A long-term relationship can be great if you're with the right person, but as time goes on, things can change. If you feel that your relationship has gotten stale, then it might be time to end it. Let Cupid help you decide if it's time to break it off with your long-term love:

1. Deserve better: If you feel that you've settled for less than you deserve, then that's a good reason to end a long-term relationship. You don't need resentment to build up. End things before it's too late.

Relationship Advice: Does Time Apart Heal Betrayal?

By Dr. Jane Greer

Tiger Woods opened up about his relationship with ex-wife Elin

Nordegren this week. The couple ended their celebrity relationship and marriage in 2010 after Tiger's cheating scandal, but now they have managed to build an amicable friendship. With time, Elin seems to have gotten past the betrayal of her ex-husband's infidelity, which is a challenge for many couples. Tiger and Elin share two children, so this must be a welcome development for all of them.

While some couples are able to find higher ground and continue to make their marriage work after an affair, others realize that the intensity of the pain of the incident is just too much and that they are better apart, as was the case for Elin and Tiger.

Either way, initially there can be so much anger that it takes effort to not drag the children into it. This can be especially difficult if the spouses have parted and find themselves alone. The one who was betrayed feels that their whole world is turned upside down, and wants to get back at the person who did this to them and caused so much unhappiness. It is tempting to say terrible things about them to the people who are closest to you – your kids. The natural inclination is to want to get them on your side and have them take up arms against the person who caused this upheaval. The impulse to have the children understand what you are going through and why can be powerful.

How, then, can you avoid this urge, and instead let them know they still have two solid parents they can continue to depend on? How can you protect them from your own fury, and the negative energy that is coming from both sides, while navigating your way to a place of, if not forgiveness, at least of tolerance and understanding? How can you lead them to a solid foundation of security so that even if there is trouble between parents, they know they can count on the fact that both mom and dad will continue to be stable forces in their lives?

Consider this relationship advice. To begin with, understand that they are not the ones who should be supporting you through this. They need your support, so the goal is to try not to burden them with your rage. Of course, that is easier said than done. The first step is to find an outlet elsewhere because you will need to talk about it, and choosing people other than your kids to unload on is a great start. You can find solace and confide in anyone from a therapist or counselor to friends and other family members. Work to insulate your children so they don't have to go through the raw emotion that you are going through. Steer clear of sharing the bad things your spouse did to you with the kids as much as you can. Finally, give yourself time which will hopefully lessen the sharpness of the betrayal, and eventually allow you to share at least a cordial relationship.

The hope is to find a way to provide a harmonious family environment despite the rift in your marriage. When both parents can come back together and share an affable connection, as Elin and Tiger have done, this can become easier to do. The distance between Tiger and Elin may have been just what they needed to move past their relationship as lovers, then fighters, and eventually continue forward in a solid friendship.

According to UsMagazine.com, Chyna asked Kardashian in this Sunday's episode of Keeping Up With The Kardashians, “What’s the real reason you didn’t come? Not the reason you’re going to tell me, but the real reason you didn’t come today. Is it because of the argument?” Rob did not show up for an event and Chyna questions whether he didn’t show due to a fight they had on the previous episode. Rob replies to Chyna, “It’s a combination of everything. I just didn’t want you to see me and give you more reason to stop being attracted to me or whatever, so I just didn’t want to go.” It seems like Rob is really struggling to feel confident in himself and does not want to burden his partner.

This celebrity news has us relating for sure. What are some ways to ease your insecurities about appearance with regard to your partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

Insecurities have a nasty way of creeping up in a relationship and causing tension and problems. We have some dating advice to help ease your insecurities around your partner:

1. Compliments: A lot of people have a misconception about when to compliment their partner. If you are complimenting your partner all the time about every little thing, the compliments will not feel real or genuine at a certain point. Really focus on telling them how great they look at the right times so it comes off as authentic.

Celebrity Couple Predictions: Kendall Jenner, Nicki Minaj and Minka Kelly

By Shoshi

In the latest celebrity news, three famous couples have caught the public's attention, two of which are celebrity relationships that are just getting started, such as with Kendall Jenner and A$AP Rocky, and former exes Minka Kelly and Wilmer Valderama. In terms of more serious relationships, one of Hollywood's most anticipated marriages involve rappers Nicki Minaj and Meek Mill. But who's stepping out this time around hand in hand? Join me as I look into the crystal ball of relationships and love. Below, I share my predictions for these celebrity couples.

Celebrity Couple Predictions: Celebrity Relationships That May or May Not Last

Kendall Jenner and A$AP Rocky: I'm convinced that Kris Jenner had a secret meeting with the Kardashian/Jenner kids where she told them they could only date black people associated with rap music. It appears that Kendall Jenner is now following the family trend by allegedly dating rapper A$AP Rocky. Jenner and Rocky been spotted having dinner together as they creep out during the late night hours. While they're doing the "date thing," don't call them boyfriend and girlfriend just yet. Jenner is taking it slow. She wants to enjoy herself. Basically, she is testing him out to see if he's worth her time. If Rocky wants Jenner to take him seriously, he is going to have to step it up. Kendall tends to be a little more "low key" and drama free with her relationships. She won't flaunt her love affair like Kylie or Kim. But only time will tell if they officially become a couple. Don't be surprised if Jenner is on mystery dates with someone else.

Nicki Minaj and Meek Mill: Everyone seems to be wondering when Nicki Minaj and Meek Mill will walk down the aisle. That wedding may be getting closer. The celebrity couple just moved in together in fancy crib in Beverly Hills. In April, Minaj said she was single on the Ellen Show, so this move is a big step. Minaj looks all the way into the relationship, but there is something about Mill that looks shady for lack of a better word. I'm not saying that he's cheating on Minaj, but he leaves the door open for other women. He likes to get his flirt on which could lead to trouble down the line. If they don't get married soon, it may never happen. There is a big chance that they will simple crash and burn after the relationship runs it's course.

Minka Kelly and Wilmer Valderrama: Didn't Wilmer Valderrama and Demi Lovato break up like five minutes ago? Well Valderrama is not wasting time crying about it. He has already hooked back up with his ex Minka Kelly. The two dated in 2012, so this is their second time around. While they will have some fun, the relationship is not for the long haul. Kelly will want more than what Valderrama can give her, which is marriage or at least a nice long term commitment. She will eventually have to move on. Valderrama is always dating a hot actress or singer. What is it about him that is hard to resist? He will continue to woo the ladies and probably won't be ready to settle down until he hits his 40s.
