What are some advantages to pulling off a secret wedding?

Cupid's Advice

Usually, when you think of two people getting married you might picture a church, large wedding dress, the guests, a bridal party, the list could go on. And, most of us might be a bit taken aback when we hear that a certain couple's wedding didn't provide most of, if not all of, those specific elements. But, there can be some advantages to pulling off a secret wedding. Cupid has some tips:

1. The day is actually about YOU: Everyone says that weddings are all about the bride and groom. After all, it is THEIR day, right? Let's face it; most of the time the couple is trying to meet the needs of their guests, stay within budget, and wrapped up in accomplishing whatever it takes to please everyone else that the day becomes more about the guests than themselves.

Eve and Maximillion Cooper Tied the Knot in Spain

By Shannon Seibert

The wedding bells are chiming again. Eve and Maximillion Cooper tied the knot at Blue Marlin, Cala Jondal Beach in Ibiza, Spain, on Saturday, June 14. The couple exchanged “I dos” next to the ocean with their guests dressed in elegant beach attire. The couple has a history with international travel. They met at a 3000- mile international car rally, and got engaged in Scotland after three years together. Together, the pair has never seemed happier, according to UsMagazine.com.

What are some advantages to an international wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

For some people their ideal wedding location is in their backyard. But for a few, their dreams lie beyond their country's borders. International weddings have become increasingly popular and we've discovered the reasons why.

1. You are basically creating your own fairytale: This is your love story, so therefore, it's only right if you get to pick the setting. Places such as Spain, Greece, and Italy are growing in popularity for destination weddings. The exotic feel about being somewhere new brings about a whole new essence of romance. This new place becomes yours and your partner's forever. You will never think of the destination the same way again, for this sacred place has a whole new meaning.

Related: Will Smith and Jada Pinkett-Smith Show Their Love in Hawaii

2. You get to choose your guests: International flights are expensive, therefore you have to be extremely selective when it comes to picking out who gets the plane tickets. This can also allow you to get the intimate feel that you may be searching for. Your friends and family are more likely to understand you not being able to drop thousands on numerous international flights than not receiving an invite to your local church ceremony. Those who are invited to experience this day with you will also recognize how much they mean to you, making your wedding even more wonderful.

3. You're one step closer to your honeymoon: When you're already out of the country, you're only a hop skip and a jump away from kicking off your honeymoon. A lot of couples are starting to hop on the international wedding train and begin their world tours for their honeymoon. This is also a good way to get a little world travel under your belt before you buckle down and start making a family. It's just good planning, really.

What are some ways to support your partner's career?

Cupid's Advice:

A relationship is similar to a business partnership. There are strengths and weaknesses that both people bring to the table, and together, both parties become one. Cupid has some ways to support your partner in his or her career:

1. Ask for frequent updates: By having interest in your partner's career, it demonstrates your efforts to support what they are passionate about. If there is something weighing on their heart in the workplace, you are supposed to represent a safe haven where they can come to when they need advice or a shoulder to lean on. Ask questions about the projects they're working on, or clients they have and try to understand what your honey is doing on a day to day basis. Even make suggestions when he asks for a creative edge. This can also create a stronger bond for you and your love through the ability to connect on career interests.

2. Attend work related events: Like Meester and Brody, show the world how strong you are as a unit by being a united front. Attending work related events may or may not be interesting to you but it'll mean the world to your partner. A company party or a fundraiser is a great place to socialize with your man's coworkers. As his leading lady, you are the foundation to his passions, and number one supporter of his goals. Wow his bosses with your winning smile, and adoration for your love, showing that you support everything that he is about, and in turn, your sweetheart will do the same for you.

3. Make sacrifices when needed: Relationships are hard enough, trying to make two lives into one, so sometimes sacrifices are inevitable. If your love's job requires him to move to a different city, or work long hours, try being accommodating to his needs. If this promotion will open doors for him, don't be the one to stand in the way. Love always finds a way to make things work, no matter the circumstances. Stay strong in your faith of your relationship and everything will work out in the end.

What are some advantages to keeping your wedding under wraps?

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding day is all about celebrating the love between you and your sweetheart, so wedding plans should reflect the choices you make and who you are as a couple. Now that you have found the Forever to your Always, take charge of your new beginning together and make it your own. Cupid has some advice:

1. You have less people trying to put their two cents in: The over-bearing mother-in-law is every bride's nightmare. When people hear "wedding" everyone comes running to you, expecting an invite. Remember your best friend's cousin's boyfriend's aunt's friend? Yeah, we don't either but she is still expecting an invite. Avoid the external pressures of your loved ones and make this day your own. By keeping the details of the day discreet, you have all of the power.

