

Celebrity Marriage: Why Harry Hamlin's Marriage to Lisa Rinna Works

By Mara Miller

In the latest celebrity news, Harry Hamlin revealed how his celebrity marriage works with Lisa Rinna, according to UsMagazine.com. The celebrity couple tied the knot in 1997. Although they have their differences—he doesn't care about pop culture and she has little interest in cooking—they have managed to make it work. "Lisa and I are of the same mind," Hamlin said. "So we have a very functional relationship and we respect each other and listen to each other and admire each other and we let each other be. We're not helicopter husband and wife."

In this celebrity marriage, Harry and Lisa aren't "helicopter husband and wife." What are some signs you're becoming a helicopter partner?

Cupid's Advice:

We all micromanage to an extent, and you've probably heard the term "helicopter parent". It's when it starts to become too much that being a helicopter husband and wife can cause problems:

1. You have to train each other: You always worry they might say or do the wrong thing, so you feel the constant need to teach other on how to act.

2. You don't consult each other: Your spouse never consults you, and you never consult your spouse. Decisions get made before the other person is ever informed of anything, which can lead to arguments.

3. You both hover: Neither one of you can let the other text or be on social media without knowing what is going on. In fact, you may even both share a social media account so there's no suspicion, ever.
