Expert Love Advice: Handling Debt & Credit Scores Post-Divorce

By Rosalind Sedacca, CCT

As the media shares details of celebrity break-ups we learn that even the rich and famous aren't immune to financial hardships. With stars like Brian Austin Green and Avril Lavigne taking steps toward a life on their own, we are reminded of the importance of keeping our financial history intact.

This Expert Love Advice Will Save Your Credit Score

Divorced or not, we all understand the importance of having a high credit score. Unfortunately when divorce decrees are drawn up, a simple attorney error or oversight can result in long-term negative affects on your personal credit. Since these papers identify who is awarded what debt, it's essential that debts that came from joint accounts are only in the person's name that is awarded that debt per the decree. In most cases the decree is a simple agreement between divorcing couples. It does not separate liabilities – and that's where the problem lies. If, while you were married, your significant other had created some debt on your joint accounts, both of you are affected. Each of your social security numbers are attached to the obligations – and all three credit bureaus have this information.

Related Link: Kelsey Grammer's Ex Could Get \$30M in the Divorce!

When you decide to end your relationship and love, a divorce decree is not the best way to handle debt. The reasons become obvious when you explore a number of likely possibilities. What if, a couple of years after the divorce, your ex decides to be late on a debt obligation that is still reporting in your name? Imagine what will happen to your credit score! It can suddenly drop 150 points – and you may not even know it! Unfortunately, this is not uncommon. And the problem is now yours even though the debt was awarded to your ex. What if it's a house at stake and your former spouse decides to let it go to foreclosure? Are you aware that you cannot buy a home for the next three years because of the foreclosure record on your credit report?

Related Link: Facing a Divorce? Don't Take the Adversarial Approach

Here's some expert love advice offered by divorce financial planners. They insist that divorcing couples should never rely on the other spouse to pay bills that were awarded to them per decree. In essence, this is a disaster waiting to happen. These issues must be tackled up front so you're not vulnerable once the divorce is final. If you are among those who have already made this mistake, it's important that you go back to court to get those debts off your name. If a house is involved especially, get it refinanced out of your name or sold, depending on the situation. If your ex is behind on the mortgage, you might want to go back to court and take over the mortgage payment in return for having the house awarded back to you.

Divorce is tough enough without having to deal with financial crises in the months and years to follow. Be aware. Make sure you don't have debts in your name that get awarded to your ex. Don't put him or her in the position in which they can ruin your credit. If you are not sure about your credit rating, get your current credit report with credit scores to make sure there is no damage done. E.G. Daily Shares Post-Divorce Love Advice in Celebrity Interview: “Don’t Wait for Someone to Fill You Up”

Interview by Rebecca White. Written by Mackenzie Scibetta.

E.G. Daily may have one of the most diverse careers in Hollywood. From starting out on the silver screen in Pee Wee's Big Adventure to playing the voice of Tommy Pickle's in Rugrats, she has truly done it all. Plus, she has a successful singing career. Most impressively though, she balances being a full-time single celebrity mom with her busy lifestyle.

You may recognize Daily from season 5 of The Voice, where she performed a memorable rendition of Faith Hill's "Breathe" and was chosen by Blake Shelton. She compared the unforgettable experience to a summer camp for people of all ages and said it was refreshing to just sit around and sing all day. Her best advice for upcoming contestants on season 9 of the reality TV show? "Savor every moment."

E.G. Daily Dishes on Her Celebrity Divorce and Family Life

"Love inspires everything I do," gushes the singer-songwriter, who writes many of her songs with a romantic theme in mind. She notes that "love is all day long," whether she's at the gym or walking down the street. This positive outlook on life undoubtedly helped her handle her celebrity divorce from Rick Salomon in 2000.

Related Link: Pamela Anderson and Rick Salomon: Filed for Divorce Again

For Daily, the best way to handle divorce is with dignity and no bad blood. "Just make sure not to be cruel because you'll want or even need to be friends with them at some point. Ultimately, it's happening for you, not to you," she explains in our celebrity interview. She is a woman who practices what she preaches, as her and Salomon still maintain a close relationship. As for raising their children as a single mother, she believes that you shouldn't make your ex out to be the bad guy. Her and Salomon "have nothing but love and respect for each other," which she hopes helps her children honor them.

