

Relationship Advice: 7 Reasons Why People Love Speed Dating

Dating. Finding your match. Meeting the one. To some it sounds exciting. To others, it's fright-inducing. The good news is that there are more ways than ever to meet that perfect someone. Which is good because it seems there is also less time than ever to do just that these days.

Relationship Advice: Speed dating.

The perfect remedy for the time-starved single.

We'll call it "smart dating" because it makes perfect sense, and you'd be crazy not to love it. Here's our relationship advice on seven reasons why everyone is talking about speed dating right now:

1. It's highly efficient: There aren't many instances where it's considered acceptable to go out on 20 dates in one night. But, this happens to be one of them. The good news is that they are very short, bite-sized dates – lasting only a few minutes each. Everyone is there to meet people, so there's no wondering, "Is this person available or not?"

2. It's less stressful than normal dates: You don't have to commit to a full evening out with a complete stranger. Plus, the whole night is organized for you. So, you don't have to worry about all the details. If you don't click with one of the dates, no problem! You only talk to each date for less than 10 minutes.

3. Speed daters make more matches: Online dating might seem appealing, but according to the New York Times, that method only finds 1 in 100 matches. Speed daters, on the other hand, find an average of 2-3 matches in 10 dates. Not to mention, meeting in person gives you a way more accurate assessment of a person.

4. It's easy to find events: Speed dating is becoming more popular. So, when you ask, "Is there speed dating near me?" The answer is a resounding YES! Options are great to have, aren't they? The opportunity to find a great match is happening every day.

5. There's no pressure: The amazing thing about these kinds of events is that there's no pressure to approve or reject someone to their face. You choose who you like, privately. They choose who they like, privately. You only get connected with the people you chose who also chose you. So, you can just relax and enjoy the night.

6. It's set-up for conversation: Go to a bar or a nightclub and the conversation may go like this: "SO WHAT DO YOU FOR A LIVING?" "HUH?" "WHAT DO YOU DO?" "OH, I'M OVER ON BROWN STREET." This is not an appropriate way to assess a mate. Speed dating events want you to succeed. It's facilitated in environments suited for conversation, allowing you to get a glimpse of someone's true personality.

7. It's flat-out fun: Take a deep breath, forget about expectations, and remember everyone is there for the same thing. Surely, everyone feels a little nervous. But, when you remind yourself that you are an incredible, worthy human being, you give yourself permission to just enjoy the experience and have fun.

There you have it. Seven reasons Speed Dating is a no-brainer. If you want to meet great people and have the doors of possibility opened for you, try it out yourself!

How the Media Fights For Our Attention

By Lori Bizocco

When it comes down to it, what really makes a story worth reading? At the very least, the content should inform the public of something important in an interesting, truthful matter. Unfortunately, today's media producers seem much more concerned about attention-grabbing methods and getting as many people as possible to click on their article. A good story hardly seems to matter when consumers will view ads and make the publishers happy.

The more media fights for our attention the harder it'll be to distinguish authenticity from clickbaited information

So how exactly do these media producers draw us in to begin with? Most use what is called an "inverted pyramid" model, which prioritizes information that is interesting and likely to grab our attention, filling in the details as the story goes on. However, the information that is at the end of the article is not any less important. In fact, these last paragraphs often provide the necessary details for fully understanding the event being elaborated on.

Once you learn that most people have very short attention spans and will only spend an average of 96 seconds reading an article, it's concerning to think about how easy it is for readers to walk away from an article with only half of the story. This issue becomes much more serious when you look at the headlines used for these clickbait articles. Rather than give an accurate picture of what the story will cover, these headlines often over-exaggerate insignificant details or misrepresent what happened to make it seem more interesting. This can lead to readers being seriously misinformed and can even ruin the reputation of the people being talked about in the article.

An unfortunate example of this is a news story that recently was published has a headline that would make readers believe a certain male producer did a terrible act to a female writer working on his show, causing her to leave the company. However, the real story is far less interesting and has a different line of events to tell.

First off, the inappropriate act was just a side hug. While the female writer claimed to feel uncomfortable, the situation was dealt with by HR. The producer went through sensitivity training and the writer was satisfied with the man's willingness to learn from his mistakes. So why did she leave? Well, her reason for leaving had nothing to do with the producer at all! Her actual reason for quitting was that she claims the network reduced her workload after the incident.

Unhappy with how they were treating her, she decided to leave the show and take her talents elsewhere.