Related: Kanye West Shows Off His Wedding Ring

2. You can keep things intimate: A huge bonus of not giving all of your friends and family the secret in tell, it that you don't have to make your day a huge event. It's always awkward having to publicly exclude someone you care about by not inviting them to the wedding, so by keeping it small, people won't feel as left out when they see it's just family and the closest of friends. This also gives you the opportunity to b with the people who mean the most to you, who can give you the love and support you need for embarking on the adventure of marriage.

Related: Jason Kennedy Announces Engagement to Lauren Scruggs

3. You save money: You know what that means: More for the honeymoon! Weddings are drawn out events, and typically aren't just a one-day thing. People have engagement parties, bachelor and bachelorette parties, rehearsal dinners, more celebration parties, and that much partying can just be overwhelming. Minimize the stress and channel all of the celebrating into one joyous day with the love of your life. Then take that trip to Cabo you didn't think you could afford, and relish in each other's company while basking in the rays of the sun.

What are some ways to show the pride you have in your partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

When you’re with the special someone, you know just how amazing they are. Sometime it’s easy to forget that maybe the whole world doesn’t know what you know. Here are some of Cupid’s tips on how to show the world how incredible your partner is without having to scream it from the top of a skyscraper:

1. Show little signs of affection in public. Holding someone’s hand or giving them a peck on the cheek while you’re out on the town is a simple, romantic way to show the world that you’re proud to be with your partner. Be careful not to take it too far, because too much PDA can be obnoxious.

2. Use the gifts they’ve given you. Whether this means wearing an accessory, using that dorky coffee mug, or listening to the mix CD they made, it means a lot to see your partner use the gift you’ve bought them. It means even more when they boast “I got this from my wife/husband.”

3. Show your partner off to friends and family. Meeting the friends and family is a gesture that says “you mean a lot to me and I want everyone to know it.”

What are some ways to surprise your wedding guests?

Cupid's Advice:

1. Put on a performance: A couple's first dance is supposed to make a huge statement that reflects the couple's relationships. Some brides submit their hubbies-to-be to weeks of dance lessons. Really wow your guests with a dance number. You could begin a flashmob, including the bridal and groom parties or even put on an impressive waltz that will have your mother's eyes watering in awe. Just have fun with it and make musical memories with the love of your life.

2. Make a random change in venue: Spontaneity never disappoints, ever. If your wedding is inside, but the weather is absolutely enchanting outdoors, relocate outside the venue last second. I mean it's your wedding, right? Sure, you may not have all of the decorations you wanted, or the traditional appeal, but spur of the moment decisions is what makes this wedding yours. The day is what you make of it, so if you want to create your fairytale in the parking lot, so be it!

3. Channel your inner Oprah: "You get a gift! He gets a gift! She gets a gift! You all get gifts!" Free stuff is the best stuff. Let's be honest, this day is all about you, but your guests do want to feel included and appreciated on your special day. Show them some love with adorable personalized gifts, with an inside joke or an item that reflects their personal taste, such as a certain type of wine bottle. The gesture will show how much you care and they'll be even happier that they attended.

What can you do to keep your wedding exciting?

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding day is possibly one of the most important days of your life. It should be one to remember, not only for you, but all of your guests. Here are a few tips from Cupid to ensure that your wedding is one you and your family will never forget:

1. Do something different. We all have basic expectations of what will happen at a wedding; vows will be said, the couple smashes cake in each other's faces, and the new pair will have a romantic first dance. Try dazzling your guests with something new! Have your wedding party dance down the aisle, or divert from the usual wedding cake for your reception.

2. Make it unique to you. Each couple is different and no two weddings should be the same. Whether it's the colors, a reception theme, or some other addition to your wedding, make sure the guests know that this is your wedding. It's your day as a couple, and it should be clear that you're the ones being celebrated.

Related: Kanye West Calls Kim Kardashian 'the Most Beautiful Woman of All Time'

3. Choose a special venue. The usual choices of a chapel and reception hall can be charming and unique if done right, but maybe your wedding calls for a different kind of venue. If you are an artistic couple, maybe the reception could be in an art gallery. Some brainy couples have chosen to hold their receptions in museums. If you can handle the cost and extra planning, maybe a more unique venue is right for your wedding.

