When you and your partner are ready to move into a new place together, you’re likely excited about this next step in your relationship. Unfortunately, you might find out you and your partner can’t agree on what you want in a home. If you’re worried about making this compromise, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Decide your must-haves: Both you and your partner should make separate lists of your must-haves for your new home. Compare lists afterward and find out what you agree on from the get-go. Use these features you already agree on as the foundation for your house search.

2. Focus on your budget: Most couples have a hard time deciding on a budget. A good rule of thumb is your monthly payments should be less than 25% of your net pay. Going by this rule gives a more definite budget and can prevent you (or your partner) from wanting to get a home outside of this range.
