How do you choose between love and a career?

Cupid's Advice

For Nicole Kidman, choosing love over her career was a piece of cake. However, it's a decision with which many successful people struggle. When it comes to choosing between your job and your relationship, Cupid has some things to consider:

1. Think ahead: The best thing to do when making a life-changing decision is to think about the future. If you have to make a choice between your special someone and your career, ask yourself which one will last longer. A lot can happen in five years at a job, but if you don't see yourself being serious with the person you're dating years down the road, then maybe it's not your job you need to quit.

2. Imagine yourself without one: Some people have dreamt about their wedding day since they were kids, while others wanted success. No matter what your dreams are, don't give up on them.

3. Follow your heart: If someone flipped a coin and said, “Heads is career, tails is love,” and didn't show you the coin right away, which side would you have wished for more? Sometimes the answer is already in your heart. When in doubt, go with your gut!

Should you invite your ex to your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

Now that you've accepted your fiancé's proposal for marriage and are making your wedding guest list, it's time to decide whether to invite your ex to the big day. Cupid has some things to consider:

1. What your fiancé thinks: Will your spouse-to-be feel comfortable with having your ex present at the wedding? If your ex-partner is a stranger to your future spouse or they aren't friends, it's better to leave him off the list.

2. Your friendship: How has your relationship with your ex been since you broke up? If you're on good terms and harbor no lingering feelings, consider inviting him to your wedding, only after consulting with your fiancé.

3. Ulterior motives: If your only reason for inviting your ex is so that he can wish you and your spouse-to-be the very best in life, it's probably not a good enough reason.

What are things to consider about a second marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

When your first marriage doesn't work out, it's understandable to want to give married life another shot. Here are a few things to consider about a second marriage:

1. Children: If you have any children from your first marriage, make sure they are fond of your new partner. Your children need to have a say in deciding who their next family member will be.

2. Child/Spousal support: Before walking down the aisle, make sure you have taken care of all of the monetary concerns. Review the child or spousal support you are receiving from (or giving to) your ex-husband, and be aware of any changes that will occur.

3. First marriage's failure: Take some time to reflect on your first marriage, and figure out why it failed. By analyzing your mistakes, you can go into your second marriage with a stronger understanding of what it takes to make a marriage work.

It will show your partner that even though you enjoy your job, you don't intend to throw him by the wayside.

How do you keep your faith in relationships after a break-up?

Cupid’s Advice:

A bad break-up can have anyone promising themselves that “this will be the last time.” However, Cupid has an idea or two about regaining your faith in relationships:

2. Disregard the lover, not the love: Love isn’t the one who has wronged you. Blaming relationships for what you're currently feeling is misplaced anger. Remind yourself that love never fails; only lovers do.

1. Show common interests: Before it's time to meet the parents, prep your significant other by briefing him on your parents' interests. That way, he can be prepared with with a shared interest to discuss, which will hopefully spark lively conversation right away.

2. Build trust: It's important to build a bond of trust between your parents and significant other early on. Give your partner a small responsibility (like picking your parents up from the airport or making a dish to bring to dinner), that will show he can be trusted to follow through.

3. Solicit relationship advice: At a certain age, parents see their child's romantic partners as potential parents of their future grandchildren. Encourage your significant other to interact with young relatives at family gatherings, and to ask for relationship advice from your parents.

Jessica Simpson to Marry Eric Johnson Without Prenup?

After dating for only six months, Jessica Simpson and former NFL player Eric Johnson announced their exciting decision to walk down the aisle together. The couple's newest announcement? According to PopEater, they're doing it without a prenup! This isn't the first time Jessica Simpson will put on a wedding dress without signing the agreement. In her past divorce from Nick Lachey, who just days ago announced his engagement to Vanessa Minnillo, Jessica Simpson lost $10 million dollars for saying "I do" without a prenup. The singer's father, though very happy for the two of them, does not want to see his daughter make the same mistake twice and plans on trying to change her mind when the excitement dies down. But for now, the couple is running on love!

Should you get a prenup when you get married?

Cupid's Advice: Like many other couples in love, Jessica Simpson and Eric Johnson don't think a prenuptial agreement will be necessary. Cupid has some instances where it may be a healthy choice:

1. You're wealthier: Believe it or not, having more money than your partner and insisting on a prenup doesn't make you selfish! It's a harmless way to guarantee that he is marrying you for the right reasons and isn't interested in your bank account.

2. You've been married before: If this isn't your first venture down the aisle, the situation becomes more complicated. If you have kids from a previous marriage, a prenup can ensure that when/if you pass away, everyone in your family receives their share of your assets.

3. You don't want the stress: Money issues are one of the most common reasons for divorce. A prenup can help to halt the stress. If you're fighting less, you're most likely never going to have to use it!
