Cupid's Advice:

Life has a way at chipping away at a relationship. Cupid has some ways to keep the romance alive in your marriage.

1. Make date night a priority: Dating is what made you fall in love in the first place. So, it would make sense to keep at it to stay in love. But as we know life gets in the way. So, remember date night does have to elaborate or over the top, it could be something simple as a picnic. Just set aside time for each other each week for just the two of you to reconnect.

2. Don't give up: A relationship is a roller coaster, full of ups and downs. Romance in marriage is about choosing each other again and again. It's also about learning, growing and forgiving. It's about falling in love with each other over and over again no matter how hard it gets. Love only weakens when we stop giving it our all. So never stop.

3. Never lose the PDA: At the beginning of a relationship, you probably couldn't keep your hands off each other. Constantly holding hands, sneaking in an extra kiss or two, cuddling. Ask yourself how affectionate are you now? After a long period of time and kids' things can get a little trickery when it comes to the PDA. It's important to maintain that closeness that PDA provides. Physical touch should happen on a daily whether it's a peck on the cheek, holding hands or a slight pat on the butt. By maintaining the PDA you will be able to keep the romance alive.

Cupid's Advice:

Divorce is a literal death of a marriage and is an emotional and stressful ride. Cupid has some ways to keep things civil during a divorce:

1. Communication through a neutral party: A divorce unleashes a flood of emotions including grief, anxiety, fear, anger, and pain. A response like this is normal, over time the intensity of your feelings will subside. To avoid a yelling and screaming match try seeking a trusted friend, family member or therapist who can help you communicate.

2. Focus on the future: Talking about why you broke up or who's to blame will not solve anything. Try avoiding these conversations with your soon to be ex. Keep your discussions focused on there here and now. Such as what needs to be done, and if there are children, focus on their needs and schedules.

3. Remember the good times: Remember that you loved each other very much at one point—and just because your divorcing it doesn't mean that love goes away. 2. Less time to quibble over decision making: With a short engagement, you are limited, which isn’t necessarily a bad thing. What that means is that your options are limited on vendors, dates etc. When you have less options, it makes it easier to make a decision. It also means less time to battle over every pro and con on your wedding.

3. Back to real life faster: Adjusting to real life may be smoother with a short engagement. Having a long engagement forces you to stay in the same position with your partner for
