

Evan Rachel Wood and Jamie Bell Split After 2 Years of Marriage

By Sanetra Richards

The wedding bands are off for! According to UsMagazine.com, Evan Rachel Wood and Jamie Bell have decided to go their separate ways after two years of marriage. In an exclusive statement, a rep told Us, “Evan Rachel Wood and Jamie Bell have decided to separate. They both love and respect one another and will of course remain committed to co-parenting their son. This is a mutual decision and the two remain close friends.” A source also added, “They love each other so much but it just wasn’t right.” The pair met back in 2004 on the video set of Green Day’s “Wake Me Up When September Ends” and walked down the aisle eight years later in 2012. The 26 and 28-year-old also welcomed a new addition to their family last July. The new mom shared with Us in November what motherhood was like and her busy schedule: "I've been having separation anxiety because I'm so used to him being right here all the time. They kind of become a part of you, you know?" said Wood as she blushed about their baby boy. "It was my dream to be a mom, so I'm loving it. I love it." "He's smiling and laughing. He started rolling over," she went on to add about his steps through babyhood. "He's grabbing things. You know, he's making oohs and aahs." The couple's last red carpet appearance was also back in November for the LACMA 2013 Art + Film Gala held in Los Angeles.

How do you know when it's time to call it quits on your marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Unfortunately, every marriage cannot be salvaged, and it's best to know when you should part ways before letting time pass you by. Here are a few things Cupid thinks will help you come to the realization:

1. Everyday bickering: The time you spend together is consumed by arguments, whether petty or major. And at the end of the day, you and your partner cannot come to an agreement on anything. Compromise definitely does not exist in your household! Pay attention to the disputes revolving around some of the smallest issues and if there is constant finger pointing. Although proper communication can repair a relationship, there is not a 100% guarantee.

2. Future? More like past: Your significant other starts off as a good time – you can see planning and building your entire life with him/her . . . but then you begin to realize that you do not see them in your future. The dream of making a home, starting a family, etc., slowly vanishes. The nitpicking and dislikes become greater than ever – and so does calling it quits.

3. Attraction fizzles: No more wild and spontaneous dates, or romance, period. You no longer desire to have your partner around. Do not ignore the warning signs! Keep in mind, they are always there before the storm approaches.

How do you know when it's a good time in your life to have children?

Cupid's Advice:

The question of whether you are ready or not to start a family can add stress to your life, so how do you know when it's a good time in your life to have children? Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Goals: Know what each others goals are for the future. Starting a family is a fun and exciting part of any relationships, but you need to make sure that you and your partner are on the same path. Discuss your future goals with one another, if everything lines up its safe to say its a good time to start your own family.

2. Careers: Having a baby and a career isn't impossible, but making sure you have a stable career and time away from work to begin a family. If you and your partner are both in a good place in your careers and have the time to take off of work, there is no better time than now to have children.

3. Happiness: Starting a family is a new experience, so you and your partner need to be happy and fully committed to each other before starting a family. If you and your partner are happy, loving, and supportive and you both are on the same page about your future, having children will only add to your happiness.

Evan Rachel Wood and Jamie Bell Tie the Knot

By Nicole Weintraub

Evan Rachel Wood and Jamie Bell went and got married, according to People. The bride revealed her excitement through her Twitter account saying, "Words cannot describe the happiness I am feeling." Bell's close friend Max Minghelia who also attended the wedding also shared his feelings regarding the nuptials via Twitter, "...Got to see my best friend exchange vows with the love of his life." The pair had been supposedly engaged since January of this year and married in a quiet ceremony with close friends and family members in attendance. They originally dated back in 2005 when they met on the set of a Green Day music video. They even got each other's first initial tattooed on each other, but split for some time. During their split Wood dated and became engaged to Marilyn Manson. Though, since then she has found her way back to her roots with Bell.

How do you know whether to have a large or small wedding ceremony?

Cupid's Advice:

Weddings come in all shapes, forms and sizes, so how do you know which one is for you? Here are some tips on how to determine whether or not to have a large or a small ceremony:

1. Money: The more guests you have, the more money your wedding will be. If you and your partner are on a tight budget, you might want to keep the guest list down to a manageable amount. Not all weddings need to have over two hundred guests.

2. The Venue: If you have fallen in love with a smaller venue, it may be best to cross off that third cousin twice removed. Perhaps you are having your wedding at someone's house and you only have a limited number of space.

3. Your Choice: At the end of the day, whomever you invite it completely up to you and your partner. You do not have to invite every one you have ever spoken to. The smaller the ceremony, the more intimate. The larger the ceremony, the bigger the party.

Rumor: Evan Rachel Wood is Engaged to Jamie Bell

It looks like actress Evan Rachel Wood is engaged again, but this time it's not to Marilyn Manson. British actor Jamie Bell and Wood have been dating since 2005, and it looks like they're finally ready to tie the knot. Although a source confirmed the engagement with UsMagazine.com, Wood's rep had no comment to confirm the rumor. That said, Bell was spotted shopping for engagement rings in late December, and Woods was photographed leaving The Hotel Cafe in Hollywood with some bling on her ring finger.

How do you keep your impending engagement under wraps?

Cupid's Advice:

Don't let someone spill the beans before you get the chance to pop the question. Cupid has some tips:

1. Family first: If you plan on asking her father for his blessing, ask him to keep it between the two of you, so that it can come as a surprise for the rest of the family.

2. Keep quiet: Once you've bought the ring, you're going to be excited, but try to maintain your excitement instead of blabbing it to the world.

3. Be prepared: Make a plan for the big day, and don't tell anyone else how or when you're going to ask.
