How do you know if your beau is daddy material?

Cupid's Advice:

Being a dad is a big step that some men may not be ready for yet. Cupid has some ways for you to know if your beau is up for the task:

- 1. He wants to be a dad: If he claims he's ready to take on Dad-hood without any prompting then he most likely is. Forcing your guy into saying that he's ready doesn't count!
- 2. Nurturing: When you're sick does your man bring you soup, give you a massage, and help you take care of the things that you can't manage? If the answer is yes then he is probably up for the task of fatherhood.

3. Thinks of the future: Everyone knows babies are expensive. If your guy makes an effort to save up for a house or a baby-safe car then he's looking towards the future and may see a baby on the horizon.

What are some ways to support your partner during childbirth?

Cupid's Advice:

Watching the mother of your child suffer through childbirth is one of the most difficult things you can experience. Just because you can't take her place, however, doesn't mean you can't help. Cupid has some ideas:

1. Stay by her side: As hard as it may be to watch your loved one in pain, resist the urge to leave the room. This is the time when she needs you the most.

2. Hold her hand: In addition to showing support, offering your partner your hand to squeeze during contractions can help ease her pain- just be prepared for her to squeeze tightly and remove all wedding and engagement rings ahead of time.

3. Offer words of encouragement: While they may be vague and generic, phrases like “You can do it” and “I am here for you” are just the sort of thing your partner needs to hear from you as she fights through the pain and exhaustion of birth.

Channing Tatum and Jenna Dewan-Tatum Introduce Baby Everly

By Petra Halbur

Two weeks after the birth of their daughter, Channing Tatum and Jenna Dewan-Tatum debuted their baby girl on Facebook. According to People, Tatum posted a photo of himself holding baby Everly beside his wife with the words, “First Father’s Day with my girls.” Dewan-Tatum described her daughter as “our lil angel” on her own Facebook account. The 32 year-old actress expressed gratitude to her supportive fans via Twitter on June 6. “Thank you, everyone, for all the loving messages! Chan, myself and Everly are happy as can be and appreciate them all.”

What are some ways to introduce your newborn to family and friends?

Cupid’s Advice:

You’re overjoyed to be a new parent but you know that your family and friends are just bursting to get their first glimpse of your little bundle of joy. How best to debut your newborn to the world? Cupid has some ideas:

1. Use social media: Thanks to the internet, you can share photos of your baby with family and friends mere minutes after birth. Be cautious of going overboard, though. As beautiful as your newborn is, flooding your Facebook account with photos of your baby sleeping will get tedious.

2. Skype: Skype is a fantastic option for showing off your little one to relations who live far away. It offers an intimacy that posted photos cannot recreate.

3. Visit in the flesh: Unless there’s an outbreak of cholera or bubonic plague in the area, there’s no reason why you can’t debut your baby in person. Go ahead and introduce your new son or daughter at the house of a friend or relative. This way, everyone gets the chance to hold the baby and say, “hello” in person.

Channing Tatum and Jenna Dewan-Tatum Welcome a Baby!

By Petra Halbur

On May 30, Channing Tatum and Jenna Dewan-Tatum became parents to a baby girl in London. Unfortunately for the couple, there will be very little downtime to enjoy parenthood in the upcoming months as both mother and father will begin filming separate projects in July. "We're going to actually have the baby in London while I'm shooting [Jupiter Ascending] and then there will be no downtime whatsoever after that," Tatum told Ryan Seacrest in a recent interview. However, a source assured UsMagazine.com that Tatum and his wife's highest priority will be their daughter. "The baby will get top billing as far as priorities go," the source said. "Channing is going to be the most adorable, hands-on daddy ever and do whatever is necessary to make sure Jenna can balance it all.”

What are some ways to balance your career and parenthood?

Cupid's Advice:

“A baby changes everything.” If you're expecting, you've probably been told this. Overused though that phrase may be, it is true. As a parent you will have to decide how to balance your career with your child's needs. Cupid is here to help:

1. Consider the longterm: Ask yourself, in 18 years, what will you regret more: the sacrifices made to your career, or the time you missed with your child? There's no right or wrong answer. Be honest with yourself and act accordingly.

2. Know that you can't do everything: So many parents wrack themselves with guilt when they realize they can't be full-time parents and full-time professionals simultaneously. Don't do this to yourself. Accept your limitations. You're not a failure. You're human.

3. Decide what YOU want: Don't let other people tell you what's best for your family. If you decide with your spouse that you want to be a stay-at-home parent or continue with your career, then that's what's best for your family.

What are some little ways to show your partner you care?

Cupid's Advice:

One of the essentials to being in a relationship is to show your partner how much you care about them. There are numerous little ways you can do this with. Bringing home their favorite Thai food for dinner, doing the laundry, taking out the garbage, surprise them with flowers. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Mixed CD: Making a mix CD for your significant other is one of the best ways to show your partner you care. Include "your" song, their favorite songs, songs that have meaning between the two of you, or songs that remind you of your mate. Put the mixed CD in a handcrafted case, and express how much you love them through the descriptions and title.