What are some ways to personalize your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

Not all weddings are supposed to be traditional and classic. Pick a style that matches your personality as a couple, the more creative the better. There are so many romantic and adventurous ideas, you just have to find the one that is right for you:

1. Choose a destination: If you are looking for a more personal feel in an exotic place, a destination wedding is just for you. Instead of going all-out in a local venue, a different city, state, or even country can spice things up for you and your honey. Choose a place that means something to you, like where you grew up, where you'd want to live together, or even a place you've always talked of visiting together.

2. Pick a crazy theme: Nothing says personality like a themed wedding. Put on your thinking cap and come up with an idea that fits the style of you and your man. Whether it's Harry Potter, under the sea, rustic, backyard country style or even murder-mystery, there are so many different ideas to choose from. Keep in mind that your wedding day is about you and your partner, so pick what you want, and don't take other people's opinions too seriously. P.S. Themes make the best wedding photos!

3. Get nostalgic: Demonstrate who you are as a couple by busting out all of your favorite memories. Decorate the venue with your favorite and silliest couple-photos and memories to truly show who you are together. Try making memory boards for your guests, so they can write down their favorite memory for you and your love to read after the wedding.

Kim Kardashian and Kanye West Are Married

By Shannon Seibert

The moment we've all been waiting for has arrived: The Kimye

Wedding. Kim Kardashian and Kanye West began dating in April of 2012, shortly giving birth to their beautiful daughter, North West, and later got engaged. The couple married this past weekend, in grand European style. The couple spent the evening, dancing, laughing, and talking lovingly about each other according to UsMagazine.com.

How do you keep your wedding look flawless all night?

Cupid's Advice:

You're going to remember this day for the rest of your life, and you'll have thousands of pictures to prove it. It's most likely impossible for a bride to look anything but stunningly gorgeous, but if you're suffering from pre-wedding jitters, we have a few tricks for you:

1. Waterproof make up and hairspray are your new BFFs: Let's be honest, there will be tears. The waterproof make up will hold longer, and is less likely to run if a tear or two does seep through. To keep your make up and hair in place, use hair spray to set your look. Spray at least 10-inches from your face and hair, in order to maintain a level amount on each aspect part of your head. And remember, don't touch your face too often, it keeps the make up from smudging off.

2. Pull a 'Kim': It's better to be safe than sorry, have multiple back up outfits just in case something were to go wrong at the last minute. Kardashian had multiple outfits choices on her big day, providing her a sense of security. You can do the same to ensure that your special day doesn't hit any road blocks on your way to your happily ever after.

Kim Kardashian Hopes the Rain Doesn't Ruin Her Wedding

By Sanetra Richards

It never rains in Southern California, but it has been raining cats and dogs in Paris. According to UsMagazine.com, showers were definitely in the forecast during Kim Kardashian's costly European wedding weekend, which started on Friday, May 23rd at the Versailles Palace in Paris, France. The festivities began with the rehearsal dinner at Versailles. Guests were asked to dress in vintage French royalty-themed garb. However, the reality star bride appeared to be a bit down during the celebration activities and made it known the weather was to blame: "I hope the rain doesn't ruin my wedding," Kim stated as the Kardashian-Jenner family dined at the Hotel Costes on Wednesday, March 21st. "She made it clear that this bad weather is really getting to her. She's clearly spending millions getting married in Europe, and if it all turns into a wash-out she will be really unhappy," an onlooker tells Us. Although her family and friends remained positive through the circumstances, the 33-year-old bride was still not pleased with the City of Love's lack of sun. "This weather has to get better," other restaurant guests heard Kanye West's fiancée say after dinner. "Spring in Paris is meant to be about sunshine, but all we're getting is rain."

What are some ways to plan a wedding around rain?

Cupid's Advice:

Every bride seems to have at least one fear in common on their special day, and that is rain. Although it can certainly be a sign of good luck for the marriage, it is still unwanted. You plan for the date months in advance and can never be too sure of what to expect when it actually comes. Cupid has a few pointers to help you plan the big day around rain:

- 1. Proper shelter: Outdoor weddings can always be a bit tricky because of the unpredictable weather. What better way to take cover than to have a tent covering you, your honey, and the guests? When Mother Nature decides to make your day a little bit more stressful, do not fret. You will be prepared for the worst, somewhat.

2. Backup plan instructions: Inform everyone in attendance of what to do just in case the weather goes wrong. You may want to do this in advance before the big day – this will help ease your worries as the wedding approaches.