Unfortunately, no divorce, no matter how compatible the bond, is going to be that easy. Daily says she struggled the most with what to do with old photographs and videos of their former life together. “I learned you keep them and just remember the good times. He’s my family, and you’ll still have the relationship, but the form of it changes from family to friends forever,” she candidly shares.

With such a hectic life, it’s hard to imagine how Daily could have time to focus on her children and career...but she managed to succeed at both! “I don’t know how I did it – it just all worked itself out,” she says with a laugh. She always put her work around her children, who she refers to as her little diamonds. “They are the most important things to me. My life wouldn’t be as awesome without them,” she notes. She’s even lucky enough to bring them to set sometimes: When she worked on Rugrats and voiced a toddler, her children were toddlers and often there with her.

Reality TV Contestant Shares Love Advice in Celebrity Interview

It’s no surprise that Daily is a strong promoter of self-love and encourages everyone to find what you love in yourself before you start looking for a partner. “When you meet someone amazing, you should feel they deserve you. Don’t wait for someone to fill you up,” she suggests. Sharing a bit of love advice, she believes that doing all things out of self-care and self-love will naturally attract good partners. “People can feel when you love yourself or not. Be with someone who loves that you love yourself,” she adds.

As for jumping back into the dating game after a divorce, Daily suggests the same rule of self-love and confidence.

“Make sure that you’re feeling super good in your life. Feel full and whole and turned on so that you can bring someone in with that positive energy,” she shares in our celebrity interview. She adds that you can’t be bitter and expect to find someone. Instead, be excited and ready to tackle a new relationship and love that will bring joy into your life.

Comedian Wayne Brady On His Modern Family and Celebrity Ex: “We Truly Love Each Other – Like Back to the Wall, Fight Anybody”

Interview by Lori Bizzoco. Written by Katelyn Di Salvo.

Actor, improv artist, and comedian Wayne Brady was in New York City this week to team up with Charmin to host the “Keep it Clean Comedy Show.” The event gave young comedians from schools all over the city a platform to deliver five minutes of their best, clean potty humor routines in front of a live audience. In our exclusive celebrity interview with the television host, he opens up about the show, his upcoming role as Lola in Kinky Boots on Broadway, and his modern family dynamic!

Wayne Brady Discusses Charmin’s “Keep it Clean Comedy Show”

Brady has a lot on his plate these days. He is best known for hosting Let’s Make a Deal on CBS as well as being on the very popular Who’s Line Is It Anyway? Additionally, the actor is developing an improv game show with Ryan Seacrest and a sitcom with his producing partner – who also happens to be his celebrity ex – Mandie Taketa.

Even with his full schedule, the busy celeb still made time to give back and help out the future of comedy for Charmin's "Keep It Clean Comedy Show." Brady opened up the show with classic interactive improv and even brought his daughter Maile on stage for some father-daughter comedy. He says getting involved with the event was a "no-brainer" because he was excited about helping these young, aspiring comedians. Plus, Charmin offered to donate to his favorite charity, Ronald McDonald House Charities. He was so impressed with the young talent at the event that he thought he could cast a baby Saturday Night Live!

Comedian Shares His Excitement for His Latest Gig on Broadway

NYC will be seeing a lot more of Brady come November. The actor will be the next star of Kinky Boots, playing the role of Lola. He's performed on Broadway before, acting as Billy Flynn in Chicago. However, the Emmy winner believes that being on Broadway will be different this time around because "Lola is an amazing role." It's no surprise that it'll take a lot of discipline to "sing those songs, wear those heels, walk that walk, and be the guy that helps to hold the entire show up." The celeb explains that his role as Billy Flynn was "cool and poppin'," a very different character to play. "For my money, this Lola is one of the best roles on Broadway," he shares.

Brady also clears up the belief that he is his work, saying, "It's a job. I think that there's this weird misconception that I believe most people carry around that, if you're a stand-up comedian or if you do improv, whatever you do on stage is how you should be in life.” He explains that he isn’t a wind-up doll and is a different person in real life. “When I’m on stage, I let out all the stops – that’s why I started acting,” he reveals. “When I was a kid, you got to use your imagination and be whoever you wanted to be...and then come back to real life and just chill.”

