This celebrity news comes before this season of Bachelor in Paradise is even complete! What are some ways to keep your engagement on the down-low until the right time?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting engaged is a big and important step in a relationship. However, you may not be ready to share your big news with everyone around you. Here are a few ways to keep your new status quiet until the right time:

1. Stay off social media: When you and your partner get engaged, it's only natural to commemorate the event with photos. While you may be tempted to share photos or post subtle clues about your relationship, don't. Social media is the easiest way for your news to spread, whether or not you're ready for it.

2. Don't show off your ring: If you and your partner want to keep your relationship on the down-low, it is best to hide your ring. Your ring is a dead giveaway. So, when you are out in public it is best to keep it hidden, or take it off altogether.

Celebrity Wedding: 'Bachelor' Alum Britt Nilsson Is Engaged

According to UsMagazine.com, Bachelor alum Britt Nilsson is officially going to celebrate a celebrity wedding with boyfriend Jeremy Byrne! The celebrity couple started dating last year after Nilsson's split from Brady Toops, another alum of the hit reality TV show, The Bachelor, and shared news of their celebrity engagement via a series of Instagram posts of the ring and the couple laughing and kissing in excitement. Nilsson wrote in the caption, ""WE ARE ENGAGED!!!! I'm over the moon!!! The man of my dreams and the most godly, amazing, fun, life-giving, silly, intelligent, wonderful best friend I could ever ask for is my future husband!!!! I have been dreaming of this day forever!! Thank You Jesus!!! Wooo hooooo!!!!!! I had no idea it was coming and it was the best day of my life! I love you forever Jeremy Byrne!!!"

This controversial Bachelor alum has said goodbye to the single life and hello to a celebrity wedding! What are some things to consider before getting engaged?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to getting engaged, it can be hard to know when you're ready as a couple! Cupid is here with the top three things you should consider before popping the questions or saying yes when your partner gets down on one knee:

1. Do you have the same goals?: Ideally in a long-term relationship you two would be looking for the same things and have a similar vision of the future. If you know for a fact that your ideas of the future differ greatly but you've never really sat down and worked that out, definitely take the effort before you move forward with an engagement. If you're both on the same page you can breathe a sigh of relief knowing that ring on your finger doesn't mean you have to give up your dreams or future plans.

2. Are you ready for a forever commitment?: There's no doubt about it, a wedding and an engagement are a huge deal, but marriage itself is an even bigger one. Ask yourself honestly, am I ready for a lifetime commitment to one person? Analyze your answer and share it with your partner. Admit if you don't feel ready for that big step right at the moment or confess that you've thought it through and think that's a good next step to take in the future.

3. Do you both want to get married?: This one seems like a no-brainer, but you'd be amazed how many people feel pressured into proposing or to saying yes to an offer of marriage just because they never sat down and talked about their feelings toward marriage in general, and also specifically for them at some point in the future. It's perfectly possible that for either you or your partner, getting married just isn't a priority, and if that's the case, you need to have a mature discussion about it where you communicate your wants and needs effectively.

Other celebrity guests included Kate and Pippa's brother, James Middleton, and famous celebrity couple, Prince Harry and Meghan Markle.

This celebrity wedding was highly anticipated. What are some ways to add personal touches to your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

Planning the details of a wedding can be stressful, here are the top three tips on how to add a perfect personal touch to your special day:

1. Create photo center pieces: If you're looking for a sweet way to remind your guests of all you and your partner have been through leading up to the big day, feature a photo of you and your sweetheart in the centerpieces at every table and have each table guess as a group what special moment this photo is referencing. For the most fun, pick a variety of precious photos from different milestones in your relationship, like the day you met, your first date, the day you moved in together, the day you said I love you, etc. This is a great way to get your guests talking and reminiscing about their favorite memories of you as a couple and get to know each other in the process too!

2. Toast each other: Many weddings feature toasts from the maid of honor or best man, but it's rare that the bride or groom step up to the mic themselves. For a tear-jerking moment where all eyes are on you, take some time during your reception to share a special toast dedicated to your partner, and let your significant other and new spouse do the same for you as well. While you'll have already made some beautiful promises to each other in the vows, this is the perfect time to share a funny story about when you knew they were “the one” or explain all the beautiful things you know are waiting in the future for you two!