If you're anything like me, you're probably confused as to why this story was ever published to begin with. This story doesn't have anything valuable to share, and it wasn't even entertaining to read. It's just another clickbait article released to make money as quickly and easily as possible. However, is completely tarnishing a person's name and making people believe he was to blame for the situation worth some clicks? The media would be much better off grabbing our attention with stories that are worth our time.

2019 Style Trends: Flower Girl Dresses

Throughout the years, trends fluctuate a lot, especially when it comes to wedding style trends. That's why we're here to keep you updated on the latest flower girl dress trends that you may not know about. 2019 has started as a great year with many weddings, even celebrity weddings, being planned and organized which means we can only expect amazing wedding days.

If you want to discover the best flower girl dresses for your little one, then we've got you covered with these style trends.

Since searching for the perfect dress is difficult, we're making your choices a lot easier by giving you the best advice around. Plus, we're covering the 2019 style trends so you can be sure that choosing a design or color we list below will keep your wedding super trendy and chic.

Ivory

The winning color when dress hunting for flower girl dresses has always got to be ivory. Ivory flower girl dresses are iconic and traditional which is why so many people choose it when getting married. It's still in our style trends list because this color will never fade in terms of being trendy and having your flower girl wear ivory is sure to get everyone crying in the audience!

Gold & Silver

A slightly less traditional color to choose is either gold or silver or if you're even more daring, the two colors together on a princess flower girl ball gown. While you may not initially realize the hype about this trend if you see a gold and silver dress on your flower girl you'll know straight away why people love it so much. This design of dress combines class with elegance and radiates royalty. The best color you could put your flower girl in is this one, simply because metallic inspired accents will allow her to shine bright like a diamond. It may be unconventional, but it's a perfect trend that suits so many perfect little girls.

Vintage Lace

Tutu vintage lace flower girl dresses are some of the most popular in 2019 due to how stunning they look when younger girls wear them. Lace may seem like a more grown-up material but adding a little accent lace design to a simple flower girl dress can genuinely mix up the look and give it something else you've only ever dreamed of. Vintage lace flower girl dresses are best worn when you have a theme for your wedding as it means that everyone (even the flower girls) can get involved.

Boho Champagne

While champagne is for the adults during the wedding reception, the champagne color on a flower girl could be the trend you're searching for. It is a lovely light and warm glow that makes for an adorable flower girl outfit. Who can argue with such a beautiful shade of our favorite drink? Plus, the name is definitely fitting since there will most likely be a lot of champagne consumed at the wedding itself.

Pale Pink Petals

Another legendary trend when considering flower girl dresses is the classic pale pink dress. Every girl dreams of being a princess one day, why not allow her to be it now? Keep the design simple or choose a dress with pretty pink petals enclosed in the skirt of the dress for a unique and beautiful look. Any little girl will be happy to wear such a stunning dress!

Relationship Advice: Tips to Inject More Romance to Your Relationship

Most relationships start off in a flurry of excitement and anticipation, as they are new to both parties. However, over time it is easy for the magic spark to disappear from your love life. Even though you may still love one another, the tribulations of day to day life such as work and family can take their toll. This can result in a relationship that becomes stale and even tedious.

It is important for any loving couple to find ways to inject the magic back into their relationship. There are different ways in which you can do this and this includes looking at advice from experts online about relationships, which can prove really helpful.

What can you do to restore the magic? Check out this expert relationship advice:

For many couples, restoring the magic that they first experienced when they met can be extremely difficult. However, you have to bear in mind that this is something that you both have to work on and invest time into. When you do make the effort, it is well worth it because it can change the whole course of your relationship and the way you feel about your partner as well as your life in general.

Many people worry about their partners having affairs with other people but this generally happens because the relationship at home has lost its magic and the partner is eager to try and recapture that feeling. If you both make an effort in terms of doing this, you not only have a shot at a better relationship but you can reduce the chances of one of you going astray due to dissatisfaction with the way things are.

You don't have to spend a fortune or go to huge lengths in order to put some magic back into your love life. In fact, it is often the simplest things that are most effective and meaningful such as leaving little romantic messages for your loved one to find over the course of the day or simply sending messages to tell them how much you love them. People often underestimate the power of this type of message but it can often mean far more than more costly shows of affection because it is far more personal.

If you do want to treat your loved one to a romantic experience, you can also make it more personal by doing some home cooking. An intimate meal at home with candles and soft music can be far more effective than being in a crowded restaurant where you can barely hear one another. In addition, it is a far cheaper way of entertaining your loved one and treating them to a special evening as well as being the more personal option.

Like anything that is worth having in life, a relationship is something that you have to constantly work on in order to keep it alive. However, by putting your efforts into it you can enjoy being in a more fulfilling and exciting relationship.