2. Cook dinner: An easy way to show your partner how much you care for them is to make them a home cooked dinner. Surprise them with a romantic dinner of their favorites. Include a fine wine, appetizers, a full meal, and a dessert. Play the mixed CD you made for them and enjoy a low key dinner for two. Put in that extra effort to create a meal for your mate.

3. Cute texts: Surprise your partner with cute texts throughout the day. Text them in the morning wishing them a great day. Text them goodnight love. Send over a quick text of how much you love and care for them. Text them how you feel about them, and express your emotions through text messages. Your partner will realize how much you care for them by the texts they send over.

From Kanye and Kim to Justin and Jessica: Which Celeb Couples are Really Compatible?

By Stephanie Caramelli

We see them on the red carpet, walking through the airport or taking a stroll on the beach. Celebrity couples are everywhere and we can't get enough of them. Supermarket magazines fly off the shelves when there's a famous couple on the cover.

So how compatible are these celeb couples when there's no paparazzi around? Gary Goldschneider's bestselling book "The Secret Language of Relationships" offers a very revealing look at different relationship combinations. Let's put some of Hollywood's hottest relationships to the Secret Language test:

1. Kim Kardashian and Kanye West: This relationship combo is all about being center stage. It almost always focuses on issues greater than the partners' feelings for each other. Marriage is possible, but this relationship dynamic is more about Kim and Kanye's joint impact on the world, and less about true love.

2. Justin Timberlake and Jessica Biel: One word: boring. Love affairs between these two are affectionate, but rarely passionate. Jessica and Justin's marriage could go for years at a very ho-hum pace. The relationship will be satisfying, but uneventful.

3. Channing Tatum and Jenna Dewan: Channing loves spoiling Jenna and feels like her protector. This combination is good as long as they don't keep secrets from each other. Tatum and Jenna really need to relate on a deep, emotional level for this marriage to work. Overall, though, it's a winning combination and ideal for marriage.

4. Blake Lively and Ryan Reynolds: Sparks definitely fly between Blake and Ryan. Love affairs in this combination are extremely passionate, but there is an emphasis on superficial things that could be destructive in the long run. For these two, the chemistry is great, as long as they don't lose their looks! The combination is most ideal for a love affair.

5. Gwen Stefani and Gavin Rossdale: The relationship between Gwen and Gavin can work, as long as power trips don't get in the way. Love and marriage can fall apart in this combination if one or both of the partners let their ambitions get out of control. Gwen and Gavin are better suited as friends.

What are some ways to make your pregnant partner feel beautiful?

Cupid’s Advice:

Being pregnant is not always alluring, the swollen feet, the added weight, the constant cravings, and common insecurities. It is a partners’ duty to make their wife still feel beautiful even if she doesn’t believe it. You should make sure your beau is aware that they have changed slightly but they are still the same beautiful person:

1. Romantic evenings: When you’re pregnant, you will not go out as much as you used to. You get tired easily, and also, you need sleep to stay healthy. To make your mate feel beautiful, plan a romantic evening at home. Prepare candles, rose petals, her favorite meal, smooth jazz, a bottle of nice wine, and later make a bubble bath. Surprising your spouse with this evening will make her feel special and loved. She will know just how beautiful she really is.

2. Tell her she’s sexy: Words show feelings. Telling your beau how sexy you think they are will make your pregnant partner realize that they are something special. Tell her how incredible you think she is and how they are sexier now than ever before.

3. Comfort: Pregnant tend to have a lot of stress not only on their shoulders, but also their feet. With this being said, they sometimes need to wind down and relax. Give your beau a back or body massage, make them a cup of tea, rub their feet. Prop them up on the couch and put their favorite movie on. Make them feel as comfortable as problem as you both go on this experience together.

Have you helped your pregnant partner feel beautiful? Explain below!

Cupid's Advice:

A pregnancy is usually considered to be a woman's thing. However, as her partner, there are many things you can do to become involved before the baby arrives. Here are a few ways you can support your partner and feel involved:

- 1. Be present: Understand that you can be present during the entire pregnancy by being an active observer. Memorialize every step of the way with photos, keep track of the baby's development, give massages when needed and prepare a hospital route.
- 2. Get healthy too: Since mommy-to-be will need to change her diet to nourish the baby, why not change your diet as well. This means, give up alcohol and any bad-for-baby foods so as not to tempt your partner. Also, take in a little added exercise together.
- 3. Make decisions: With a baby on the way, you and your mate will need to make many decisions, such as buying clothing and baby furniture, whether to breast feed or not, and whether to use disposable diapers or reusable ones. To help out, take the initiative to make some of these decisions for her in order to relieve extra stress.

