comes to breakups, stars aren't always the greatest role models.

If you're facing a difficult breakup, take a lesson in dealing with lost love from a few celebs that handled it less than famously.

Kim Basinger and Alec Baldwin

At the center of this couple's divorce was a bitter child custody battle. Kim claimed to have been victim to physical and emotional abuse during the marriage. Meanwhile, Alec tried to discredit his estranged wife by portraying her as moody and unstable.

What really turned up the spotlight on this nasty divorce was when a voicemail was leaked to the press in which Alec, in an angry rant, referred to his 11-year-old daughter as a "thoughtless little pig". It was the voicemail heard 'round the entertainment world, and resulted in a judge ordering that Baldwin be temporarily banned from seeing his child.

Lesson: Don't let frustration toward your ex spill onto your kids.

Liza Minnelli and David Gest

Having been married and divorced 4 times, Liza is one celeb who could single-handedly affect Hollywood divorce statistics. Though their marriage officially lasted about five years, after the first year of marriage the couple separated and things got messy fast.

Gest hurled accusations and lawsuits at Minnelli, suing the Oscar-winning actress for verbal and physical abusive, even claiming she had given him an STD. Though David Gest hurled a slew of allegations in the courts, the whole ordeal ended with his case being dismissed.

Lesson: Toss the dirty laundry out with the relationship.

Denise Richards and Charlie Sheen

Nowadays, the name Charlie Sheen is pretty much synonymous with traits that are big red flags to most marriage-seeking women. Egomaniac? Check. Self-described porn-addict? Check. Drug and alcohol problems? Check, check. It probably doesn't come as much of a surprise that Sheen also has difficulty handling rejection.

When the couple split after three years of marriage Richards accused Sheen of being abuse, unfaithful, and an addict. Charlie responded with a string of voicemails and emails that make Alec Baldwin's post breakup rant sound cordial in comparison. In a message leaked to the press, Sheen calls Richards a "sad, jobless pig" and even makes fun of Richards' cancer stricken mother.

Lesson: Don't resort to personal attacks.

There's no getting around it, love has the potential to make us all a little crazy. But if you skip the angry voicemail in favor of some healthy self-reflection you'll rebound from heartache as a stronger, happier person.

How do you tell your partner you want a divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Obviously it is not easy to tell your partner that you want a divorce. There are no shortcuts, or easy paths to take to try and beat around the bush. When telling your partner you want a divorce, you need to be honest and completely upfront with your partner. If you're not, your life could get messy. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Straight up: If you are going to tell your mate straight up if you want a divorce, don't hesitate or back out. You can not beat around the bush, you need to be honest and tell your partner what you're thinking. Be sensitive and thoughtful when telling your beau that you want to split up. Whatever you do, do not stray away from your decision because your mate wants to stay together.

2. Let the law speak for itself: If your relationship is on the rocks so much that you haven't been speaking to your spouse at all, it might be appropriate to have the divorce documents speak for themselves.

3. Leave a note: Write out what you want to say to your partner, and leave it behind. This may not be the best case scenario in certain situations. However, if you are in a abusive or unhealthy relationship and this is the only way to get out. Do it. Pack up all of your stuff, leave a note, and leave that life behind. If you are with someone who does not love you or wish to be with you every second of the day, leave. And never come back.

How do you stay involved in your child's life post-divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Even if it may seem very difficult to remain in your child's life after a divorce, it is still possible. You can still be in their lives and not exactly be in your ex's life. Your marriage is obviously over, however, that doesn't mean in any sense that your family is over. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Remain civil with ex: It is essential to remain in a relatively civil relationship with your ex after your divorce. It is not going to be any easier to stay involved in your child's life if your relationship is constantly a battle.

Although it will be challenging to do, attempt to stay in a healthy relationship with your ex, for your child. You now have to realize that it is not about your ex anymore, only about your child.

2. Talk consistently: It is easy to stay involved in your child's life post-divorce if you are always talking to them. Even if they do not wish to talk to you, talk to them five or ten minutes a day. Ask them how they are doing with everything. How their school life is. If they want to express any repressed emotions or feelings. What are some ways to keep your divorce civil?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your husband could not work through your problems made the decision to get a divorce. You want to stay civil with one another throughout the process, but aren't sure if that is possible to do. Cupid is here to teach you ways to keep things pleasant:

1. Make compromises: Divorces can often get messy. Both people involved want certain things in the divorce. If your soon-to-be ex spouse is dead set on getting your vacation home and you could care less, let them have it. It is pointless to start a huge dispute over property you don't even want. Be willing to let them have certain things, even if you don't think they deserve to have it. In return they will not pick fights when you make requests to keep the things you want.

