Rumor: Jake Gyllenhaal Dating Rachel McAdams

By Laura Seaman

Rumor has it that Jake Gyllenhaal dating Rachel McAdams. They have been spotted together once again as they left the Miguel Cotto vs. Sergio Martinez fight on June 9. Rumors have been flying about whether or not these outings means that they are actually dating, but sources tell UsMagazine.com that the two are just friends, and that the reason they're spending so much time together is to prepare for their upcoming movie Southpaw. Not only that, but McAdams is still with Patrick Sambrook, the couple showing some PDA back in May.

How do you know if you should risk your friendship for love?

Cupid's Advice:

It's a situation that has plagued almost everyone at some point, like Jake Gyllenhaal : Should you turn your friendship into a relationship? This often leads to people being 'friend-zoned' and told that the risk isn't worth it, or that they can't be anything more than a friend because the person "just doesn't see them that way". With all of this in mind, sometimes it's worth the risk of asking your friend to be more than your friend.

1. Figure out your feelings. Make sure that you truly want to start dating this person, not because you just got out of a breakup or you suddenly find them attractive, but because you truly care about them more than the normal friend would. If you're risking your friendship, you need to be sure that it's for something you really want.

Related: Five Ways To Get His Undivided Attention

2. Read the signs. As strong as your feelings might be, they won't get you very far if your friend doesn't return them. Look for phrases such as "you're like a brother/sister to me," or conversations about other people they're interested in. If your friend comes to you on dating advice about other men/women, they probably haven't considered dating you.

Related: How to Prevent Yourself from Rushing into a Relationship

3. Make sure they're ready for a relationship. Timing is important, and as a friend you should know better than anyone how they're feeling about love. If your friend just got dumped, or is in a stage of their life where they're just enjoying being single, it's probably not the best time to confess your feelings. You need to be there as a friend, so don't be selfish! Wait until they're ready.

How do you announce your new relationship to family and friends?

Cupid's Advice:

Being in a new relationship is an exciting time in your life, but how do you deal with the anxiety of telling your friends and family about the new relationship? Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Parents: Visit your parents in person if you can, if not pick up the phone and call. Announcing that you are in a new relationship to your parents can be the scariest announcement of them all, but if they show support and are happy for you, you will feel less anxious about the new relationship.

2. Close friends and family: Try to plan a dinner party. This is an easy, exciting, fun way to get the news out there. Also, it gives your friends and family a chance to meet your new partner.

3. Outsiders: For co-workers and friends you haven't been in contact with in a while aren't as important as your close family and friends. But if you want to announce your new relationship put it on Facebook and show them how happy and excited you are to be in a new relationship.

Celebrity Nutritionist and Trainer Jackie Keller Says, “Those Who Exercise With Support From Their Partners Do Better Overall”

By Whitney Baker

You may have heard the saying, “The couple that exercises together, stays together.” But is it really true? We turned to celebrity trainer, nutritionist and NutriFit co-founder Jackie Keller to find out how to exercise with your honey, what’s it’s really like to work with the stars and how to avoid that dreaded holiday weight gain.

When it comes to working out with your sweetheart, Keller believes that success varies from couple to couple. There are numerous ways to approach your joint workout routine. “Some strength training requires that couples work together: one lifts, while the other spots,” she says. “Additionally, many runners prefer to run with company to make the time pass more easily. There are also a lot of stretches that are better done with assistance.”

She adds, “One thing we know for sure is that those who exercise with support and encouragement from significant others – friends, family or lovers – do better overall in achieving their goals.”

Of course, if you exercise with your boyfriend or girlfriend, it’s important to remember that men and women should train differently. Even if you have the same objectives, your bodies will respond to cardio work and toning moves in unique ways. Of this dissimilarity, Keller shares, “With women, I will usually work on the process as much as the result. With men, it’s usually the result that overrides any concerns about the process.”

Related Link: QuickieChick’s Video Dating Tips: Why Hating Your Body is Destroying Your Love Life

Keller, a licensed and certified wellness coach, nutrition educator and Le Cordon-Bleu-trained culinary expert, has worked with celebrities such as Angelina Jolie, Charlize Theron and Penelope Cruz. She has also trained celebrity couples including Zach Braff and Taylor Bagley, Eric Winter and Roselyn Sanchez, and Jake Gyllenhaal and Reese Witherspoon (before they split). Speaking about her experiences working with these famous twosomes, she says, "I have no complaints about our couples. They have been uniformly delightful. I think that having the support and participation from their significant other helps both of them with the process."

