Their relationship is getting more serious."

In celebrity news, Miley Cyrus and Kaitlynn Carter wore matching outfits for their date night. What are some cute ways to coordinate your clothes for date night?

Cupid's Advice:

Miley Cyrus and Kaitlynn Carter looked super cute in their matching black outfits. However, it's easy to go from cute to corny when it comes to matching outfits. Luckily, Cupid has some advice that will help you and your significant other look coordinated and cute instead of tacky:

1. Wear dark colors: Just like Cyrus and Carter, stick to dark colors for a classy matching ensemble. You want to highlight that you're matching with your partner while also making it look natural. Bright colors will distract from the coordination and look as though it's forced.

2. Pick a vibe: If you want to go for a more subtle approach to matching with your partner an easy way to do so is to pick a vibe or an aesthetic. Are you trying to channel high fashion or a look from a certain era? You don't necessarily have to match colors or specific articles of clothing, but as long as you both go for the same general idea you'll both look chic!

3. Keep it simple: Simply, don't overdo it. We've all seen those pictures of celebrity couples in the early 2000s coordinating outrageous outfits. You don't want to follow in their steps. If matching outfits scare you, try to coordinate accessories instead of entire ensembles and work your way up.

In celebrity news, we’re wondering if Hayden and Brian’s brother are involved as more than friends. What are some ways to keep gossip from affecting your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Hayden and Brian’s brother are walking a thin line between just friends and celebrity couple. While your relationship may not be as public as Hayden and Zach’s, Cupid has some advice that will help keep gossip out of your relationship:

1. Build trust: Your relationship should be built on a solid foundation meaning that you and your partner trust each other. It’s easy to let gossip create tension in your relationship but if you truly trust your partner then the rumors and gossip will have no impact on your relationship.

2. Address the gossip: If gossip or any potential rumor makes you or your significant other uncomfortable you should address

it. Express how you feel with your partner without causing a fight. If you're both open and honest you should be able to address the rumors effectively.

3. Focus on each other: Gossip and rumors may persist even after you address them. If they are still having a significant impact on your relationship then it is best to just focus on your partner as long as you two are on the same page. People will always find something to gossip about so as long as it doesn't change your life it's best to just ignore it.

Though their dirty laundry has been exposed to the world, the couple needs to maintain a civil front for the sake of their daughter. Cupid has some advice that will help you avoid any unnecessary tension between you and your ex:

1. Talk it out: It's better to get all of your feelings out early so they don't sneak up on you after you and your ex have made amends. Take some time and talk about the things in your relationship that really bothered you. The key to successfully airing out your grievances is to always keep it civil.

1. Don't publicly blast them: If there is any chance of saving your relationship, publicly announcing your partner's behavior is a sure way to destroy any chance you may have at fixing it. Slip-ups happen. Don't immediately turn them into the bad guy. Plus, it makes you look bad in the process.

Cupid's Advice:

All new relationships have a honeymoon stage. Whether you decide to stick with your partner after a rough time or not is the true test of a relationship. Cupid has some advice on how to know when a relationship has long-term potential:

1. You feel like yourself with them: You're okay with letting them see you limp in the morning because you tripped while walking the dog. You don't care if your partner sees you with bed-head. You let them see you worrying because your paycheck wasn't as large as you thought it would be. While all of these may be examples, it's important to be yourself around your partner. If you have to fake who you are to impress the person you're with to avoid judgment, then the relationship will not last.

2. You know what your partner needs: They know how you like your coffee, and they can tell when you're about to have an emotional breakdown days before it happens. When your partner instinctively knows what you need, then they just may be the one you're meant to live your life with – and it's not just from their side. When you know that your partner needs something without them saying anything, then it means that you have reached the point where you're both in a solid partnership.

3. You're physically intimate: A relationship with long-term potential isn't about the sex. You can both be virgins up until marriage if that is something you both value before making a life-long commitment. Holding hands, innocent kisses, and hugs are a sign that you are both comfortable. And if you aren't waiting until marriage, the time between the sheets will help build a stronger connection as long as you both understand that it's a way for you both to show how much you love each other.

Celebrity Baby: Meghan Markle Reveals Due Date

In the latest royal celebrity baby news, Meghan Markle revealed her due date during a walkabout in Hamilton Square with Prince Harry, according to EOnline.com. Markle is currently six months pregnant; the celebrity couple is expecting their first baby between April and May. The Duchess and Prince have decided to wait to find out the gender of their baby. This is the closest confirmation of her due date available since Kensington Palace previously announced the baby is expected in Spring 2019.

Meghan Markle and Prince Harry are about to have their first celebrity baby. What are some ways of announcing your due date to the world?

Cupid's Advice:

Announcing your due date isn't something you need to keep a secret if you don't want to. What are some ways you can tell your family and friends your exciting news?

1. Photographs: You could do a mini photo shoot with the ultrasound picture and baby shoes. If you have an older child or a pet, include them in the announcement photo. You could have your older child standing next to a chalkboard with something that says, "Big (sister or brother) starting (insert due date)". For your pet, you could do something like taking a picture of their paws next to baby shoes. Have fun and get creative!

2. Announce to immediate family: Announcing your pregnancy and due date is an exciting time for you and your partner, as well as for your family and friend. If you don't want to immediately let everyone on social media know before your close circle does, plan unique announcements for each group! Don't let the pressure of sharing your due date stress you out; it doesn't have to be extravagant. A phone call to your mother (instead of texting) means more because it's personal. Or maybe a cup that says, "World's Best Grandma/Grandpa/Uncle/Aunt" and a picture of the ultrasound with the due date will be more memorable for years to come.

3. Make something special (or have something special) made to celebrate: You can go beyond having a cup made when you announce your due date. If you're creative with programs like Photoshop, you could create a movie poster with the due date or make a small trailer with a video editing program (like iMovie or Windows Movie Maker). If you create the movie poster, you could put it in the baby's room once they're born.
