Cupid's Advice:

Getting back together with an ex is a tough decision to make, and you want to make sure you're doing it for the right reasons. Cupid has some factors to consider:

1. Remember why it ended in the first place: Look back at your relationship and think about what went wrong and if those problems can be fixed. Starting from the beginning will allow you to analyze the pros and cons for the future. If the issues that plagued your relationship are hard to come back from, think about whether a second chance is really worth it.

2. Ask yourself the big questions: Has this person really changed? And if they haven't, am I prepared to deal with that? If they aren't ready to commit to you in a way that illustrates growth and understanding, then maybe they aren't the person for you.

Cupid’s Advice:

Talking to your crush can be hard. You don't know if you will say the wrong thing or you'll look silly in front of them. Trying your best to fit in and look good while doing it is hard enough. Getting your crush's attention without them noticing can be a task. There are some ways that you can initiate conversation smoothly. Cupid has some advice on how to approach your crush:

1. Watch your crush from a distance: Now, I don't mean stalking them on Instagram or in person, but take notice of how they move throughout the day. If you're looking for a partner who takes pride in their work and how they carry themselves, look to see if your crush has those qualities. Try to find any red flags if possible. See if there are any alarms that go off.

While Brown and Bersten are adamant that they are just friends, there are still many benefits of dating someone who is similar to yourself. Cupid has some relationship advice to help you determine the benefits of dating someone who is similar to you:

1. You like (and dislike) the same things: Every relationship, whether romantic or platonic, is based on the foundation that you have something in common. However, when you're dating someone who is similar to yourself you go beyond just a few common interests. You both tend to like and dislike the same things which can make decision-making much easier.

2. You can be yourself around them: There are few things worse than having to pretend that you're someone you're not. Besides making disagreements less frequent, being on the same page as your partner allows you to make wonderful and spontaneous memories.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown Says 'Thank You, Next' to Questions about Tyler Cameron & Gigi Hadid

By Ashley Johnson

In a celebrity interview with UsMagazine.com, Hannah Brown made it clear that she is ready to take on life as a single woman after her celebrity break-up with Tyler Cameron. The reality TV star says she is focused on exploring her new opportunities as a single woman and is ready to move forward from The Bachelorette with or without a man.

In celebrity news, Hannah isn't letting anyone draw her into talks surrounding Tyler Cameron's dating life. What are some ways to move on when you see your ex moving on?

Cupid's Advice:

While all celebrity relationships do not last, the relationship you have with yourself does. We are rooting for Hannah in her new journey! Cupid has some advice on how to move on from an ex like Hannah Brown and many other single celebrities:

1. Focus on yourself: Self-care is always the best way to go. When we take care of ourselves and give ourselves all the love and affection for a change, we realize just how much we needed it and realize that self love is enough. Focusing on yourself and taking the time to heal on your own can help you rediscover yourself and learn more about who you are. You can learn more about your likes, dislikes, and everything in between.

2. Enjoy your hobbies and friends: Just taking the time to do things you enjoy again can remind you what you really value in life. You can now focus all your time and energy on everything you have ever wanted to do, whether it be painting, going to concerts, traveling the world, or spending more time with friends. Friends are there for you when you need them the most. They can help distract you from your ex and past relationship and can be a shoulder to lean on when you just need to vent.

3. Take a break from social media: Focusing on yourself means you can't have any distractions. Social media is the easiest way to stay up to date with your friends, and unfortunately, your ex. With just one click you can get lost in your ex's feed. Being single means you now have time to focus on yourself, not your ex and their whereabouts. Embrace the distance from your ex... this may even mean blocking or unfollowing them on all social media for the time being.

Be sure to keep your head on straight before listening to your heart.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown Speaks Out About Jed After Finale

By Bonnie Griffin

In the latest celebrity news, Bachelorette Hannah Brown ended her engagement to Jed Wyatt. Five weeks after their engagement, Brown was heartbroken to find out that her relationship with Wyatt began with lies when she discovered he had a girlfriend when he first entered the show. According to People.com, Brown said finding out Wyatt hadn't been honest was "heartbreaking" and that by being dishonest "he hurt [her] worse than anybody else did."

In celebrity news, Hannah wasn't willing to settle once she found out Jed had been dishonest with her. What are some ways to know your partner is lying to you?

Cupid's Advice:

For these reality tv stars, happy ever after is no longer in their future. Wyatt's dishonesty broke Brown's heart and left her unable to forgive him for the hurt he caused her. It is never good when you find out that someone you love has lied to you. Cupid has some advice to help you know when your partner is lying to you:

1. They say they never lie: Anyone who tells you that they never lie is lying to you. It is common for everyone to tell little white lies from time to time. Sometimes these kind of lies are okay because they are meant to protect someone's feelings or something of that nature. Getting caught in a small lie like that wouldn't have any real consequences. We all tell these kinds of lies, so an honest partner would have no reason to insist they never lie at all.

2. Lack of eye contact: One of the tell-tale signs of lying that is upheld as true by science is when someone refuses to make eye contact. If your partner is normally someone who makes eye contact with you when you're talking, and now they are avoiding that eye contact it is a good indicator they aren't being honest about something.