Given that celebrities need to look good for their job, they can tap into a deep level of determination that everyday people have a harder time grasping. "The public does not cut celebrities any slack, and they knew it when they chose that professional path," Keller explains. "They don't fight the need to look good – they accept it and embrace it as part of the package."

Lately, we've all taken note of Matthew McConaughey's extreme weight loss for the upcoming film 'The Dallas Buyer's Club.' According to a recent news spot on 'Good Morning America,' he has lost nearly 25 percent of his total body weight. Despite the medical risks that come with this drastic weight loss, Keller believes that there is a healthy way to make these changes. She cites Anne Hathaway, who trimmed up for 'The Dark Knight Rises' by eating NutriFit meals three times a day for nearly a year, as an example. "She looked fantastic!," Keller says. "It can be done without compromising health or delicious meals."

Perhaps we can avoid any unwanted holiday weight gain by taking a cue from the stars. Keller recommends that you look to exercise as one of your must-do daily tasks, like brushing your teeth and showering. As far as diet is concerned, she says to eat a good breakfast, no matter what your dinner plans entail. "There is no such thing as 'saving' calories to enjoy later," she says.

Related Link: How to Find Love Amidst Holiday Crazy

Keller also suggests that you wear snug-fitting clothes, especially at events with a buffet meal, because you'll eat less if your waistband is tight. And, of course, Keller says you should be aware of how much alcohol you consume, as "drinking uses up calories in a non-nutritive way and loosens up your inhibitions so that you're far more likely to eat badly."

When asked what food she does enjoy during the holidays, Keller says that she is a fan of "seasonal favorites," like persimmons, tangerines, oranges, spinach, swiss chard, collard greens and grapefruit. For specific ideas, you can check out the recipe section of Keller's blog at www.Nutrifit.wordpress.com/recipes/.

12-12-12: Show Your Love & Support for the Victims of Hurricane Sandy

Here at CupidsPulse.com, we saw firsthand the true devastation caused by Hurricane Sandy. Our offices were located in the center of the storm, and we feel very fortunate that only a portion of our office was impacted. We were out of power for 13 days, but that is nothing compared to what so many other people faced – and are still facing. Many New Yorkers continue to experience distress: they have no place to live, their personal belongings are gone and they have no place to celebrate the holidays.

In hopes of helping these people rebuild their lives and their homes, a very special event takes place tonight: “12-12-12,” the biggest concert ever staged at Madison Square Garden, will begin at 7:30 p.m. EST and focus on the impact of Hurricane Sandy. The concert includes performers such as Bon Jovi, Eric Clapton, Alicia Keys, Kanye West, Billy Joel and The Rolling Stones. Additionally, stars including Leonardo DiCaprio, Jake Gyllenhaal, Adam Sandler, Kristen Stewart, Jessica Chastain and more will participate in the show to help the victims of the Superstorm.

Every single penny raised by the telethon will go to organizations serving the victims of Hurricane Sandy through the Robin Hood Relief Fund, which provides money, material and know-how to local organizations that are serving those hit hardest by the storm. Moreover, Tommy Hilfiger has agreed to donate t-shirts as part of the merchandise offerings for “12-12-12.”

If you can't be there in person, “12-12-12” will be distributed to nearly two billion people through television feeds, radio and online streaming. Given that the holiday season is all about love, be sure to tune in and show your support to the many New Yorkers still suffering.

Taylor Swift Wrote Song “All Too Well” About Jake Gyllenhaal

By Nic Baird

Despite breaking up two years ago, Taylor Swift's new song "All Too Well" reminisces about her romance with actor Jake Gyllenhaal, an insider reports to UsMagazine.com. Her latest album, Red, features the nostalgic track, and Swift declares it's her most "adventurous album yet." The Gyllenhaal ballad started out as a ten minute song, Swift said, but was filtered down to a digestible size. The pop-country songstress split from the well-bred Conor Kennedy in October, and has since been hanging out with One Direction's Harry Styles.

How can music help you cope with heartbreak?

Cupid's Advice:

Movies, commercials, and shopping malls have all figured out that music can alter your mood. Don't let those corporate fat-cats monopolize this strategy. Next time you're balling from a breakup, use music to your advantage:

1. Explore your feelings: The end of a relationship can hit hard or fast. And you feel it for sure, but you don't always know exactly what you're feeling. Obviously talking about it helps, but listening to some music can help you understand the break down of a breakup. This is a sudden change, and while you shouldn't take advice directly from songs, they can help you figure out the next step. Use them as a catalyst for your thoughts.

2. Solidarity: Not to undermine how difficult this is for you, but you're not alone. Ever since we evolved from the alpha male system and his harem of child-bearers, people have been getting dumped. Ask Taylor Swift, she'll tell you! By sharing the experiences of song writers it helps put this tragedy in perspective. These things happen.

