By Kayla Garritano

The baby name has been revealed! Ashton Kutcher and Mila Kunis have named their newborn celebrity baby Dimitri Portwood Kutcher. According to People.com, the celebrity couple announced the baby's name just two days after welcoming their second child. Baby Dimitri was born at 1:21 a.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 30, and weighed in at 8 lbs., 15 oz. Dimitri's middle name appears to honor Kutcher's stepfather, Mark Portwood.

This celebrity couple has released the name of their newborn son! What are some ways to compromise when it comes to naming your child?

Cupid's Advice:

You're about to choose a name for your child that they are most likely going to have for the rest of their life. You and your partner want to make sure that you find the perfect name. Cupid is here to help you figure out how:

1. Family honor: If you're like Kunis and Kutcher, there may be an important family member in your life that you want to honor by giving your child their name. It could be your family member's first, middle, or last name. Whatever name it may be, your child now lives on a family name that is significant and meaningful.

2. Inspiration: You could be inspired by something you and your partner both love, or something that associates with a positive memory. Did you get flowers on your first date? How about naming your daughter Rose or Lily? This inspiration gives you something you and your significant other both are happy with and leave you thinking of your good times together...a great legacy to leave with your newborn!

3. Common disinterest: Compromising on a name can start with finding names you both agree are not the best fit for your child. Eliminating specific names you both don't like will give you a narrower selection on names, and may push you towards a name that you could both agree on.

A changed, married man! After his celebrity wedding with Mia Goth, Shia LaBeouf says he has a changed perspective on marriage! According to Eonline.com, he chatted with E! News at the premiere of Man Down on Wednesday, November 30, discussing his recent discovery on marriage. "It's better on the other side," he admitted. "I've been lied to my whole life. You always hear these people who are all cynical, like, 'Ah, man, once you get married everything changes. But for the better though!" One thing he's really excited about is starting new traditions while celebrating their first holiday season as a married couple.

Shia thinks things are better on the other side after his celebrity wedding. What are some ways being married can be better than just being in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Relationships have their perks, but there's something about being married that's more special. How are you sure marriage is the right idea? Cupid is here to help with some relationship advice:

1. You're at home together: There's a difference between living together as a couple and making a home together. In a relationship, you're more likely to be visiting between apartments and keeping a toothbrush at your partner's place. Marriage helps put the aspects of your "bachelor pad" or "bachelorette pad" lives together. You're combining two lives into one house. You can have your own personal touches all while keeping yourselves in order.

Celebrity Baby News: Mila Kunis & Ashton Kutcher Welcome a Baby Boy

By Kayla Garritano

Make room for number two! Mila Kunis and Ashton Kutcher welcomed celebrity baby number two to the world. According to EOnline.com, the celebrity couple had a baby boy on November

30. Kutcher accidentally spilled the beans on the gender of the baby when making a guest appearance on the Today show, and also joked that their daughter was still wrapping her head around the concept of pregnancy and how she's becoming an older sister.

This celebrity baby makes number two for Mila and Ashton. What are some ways to prepare differently for a second child versus the first?

Cupid's Advice:

Word on the street is that having a baby the second time can be much less nerve-wracking than having your first. Cupid is here with some parenting advice to make sure you are in for an easier time:

1. Hand-me downs: If the products are still working, then you don't have to spend more money on the same things. If your child is old enough to be out of the crib, use the crib for the second child. Same gender? Wear the same clothes your first child wore. Finding anything to reuse again is cost-efficient and less of a hassle to find.

2. First mistakes are over: You learn a lot about how to be a parent with your first child. You're very cautious about everything you do. However, there are times where you messed up because you're a new parent, and it's going to happen. That's totally okay, because you learned from your mistakes and know for the second time around what to do.

3. Tell the big sister/brother: Your first child was the center of attention. But now baby number two is making their way in to the family. You need to prepare the soon-to-be older sibling as well, because you don't want them to get jealous or become unaware of her home surroundings. Just make sure your first child tries to understand, or at least make sure they are happy with their new little sibling!

Cupid's Advice:

Relationships can be tricky, especially if you're trying to convince yourself that you want this relationship to work out. However, you may not be finding yourself as happy as you wanted. Cupid has some relationship advice to make sure you're in a steady place with your partner:

1. Fighting: How often do you fight with your partner, and what is it usually about? Are they just little things, where you start to get annoyed with each other for anything they do? Or are they bigger issues? If the arguments are constant, and nothing seems to be getting fixed, that may be a red flag telling you to back away. You probably wouldn't want to get back together and keep the same pattern of fighting.

2. Happiness: You may think you love your partner because you've been together for so long. You also need to ask yourself if you are happy in the relationship you're in. If you've been dating your significant other for a long time, but you seem to be feeling worse, or you're at this constant, steady, boring state and you can't get out of it, you should rethink where you stand in the relationship.

Related Link: Does Your Past Interfere with Your Present?

3. Past Relationships: Take a look at who your significant other had dated in the past. Did the relationship end rocky? Or was it a relationship where they were on and off again? Maybe you also had a past relationship that is too similar to the unsteady one you're in now. Don't let history repeat itself and jeopardize a healthy relationship.

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes, babies are born from a relationship that didn't work out. It doesn't mean that the gift of a child is any less exciting or less important! Cupid has some relationship advice to make sure you prepare for your baby in the best way possible:

1. Be there for each other: It's hard going through the pregnancy process alone. If you are still in contact or on good terms with your ex, then it's best to keep each other on speed dial, so whenever your ex needs you, you're there. You're going to want to be there during the birth of your child, so it's good to be there in the steps leading to it.

2. Create space in your home: If you aren't together anymore, you're probably not living together, either. Your baby is going to be shared between your house and your partner's, so make sure you get that extra room going for when your baby takes over the house. You want your precious gem to be comfortable and in a happy environment!

3. Keep significant others away: If you're already back in the dating pool, things may get a little complicated if your new partner wants to get involved with your soon-to-be child. What happened with you and your ex should stay between the two of you, and only you both can really solve the situation. It makes for less stress!

Cupid's Advice:

Emotional hurt won't last forever, which is something to think about if you've gone through divorce. Cupid is here to make the drama a little easier to manage:

1. Ignore the petty communication: If your ex is not trying to solve a solution, but rather egg on a fight, then it's not worth a response. For example, if you dropped off your child, and your ex-partner sends you a text negatively commenting on the parenting you did, you do not have to answer. This will take out some of the fight, and you will be the more positive person.