2. Remember the good: In all marriages, there are ups and downs. As you are going through the divorce process, try to remember why you fell in love with the person. This will not fix your already broken marriage, but it will allow you to feel sympathy for them and not completely resent them. You and your soon-to-be ex husband will get along a lot better during the divorce if you respect one another in some way.

3. Move forward: The worst thing you can do during a divorce is bringing up old arguments. They are the reasons you chose to end the marriage and should not be mentioned again. The decision has been made to leave each other, so why go through the long and painful disputes again? Keep conversation light between the two of you during this time. Bringing up old wounds will only make you hate each other.

Relationship Advice: 5 Lessons to Learn from Celebrity Divorce

By Dixie Somers

The pain of divorce is a well-known one in our society today. Lending to this general awareness is the constant influx of celebrity break-up news that seems to flow endlessly. Although viewed negatively by some, such news can provide high-profile educational experiences. Take a lesson from these celebrities. Here are five lessons we can learn from celebrity divorces:

Watch the Signs

Sometimes it can be conveniently blissful to ignore certain signs. Ignoring the signs can lead to even greater heartache and woes in the future. Take it from Elin Nordegren, ex-wife of golf legend Tiger Woods. According to various reports, Elin had ignored many troubling signs of the dozens of affairs. Today, Lindsey Vonn is dating Woods. Apparently she isn't one for signs either.

Don't Rush

Time and time again, we see the perils of marrying too quickly. Britney Spears became infamous for rushing to the altar in such a fashion. After a very quick, whirlwind romance excursion, Spears and Jason Alexander got married in a Las Vegas chapel. Sure, they had known each other for a long time before. But the topic of marriage had been fairly instantaneous and unplanned; so too was the decision to end it merely days later.

Get a “Prenup”

Prenuptial agreements protect the marrying parties and their individually owned assets and worth. For chivalry, for love, or maybe just for sheer lack of knowing, some go without any such protective measures. The results seen can be devastating: Mel Gibson paid $425-million, Michael Jordan paid $168-million, Madonna paid approximately $80-million – the list goes on. Talk with a Lexis Nexis lawyer to make sure you’ve done your prenuptial agreement right.

Don’t Cheat

In case you didn’t know it, cheating is bad, destructive, and a quick end to an otherwise successful marriage. Take Jesse James for example. He had it all – wealth, a name, reputation, career, and last but certainly not least, Sandra Bullock, America’s sweetheart as his wife. So what does the genius do? Cheat. We have seen the sad results for James as Bullock has moved on.

Be Sure

It’s always important to understand your potential partner in marriage on a deep level. You need to really “know” them. Kris Humphries found this out with his brief and now alleged “fake, staged” marriage to socialite celebrity, Kim Kardashian. We still can’t figure out if we should pity Kris and his situation, or simply point to it all as one big public service announcement.

Celebrity News: Meryl Streep's Daughter Mamie Gummer and Husband Call It Quits

By Jessica

Conigliaro

Side Effects Actress Mamie Gummer recently announced that her marriage with Benjamin Walker is coming to an end, Us Weekly Magazine confirms. The two got married in the summer of 2011, lasting less than two years.

How do you know when it's time to call it quits on your marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your spouse don't always see eye to eye. Lately, it seems like all you do is bicker at each other. The romance is completely gone and you begin questioning your marriage. Cupid is here to help you make the difficult decision:

1. Constant fighting: It's one thing to argue over who's going to cook dinner tonight, but if you're arguing over every little thing there's a problem. Ask yourself how many arguments you have with your husband on an average day. If that number seems high to you, it is and you should see if your spouse is noticing the issue as well. Talk to him about it; the solution may end up being divorce or separation. Don't be afraid to talk it out though. If you don't you both will continue being unhappy.

2. No compromises: You have been married for a few years now and want to start a family. Your husband however wants to wait and is unwilling to listen to your opinions on the subject. This should send up a red flag instantly. Having children is a major step in both of your lives. The decisions should be for you to make as a team. If you are finding it difficult to work together in your marriage, perhaps it's time to have a long discussion with your spouse and set your priorities straight.

3. Sad all the time: If you find yourself trapped in your marriage, don't ignore your gut instinct. Your husband doesn't always want to go out on the weekends and makes you stay in all the time. You are left feeling guilty for wanting a different lifestyle than him. Your spouse most likely notices how sad you get, and feels as if he is holding you back from the life you truly desire. If you are upsetting each other constantly, it might be time to reconsider the marriage.
