

Celebrity News: Kanye West Opens Up About Kim's Nude Selfies

By Cortney Moore

This may not come as a surprise to most, but rapper Kanye West has once again made celebrity news in regards to his comments about wife Kim Kardashian and her nude selfies. In an exclusive interview with Harper's Bazaar, the celebrity couple spoke on a variety of topics, one of them being Kardashian's viral nude selfies. "I just love seeing her naked; I love nudity. And I love beautiful shapes. I feel like it's almost a Renaissance thing, a painting, a modern version of a painting," the 35-year-old rapper said. In the same interview, he admitted that he'd send nude selfies of his own to women before he entered a relationship with Kardashian. Perhaps now we know how this celebrity couple keeps the passion alive in their relationship!

This is certainly risque celebrity news! How do you know if nude selfies are right for your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Nude selfies have become increasingly popular in the dating scene and even in long-term relationships, as we've seen in this celebrity news. Though it may be fun to send a flirty text, there is always a risk in doing so. Cupid is here to help you figure out if nude selfies are right for your relationship:

1. Know your partner: First and foremost, you need to take into account who your partner is. Do you know them well? How long have you been together? Are they trustworthy and mature? These are all questions you should ask yourself before you snap that picture and hit send. You don't want this intimate part of yourself to be accidentally or vindictively leaked.

2. Only do it if you want to: Sometimes a significant other may pressure you to send a nude photo. Don't let them bully you into it. The person you're with should respect your wishes if you don't want to do it, and understand your apprehension if you're unsure if it's the right time to do so. Something of this nature should be your choice alone. You don't owe anyone a nude selfie, not even a wife or husband.

3. Protect your identity: If you decide that you're ready to send a nude selfie, do so in a way that protects your identity. Your face doesn't have to be visible (you don't have to follow Kim's example). Even consider using a messaging app that provides an alternate phone number. Do whatever you can to ensure your privacy.

Celebrity News: Keshia Knight Pulliam Announces Pregnancy At Same Time Her Husband Files For Divorce

By Stephanie Sacco

Keshia Knight Pulliam is the center of two big pieces of celebrity news. If it wasn't enough to find out she's pregnant, she is now also dealing with a celebrity divorce. According to People.com, the pair had only been married for six months before Pulliam's husband Ed Hartwell filed for divorce. The celebrity couple got engaged on New Years and were married at Pulliam's house. She said their wedding was her dream. "We did it literally in our living room in our home. We invited people. They had no clue they were coming to a wedding," she shares. It's a shame it didn't work out.

This celebrity news is devastating for a soon-to-be mom. How can you tell if your partner isn't in it for the long haul?

Cupid's Advice:

It's a big decision to have a baby with your partner. But this celebrity news is devastating because Pulliam will have to do it alone with little support. Cupid is here with some relationship advice on how to tell if your partner isn't fully committed to you:

1. He's pulling away: If you're seeing your partner less and less or if he's not calling you back, he's distancing himself from you. Maybe he wants to slow down or maybe he wants less from you, but it's definitely not a good sign. Talk to him before jumping to any conclusions, but pay attention to his actions.

2. He's M.I.A: When your partner is ghosting and not paying enough attention to you, he's not in it for the long haul. If he's hanging around other girls or choosing his friends over you, it's not a good place to be in. Keep an eye on your man and make sure he's not running for the hills.

3. He says he doesn't want anything serious: Flings and casual relations is an option, but it's not for everybody. If you want a steady boyfriend, you have to know where they stand. You can't change people's minds so if your man isn't in it, don't waste your time.

Falling in love can be new and exciting, but it doesn't always end well. In the end, sometimes half of the couple has a harder time finding their way out than the other, just like with this celebrity news. Cupid is here to help:

Johnny Depp Files to Keep Celebrity Divorce Proceedings Private

By Cortney Moore

Johnny Depp is making celebrity news once more with his motion for privacy in his celebrity divorce against Amber Heard. The couple surprised everyone when they ended their celebrity relationship back in May, and since then, there have been rocky court hearings. According to UsMagazine.com, Depp filed for confidentiality on July 15, with papers that state, "All documents produced by [Depp] in this action and/or any third parties subpoenaed in this action ... shall be designated as 'Confidential Information' herein." Sources close to Depp say his desire for privacy comes after Heard's request to obtain personal and financial documentation. "Amber has inexplicably refused to sign any agreement to maintain confidentiality in this action," Depp's filing claims. "Johnny is therefore asking the Court to issue a protective order." Despite Heard's claims that their celebrity relationship was abusive, Depp seems to be handling the divorce proceedings well.

