In celebrity news, there may be trouble in paradise for Lala Kent. What are some things to be careful of on social media when it comes to your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Social media is a powerful tool, but it can also cause irreparable damage to a relationship if used unwisely. Cupid has some advice on how to be careful with social media:

1. Beware of screenshots: Screenshots can be taken on both a computer and a phone now without much effort. Choose your words carefully when sending a text message. Sometimes it is better to have a phone conversation to settle differences with your partner or friend if there is a disagreement. Do not say something that can be used against you later.

2. Not EVERYTHING has to go public: Keeping parts of your relationship between you and your partner will benefit your relationship more than you think. Sometimes we get excited about gifts and can't wait to share it because your partner was so thoughtful. This can cause jealousy. It's better to keep it to yourself unless it's a big milestone like the decision to buy a house together, or an engagement or baby announcement.

3. Consider your partner's feelings: How do they feel about a post before you post it? You should ask your partner before you share anything because what you might not feel is private may be something they would never post. Communication is key to making a relationship work and you cannot communicate efficiently if you can't even agree with what is appropriate to post online.
