According to UsMagazine.com, the celebrity couple got married in April 2015, and the Vampire Diaries actor could not be any more in love. “The second we were around each other, and not [dating] other people, we just knew. Oh, I will one day have amazing children with my beautiful wife. Absolutely, definitely,” he told Modern Luxury Magazine. “I live with someone who strives to find happiness and peace in the smallest things – whether it’s sitting for five minutes under a tree or getting out into the country and spending time on our horses or even just going for a walk around the lake or riding a boat.”

This celebrity news has us hoping the couple starts a family soon! What are some ways to discuss having a family with your partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

Once you and your partner are ready, you are going to be starting a family of your own. Although it may be what you want, you and your partner have to talk about it to make sure you’re both happy. Here are some ways to help get the ball rolling:

1. Talk before marriage: If you’re going to spend the rest of your life together, it is best to make sure you discuss what the future holds for both of you, meaning whether or not there’s potential to start a family. Hopefully if you talk about it, you’ll be able to decide if a family is what you really want, or if your partner is the right person for you.

2. Find a way: If you’re both willing to have a family, make sure you are both able to make it happen, and figure out how you want it to happen. Maybe you want kids of your own, or maybe your best answer is adoption. Are you financially stable enough to raise a child, or do you have a plan for eventually having a kid? Just make sure when you have a child, you are ready.

3. Drop hints: If your partner is not quite ready to discuss children, dropping a clue here and there may help stimulate their thinking process. For example, if you pass by the baby department at a clothing store, you can acknowledge how cute their little shoes are, or tell your partner that, one day, you want your kids to wear those overalls. Don't bombard your significant other to the point where you scare them, just let them know you've been thinking!

Nina Dobrev and Ian Somerhalder Joke About Awkward Breakup

By Brittany Stubbs

Despite the fact that Nina Dobrev and Ian Somerhalder ended their relationship, fans aren't ready to let go of their love...at least the love between their characters on Vampire Diaries, Elena Gilbert and Damon Salvatore. UsMagazine.com discusses how the costars, and real-life exes, won "Favorite Onscreen Chemistry" at the 40th Annual People's Choice Awards on Wednesday, Jan. 8. Taking the stage to accept their trophy, the duo joked about their history. "We started dating in real life," Somerhalder said. "And then we broke up in real life," Dobrev added. "And yet our characters are still dating on the show," he continued. "It's a good thing it's not awkward!" she joked, resulting in roars of laughter from the audience.

How do you continue your professional relationship post-breakup?

Cupid's Advice:

Breakups are always difficult and awkward to some extent, especially between two people that are forced to be around each other in the workplace. But despite what happened between the two of you, it's important to keep your history from interfering with your professional life:

1. Don't involve other people: Discussing the breakup with fellow co-workers or mutual friends should be avoided. This not only gets them involved in your business and often leads to gossip, but you will look unprofessional to them. If you value your current position and even aspire to move up, you need to make it clear your past-romance hasn't changed anything. Also, if your ex gets word that you're talking poorly about them or the relationship to other people, you're only adding tension to an already awkward situation.

Related: Ian Somerhalder Hints at Reason Behind Breakup with Nina Dobrev

2. Agree to leave the past in the past: Whether your breakup was completely amicable or there is still unresolved tension between the two of you, it's important that you both make an agreement to forget about your history while you're in the workplace. Being on the same page about this, meaning neither or you will be discussing, joking about, or reminiscing your past relationship, allows for you to both move forward professionally.

Related: Nina Dobrev Admits to Fighting Feelings for Costar Ian Somerhalder

3. Avoid playing games: Often times when a relationship ends but the couple is still running in the same circle, they'll get in the habit of playing games with one another. Whether this means harmlessly flirting with a mutual co-worker or friend to make an ex jealous, or pretending like the two of you are complete strangers, these games rarely end well for either person. It's best to acknowledge your history and just move on, avoiding anything that might add tension or more hurt feelings down the road.

And despite what she said in a Seventeen Magazine feature about never dating a costar, she ended up with one of the hottest as her boyfriend; 33-year old actor Ian Somerhalder. Dobrev tells People, “I didn’t want to be dating one of my costars. My goal on the show was to be professional. But sometimes you can’t help who you have a connection with, and you can only fight it for so long – which I did for a really, really long time.” Despite their start as coworkers, Dobrev and Somerhalder have been together for awhile, and their relationship seems to be going strong.

Is it OK to date a coworker?

Cupid’s Advice:

Inter-office dating can be complicated. Cupid has some advice on when dating a coworker will work:

1. If you have true feelings: Dating a coworker just because you are attracted to them is probably not a good idea. But when your relationship reaches a level of true feelings, you might want to give it a go. Just like Dobrev said, you can't fight your feelings, and it would be worse to wonder "what if" than to actually try.

2. Talk about it before: If you think there is a chance of a real relationship with a coworker, you should have a talk about what may or may not happen before starting a relationship. If you work so closely together that you spend every hour of every day together, things may get complicated at work. But if the two of you think you can keep your work life and dating life separate, then it may be worth the risk.

3. Gage your office: What kind of tone does your office give off? If it is very serious 100% of the time, dating coworkers may be a bad idea, because of the potential problems that could arise. If every relationship at work needs to be extremely professional, inter-office dating can become very tricky, and you would need to be very careful before jumping into a relationship.

What are some ways to subtly show your partner you care in public?

Cupid's Advice:

Okay, so maybe you and your mate are a bit on the discreet side, but that doesn't mean you have to act as though you don't know each other when you're out in public. Here are some subtle ways to delicately show affection to your lover when other eyes can see:

1. Hold hands: This is one of the most subtle and obvious ways to show everyone that you are holding onto one of the most important people in your life. It's intimate enough to show your partner affection and declare your relationship status.

2. Hugging: Sure, it's a common way to show affection to anyone, but, you can't hug everyone like you would with your love.

3. Kissing: You don't have to have a full blown make-out session with your partner to show the world how you feel about each other. A simple kiss on the lips, cheek or forehead can say a lot.

How do you make dating a coworker less risky?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating someone you work with is tricky to handle. Think of Jim and Pam from The Office, as they're a great example of the ideal way to handle yourself in the workplace with your partner. Cupid has a few things to keep in mind:

1. On the same level: Things can get messy if one of you is a superior or a manager. Not only does it give a bad image to others, but if you break up, it might be the ugliest one you've ever experienced.

2. Separation helps: Your interoffice relationship goes a lot smoother if you're in different departments. You'll be away from each other for most of the day, and it'll give you a little more to talk about when discussing work.

3. Say 'No' to PDA at work: It makes coworkers feel uncomfortable and is an HR seminar waiting to happen. Keep it at casual flirting and no real physical contact while on the clock.