3. Get pumped up: Breakup music can help internalize your emotions, and find the pieces of your scattered heart, but eventually it's time to put away the tissues and decide to be happy again. Play exciting music, songs that make you smile, funny songs that make you laugh, and tunes you can dance to! The world might have ended, but it's time for another big bang!

Carey Mulligan and Marcus Mumford Tie the Knot

Childhood pen pals from London, Carey Mulligan and Marcus Mumford finally tied the knot after reconnecting as adults, according to People. Sienna Miller, Jake Gyllenhaal, and Colin Firth were some of the 200 guests at the wedding which took place on a farm in Somerset, England. Mulligan, 26, split from Shia Labeouf in 2010, but made a quick recovery by beginning to date Mumford, 25, in 2011 and getting engaged in August. The couple stays humble about their relationship, but their reasoning for wedding in Britain was because “it’s where both their families are from,” a source told the Sun.

What are some ways to act on a longtime crush?

Cupid’s Advice:

It’s not easy acting on a longtime crush, but how are they supposed to know you feel that way about them if you don’t tell them? You need to be a little forward in order to get a straight answer on whether you have a chance or not. Here are some ways to act on a crush:

1. Reach out: They can’t know you like them if you don’t give them some sort of hint. Start asking them to hangout with you more often, and feel out their reaction to see how to approach the situation next.

2. Be upfront: If you have been hanging out with your crush for a while now, just ask them what they think about you two being together. If you don't make it a big deal it won't be so uncomfortable. In fact, it'll be refreshing to get it off your chest.

3. Make a move: One night when you are out with a group of friends and your crush is there, lead him or her to the bar alone or ask them to go dance. Step out of the friend zone.

Why Celebrities Fall In and Out of Love So Quickly

By Whitney Baker

In recent years, the divorce rate in America has hovered around 50 percent, and in Hollywood, this statistic appears to be closer to 70 percent.

For some celebrity couples, rushing into a serious relationship or even marriage is no big deal; they can always break up or file for an annulment or divorce, knowing that their family, friends and fans will stand behind them. They are not held accountable by their vows, viewing any “easy way out” as an acceptable solution.

But why do so many Tinseltown twosomes approach romance with such a wavering attitude, in such fleeting terms? Here are just a few reasons why some celebrity relationships change with the seasons:

1. Publicity: They say that all you need is love, but in the case of some celebrity relationships, all they want is publicity. And some celebrity couples continue to demand attention even after the break-up. Take Jon and Kate Gosselin, for example. The Jon & Kate Plus 8 stars are still garnering media attention for their failed marriage and exceptionally large family.

2. Rushing things: Many celebrity couples mistake lust for love and rush into something too serious when they're still in the "get to know you" phase of their relationships. Beyond their own feelings, there may be outside pressure from family, friends and perhaps the media. For instance, Kim Kardashian's whirlwind romance with Kris Humphries lasted only 11 months, but included a made-for-television proposal, wedding and divorce. As this relationship's quick demise proved, infatuation can easily outweigh true love, but it doesn't last nearly as long.

3. Time apart: Relationships require both time and effort to flourish. For celebrities, time together isn't always possible. Their busy schedules often keep them apart; such was the case with Katy Perry and Russell Brand. After only 14 months of marriage and a Christmas spent 7,000 miles apart, Brand filed for divorce. As celebrities focus on their individual careers, they fail to make the proper commitment to build a lasting and meaningful relationship.

4. Just because they can: Among some celebrities (such as Britney Spears in her younger years and Brandi Glanville of The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills fame), there's a sense that they can do anything they want. Spears married childhood friend Jason Alexander in a Las Vegas ceremony, only to have it annulled a mere 55 hours later. Glanville – a divorced mother of two – rushed into Las Vegas nuptials with a close friend on New Year's Eve. Calling it a "drunken BFF thing," she later admitted that they were just having fun.

5. Constant media attention: Sure, some celebrities fall in and out of love for publicity's sake, but on the opposite note, too much media hype can also lead to heartbreak. Back in 2003, Nick Lachey and Jessica Simpson seemed to be living a fairytale romance until MTV cameras invaded their home for the reality hit Newlyweds: Nick and Jessica. Similarly, Taylor Swift and Jake Gyllenhaal dated for only two months at the end of 2011 and sources blame the short-lived romance on aggressive media coverage.

What are things to be cautious of while dating around?