But sooner or later, questions will be asked and a time frame will need to surface. To help the conversation move into full force, here are a few ideas to think about in deciding when:

Although little to no planning is involved in this way, you and your mate may want to starting preparing once you are pregnant.

2. Pros and Cons: In having trouble deciding when to start a family, it is often helpful for you and your partner to each may a separate list of the pros and cons. Then, you can take turns reading each other's list and talking things out to find the best answer as a couple.

'Magic Mike': A Steamy Summer Flick

By Jessica Smith

Ladies: your dreams have come true. For the price of a movie ticket, you can get a front-row seat for a Channing Tatum striptease. The Hollywood hunk is returning to cinemas in Magic Mike, a film where he plays an extremely successful male stripper who seems to have everything a guy could dream of: women, money and a good time. Even so, he's looking for something more and he may have found it in Paige, played by Cody Horn. It seems like she can't help falling for this fun-loving bad boy, but she doesn't agree with his career choice. As the trailer shows, the two appear to have just the right amount of chemistry to flirtatiously and humorously banter back and forth, which sets flame to a potential romance. But will their differences tear them apart?

Should You See It? This is a film that's going to be as hot as summer itself. You're not going to want to miss your chance to see these sculpted bodies, including Matthew McConaughey and Alex Pettyfer, on the big screen.

Who To Take: The world of male strippers is no place for children, but it does make this a great flick to go see with your girlfriends. You can joke with them about what you would do for the chance to have Tatum strip for you without your partner getting jealous.

Are there aspects of your partner that you have a hard time accepting? Here are some tips to help you love their flaws without changing who they are:

In the movie, Paige has a hard time grasping the thought of dating a male stripper, but Mike tries to convince her that Magic Mike isn't his full-time identity and that there's more to him than stripping. Similarly, it can be easy for us to like someone, but it's more difficult for us to love someone, especially when they have characteristics that we might view as flaws. Here are some ways to settle your differences:

1. Surface the issue: If you don't tell your partner you have an issue, they're not going to know there's a problem. Keeping your concerns secret could create tension in your relationship.

2. Work on the problem: The easiest way to fix most issues is to work on them together as a couple. Doing this will strengthen your relationship. If it doesn't, you can at least know that you're too different to make it work in the long term.

3. Accept their differences: Remember that everyone made their own unique journey to adulthood. Your partner's might be very different from yours, but that doesn't make either wrong. Sometimes, you have to understand where someone has come from in order to accept their characteristics that you believe are negative.

Cupid's Advice:

"First comes love, then comes marriage, then comes the baby in the baby carriage." That's how the saying goes, but how do you know when it's time to have children? Starting a family is the next big step after tying the knot in your relationship. Cupid has some tips:

1. Enjoy each other first: The first few years of your marriage should be just about you and your lover. Take romantic vacations to tropical locations, surprise each other with "just because" gifts and go on spontaneous dates and trips. It's definitely possible to do this with kids, but it may not be as easy.

2. Practice makes perfect: Before having a child, babysit for a family member or a friend to get an idea of what to expect if you haven't been around kids in a long time. For the animal-loving couple, getting a dog wouldn't be a bad choice as this can somewhat prepare you for the future as well.

3. You're both ready: When you communicate to your spouse that you're ready to have children and they agree, then you can anxiously start planning for offspring.

Valentine's Day

By Matthew Dougherty

With Valentine's Day coming up, this movie is sure to be a hit. Rachel McAdams and Channing Tatum star as Paige and Leo, a happily married couple whose lives could change forever after a fateful car accident leaves Paige without the memories of their entire relationship. To make matters worse, Paige believes she is still engaged to her ex, who likes the idea of having her back. Leo must make her fall in love with him all over again.

Should You See It? Don't expect quality cinema here, but it should be a fun way to spend a night at the movies.

Who To Take: Take your mother to this one, or maybe your best friend – someone you know will enjoy the movie as much as you will and enjoy spending time with you. This is probably a bit too sappy to bring a boyfriend to, especially since the same weekend a Star Wars movie is getting re-released in 3D.

Don't want a forgettable relationship? Here are some tips to make memories that neither of you will ever forget.

Cupid's Advice:

In The Vow, all of Paige and Leo's great memories are gone, but Leo is willing to relive them to get her back. In the unlikely chance that this happens to you, you want your boyfriend or husband to do the same thing! Here are some ways to create memories you will want to revisit all the time.

1. Do something different. Typical dates are a lot of fun but there are only so many times you can do dinner and a movie. To mix things up go to an amusement park or take a day trip to somewhere neither of you have been before.

2. Keep it simple. Not every date has to be an extravagant affair. Some of the best memories can be made by doing something you would never think of doing. Stuff like stopping by the local toy store or going to the beach at night are simple, yet different enough to stand out when you think back on them.

3. Chemistry. Memories can be made simply by having great chemistry with your partner. This is where inside jokes come from that you could be joking about in your twilight years. The memories you are making will only be worth it if you have good chemistry.
