Cupid's Advice:

How do you bond with your baby if you didn't carry him/her?

Carrying a baby for nine months is a bonding experience that many mothers who use a gestational carrier miss out on. Check out some alternative ways to bond with your newborn:

- 1. The power of touch: After bath time, gently massage your new addition with baby oil. You can even look up some baby and parent massage classes that are dedicated to bonding.

2. Tummy time: Tummy time is important for your little one's muscle strength and it's a great way for you to have face-to-face contact with your newborn.

3. Swaddle: Swaddling reminds your baby of his/her time spent in the womb. It is extremely calming and can be easily recreated with a blanket.

Guiliana Rancic and Husband Continue IVF to Have Baby

Giuliana and Bill

Rancic are not giving up! After two failed attempts, the couple have decided to give in-vitro fertilization another try. The E! News host and her husband miscarried after their second try of IVF. Devastated, they decided to put aside starting a family for a short while and focus on themselves and their relationship. Currently in the middle of their third IVF treatment, the reality star couple are optimistic, despite Guilian's recent breast cancer setback. The two are not opposed to other options such as adoption or surrogacy, however they are desperate to get pregnant. The Italian beauty tells UsMagazine.com, "If [our doctor says] after this cycle, 'I don't think this is going to happen for you naturally. You're going to have to look at more options than we will.'"

How do you decide if adoption is right for you and your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Adoption is something that should be deeply discussed. It can be a long and stressful process for which some couples are not ready. Make sure you and your partner have considered it from all angles:

1. Consider the pros and cons: Making a list of positives and negatives with your partner can help to solidify that adoption is right for you as a couple.

2. Others who have adopted: It may be a huge help to get advice from someone you know who has actually been through the adoption process and have them tell you their story.

3. Discuss with family: Family knows you best and can give good advice. It's probably best to discuss with only those to whom you're closest.

Nivea Enlists Help of Rancic Couple to Host New Year's Eve

TV personalities

Bill and Giuliana Rancic will be ringing in the new year on top of the Nivea Kiss platform in Times Square. The celebrity couple also helped Beiersdorf's Nivea beauty brand launch the "Kiss the One You Love Contest" on Facebook, which invites couples to share their love stories for a chance to win a trip to New York City to join the Rancics for Nivea's third annual celebration. This year, no lip will be left unattended, as Nivea will touch the lips of many people with "A Kiss of Smoothness."

Should celebrities tie their images to a product?

Cupid's Advice:

Celebrities have been known to endorse many a product and all sorts of national and international causes. The question is, should they? Cupid has some thoughts:

1. They support a cause: If you're going to be famous, you might as well utilize your notoriety for a worthy cause. For instance, David Good is giving part of the proceeds from his recently released book to cancer research. Consider buying products which have been endorsed by celebrities for more than personal gain.

2. They believe in products: There are so many different products on the market today that it's sometimes impossible for us to know which brands to trust. Those in the public eye have the chance to support products in which they really put faith. If you respect a celebrity, the products they endorse might be just what you need.

3. They want money: Of course there are those in the limelight who are simply in it for the green stuff. Be careful about which celebrities you blindly follow.