3. They accuse you of lying: One of the oldest tricks in the books is to try to get the focus off them by pointing their finger at you. Your partner might accuse you of lying or cheating out of the blue. This blame game is often a way to try to justify their own dishonest actions.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown Releases Intimate Details in Front of Peter's Mom!

By Katie Sotack

The infamous Bachelorette windmill sex scene between Hannah and Peter was one of the most talked about moments this season. But according to UsMagazine.com, Hannah fudged the details. When facing off with Luke Parker, The Bachelorette confessed to having sex with Peter twice at the mill, yet apparently it was four times! Hannah announced this proudly in front of the studio audience, which included Peter's family. Still, despite (or maybe because of) the scandalous details, Peter's family could not have looked prouder as the audience gave the pair a standing ovation.

In celebrity news, Hannah Brown didn't hold any details back while talking to Peter on a recent episode of The Bachelorette. What are some benefits to being open about intimacy?

Cupid's Advice:

In our Puritan-grown culture, it's not wildly accepted to talk about intimacy in public. However, American youth culture is shifting to see the perks in being open and honest about intimacy. Here's how talking about intimacy can benefit yourself and others:

1. Normalization: Talking about intimacy normalizes said acts of intimacy. America's sensationalized media presents idealistic versions of sex and love, which do not match up with reality. With this idealized standard we rarely see an accurate representation of our own intimacy. The girl and guy are perfect, never having bad sex or weird sex. Not to mention a lack non-heteronormative relationships depicting physical love. Talking about sex and the intimate acts surrounding it can ease the tension our culture feels around sexual 'imperfections' which fall short of idealistic standards.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Ben Higgins Says 'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown's Sex Confessions Are 'Confusing'

2. Ease the guilt: There's a famous Sex In The City episode where Miranda takes a lover who's so petrified of sex being a sin, that after every time they've been physical he must run to shower. Yeah, this was filmed in the '90s, but times haven't changed too much. Bachelorette Hannah Brown was thoroughly slut shamed by contestant Luke P. for enjoying sex with men she'd fallen in love with. By speaking out about about her experience at the windmill while in a supportive environment she was championed for something that had once penalized her.

Related Link: Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown Confronts Luke P. at 'Men Tell All'

3. Better sex: As sexologist Lindsey Doe likes to point out sex and sexuality are never one size fits all. But that's the way our culture likes to think about it, so partner's have been conditioned to fall short of our unique needs. Being open about your likes, dislikes, and experiences will not only work like a handbook for better sex but help to foster emotional intimacy between you and your partner(s).

Cupid's Advice:

At the end of the relationship, there are steps to be taken to ease the painful process. Instead of wondering "what if?" find ways to deal with your feelings and move on. Here are relationship tips to find closure:

1. Wallow: In the wake of your devastating breakup give yourself permission to wallow for an allotted time period. Take Friday off and watch your favorite movies while binging on ice cream. Or, call up your mom and talk about what happened. Allow yourself to feel all the confusing and painful emotions that come with ending a relationship so that you can make peace inside your head.

2. Seek socialization: After your weekend of wallowing, call your friends and go outside. Being around outside energy will widened your perspective and help you to see the world outside of your old relationship. Whether you want to go dancing or browse the local bookstore absorb the positive vibes around you and be mindful of the now.

3. Talk to your ex: When the time comes, speak to your ex to find closure. This step should only be taken after you've processed the bulk of your emotions and can be trusted to converse calmly without blame or aggression. Meet for coffee or somewhere else public to discuss the demise of your situation. Go in knowing that the goal is not to get your relationship back but rather to hear out the other person and grow from their experience with you.

Cupid's Advice:

Have you ever been dating someone and wondered, “When’s the right time to hookup?” What’s too soon, and what will they think of me if we wait a long time? Here is relationship advice on getting intimate:

1. Are you turned on?: The number one requirement to figuring out the right time to be intimate is being aroused. If you’re feeling your partner, the environment, and the contraceptive measures are at your minimum requirements at least, you might be ready to get physical. There is still some question on whether this is the right time for you emotionally, but desire is the number one box to be checked off.

2. Don’t be pressured: Just because your friend slept with their partner on the first date and your other friend waits until the 10th to get it on, doesn’t mean these timelines are right for you. Only you and your sexual partner can decide on the who, what, when, where, and why of your sex life.

3. Ignore all advice: Physical intimacy is different for everyone. Sexuality is like a snowflake – everybody’s special and there’s no one size fits all. Cupid's Advice:

In any relationship, romantic or otherwise, anger is normal. Feelings of resentment, jealousy, or sadness can bubble up in a red hot rage. Knowing the right course of action to deal with an angry partner can be a challenge. Here are tips to calm the emotional forest fires in your partner:

1. Be patient: When your significant other is losing their cool it's important to remember this isn't about you. It can be easy to take offense to yelling or hurtful tones, but instead focus on what they're trying to say. Chances are they're truly hurt and not expressing it properly.

3. Know when to call it quits: If your partner's always operating at the red hot level and you're left feeling hurt, it's time to end it. Anger is a normal response in small doses. However if your partner's always running off the rails and you feel more bullied than loved, it's not healthy. go.