This celebrity divorce is definitely going to be one for the books. What are some ways to keep the details of your divorce private?

Cupid's Advice:

Divorces are never fun, especially with the court proceedings that are required for a legal separation. At times, people will ask how you're holding up and may want to know the details of your divorce. At no point are you obligated to provide an explanation. Let Cupid help you keep the details of your divorce private:

- 1. Privacy lawyers: The best way to ensure that details of your divorce will not leave the courtroom is by hiring a lawyer who takes confidentiality seriously. Find a lawyer who is good at what they do, and will put your needs first. You don't want a lawyer who will use your case to bolster their public profile.

2. Spousal collaboration: Another great way to keep your divorce private is to communicate this desire with your spouse. Working together to maintain privacy will help keep sensitive details from escaping into the public. Even if your relationship ended on bad terms, privacy may be a top priority you both can agree on.

3. Loose lips sink ships: The absolute best way to make sure that details of your divorce remain private is by keeping it all to yourself. Though you may want to talk to close friends, family, or even coworkers about what you're going through, don't let them know sensitive information. Sharing details opens the chance for rumors and changed opinions that could hurt your case, which is the exact opposite of what you want.

Casual sex isn't for everybody. Sometimes people want more than that, but sometimes it can be a good platform for a serious relationship. Cupid is here to help explain:

Celebrity Couple News: Lady Gaga & Taylor Kinney Split

By Stephanie Sacco

This celebrity couple is on the edge of heartbreak. Lady Gaga and Taylor Kinney have been taking a break from their relationship, but it might not be forever. According to UsMagazine.com, the pair is on the same page on this one. She said, “We are both ambitious artists, hoping to work through long-distance and complicated schedules to continue the simple love we have always shared.” In celebrity news, the long distance was the real reason for their separation. In celebrity couple news, Gaga says that she and Kinney are “on a break.” What are some factors to consider before going on a break from a relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Couples break-up all of the time and half the time they get back together. Being ‘on a break’ is common even if it’s only temporary. Cupid is here to help with some dating advice:

1. If he’s driving you crazy: Sometimes couples are too close for comfort and that causes every little thing to annoy you. Space is key when it comes to not overdoing it. Make sure your partner is aware that you need a break and why.

2. If he needs a time out: When your partner takes it too far or steps over the line, take a break. As long as he’s not being mean or cruel and it’s not the end of the world, a break isn’t going to kill the relationship. But occasionally he might need to get put in the dog house.

Celebrity Interview: 'Botched' Star Dr. Paul Nassif Discusses Being Single, Skincare and Spin-Off Shows

Interview by Lori Bizzoco. Written by Stephanie Sacco.

Dr. Paul Nassif is more than a doctor on reality TV. He's a renowned facial plastic surgeon and skincare specialist. Though people may remember him from The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills, he's even more recognizable for his E! reality series, Botched which he co-hosts with former RHOC star, Dr. Terry Dubrow. The success of Botched has even led to a few upcoming spin-off shows, Botched By Nature and Botched Post-Op. Last week, Nassif spoke to us in an exclusive celebrity interview about the upcoming spin-off shows, his new anti-aging skincare line and his very single relationship status.

Reality TV Star Dr. Paul Nassif Talks 'Botched' Success

Back when Nassif first developed the concept for Botched and pitched the show, his co-host was doubtful, calling Nassif "crazy" for wanting to put plastic surgery on TV. "Now look at us," the former RHOBH star says. Botched is in its third season and the show has led to multiple spin-off series. One of the many reasons for the show's success is that all the cases are legitimate, and Nassif and Dubrow are passionate about their clients. The doctors really enjoy helping their patients through their issues. Nassif says the role of a plastic surgeon is "part doctor and part therapist." Although extreme cases are common in this line of work, the reality TV star shares that the worst is yet to come. "For me personally, once you see the episodes of Botched By Nature, those are going to be the most riveting and the hardest cases we've had to do," he admits.

Related Link: Celebrity Interview: E!'s 'Famously Single' Dating Coach Laurel House Says "Every episode has drama"

One of the differences between Botched By Nature and Botched is the client's reason behind getting plastic surgery. "Some people got struck by lightning, went through severe accidents, and had deformities," the plastic surgeon says about the spin-off series. This brings the doctors even closer to the clients. "You really get into the heart of it by going into these people's homes," he shares. "You see their families and loved ones, and you're allowed to discuss these incredible human interest stories about what they've had to go through their entire life." That added personal layer is something the fans haven't seen before. Due to the extreme cases that they're dealing with, Botched By Nature has the surgeons on the road, traveling all over the country. But it's not all serious business. The two friends have some adventures along the way. Nassif explains, "We'll be going to different parts of the country and doing something fun in each city." Being on the road has its perks and these two won't disappoint. "You're going to see more of a reality between Dubrow and I because we're traveling. So you get to see a little bit more of that bromance," Nassif says.

