

Rob Kardashian Says He Doesn't Want a Girlfriend for Christmas

Sorry, girls! Rob Kardashian is flying solo this holiday season. “I mean, I want a girlfriend. I’ve been single for a while, but I’m 24 years old and I feel like I have a lot of work to do on myself first and that’s really what I’ve been focusing on. I’m focusing on my health and getting into shape and my career,” he tells People. What does Kardashian want exactly? Just time together with his family. The whole Kardashian crew spends Christmas Armenian style and, of course, together as a family. Kris Jenner gives out pjs every year for the whole crew, and they all sleep at the house, get up at about 6 a.m. and celebrate together. “My mom also throws an awesome Christmas party every year and at the end of the party – once everyone leaves – we all sit by the fire and talk as a family.”

What if the man you like doesn't want to settle down?

Cupid's Advice:

So what do you do when you're ready to pick a wedding date, but your significant other doesn't even want to live with you yet? It's difficult, but it might be time to move on:

1. Talk about why he doesn't want to settle down: Maybe there is an underlying factor that is scaring your man from committing fully. It could be some pressure you place on him, or it could have to do with how his own family worked out. Either way, talk to him and try to understand on his level.

2. See if you can make any compromises: Could it be possible you are too controlling for his liking? If your man is nervous about living with you because of such issues, make compromises. You won't wake him up or 6 a.m. yoga on Saturdays if he will put the toilet seat down. Talking about issues like that might make your man excited about the whole idea, instead of trying to run from it.

3. Consider moving on: If all else fails and your man still doesn't want to settle down, you might have to find a new man. We all hate to hear this, but you and your lover have to want the same thing for your relationship to succeed. There is sure to be someone out there who wants what you want.

Khloe Kardashian Says Sister Kourtney Will Be a 'Pro' at Raising Another Child

The tabloids are exploding, as Kourtney Kardashian and longtime boyfriend Scott Disick are expecting their second child. According to People, her sister, Khloe Kardashian is overjoyed that Mason is going to be a big brother. "I can't wait to see her with a kid in each arm," said Khloe. "She'll be a pro. LOL. And if this next baby is anything like Mason, then we will truly be the luckiest family in the world."

How do you prepare for raising two children instead of just one?

Cupid's Advice:

Building your family is both exciting and scary. The best thing you can do is to be prepared and get your current child ready for the addition:

- 1. Expand your nest: It may be time to turn that two-bedroom into a three. Whether that means moving or adding on to your current home, it's time to make the necessary arrangements.
- 2. Talk to your child: Prepare your first child for the new addition to the family. Tell them what to expect and get them excited about being a big brother or sister.
- 3. Get rest: It's hard enough to get rest when you only have one child, but it's twice as hard when you have two. Stock up on sleep!

Kourtney Kardashian Announces She's Pregnant

Keeping up with the Kardashians just got a little more interesting as Kourtney recently announced that she and her boyfriend of five years, Scott Disick, are expecting their second child. Kardashian took a pregnancy test about five weeks ago and didn't hesitate to wake Disick with the positive results. "Now I'm nine weeks along," she told UsMagazine. "You're supposed to wait 12 weeks to tell people, but I feel confident." The couple's first son, Mason, almost 2 now, came as a surprise, but this pregnancy had more planning involved. "It wasn't like we weren't trying," Disick said. "We kind of just said, 'If it's meant to be, it'll be.'"

Why do women wait 12 weeks before announcing their pregnancy?

Cupid's Advice:

1. Risks: The first 12-16 weeks are the most dangerous for the possibility of a miscarriage. Don't risk making the announcement too soon, and shortly after having to explain that you're no longer pregnant.

2. Emotions: You're going to feel a lot of different emotions upon finding out you're going to be a mother, so it's important that you take time to sort out your feelings.

3. Time to settle: You and your partner are going to want time to yourselves so you can agree on important concerns that come along with having a baby. This way you'll be more prepared to face the bombardment of questions from friends and family.

Angelina Jolie Says She'll Never Be As Good as Her Mother

Hollywood mama, Angelina Jolie, reminisced about her mother in an interview with 60 minutes. Jolie said that her mom, Marcheline Bertrand, was a generous, loving person that did everything for her children. Sound familiar? It seems Jolie is trying to walk in Bertrand's footsteps since her death in 2007. Jolie adopted three children, gave birth to three more children with Brad Pitt, and is a humanitarian activist. According to UsMagazine the actress was as modest as ever and said that she could never be as good as her mother.

