By Mara Miller

In the latest celebrity news, celebrity parent Kate Hudson makes co-parenting work with celebrity exes Matt Bellamy and Chris Robinson, according to UsMagazine.com. Hudson, 40, shares her boys Ryder, 15, and Bingham, 7, with Bellamy and Robinson respectively. Bellamy and Hudson see each other a lot due to Bingham, and Robinson comes down from Northern California to visit Ryder. It seems like this celebrity mom has a well-thought-out co-parenting plan with her boys' fathers, and she now has a new baby girl, Rani, with current boyfriend Danny Fujikawa.

These celebrity parents do their best to co-parent their children. What are some things to keep in mind when it comes to co-parenting?

Cupid's Advice:

This celebrity mom has been keeping things civil with her celebrity exes for the sake of her children, and it even seems like they still all have a good time together as a family. Here are a few things to keep in mind when it comes to co-parenting:

1. Keep communication open: You'll need to text, call, or see the other co-parent in person. Keep yourself open to speaking with them and try to maintain a decent relationship even if you aren't together anymore.

2. Plan for holidays and vacations: Always keep each other in the loop on plans for holidays and vacations. If it's summer break and you want to take the kids to the beach and it's your co-parent's time to be with the children, for example, clear the air before you make any reservations.

3. Focus on your child: Focusing on your child(ren) and putting them first before any personal needs are important.

You don't want your kid(s) feeling like they're the reason they caused you and your ex to split, and they don't need to feel any guilt over wanting to spend time with their other parent.

Kate Hudson and Matthew Bellamy Have a Baby Boy

Kate Hudson is a mom for the second time! People reports that the actress and her fiancé Matthew Bellamy welcomed a baby boy on Saturday in Los Angeles. Hudson has a 7 1/2-year-old son, Ryder Russell, with her ex-husband, Chris Robinson. This is Bellamy's first child. The pair has yet to name their newborn son.

What are some differences when raising a boy versus a girl?

Cupid's Advice:

There are many differences between raising a boy and a girl. Girls tend to cling more to their mother while boys are more around their father. You notice these differences as they grow, but here are three that might surprise you:

1. Movements: According to research, girls learn to walk and talk before boys. Once they are past preschool, boys are stronger and better at athletics, while girls excel at school.

2. Emotional: Boys might appear to be less emotional compared to girls, but one study reveals that they are in fact more emotional than their female counterparts.

3. Motor skills: According to Parenting.com, girls learn how to use kitchen utensils, toys, and how to write neatly sooner than a boy does.

Kate Hudson Looks for Love, Not Marriage

Kate Hudson isn't planning another trip down the aisle anytime soon. As the blonde bombshell recently told People, she is looking for love, but not necessarily marriage. Having split from rocker Chris Robinson in 2007, Hudson now has a new rock star in her life in the form of Muse member Matthew Bellamy. Even after her divorce, she refuses to be reluctant to fall in love again. "I'll just see what happens. I think a lot of times people are terrified of love and stop themselves from experiencing it. I don't ever want to get that jaded," said Hudson.

Do love and marriage go hand-in-hand?

Cupid's Advice:

A white wedding is often idealized in society as the way a couple is expected to express their love for one another. The fact is, marriage doesn't necessarily equal love, and love doesn't necessarily equal marriage.

1. Times have changed: Today, many couples are seeking alternatives to marriage. Those who want a modern take on an old tradition are sharing commitment ceremonies, spiritual unions or are simply cohabitating.

2. Outside factors: When it comes to the legal and financial aspects of marriage, walking down the aisle isn't the best choice for everyone. Oprah Winfrey's 20-year relationship with Stedman Graham is a good example. Though the two are deeply in love, marriage is not for them due to their need to protect their wealth and business assets.

3. It's about the couple: Weddings can be beautiful and if that is what you dream of as a couple, go for it. However, the planning and execution of a wedding can end up being so focused on the guest list and the caterer that people forget about the couple and the love they have for one another.
