Only one year after filing for divorce from ex-husband Corey Simms, Leah Messer has tied the knot again. At only 19-years-old, Messer married fiance Jeremy Calvert last week. This time though, Messer is convinced the marriage will last. "We have a really good connection...It's different from Corey and my relationship, because we were kinda like forcing it... Is age a factor when it comes to marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes people get married too young, but how do you know when age is a factor when it comes to marriage? Cupid has some tips:

- 1. Money: Though not always true, the older you are the more likely you are to have established yourself financially. It's important to be able to pull your weight in the relationship.
- 2. Independent: You have to determine if you are at that age where you know who you are as a person outside of a relationship. For some, that age may be 19, but for others it could be 35. If you are happy alone, you can be happy with someone else.
- 3. Divorce: According to studies, the divorce rates are lesser for those who marry later in life. When you marry later in life, you're more like to be stable in all aspects of life which makes for a stable marriage. Ultimately, though, when you know someone's the one, you just know.

What are some things to think about when deciding whether to go back to your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes you have to forget what you want and remember what you deserve. Cupid has some things to consider before going back to an ex:

1. Make a list: Take a stroll down memory lane. Jot down a list of all the good you and your ex had, and then do the same for the bad. Obviously if the bad outweighs the good, you shouldn't want to go back.

2. Talk to them: Get the heaviest things on your chest off of it. Without playing the "Blame Game," tell him or her how you feel about the break-up and see if he or she is on the same

3. Decision time: Put yourself first. How did your ex make you feel? How did he or she treat you? Before you make that choice, do some soul searching. Just because you love him or her, that doesn't necessarily mean that's who you're meant to be with. Stop. Think. Know your worth.

 Just six months after the wedding of Teen Mom stars Leah Messer and Corey Simms, the two are filing for divorce. According to UsMagazine.com, the couple had just decided that everything was moving way too fast, especially considering their ages (16). How do you know when your relationship is over for good?

Cupid's Advice:

The more in love we are, the more we try not to see the flaws in our relationships. But how do you know when it's really time to call it quits? Cupid has some guidelines:

1. Nothing to talk about: If you find yourself scrounging for good conversation with your boyfriend/girlfriend, there may just be nothing left there for the two of you to discuss.

2. Butterflies: Of course every couple has their good and bad days, but if you don't feel in love at least every once in a while, that's a bad sign. If that happy/excited feeling is no longer there, it may be time to reevaluate your relationship.

3. Fighting: It's human nature to disagree with people at times, but if the two of you not getting along is happening more often than not, it may be time to let it go.

Should you write your own vows at your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

Exchanging vows during your wedding is your chance to tell your fiancée how you feel, and writing them yourself is the perfect way to personalize the moment. Cupid has some tips on how to decide if you should write your own vows:

1. Express yourself: If you have something you really want to say to your mate on the big day, write your own vows. It's the perfect opportunity to share your emotions and hopes for the future with your family, friends and spouse-to-be.

2. Value tradition: Some religions will insist that you use certain vows at your wedding. So if you plan on having a traditional ceremony, you might want to stick to the standard verses instead of writing your own.

3. It's your day: The bottom line is, you should do what you want to do. If writing your own vows makes you uncomfortable, don't do it.

Can you regain trust after your partner cheats?

Cupid's Advice:

Probably one of the most difficult things to do is trust once it's been broken. It involves more than just your partner's desire to make things right. Cupid has a few suggestions:

1. Honesty is the best policy: They broke the trust, so now they have to work twice as hard to regain it. The only to do that is to simply be honest ... all the time. Set up a policy of total disclosure between you and your partner.

2. Forgive, but don't forget: If you're serious about making your relationship work again, then you'll have to forgive your partner. Remember that just because they came back, it doesn't mean they won't leave again. So be cautious, especially at first.

3. Find out why: This is something you may not want to hear, but there may be some opportunities for your relationship to grow if you know what drove them away from you in the first place.