How do you know what traits to carry over from your own mother?

Cupid's Advice:

We all worry that one day we might turn into our mothers, but that may not be such a bad thing. Mothers wear many hats and the most important one may be that of a role model. Here are some ways to think about and carry on traits that your mother has/had:

1. Childhood: Think about the morals your mother installed in you as a child. As you mature, those morals usually lead you to make decisions in your adult life. Carry on those morals that your mother valued.

2. Role model: Do you remember watching your mother and wanting to be just like her? Try to remember why you wanted to be your mom's little me. Was she loving, funny or strong willed?

3. Memories: If your mother is deceased, remember what made her special. Why did she mean so much to you and to others? You may not become just like her, but taking on some of her traits will help you keep her memory alive.

While on stage, the mom to be said she was thinking, "Everyone knows, everyone can see." Beyonce, we speak for all your fans when we say: We had no idea!

How do you keep your pregnancy a secret at the beginning?

Cupid's Advice:

Finding the right time to tell everyone about your pregnancy can be difficult. Many women wait until they have gotten past the first trimester and others blurt it out as soon as they find out. But just in case you were thinking about holding your tongue, Cupid has some tips:

1. Keep the changes to yourself: You may start to feel extra bloated and moody. Keep those feelings at bay and don't speak to others about it. People will start to get suspicious. Play it cool.

2. Try not to shop: Baby clothes are so cute, and it's hard to say "no" once you know that you're expecting. Be strong, and don't let a trail of baby clothes give you away.

3. Tell one person: It's hard to keep such a big secret. Tell one person that you trust, and ask them not to tell. Getting it off your chest will keep you from being stressed.

What are some ways to bond with an adopted child?

Cupid's Advice:

When you adopt a child, bonding can be difficult. Here are some tips for you and your child to become comfortable with each other. Bonding takes time, but with love, it will happen sooner than later:

1. Teach and learn: If your child is from a different background than you, take time to explore their culture together. A trip to a museum, library, or restaurant when they're older will bring you closer.

2. Interact with your baby: You are not the child's biological parent, so eye contact during feedings are important to your baby getting to know you and creating a bond stronger than any biological relationship. Try a baby massage class to learn the value of touch.

3. Interact with your older child: Older children take a little more time to bond with, but the techniques are the same. Love, conversation, eye contact, touch and honesty will do the trick. Remember that growing close takes time.

Rumor: Britney Spears Could Be Engaged After Her Tour Ends

Apparently three times really may be the charm in this case.

Britney Spears may be walking down the aisle with her boyfriend and manager, Jason Trawick. Rumor has it that when Spears wraps up her Femme Fatale tour, Trawick will finally pop the big question after years of dating. According to RadarOnline, Spears is under a conservatorship, which simply means her father is in charge of her financial assets and well being. If Spears decides to get married, her father's lawyer will have to sign off on the union. Spear's family and two sons, Sean Preston and Jayden James, love Trawick and can't wait for him to join the family.

How do you know when to pop the question?

Cupid's Advice:

Proposing can be nerve racking, no matter how long you've been dating your partner. Fear of rejection and long time commitment can put an engagement on hold. Here are some ways to know you're ready:

1. Family: If your family is crazy about your partner, then he or she is likely a keeper. Do either of you have children? If you have already begun to raise kids as a team, it might be time to make it official.

2. You find yourself looking at rings: Talking about marriage and kids is one thing, but actually window shopping or surfing the net for a ring may mean that your ready to take the next step in your relationship.

3. Commitment: An engagement means a commitment to each other, and the ring lets other men and women know that your partner is happily taken. Some couples decide to stay engaged and forget marriage, while others enjoy a long engagement before sealing the deal. Whatever you and your partner choose, if you're in love and ready to make a commitment, its time to pop the question.

David and Victoria Beckham Get Cozy at Kid's Soccer Game

What's one of the reasons we love the Beckhams? They are family-oriented and are not afraid to be affectionate in public. RadarOnline reported that the two were hugging and laughing while at their son's soccer game. When soccer star dad, David Beckham, wasn't taking proud pictures and Victoria wasn't giving baby Harper her undivided attention, the couple made sure to sneak in plenty of intimate moments.

What are some ways to keep the romance alive after you have kids?