3. Ask for advice: Set up a decorative chalkboard and let your guests write their favorite pieces of advice for a happy and healthy marriage. When they’re done, you can hang it up in your apartment or take a picture to always remind you of all the wonderful ways your friends and family reminded you to take care of and love each other unconditionally. This is a great opportunity not only to learn the best tricks and tips for a happy marriage from couples you love, but it’s also a wonderful way to get some funny advice or crazy doodles from your single friends.

Cupid's Advice:

This celebrity couple isn't feeling any pressure to walk down the aisle – despite being engaged for two years already. What are some reasons to postpone planning your big day? Consider this love advice:

Kate Upton Admits Fiance Justin Verlander Will Hate One Aspect of Their Celebrity Wedding

By Noelle Downey

Celebrity couple Kate Upton and Justin Verlander have hit a minor snag while planning for their upcoming celebrity wedding – Verlander is allergic to the main decorations! According to UsMagazine.com, Upton, who announced her celebrity engagement to adorable athlete Verlander in 2016, confessed that while she wants, “a lot of flowers” and “petals already down by the time my niece, who will be my flower girl, walks down the aisle” she is also aware that this may be a bit of a struggle for her handsome soon-to-be-husband. “Justin has terrible allergies!” she admitted, “He’ll have to take any allergy pill.”

A celebrity wedding wouldn't be complete without flowers ...even if your fiance is allergic! What are some ways to make your wedding pretty without flowers?

Cupid's Advice:

Any relationship flourishes when compromises are considered. So if your special someone is sniffing when it comes to saying your vows in the midst of all that allergy-inducing pollen, here are Cupid's top three alternatives to make your special day still as gorgeous as ever:

1. Handmade bouquets: While it may sound tacky at first, it's amazing the kind of realism and beauty that can be captured by tissue paper flowers. Check out online art stores like Etsy for pretty pre-made alternatives when it comes flowers and patrol sites like Pinterest if you feel up to the crafty challenge of creating your own bridal bouquet. If you're looking for the essence of flowers without the smell, the pollen or the cost, check out tissue paper flowers, a genuinely pretty alternative that will add a touch of extra care to your already gorgeous ceremony.

Related Link: Celebrity Wedding News: Kate Upton & Justin Verlander Talk Wedding Plans

2. Concentrate on lighting: If you're forgoing flowers entirely, why not focus on another vital and often underutilized way to make everything sparkle; the lighting. Using Christmas or twinkle lights to add some starry shine to your big day, or walking down the aisle via flickering candlelight are two great ways to show off your style when it comes to your wedding. Based on your venue, try floating paper lanterns or light streaming through prisms for a rainbow effect to add your own personal touch to the lighting on your wedding day. A bonus to this tactic is good lighting makes for great photos, so your wedding pictures could come out looking even more beautiful than you ever expected.

3. Rely on lace: If what attracts you to flowers is their delicate prettiness, why not try lace as an alternative? Its gorgeous spidery beauty could outshine any flower when used correctly. Use lace and sprigs of white (fake) flowers to decorate the church or other venue, then fashion some lacy roses out of your favorite delicate white fabric for your bouquet. Have your attendants carry matching ones in different shades for a special stand-out look that will be elegant and eye-catching.

We can't wait to see if this celebrity engagement lasts. How do you know if you're ready to pop the question?

Cupid's Advice:

For Viall, this celebrity engagement was a long time coming – after all, he thought he found his future wife in both Andi Dorfman and Kaitlyn Bristowe! So how do you know if you're ready to propose? Consider this relationship advice:

1. You want the same things: Before you're ready to walk down the aisle, it's important to know if you both envision a similar future together. How many kids do you want? Do you want to live in the city or suburbs? Will you both always work? Marriage is a big deal, but talking about what comes with it should be easy.

Despite this happy celebrity news, we can’t ignore Galavis’s shaky relationship history: The ex-soccer star is known for his inability to commit, infamously giving his final rose to Nikki Ferrell on the season 18 finale of The Bachelor but refusing to propose or even say “I love you.”

This celebrity news has us skeptical. What are some ways to know you're ready to get married?

Cupid's Advice:

Only time will tell if this celebrity couple makes it down the aisle! If you think you're ready to tie the knot with your partner, consider the relationship advice below:

1. You no longer want to change him: In the beginning of a relationship, it's tempting to want your beau to be the type of guy who surprises you with a dozen roses, always picks up after himself, and can make a new friend anywhere, but as time passes, you may realize that's just not who he is. Before you get hitched, you need to accept him as he is.