Cupid's Advice:

When you're single, you want to play the field without going overboard. Cupid has some tips on how to be careful, and yet still have fun while dating:

1. Overbooking: Even if you're a heartthrob movie star like

Jake Gyllenhaal, more than three dates in a week can be a little overwhelming. It's not like you can't go out with more than one person at a time; just make sure you're giving each of your dates enough attention.

2. Being dishonest: When you're seeing someone new, you should be truthful right away. If you're not looking for a serious relationship, tell them that to avoid any confusion or hurt feelings.

3. Falling into a pattern: If dating bad boys hasn't exactly worked out for you, try changing your habits. By dating outside of your comfort zone, you'll find out what you like and in the process, you may also find "the one."

Is it okay to date around?

Cupid's Advice:

Playing the field isn't something of which to be ashamed, as it can be a healthy way to help find the perfect qualities in your future spouse. Cupid has a few pointers in mind if you choose to date around:

- 1. Be upfront: As always, honesty is the best policy. It wouldn't be right to lead someone into thinking you want a serious relationship when you aren't ready for that.
- 2. Don't pursue: Although it's okay to have a favorite date partner, try not to give them the wrong impression until you are ready for a real relationship.

3. Don't go overboard: Sure it's fun to go on a lot of dates, but avoid trying to balance a huge quantity. Not only will it become more stressful, but it will increase the possibility of saying the wrong name to the wrong person.

Jake Gyllenhaal's Exes Taylor Swift and Reese Witherspoon Bond of Country Music Awards this past Sunday, they found they had at least one thing in common: Jake Gyllenhaal. But UsMagazine.com reports the 30-year-old actor was nowhere to be found when his two ex-girlfriends met and posed for pictures at the show. Should you be friends with your ex-partner's ex?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be awkward meeting your ex's ex because you know you've both been in the same place. Cupid has some tips on whether to befriend your ex-partner's ex:

- 1. When it's complicated: It depends on both of your relationships with the ex. If either of you had a nasty breakup, or heard bad things about the other, it may be difficult to strike up a friendship.
 - 2. When there are still feelings: If one or both of you still have feelings for the ex-flame, it's better not to get close because you'll probably end up resenting each other if one of you reunites with the ex.
 - 3. When you're over it: Sometimes, when a relationship is in the past, it stays there. If you feel like you've gotten over your ex, then why not make a new friend, even if it is your ex-partner's ex?

Should you continue to resolve things after a breakup?

Cupid’s Advice:

Each relationship and breakup should be handled on a case-by-case basis. Cupid has some situations where you should attempt to resolve your major issues:

1. Coworkers: Nobody likes drama in the workplace. Do your best to keep things in perspective and work out your issues off the clock.

2. Lots of mutual friends: If you have a good amount of shared friends, then chances are you'll run into each other a lot. You'll need to at least be able to stand seeing each other in public.

3. A close relationship: Chances are that if you've been in a long-term relationship and things ended mutually, then you two were best friends and it's difficult to just cut that person out of your life.

Finding Love After a Breakup: Should You Jump In?

By Kelly Seal

When someone leaves us broken-hearted, our natural reaction is to find love again as quickly as possible. Unfortunately, healing a broken heart takes time and patience. It's necessary to spend some time alone so you can build your own strength and move on to a happier, healthier relationship in the future.

Like us, many celebrities move from one relationship to the next, hoping that this will ease their pain and help make the transition easier. Eva Longoria started dating Penelope Cruz's brother Eduardo shortly after her split with Tony Parker. Jake Gyllenhaal quickly started dating after breaking up with Reese Witherspoon, leaving a trail of girlfriends behind including Taylor Swift, Carey Mulligan and Jennifer Aniston. While romance creates a sense of happiness and excitement for a brief time, eventually old pain can start to resurface.

If you've recently endured a break-up, try giving yourself some time off and do the following before rushing back in to the dating pool:

Allow yourself to grieve: A break-up is a huge transition. When you've been with someone you love, it's natural to feel pain and anger. Allowing yourself to grieve over the relationship is part of letting go.

Hang with uplifting friends: We all have friends who can lift our spirits, be supportive and are just fun to be around. If you spend time around people with positive energy, it has an affect on your mood and can help lift your depression. Avoid friends who would rather complain about exes; this won't help you move on.

Do things that make you happy: Maybe you haven't been surfing in a few years, but have always enjoyed it. Or perhaps you put off taking those cooking classes because you didn't have time. Now is the perfect opportunity to do things you enjoy, and remember why you liked them in the first place.

Get to know yourself again: Sometimes, we feel so lost after a break-up we don't even know who we are without our exes. If you feel adrift, try doing something new, whether it's going to a new restaurant or paragliding on a Saturday afternoon. Trying new things lifts our spirits and puts us back in touch with the part of ourselves that is willing to take risks and grow.