Cupid's Advice:

1. Body contact: Intimacy is the key to keeping the flame between you and your partner lite. Hugging, holding hands, and rubbing his/her arm shows that you care and are sexually attracted to your partner, in a G rated kind of way.

2. Date night: Going out on a date once a week can be difficult when you have kids, but staying in can really be romantic. Turn your dining room into a restaurant or your bedroom into a spa for you and you partner to relax and enjoy each other.

3. Be thoughtful: Give your partner a gift, but have the kids be a part of it. Want to give her roses? Let the little ones pick it out, this way romance isn't lost and neither is time spent with the kids.

Following the birth of pre-mature Josie, Michelle Duggar has been taking extreme precautions with this latest pregnancy. "I have been getting counseled from a high-risk pregnancy doctor in Little Rock and taking good care of myself," she tells People. Despite the media's shock, the couple is excited to welcome their 20th child. "We know that having this kids isn't for everyone, but we are open to receive whatever gifts God wants us to have." Guess we'll see how this pregnancy pans out on the next season of 19 (or 20?) Kids and Counting.

How do you know how many kids will work best for you?

Cupid's Advice:

It's important to discuss with your partner how many kids you're interested in having before starting a family. As your relationship progresses along with work and other things, you'll know how many children you can handle:

1. Babysit: Of course one of the best ways to see how many children you'd want to have is to babysit. Offer to help out with a friend's kids for a weekend just to get some insight into the ups and down of raising a family.

2. Know: Know how many kids you and your partner want before having children. Kids need constant attention, so you need to be able to provide financial and emotional support for them.

3. Decide if you're ready: A lot of couples plan for a specific time in their relationship to have children for different reasons. Talk to your significant other and see if you're even ready at this moment in time for kids.

Alanis Morissette Says She Was Unprepared for Motherhood

Alanis Morissette recently opened up about postpartum and not being prepared for the birth of her 10-month-old son, Ever Imre, with husband Souleye. The singer, who wrote a blog for iVillage.com, said she worried about labor and delivery instead of mentally preparing to become a mother. According to UsMagazine.com, Morissette said she felt like there was no handbook to guide her in raising her son and being a first time mother.

How do you prepare yourself for motherhood?

Cupid's Advice:

1. Talk to the experts: Go beyond getting a pediatrician's advice or reading those expensive baby books, and talk to actual mothers. Don't know any? Try becoming a member of mommy forums online and/or play groups.

2. Talk to your baby: Talking to your baby while they are still in the womb helps build a bond. Once the baby arrives, you will feel more intuned with your child and your role as a mom.

3. Come to terms with not being prepared: We could write a thousand steps on preparing for motherhood, but the truth is that motherhood is taught through experiences. Making mistakes makes you human, and teaching your child how to not make the same mistakes you do, makes you a mother.

If you think you may have postpartum or need someone to talk to, don't be embarrassed, talk to your doctor.

Justin Bieber Denies Fathering a Baby

Baby, baby, baby noooo way! Justin Bieber recently became the father of his new puppy, Baylor, with girlfriend, singer and actress Selena Gomez, but he denies all accusations that he fathered the (human) child of Mariah Yeater. The 20-year-old Californian told STAR magazine that she and Bieber, 17, had sex backstage at a show in L.A. She gave birth to her son three months ago, and has filed a paternity lawsuit against the young pop sensation. A rep for Bieber told UsMagazine.com, "While we haven't yet seen the lawsuit, it's sad that someone would fabricate, malicious, defamatory AND demonstrably false claims. We will vigorously pursue all available legal remedies to defend and protect Justin against these allegations."

How do you handle others' claims that your partner is cheating?

Cupid's Advice:

Hearing that your partner is cheating on you is humiliating and infuriating. If you're told your partner's been sneaking around, here's some ways to react:

1. Get the facts: Don't believe everything you hear without finding out exactly what people are saying, and who's saying it. Rumors get twisted, but they have to start somewhere. Get your facts and your sources straightened out, and then proceed to deal with the situation.

2. Confront the source: If someone tells you that your partner is cheating, turn around and directly ask your significant other. It might be difficult, but usually that fear comes because we're afraid of their answer. Make sure that you don't back down too easily if they try to persuade you otherwise. They've lost your trust, and they need to win it back by proving themselves.