3. Remain pretty & polished: Don't let the rain put a damper on your mood, or ruin your perfected hairstyle, chic heels, and beloved gown. What are some ways to keep the spark in your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

When you first get together with someone, it’s new and exciting. But when you’ve been with the same person for a long time, you can sometimes fall into what feels like a rut. Relationships can constantly change, and being with your partner for a long time doesn’t mean you can’t still experience new and fun things. Cupid has some advice on some ways to keep the spark in your relationship:

1. Recreate your first date: It can be fun to go back to the beginning, experience things all over again, but also see how much things have changed. Memories are important things and some we will cherish and remember forever, but that doesn't mean we can't go back and relive them. It could be fun to go "back in time" for a night and recreate the magic all over again.

2. Try something new together: What makes the beginning of relationship so exciting is the fact everything is new. So, trying new things together will keep things fresh and the fires burning. Do something you both have talked about doing or haven't done yet, try activities like skydiving or try traveling somewhere you've never been, it doesn't matter what you do just make it an adventure and something to remember.

3. Dress up for each other from time to time: Sure, you may already have that special someone in your life, but that doesn't mean you should stop taking care of yourself or dressing up for them. Don't just get all dolled up for date nights, try doing it sometime when you're home and make a boring night turn into a romantic evening in. Having a little fun in your relationship, like dressing up for your beau, can help with keeping the passion alive between the two of you.

What are some advantages of keeping your wedding under wraps?

Cupid's Advice:

Planning to get married is an exciting time in any couple's relationship, but it also can be stressful. Marriage is a big decision and commitment, so it can be nice to be able to share news of your engagement to people, however there's nothing wrong with not saying anything about it until you're ready. Cupid has some advice on some advantages of keeping your wedding under wraps:

1. It will make it more special: There's something exciting about having something known just between you and your special someone. Holding onto information until you are ready, is not a bad thing, it can be a good thing in fact because it can help strengthen your relationship. Marriage is between you and your partner, no one else, sure you're both becoming a part of each other's families as well, but that doesn't mean you can't have things on your own.

Related: Kim Kardashian and Kanye West Set a Wedding Date in Paris

2. You can make it your way: There's a lot of time, energy and effort that goes into wedding planning, but also in other new life changing things like deciding living arrangements. So, it can be nice to get advice from others, such as friends and family sometimes, but not on everything, especially the big decisions. Just think the less people who know, the better chance you have at not getting influenced by other's and actually making your dream wedding, not anyone else's.

3. Less pressure: One big upside of keeping your wedding under wraps is you won't feel the pressure of others, which will in turn make things less difficult for you. Sometimes wedding planning can get stressful, especially when you're worrying about other people's expectations, when really you should just be focusing on yours and your better half. Don't worry about what other people will think, about the wedding, your partner, your union, whatever, instead remember why you want to get married.

Another thing you hopefully discussed when it came to marriage, is if it's something you can both potentially see in your future. Getting married is a big deal, so to make sure you are both ready and be sure to talk about it and see if your views and ideals on marriage are the same and if not if you can work through them.

CBS: What are Max and Blakesley looking forward to doing this summer?

TS: “I’ve signed them up for lots of little summer camps. Max will go to basketball camp and also attend a camp called Camp Invention, where they focus on science related stuff. Blakesley will go to dance camp and she is also looking forward to going to fairy camp, where they build tiny fairy houses by one of our local rivers. They’re really excited to do all of those things.”

CBS: Your family seems like you all have such a strong bond with one another. Is that something you work at?

TS: “Oh gosh, yeah. Spending quality time together is important to us. I make a point to ensure my kids know they are a priority in my life and that my husband is a priority in my life. My relationship with Ryan is the foundation of our family. So, yeah, we do have a strong family bond, but it takes effort and time to create it.”

CBS: You recently renewed your vows. How meaningful was that ceremony to you?

TS: “It was so incredibly meaningful and it was wonderful to be able share it with our kids. What you didn’t see on TV was that we included them in our vows. We vowed to always have fun together and always be there for each other. That was special. It was also wonderful to share it with friends and family who have been with us for the past 10 years. I know it was on television, but it was very intimate ceremony and I'm glad we did it."

CBS: How did becoming a mom change your relationship with Ryan?