2. You're willing to compromise: Sure, happy relationships are all about compromise, but marriage gives the word a whole new meaning. If your families live in different states, you can't spend Christmas with both of them, so you need to be willing to come up with a solution that works for both of you. Once you truly understand what it means to compromise – and you're willing to do so – you're one step closer to be ready for marriage.

Cupid’s Advice:

Getting engaged is a big step to take in your relationship, and before you do so, it’s important to be 100 percent confident in your love for one another. Below, Cupid shares three factors to consider before picking out a diamond ring:

1. Talk about your future: It sounds like an obvious piece of relationship advice, but you must talk about your future before planning your wedding. Where do you want to live? Do you both want kids? How will you afford your lifestyle? Will you go to church each week? Nothing is off limits, and everything should be out in the open.

2. Get real about starting a family: Soon after you get hitched, people will inevitably start asking when you want to have children. Deciding the answer to that question now will take some of the pressure off and help you enjoy your newlywed bliss. Something else to think about: Unfortunately, having a baby doesn't come easy to everyone. Now is the time to decide if you'd be willing to adopt. There are other options to consider as well, like surrogacy and IVF.

3. Open up about your career: If your job requires you to travel or work late on a regular basis, it's important that your partner is aware of these responsibilities, as they'll cut into your time together. Similarly, if there's a chance you'll have to move to a different city or state, you need to be honest about the possibility. You also need to talk about the future of your career. If your partner expects you to stay at home with your kids, but you've also seen yourself as a working mom, explore other options that will ensure both of you feel happy and fulfilled.

The newly engaged couple revealed the celebrity news with stunning silver rings on January 29, at the 2017 SAG Awards. The Rebel and a Basketcase duo began making music together in 2015. Hopefully this relationship will be unlike Wood's marriage to ex-husband Jamie Bell; who she was only married to for two years.

There's another celebrity wedding in front of us, thanks to mixing business with pleasure! What are some factors to consider before getting involved with a coworker?

Cupid's Advice:

Love can strike at any time, in any place. This includes your place of work. Although you may want to act on your emotions, take a moment to think of the consequences. Let Cupid be your guide in determining whether you should get involved with your coworker:

1. Know company policy: Unfortunately, dating a coworker isn't as simple as dating a band mate. Before you pursue a relationship with your coworker, you should familiarize yourself with your company's policy on relationships. You don't want to jeopardize your career for a date.

2. Prioritize your work: A new romance can be fun and exciting, but it's important that you put your job first. Keep things professional in the work space and wait until you clock out for PDA and unrelated discussions. Even if people know that you've started a relationship with your coworker, it shouldn't reflect on the job.

3. Worst-case scenarios: What happens if you both break up? Will you be able to work together like nothing happened? These are questions you need to consider before dating. If you want to take a risk, then you need to accept responsibility for whatever happens and prepare yourself for worst-case scenarios just in case.

However, Verlander is excited for his bachelor party and hopes to have more than one to include all his friends, "So maybe a couple? Three?" he suggested. Upton isn't letting her fiance have all the fun though; she's hoping to have her bachelorette party abroad. "I really want to go to Mexico and have so much tequila!" she said. This celebrity couple sure knows how to have a good time! We're certain their wedding will be a bash to remember.

Before this celebrity wedding comes some major partying! What are some ways to let loose before your big day?

Cupid's Advice:

Weddings are a joyous occasion, but planning one is no joke. It can be really stressful getting everything together, especially if you're doing most of the work yourself. Let Cupid help you find a way to unwind before your nuptials:

1. Spa day: One of the best things you can do for yourself before your wedding is to go to a spa. Splurge on a massage or a facial that will get you photo-ready for your big day. The peaceful setting at a spa will automatically make you feel better. It's not a bad idea to invite your future spouse for a day of relaxation either.

2. Girls night: Schedule a night with your girls aside from your bachelorette party. Being around your closest friends will help you relax, and it's a great opportunity to find out what they've been up to instead of keeping the attention on you. It doesn't matter if you all stay in and watch chick-flicks or go out for dinner, just make an effort to enjoy yourself.

3. Exercise: Scheduling a few fitness classes before your wedding is a great way to let out any frustration you've been bottling up. Just make sure to pick an activity you enjoy, whether it be something low impact like yoga or high intensity like kickboxing.
