What are some ways to keep your relationship under wraps in the beginning stages?

Cupid’s Advice:

You shouldn't have to hide your love, but if Romeo and Juliet have taught us anything, it's that stealth and caution are sometimes necessary. Eventually, you'll move past the "secret lovers" phase. In the meantime, this is how you court someone on the sly:

1. Spend time out of the house: Avoid stay-at-home dates. Movies, or listening to music can be great low-key ways to spend time together, but you'll have to explain away your companion during surprise visits from friends. It's true, you could run into someone out of the house too. Though, if you're careful about your location selection, you should avoid any uproars.

2. Discuss the situation with your partner: Most importantly, your date has to know that you're trying to keep this between the two of you. Otherwise, they'll have no reservations telling their friends and introducing themselves as your significant other. There should be a good reason you don't want to sing your love from the mountain tops, tell your partner why this is a bad time for such an announcement.

3. Don't tell people: It seems like pretty obvious. If you don't want people to know, just don't tell them, right? Easier said than done I'm afraid. It can be strenuously tempting to reveal your hidden flame to a close family member, or friend. Make sure to reflect on the consequences before spilling your guts. Loose lips sink ships.

Chloe Sevigny Says She Isn't Dating Jersey Shore's Pauly D

After they were spotted sitting together courtside at a Knicks-Spurs game, rumors about actress Chloe Sevigny and Jersey Shore's Paul "DJ Pauly D" DelVecchio were an item. When asked by Interview magazine about the possibility of dating Pauly D, the Big Love star called the idea "hilarious," reports People. Sevigny added, "That would be the weirdest couple in the world. It would be like the apocalypse. We represent extremes, in opposite directions. So for us two to come together, it would be a very strange meeting of the minds or colliding of two worlds."

Is it true that opposites attract?

Cupid's Advice:

"You say 'yes,' and I say 'no.' You say 'stop,' and I say, 'go, go, go!'" Can this complicated relationship (courtesy of the Beatles) really work? Cupid has some ideas:

1. People are complex: No two people are completely opposite (or completely alike). When opposites attract, it may just be two people who find that the few things they have in common are more important than their differences.

2. Scientists say no: According to a 2003 study where researchers quizzed 978 heterosexual residents of Ithaca, New York, about what they look for in a partner, the results were clear: The majority look for mates who are similar to themselves.

3. Opposites attract, but do they stay together?: You may be attracted to someone who is different from you because they seem to fill a gap. But it's up to you to make the relationship last.