The Dynamic of His Modern Celebrity Family

As fans know, Brady went through a celebrity divorce with Mandie Taketa in 2007. But unlike many celebrity exes, the two managed to stay close, parenting and working together. Last fall, he went through some tough times and battled depression, and the comedian credits his ex-wife for helping him get through it.

Brady confirms that his relationship with Taketa (who was sitting next to him with daughter Maile during our interview) works for a simple reason: “We love each other. We truly love each other – like back to the wall, fight anybody, like I can say something about her, but you can’t because I will fight you, and she will kill you for me,” he explains. “So we have love and friendship. Add to that that we are parents together and business partners in this beautiful venture of a child.” Given his experience, he doesn’t understand the people who can’t be friends, love each other, and happily co-exist because, at the end of the day, they are still a family.

The comedian shares that he’s happily single at the moment. “I tried dating in the past, and it’s not that I don’t want to or won’t, but now is not the time,” he says. “I’m enjoying my life. I’ve got my daughter; I get to hang out with my best friend; and I get to do amazing work. I’ll get around to it at some point.”

The celebrity father didn't hesitate when asked to give his daughter dating advice, quoting his daughter's mother and saying, "Don't give anybody your time that won't respect your boundaries and respect you as a person. You've got to be willing and ready to do what you have to do to back that up. I wouldn't want her to be with someone who doesn't pay attention to those things."

Hollywood Couple Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green Separate

By Mackenzie Scibetta

It's official! Another celebrity divorce is soon to be in the books, as Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green have called it quits. According to UsMagazine.com, the couple is breaking up after an impressively long Hollywood romance of 11 years together. They were married for five years and have two children together, Noah and Bodhi. Fox and Green spoke numerous times about the highs and lows of parenthood, even once saying that the most important part of a relationship and love life is to "respect each other as parents". Ironically, Fox told reporters in August 2014, "I don't want to be boastful and say that we would never divorce, but I can't imagine a scenario we couldn't work through..."

This Hollywood couple joined the ranks of celebrity break-ups this summer. What are some ways to balance parenting with your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Even Hollywood couples aren't immune to the struggles of parenthood, so when you feel overwhelmed, it's helpful to remember you're not alone. Everyone wants to have it all, so Cupid has some tips to help you live a more harmonious life:

1. Family activities: An easy fix to balancing time between your lover and children is to combine the time you have with each and host a family outing. Heading to the zoo, traveling to an amusement park or having a picnic are all perfect ideas that the whole family can have fun with.

2. Set aside time for date night: The stress you get from taking care of children can put a damper on your relationship. This is why it's crucial you and your loved one to set aside a day each week where you spend a few hours only with each other. It doesn't have to be an extravagant night on the town. A simple Netflix marathon after the kids are asleep or a walk in the park is enough to enjoy each others' company.

3. Help one another: Both of you in the relationship need to be equally committed to helping out. Contributing even in the smallest way, such as packing a lunch, can make all the difference and can help prevent many future fights. At the end of the day, don't forget to always thank your loved one for just being there. A simple "thank you" can help encourage more help in the future.

By Maria N. Capalbo

According to UsMagazine.com, celebrity exes Ben Affleck and Jennifer Garner are keeping things civil between themselves, as they celebrated Ben's birthday this past weekend in Orlando with their children. Despite all the rumors flying around about Ben's new celebrity romance with their former nanny, Christine Ouzounian, Ben and Jen still remain discreet and respectful in the public eye, especially for the sake of their children.

These celebrity exes are remaining civil for their kids. What are some ways to compromise with your ex with regard to your children

Cupid's Advice:

Having children with an ex may be a sticky situation. Cupid has some suggestions on how to compromise with your ex with regard to your children below:

1. Children always come first: No matter what dispute or issue is going on between you or your ex, the child always comes first. In some instances, you may need to fake a smile, but you both being there for the child is much more important than not, just because you're in an argument with your ex.

2. Be respectful: Know that your children look up to you as adults, so arguing, and being disrespectful in front of them should not be something you and your ex do! Handle your issues elsewhere, and teach the children to respect each other always.

3. Don't put the children in the middle: Never put the children in the middle or make them pick sides regardless of anything that is going on with you and your ex. That is immature and the children love both of you equally, so to make them pick sides is unfair.