TS: "Well, number one, it has decreased the amount of time I can spend with him. That's because our kids demand a little bit more time from each of us. So, it's changed in that way. But, honestly, our relationship has grown so much; I respect him so much more because he is such a wonderful father. Our relationship continues to thrive because we bond over our children and we both respect each other as parents."

their six children, Pax, 10, Zahaa, 9, Shiloh, 7, twins Vivienne and Knox, 5, and Maddox, 12. The engaged twosome were not shy about showing their affection towards one another, even entering the hotel arm-in-arm. This much-needed private outing is well-deserved, as it comes after Jolie, 38, and Pitt, 50 had been a part for a few months because of work.

Famous couple Pitt and Jolie recognize the value of alone time with each other. What are some reasons it's important to spend quality time with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Whether you're part of a famous couple or not, finding time to spend with your lover can be difficult. After all, life gets in the way! However, no matter how chaotic and hectic your schedule may be, it's important to get that much-needed private time with your other half. Cupid has some love advice on why you need to spend one-on-one time with your partner:

1. It keeps the spark alive: Every relationship needs a strong emotional and physical connection. Physical separation leads to emotional separation, so if you're not spending time in each other's company, it can lead to a break-up. Plan some date ideas together and do something fun or new; that way, you will be making time for each and satisfying each others needs.

She went onto share the news with her food blog's fans: "This week has seriously just become the best week of my life! As if announcing The Real Girl's Kitchen tv show wasn't enough, Matt just took me by total surprise and proposed...on April Fool's Day of all days! The moment was genuine and sweet (like him!) and I couldn't wait to say yes!"

What are three unique proposal ideas?

Cupid's Advice:

Planning a wedding proposal is far from an easy task. Just like the wedding, it takes preparation (and lots of meditation). You have to strategically map out every single detail, from who is going to be involved, where it is going to be, and what day! Not to mention, you have to keep it a secret. Before you can worry about all of this, thinking of how you want to ask for your partner's hand in marriage is most important. Cupid has a few cute ideas to make things a little bit easier:

1. The museum: Ask your local museum if you could place an enlarged framed photo of you and your partner in the photography section with the proposal as the caption. Take your significant other to the city's museum for what will seem to be a regular date. Look at the various pieces and critique each, as usual. Once you get to your 'proposal piece,' wait for his or her reaction as they read the picture's caption.

2. Write 'note' cards: Send or leave your love sweet note cards throughout the day, whether it is of a favorite quote or a reminder of their beauty. Do about five to ten cards. On the final one, ask for their hand. Priceless moment!

3. Deliver it in the mailbox: Make sure your significant other is the one to check the mail the day you want to propose. Set the ring in the mailbox beforehand. Watch him or her as they open the mailbox to see the box among the other envelopes. Voilà ! Here is your chance to propose.

What are some ways to confront issues in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Every relationship has problems, its normal. When you and your partner are having issues in your relationship it is better to face them than ignore them, but what's the best way to go about it? Cupid has some advice on ways to confront issues in your relationship.

1.Practice Beforehand: Before you confront your significant with your relationship woes, take the time to prepare what you are going to say, open with, end with, etc. Practicing on what you're going to say can help calm your nerves and help you focus on what exactly you want to discuss. Make sure you remember the purpose of your confrontation and that you're trying to resolve your issues not create new ones.

2.Make private time to talk: Take the time to sit down in private and discuss all the relationship problems you may be having with your lovebird. The issues you are having with your partner won't resolve themselves, which is why you both have to schedule a time to talk with each other. Also, be willing to listen to your lovers' side and then sit and think on it before making any rash decisions.

3. Make a list or write out your thoughts: Sometimes talking isn't enough, so why not write a letter of your feelings to your sweetheart. If that is not something you're good at you can still write out a list of the issues in your relationship to help prepare you for your 'talk'. Writing is a good form of expression and writing could help you face your issues.

What are some ways to plan a private wedding ceremony?

Cupid's Advice:

You're ready to marry the person you love, but you're not sure if you want to make a huge event out of it. Some people prefer a quieter, intimate ceremony. How do you go about planning something smaller without hurting anyone's feelings? Cupid is here to help:

1. Tell family and close friends: Only tell your loved ones about your plan to exchange vows. You won't hurt anyone's feelings if you keep details about your upcoming nuptials relatively quiet. Let your family and friends know you won't be changing your mind about the simplicity of your wedding, and you would appreciate it if they kept all ceremony and reception details to themselves.