3. Don't act irrationally: Just because you hear that your partner has cheated, that doesn't mean you should try to even the score by cheating on them. All previous trust within the relationship will vanish, and repair may be impossible, especially if your partner ends up being innocent. Wait until you're positive your partner is cheating, and then handle the situation maturely, whether that's breaking up or choosing to work things out.

Pink and Carey Hart Enjoy Tacos with Daughter Willow

Pink and husband Carey Hart found a way to have a date night and spend quality time with their daughter Willow at the same time: family date night! According to People Pink and Hart went to Dos Camino's in New York, where the singer is filming a movie, to enjoy tacos and beer while at the same time doting on their tiny daughter.

What are some ways to include your children in date night?

Cupid's Advice:

If you have children, it can be difficult to balance time with your spouse and time with your children. Here are some ways to spend time with both:

1. Go somewhere kid-friendly: Children aren't always going to flourish in certain environments, especially if they're younger. If you have a young child, a romantic movie and an expensive dinner aren't exactly fun for them. An ice cream date at the par, or a nice taco dinner like Pink and Carey Hart would be perfect.

2. Relive your childhood: Just because a place may seem more typical for a child to enjoy doesn't mean it's only for them. Places like amusement parks or miniature golf courses can be fun for both children and adults.

3. Keep it simple: There's no rule saying that date night has to be complicated or away from home. Plan a dinner date at home by having the kids eat earlier and then arranging for take-out. You can also let the kids suggest a date, as they'll get a kick out of it, and you'll be sure to have no complaints from them later.

Movie Review: 'Jack and Jill' is Full of Family Fun

Adam Sandler is at it again! The comedic genius and actor has come out with a Thanksgiving family fun movie, Jack and Jill. Sandler follows in the footsteps of Eddie Murphy by playing both the parts of Jack Sadelstein and his identical twin sister, Jill. Jack dreads when his needy sister, Jill, visits his family every Thanksgiving, because she always seems to ruin everything. Jack's wife (Katie Holmes) and kids, must deal with the sibling bickering. If Sandler can pull off Eddie Murphy's The Nutty Professor routine, Jack and Jill will have you laughing from start to finish.

How do you handle your partner's family feuds?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating someone means datng their family-espically during the holidays. It can be hard to know your place when your partner and his family feud over the dinner party. Here's how to be supportive of your partner without disrespecting his family:

1. Don't jump in: Your partner will tell you if they need to tag you in on a family fight. Keep your thoughts to yourself, unless you're asked to share them.

2. If asked, keep it neutral: When put in the middle of a feud, state facts that will make both sides happy. Never pick a side.

3. Don't play dumb: If you get in the middle, don't walk away without attempting to help diffuse the situation. It may seem like minding your own business is a good idea, but your partner may lose faith in you, and his family may abandon their respect for you.

Obviously things will supersede music.”

What are some ways to attract a family man?

Cupid’s Advice:

If you want children, most likely you’ll want your partner to be a family man. Here are some ways to find one:

1. Be wholesome: You don’t have to be completely conservative, but no family man is looking for a party girl. Work on being mature and handling situations in an adult way.

2. Financial stability: Being in control of your finances will attract the type of partner who is looking to start a family. Work hard at your job, and establish a professional reputation.

3. Find a new hangout: Not finding a family man where you usually hang out? Switch it up. Perhaps give up the bar scene and start attending some community events.

James Van Der Beek and Wife Are Expecting Second Child

James Van Der Beek has recently announced that his wife,

Kimberly, is pregnant with their second child, People reports. “Just when we thought we couldn’t feel any more blessed, it seems the universe has plans to give our daughter [Olivia, 13 months] a sibling,” the actor announced on Twitter. The former Dawson’s Creek star and his wife had their first child, Olivia, in Sept. 2010.

How do you prepare differently for a second child?

Cupid’s Advice:

When you’re expecting your second child, you’ll have experience and knowledge on what to expect. However, there are a few things you have to prepare differently for when the newborn arrives. Cupid has some tips:

- 1. Organize: Having to take care of two kids instead of one can be overwhelming. Your regular schedule, which includes sleeping, will change, so be prepared to create a new one.
- 2. Adjust: Your first child will no longer be the only child. Explain to him or her what a great role they will now have as the oldest sibling, in order to prevent jealousy or resentment towards the newborn.
- 3. Responsibilities: Your responsibilities will increase when the new baby arrives. Make sure to decide ahead of time where your son or daughter will be sleeping, and have clothes and accessories ready.