When you've gone through these steps and feel like it's time to start meeting people again, go for it. Just be sure to take your time and keep living your own life. Look at dating as a chance to meet many different kinds of people, rather than a way to get back into a relationship. The right man or woman will come into your life when you're ready to move on.

Taylor Swift Recovers After Split with Jake Gyllenhaal

Taylor Swift's breakup with actor Jake Gyllenhaal has not had any lasting effects on the country crooner, reports UsMagazine.com. Swift is heading out on a worldwide tour for her new album Speak Now and is excited for the opportunity. "I can't wait!" revealed Swift on a Nashville radio station. "Getting back on the road is something I have been looking forward to for a really long time." Gyllenhaal, 30, broke up with Swift, 21, last month. Since the breakup, the two have briefly reunited for a dinner at Nashville restaurant Bound'ry. Though Swift was "thrown" by the date, Gyllenhaal wished "to see if there was anything still between them, if they could recapture the magic," revealed a source. "Sadly, it wasn't there."

What are ways to distract yourself from heartbreak?

Cupid's Advice:

All individuals react to breakups differently. While some immediately put the past behind them, others turn to a gallon of chocolate ice cream. Here are a few ways to distract yourself from heartache:

- 1. Keep busy: Try volunteering in your spare time, or pick up a part-time job. If your current job is already time-consuming, then try putting even more effort into it. Don't allow yourself too much time to mourn your past relationship.
 - 2. Meet new people: Take a class, attend a sporting event or go to a concert. Going somewhere with a large group of people will help you socialize and make new friends, which will fill part of the void left by your ex-partner.
 - 3. Visit family: Find an excuse to visit your parents or a sibling for the weekend. Your family will not only distract you, but they will probably help you recover because they understand you better than anyone else.

Gwyneth Paltrow Dishes on New Couple Jake Gyllenhaal and Taylor Swift

Jake Gyllenhaal and Taylor Swift's budding romance may be partially thanks to Gwyneth Paltrow, reports Us Weekly. Paltrow hosted a private dinner party for Swift and Gyllenhaal during their quiet trip to London on November 13th. "Jake and Taylor were driven from the Dorchester hotel to Gwyneth and Chris Martin's house in Primrose Hill for dinner," explained an insider. "Gwyneth seems to have played a role in their relationship." When asked about the dinner party, Paltrow replied playfully, "I've just known Jake for a long time and he's a great guy, and Chris has a friendship with Taylor." Paltrow's matchmaking seems to have paid off, for over Thanksgiving Swift and Gyllenhaal had many a coffee date. Who should be your matchmaker?

Cupid's Advice:

Every relationship needs a good matchmaker, someone to help test the waters when things get heated (or cold). Here are a few tips to help choose your matchmaker:

1. A mutual friend: It's always nice to have a matchmaker who knows the two of you. This way, your confidante will be able to talk more closely with both of you without either of you feeling awkward.

2. Somebody trustworthy: If a person is going to interfere in your relationship, that person needs to have your trust. You should keep your relationship personal, and be very cautious when opening up the relationship to another individual.

3. A professional: There are those who choose to make their careers about matchmaking. Make sure the professional you choose has a legit background and high success rate!

Taylor Swift and Jake Gyllenhaal Go on Another Coffee Date

Stock up, Starbucks! Jake Gyllenhaal and Taylor Swift have been spotted grabbing coffee together again, this time in Nashville, according to People. The new potential couple made their second stop in a week at the Frothy Monkey for a cup of java. Gyllenhaal and Swift were also seen increasing their caffeine intake at Nashville's Crema on Monday and Fido last Saturday. All these coffee breaks haven't left these two strapped for cash, as it's been rumored that the duo tip well. What's the advantage of a coffee date over dinner?

Cupid's Advice:

If a dinner date has you panicked with thoughts of stuffy restaurants and a laundry list of table etiquette to remember, a laid-back afternoon coffee date may be right up your alley:

- 1. Keep it casual: Coffee dates are notoriously casual. You don't have to dress up, and you aren't pressured to order a smaller size with non-fat milk instead of your usual venti with a double shot of espresso.
- 2. You have an out: By scheduling a coffee date in the afternoon, you eliminate the awkward "end of the night kiss" scenario. You have the opportunity to arrive and leave separately, and the stiff car conversation will never take place.

3. Price point: If nothing else, grabbing a cup of joe to-go is a lot cheaper than dinner for two. So if you'd like to impress on a budget, schedule an afternoon caffeine break coupled with a stroll in the park – the perfect fall date.