By Sanetra Richards

The Sochi Olympian Jonny Weir and lawyer husband Victor Voronov are splitting after two+ years of marriage. According to UsMagazine.com, the fashionable figure skater announced the separation on March 19 through Twitter saying, "It is with great sadness that I announce that my husband and I are no longer together," he tweeted. "My heart hurts, and I wish him well." In a February 2014 interview with Access Hollywood, Weir talked about his husband and their married life: "My husband was actually in the closet until about a month before we were married. He comes from a very strict and judgmental world.” Weir went on to say, “Being married is an adjustment, and I’m such an OCD, solitary, confined person that it was very hard to open my life and my home and in some ways my closet to somebody else,” he continued. “We both are constantly fighting to wear the pants in the relationship.”

How do you know when to put an end to your marriage?

Cupid’s Advice:

Every marriage is not salvageable, and sometimes you have to find the guts to tell your spouse “it is over.” Nevertheless, whether you ignore it or give it some thought, there will always be a warning before destruction. So, how will you know your marriage is about to fall off of the cliff? Cupid has the answer:

1. More distance than ever: This can range from sleeping in separate bedrooms to not doing mutual activities. If this is occurring in your marriage, be cautious. You have probably been noticing all of your time is consumed by work and all of his/her is spent with friends – chances are you are trying to stay away from your spouse as much as possible. This sign is as clear as daylight, the marriage is deteriorating.

2. Nonstop bickering: Every conversation is beginning to end with an argument and you all cannot agree on the simplest things, like what to eat for dinner or who is taking the kids to soccer practice. All of this could very well be stemming from other issues that have not been discussed. If you cannot compromise on wants and needs (after multiple attempts) without being on the verge of ripping each other’s heads off, it may be time to call it quits.

3. One-sided effort: You have realized there is no such thing as give and take in your marriage and that your spouse is more of a take and take kind of person – do not ignore this. As a team, work should be put in on both ends. Think about that the next time you feel like you are the only one in the marriage.

When you love someone you want to make them feel special, loved and appreciated. This is even more important come your wedding anniversary. 1. Plan a celebration: What better way to celebrate your love and marriage with your lover than to plan something special like a celebration. Celebrating your anniversary doesn't have to be a huge extravagant thing, it can be as big as a party filled with family and friends or as simple as a romantic evening in. Country Singer Craig Morgan Helps to Spread Fire Safety to Families

By Maria Darbenzio

It's easy to see that country music star Craig Morgan is a family man at heart, and his newest venture only serves as further proof: He's currently working as the spokesperson for KIDDE Fire Safety's "Be a Safety Hero" initiative to help protect families from potential home fires. The singer is taking time to donate smoke alarms and educate people on fire safety while on his VA Mortgage Leader Presents Craig Morgan The Journey Tour. Recently, Celebrity Baby Scoop caught up with Morgan to talk about his family and future plans.

CBS: You have a marriage that has spanned more than two and a half decades. What is your secret to success?

CM: "I stay away as much as I can. No, I'm kidding. I think it's a give and take; you have to hope that you're both giving and taking at the right time. When you aren't, you just can't give up. Our society has made it so easy for everybody these days to quit and walk away from a relationship. I think the simple thing is to not give up...even though it might be bad right now and you think there is something better around the corner, usually when you get around the corner, you wish you were back where you were."

CBS: You have four beautiful kids. What are some of your fondest memories of being a dad? Do you think you parent your sons differently from how you parented your daughter?

CM: “Man, just watching them grow up. It’s just that they say the coolest and greatest things. There’s actually a TV show named after it, Kids Say The Darndest Things, and so on and so forth. A lot of these shows come from the kids, and it’s just amazing to see their thought processes, growth, and the amount of love that they have for their parents – unconditional love really.

CBS: How tough was it to give Alex away at her wedding? What advice would you give other fathers facing that momentous day?

CM: “It wasn’t tough; it was one of those moments where you really take everything in. Fortunately for us, she was marrying a good young man that we were excited about and we love. He’s part of our family now. It wasn’t like she was marrying some kid that I didn’t like, but that wouldn’t happen anyway because he would have went on somewhere else!

For other fathers facing that momentous day, it’s going to happen eventually, so I would say to hope and pray for the best. Hope that your daughter finds and falls in love with someone who is going to be good for her. What’s good for her might not be good for you, and, ultimately, we have to accept that it’s not about us; it’s about them. When you pray for their happiness, I think it all works out.”

CBS: How has your household changed since Alex moved out and you now have a house full of boys? What do you like to do together as a family?

CM: “It hasn’t really changed a lot. My daughter still comes over pretty regularly, and our boys are bigger now. It's not a lot of change. It's a little weird not having her around all the time, but she still calls every day!"