Javier Bardem took a break from shooting his new film, Venuto Al Mundo, with a family lunch outgoing with wife Penelope Cruz and their son. Smiles and lots of love were on the lunch menu. UsMagazine.com captured the parents enjoying the meal as well as the company of their 10 month old child, Leo. About being a parent, Cruz told Vogue in June, "From the first second, you feel so much love. It is a revolutionary experience. That's the best way I can describe it. It transforms you completely, in a second. Nature is very wise and gives you nine months to prepare, but in that moment, when you see that face, you are transformed forever."

How can you involve your child in a romantic date?

Cupid's Advice:

A date with your partner can lose its romance when the kids have to tag along. Find out how to keep the vibe going with subtle actions:

- 1. Communicate: Even if your child is present, make sure to speak to still incorporate adult conversation as well.
- 2. Touch: Just taps on the hand or rubs on the back throughout the date can keep things intimate.
- 3. Share dessert: Share a sweet treat while the kids make their own mess at the other end of the table.

Tori Spelling Gives Birth to Third Child

On Monday, Tori Spelling gave birth to her third child, naming her Hattie Margaret McDermott, RadarOnline reports. “Our family is so happy to announce tht 10/10/11 R baby girl Hattie Margaret McDermott was born at 7:08 a.m. She’s amazing!,” Spelling tweeted. Her husband, Dean McDermott, also tweeted, “T & I welcomed Hattie Margaret McDermott to the world yesterday morning. She’s Gorgeous!!”

How does the dynamic change when you add a third child to the mix of your family?

Cupid’s Advice:

Raising a family can be tough, especially when you’ve just had your third child. Here are some changes you’ll experience:

1. More chores: Having three children means there will be more things to work on: cleaning, feeding and even shopping for them.

2. Find time: When a new child joins the family, they get most of the attention. Make sure to also find time for your two older children.

3. Creating alliances: You'll experience jealousy and tantrums among the children and will find yourself trying to encourage an alliance between all three.

Kim Kardashian Says She'll Start Thinking About Having Kids in a Year

Happy newlyweds Kim Kardashian and Kris Humphries are thinking about having babies in a year, according to People. Kardashian told Ryan Seacrest on his radio show that children are in the couple's future once they settle down in a particular location. Kardashian says that when Humphries figures out for what team he will be playing, they'll get to working on expanding their family.

What are the benefits of waiting to have kids after you get married?

Cupid's Advice:

Being a newlywed comes with a lot of new responsibilities. Before adding raising a child to your list, it's important to spend time together as a couple:

- 1. Getting to know your better half: Everyone takes on a new personality once you live with them. For most newlyweds, living together might be a new step and getting used to your partner's habits will take some time.
- 2. Save: Waiting on a baby helps the two of you to save for the expense of having children. A lot of couples divorce because of money, so don't be the statistic.
- 3. Grow together: Waiting on having a child means that you can both accomplish career goals and other aspirations together before bringing a baby in the mix.

Kim Kardashian Talks Babies with Kris Humphries

It looks like Kim Kardashian is being confronted with the baby question yet again post-marriage to NBA player Kris Humphries.

In fact, E! News got an exclusive interview with the diva and her man after they appeared on the Tonight Show together.

Although rumors have been surfacing that speculate about a possible pregnancy, Kardashian insists they simply aren't true, according to HollyScoop. "I think we would wait like a year before we really start trying to have kids," said the reality star. "I think we want to figure out where he is gonna play and figure out like his career and like if we have to pack up and move somewhere, like the Midwest. Who knows?"

Despite their uncertain plan, they do know one thing, and it involves having "lots of kids."

What role does your career play when you're deciding whether to have kids?

Cupid's Advice:

Many factors in life determine whether you're ready to have children, and your career is a pretty big one. Here are some things to consider:

1. Hours: If your job is demanding and you're rarely home long enough to scarf down some food and get a few hours sleep, you may not be prepared to have a child unless you can tone down your career.

2. Position: Make sure your career pays well enough to support a family. Babies cost money ... for at least 18 years of your life. You also need to decide whether one of you is going to be able to stay home with the new child or whether you're going to need to consider daycare.

3. Maternity leave: It may seem obvious, but it's important to research your company's policies on maternity (and paternity) leave for when the baby comes. If your job doesn't allow for such things, it's definitely a factor to consider.