Reality TV Star on Dating & His New Skincare Line

Though he's always been successful in the operating room, Nassif hasn't been as successful with romance. He admits that he isn't dating anybody right now and that he's found that dating takes a lot of time and energy. "I cleared my slate so I could come home, work out earlier, and get more sleep. Dating is fun, but it's very taxing," shares the father of three. He's already been a part of a celebrity couple for many years, and he isn't interested in having it again at the moment. While his career flourishes, he's putting his love life on hold and is focusing on his new skincare line. The NassifMD Bio-Rhythmic and Bio-Clock Dermaceuticals skincare lines are out already, and Nassif uses the collection. When asked how the products differ from others on the market, he explains that he has an understanding of the face and body, and is qualified to know what works. "As a plastic surgeon, I look at skin differently than a dermatologist," he says.

Related Link: Celebrity Interview: Brandi Glanville Is More Than a Housewife on 'Famously Single'

As a facial reconstruction specialist in Beverly Hills, Nassif also knows that there are many different motivations for getting plastic surgery. The idea that women get work done for their man sometimes happens, but when it comes up in his office, Nassif is strongly against it. "If there's a wrong reason, I simply won't do the surgery," he shares. Typically, his clients are aware of the problem and want to fix it for their own health. "When it comes to facelifts, eyes, and noses, my patients are pretty spot on about wanting to do it for themselves." The reality TV star has also had some work done himself, such as some reconstruction surgery on his nose here and there. But, the most recent celebrity news is that the doctor hinted he may potentially get Botox on television. He says, "You gotta watch the show. Watch Botched By Nature to see something different regarding me."

Botched By Nature premieres on August 3rd at 9/8c.

You can follow Dr. Paul Nassif on Twitter and watch Botched on Tuesdays at 9:00 on E!

Cupid's Advice:

Break-ups can be messy, and nobody wants to deal with the drama. The aftermath is almost always tragic, but there are ways to minimize it. Cupid is here to help:

1. Walk away: You don't have to shake hands or hug it out in the final stages of your break-up, but it doesn't hurt to walk away. Instead of prolonging a fight, just get up and leave. Forget about closure, and worry more about your mental health.

This celebrity news isn’t exactly shocking. What are some ways to get rid of an obsessive ex?

Cupid’s Advice:

Breakups are rough. At some point you’ll get over the split and will go on with your life. Your ex may not be as fortunate and may try to cling onto the past. Let Cupid help you get rid of your obsessive ex:

1. Tell the truth: Be honest with your ex and let them know that you no longer see a future with them. Telling the truth might be hard, but it’s unfair to mislead and string them along. Your ex may finally let you go in peace if they understand there’s no hope for a relationship.

2. Cut them off: Another great option is to cut off all communication with your ex. This includes ignoring texts and calls. You may even need to use the block features on your phone and social media accounts. It might seem harsh, but disappearing from your ex’s life is a sure way to get rid of them.

3. Move on: If for whatever reason you still want to stay in contact with your obsessive ex, another option you may have is to show that you moved on from them. If you're happily single, make sure your ex can see that. And when you're finally dating again, make sure your ex is aware of that too. A happier and busier you may deter your ex from pursuing a romantic relationship with you.

Cupid's Advice:

When we're dating, there are always a few common traits that we gravitate towards. We often look for these traits in a partner and then call them our "type." For those who are unsure of what their type is, Cupid is here to help you determine which is best for you:

1. Shared interests: A simple and straight forward way to determine your type is by finding interests you both share. If you tend to like people who like the same things you do, then you can determine that your type must be compatible with your hobbies and lifestyle. At the very least, your type should show an interest in the things you do.

2. Similar energy levels: Another important trait in finding your type is knowing how energetic you want them to be. If you like being active then you want someone that will be active with you. If you prefer low energy activities, you'll need someone who likes doing that as well. Dating a person who has an opposing energy level from your own is not the right type for you.

3. Mutual desire: Hopefully if you're trying to get into a serious relationship, you want someone who is attracted to you the same way you are to them. Don't try to force anything that isn't there. If you're not desiring to be in another's presence then they are not your type. A relationship without desire or passion is a friendship, go find someone who can satisfy your romantic needs.
