This celebrity couple isn't letting the Super Bowl loss affect their relationship. What are some ways to keep negative life events from putting a damper on your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

It happens. When we are involved in negative circumstances, we tend to misplace our emotions and take out our frustrations on our significant other at times, which isn't okay. Cupid has some advice on how to get around it:

1. Remember what you're mad at: Breathe and think. It's easier said than done, but it works. When we become angry, we can lose sight of what or who we're really mad at, which can lead us to take it all out on those closest to us, like your lover. When surrounded by negativity, clear your head by taking about 10 deep breaths – in and out. Then remember that you're not mad at your partner, and that they deserve your fairness and respect.

2. Do something with your significant other: It will help take the edge off. When you create a happy place with them, then outside negativity should not be able to reach you there. Also, building positive memories is always a good thing! Be sure to remain mindful of the energy you give out in your happy place because if you're being negative, then what's the point?

3. Blow off steam: Chill with your friends. Sometimes when surrounded by the bad, we need to kick back and have some time with our friends. We sometimes also need space from our partners, so this works for both. Don't let bad energy or vibes bring you down, go and have a good time!

Bridget Moynahan Celebrates Tom Brady's Suspension Toss Amid Gisele Bundchen Celebrity Marriage Issues

By Katie Gray

NFL pro Tom Brady and supermodel celebrity wife Gisele

Bundchen have reportedly hit a rough patch in their celebrity marriage. According to UsMagazine.com, “Their spats have become so heated that Bundchen recently consulted with a divorce lawyer, says a Brady insider. ‘Tom thinks it’s only a threat,’” says the insider. ‘But this is definitely a rough patch.’” In addition, a federal judge tossed Brady’s four-game suspension saying that NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell didn’t have the right to punish Brady, the Super Bowl MVP. One person very happy about that announcement was Brady’s celebrity ex, Bridget Moynahan. She posted on Twitter, saying, “Yippee! I can go back to private texts and enjoying the game congrats #TB and @Patriots #letsmoveon.”

Even celebrity marriages encounter issues. What are some ways to identify the issues you’re having in your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

If you’re having issues, it’s not always easy to identify them. You may be tempted to ignore them and move forward without facing them. Cupid has some relationship advice:

1. Awareness: The key to identifying and resolving issues in a relationship and love is by being aware of them. If you are always arguing with your partner, raising your voice, avoiding them and find yourself frequently irritated, then there are obviously issues. The first step is to be aware of these things and then work on them immediately.

2. Communicate: You cannot resolve any of the issues in your relationship without communicating with your partner. The best way to effectively communicate is by speaking from the heart, listening, being understanding and saying your point without being passive aggressive.

3. Work it out: If you never change your routine and actions, you will never gain different results. To get the outcome you hope for and to resolve issues, work on these problems with your partner. If you have a tendency of yelling at one another, go to a public place to discuss things where you will each be forced to keep your voices down because you won't want to get embarrassed.

Cupid's Advice:

With celebrity divorce appearing to be on the rise, it's not looking great for the world of love. Every couple goes through fights and arguments, but it's important to know when to say enough is enough. Here are some signs that you might need to end the marriage:

1. No effort is made to try and change: Every relationship take work, especially marriages. If you're constantly having problems, such as arguments or not spending any time together, those problems need to be solved. However, if only one is trying or no one is trying to solve the problems, it might be time to call it quits.

3. There are no compromises with what the other wants and needs: The wants and needs of someone goes unmet. Someone isn't listening to wants or needs – be it extra help around the house or affection – someone isn't delivering.

Best Celebrity-Inspired Halloween Candy Choices

By Jessica DeRubbo and Molly Jacob

Each year, October 31st brings with it a chance to carve the face of KISS frontman Gene Simmons in your pumpkin, dress up as a sexy version of Jasmine from Aladdin, dance to the “Monster Mash” at a masquerade with your honey and, most importantly, stuff your face with as much sugary goodness as you can possibly muster. Even though you’ll most likely be clutching your aching stomach the next morning, Halloween and candy are inseparable, because you simply can’t have one without the other.

Hollywood isn’t innocent either when it comes to indulging in candy on All Hallows’ Eve. Celebrities may stay in shape thanks to strict diets, but everyone has been known to splurge once in a while. In fact, places like Dylan’s Candy in New York City honor those celebrity sugar binges by dedicating a whole wall of treats to all of their favorites. Here are five candies that have been officially endorsed (at least verbally) by some of your favorite Tinseltown hotshots:

1. Reese’s Peanut Butter Cups: Neil Patrick Harris has a sweet tooth along with his funny bone. The “Gone Girl” star told Entertainment Weekly that the peanut buttery sweet is his favorite movie theater snack. “They are like the crack cocaine of the candy world,” said Harris.

2. Hi-Chews: Ryan Gosling, according to an interview with Esquire, has a candy obsession and “speaks of it the way rich men discuss wine.” While Gosling loves many forms of goodies (excluding anything chocolate), he is particularly partial to Hi-Chews. “It’s the candy that never quits on you,” says Gosling.

3. Swedish Fish: While Justin Bieber is known for his love of Sour Patch Kids, the superstar has had a change of heart. Bieber told the Montreal Gazette that he is done with his addiction. According to Bieber, his fans kept bringing him the candy to his shows, “so I kept eating them and now, if I eat another Sour Patch Kid, I’m probably going to just throw up.” He now sticks to Swedish Fish when he’s in the U.S. and Big Foot gummies when he's in Canada.

4. Sugar Daddies: Khloe Kardashian favors Sugar Daddies, according to Wonderwall, and the reason behind it only partly has to do with its taste. She says the hard candy reminds her of her dad because he loved Sugar Daddies. "I just love anything bad for you. Anything bad is good," says Kardashian.

5. UNREAL Candy: Not every celebrity's sweet tooth has to be unhealthy. According to Yahoo!, celebrities such as Tom Brady, Giselle Bundchen, Twitter founder Jack Dorsey and Leonardo DiCaprio are endorsing this "junk-free" brand, which offers alternatives to traditional treats. In a statement DiCaprio said, "By working together to better understand the health of both people and the environment, we can produce healthier food that will benefit large populations of people while minimizing our impact on the planet."

Whether you prefer sweet, sour or chocolaty varieties of candy in your trick-or-treat sack, and whether you're an accountant or a movie star, sugary treats have always been a staple on Halloween.