Anna Faris and Chris Pratt Say They Want a Family

Though What's Your Number? actress Anna Faris and actor husband Chris Pratt are focusing on their careers right now, the two are eager to have children in the future, reports People. "We want a family for sure," said Faris. "Chris wants a big family. We would love to have kids someday." However, the couple agrees that their plans for children will have to be put on hold. "It's timing," said Faris. "It's so hard in this industry."

How do you know when the time is right to have kids?

Cupid's Advice:

Deciding when to have kids is a life-altering choice. Here are a few things to consider before starting a family:

1. Finances: Raising children is becoming more and more expensive. Though your child may not be too much of a financial burden at first, in a matter of years you'll be paying for things like your child's college tuition. Be sure that you and your partner have stable salaries before settling down.

2. Your goals: Though kids make your life happier, they can also limit you. It is difficult to travel the world while caring for a baby. Make sure that you have experienced what you want to experience before starting a family.

3. Outside pressure: With advancements in technology, women can have children later and later in life. Don't let your biological clock or your friends pressure you into having children. The option will most likely remain open for quite a while.

She said she treats her husband's two sons like they are her own, according to UsMagazine.com. After reassuring the public that she doesn't want to take the place of the kids' mother, Rimes wrote that she hopes Glanville will remarry so that they can all be one big happy blended family.

What are some ways to bond with your partner's children?

Cupid's Advice:

Marrying someone who has children from a previous relationship can be intimidating. After you've established your role in your new family, try to get to know the children and vice versa. It may take some time, but it'll be worth it.

1. Establish your role: Let the children know your role in their family. It's easy to cross the line from parent to friend, but make sure you pick a definitive side.

2. Make them feel comfortable: Less is more. Try not to engage in every activity they are involved in. Start by showing interest in what they like and slowly progress into asking to join them in an activity.

3. Give them something new: Don't try to take over their biological parent's spot in their lives. Make them love you for something different. Be yourself, and everything will fall in place.

How do you know when you've put your career ahead of family?

Cupid's Advice:

Although this is difficult to determine because each person's situation is different, here are some ways to determine whether work is taking over your life:

1. Necessity: It's one thing if you're bringing in all of the income for your family and it's another thing if you don't necessarily need to be away from them. Try to keep a balance if at all possible.

2. Kids are suffering: Should you choose to focus on your career and less on your partner or family, you need to make sure your kids will be well taken care of; if not, you need to tone the work down a notch.

3. Future repercussions: It's not always a question of what you love more (family or career), but often a question of your emotional attachment. Decide which you would miss more if you were to give it up.

Megan Fox Explains Why She's Waiting to Have Children

Megan Fox definitely wants to start a family ... just not right now, according to UsMagazine. The 25-year-old actress who co-parents her husband Brian Austin Green's 9-year-old son said, "I absolutely want biological children. I've always wanted kids. It's just about the timing." She explained that they are waiting to be financially stable before starting a family. "I have it in my mind about what amount of money I want in the bank so that I can protect that child's future, and really protect it, so that kid never struggles," she said. "Once I feel safe with that, then I'll have kids."

What are some preparations to make before you have kids?

Cupid's Advice:

When deciding to start a family, there are many things to consider and for which to prepare. Here are three of them:

1. Financially stable: In order to support a child, make sure you are doing financially well. If you don't have a good enough job, attempt to get a new one. If you need more time to save, take those weeks or years you need.

2. Shelter: It's important to live in a safe environment where you can raise your child. If you're currently living in the middle of a sitting in a loft apartment and you don't feel that's the type of atmosphere in which you want to raise a child, wait until you're somewhere you feel your family life is meant to be.

3. Ready: Make sure you and your spouse are ready to start a family and take care of all the responsibilities that come with it. If you have doubt, don't go through with having kids quite yet.

How do you make life normal for kids after a divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes when a divorce is sparked by big differences and involves a lot of bitterness, it can be tough to make life normal for your kids during the process. Cupid has some tips:

1. Establish a routine: One of the best things you can do during your split is to keep a routine for your children. If things are always up in the air and unstable, it'll make them uneasy. Keeping a consistent schedule is reassuring.

2. Be civil to your ex: No matter how bitter your breakup may be, suck it all in while in the presence of your children. It's important to portray a united front no matter the circumstances.

3. Keep your differences quiet: Your child's life won't be normal if he or she has to decide which side of an argument to believe. Keep your fights and disagreements behind closed doors so that your children't aren't forced to pick favorites.
