According to EOnline.com, Cavallari shared an Instagram post showcasing the celebrity exes' costumes, along with those of their three children. The couple first announced their divorce in April of this year after ten years of marriage, and Cavallari has been rumored to be casually dating comedian Jeff Dye.

In celebrity news, these exes took the high road and celebrated Halloween together with their kids. Why should you come together as a family for holidays if you're not together as a couple anymore?

Cupid's Advice:

Holidays can be challenging for separated families, especially when both parents want to be present. Even though it may be difficult to come together for a holiday with your ex, it may be worth it. If you are looking for some reasons to come together as a family for the holidays, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Create new memories: Holidays are the perfect occasion for creating memories with your children. It is important not to skip out on these types of memories just because you are no longer with your partner. Looking back, both you and your children will be happy you chose to spend these days together as a family despite any differences.

2. Demonstrate healthy relationships: Spending the holidays together despite no longer being together is a great way to demonstrate healthy relationships to your children. They will learn that even if two people have a differing opinion on something, it is still possible to compromise and communicate effectively. They will also learn how to set realistic expectations and boundaries in their future relationships.

3. Relieve family stress: Whether people are showing it or not, the holidays can be stressful for everyone involved in a separated family. While you may be worrying about not being able to see your children on a specific holiday, they may be facing the same fear. By making an effort to all be in the same house, you'll be relieving stress for everyone involved.

In the latest celebrity news, Jeff Dye may have just referenced a new romance forming with Kristin Cavallari. According to UsMazagine.com, Dye posted a mirror selfie to his Instagram account captioned, “Some women like hot guys, some like funny guys. Don’t be salty,” which Cavallari liked. While the celebrity couple has not made their relationship official, they were spotted kissing during a date in Chicago this October. Cavallari has expressed not wanting a serious relationship following her recent split from husband Jay Cutler.

In celebrity couple news, Jeff Dye hasn’t officially confirmed his relationship with Kristin Cavallari, but he seemingly referenced it in a recent Instagram post. What are some reasons to keep your relationship under wraps at first?

Cupid's Advice:

Just because you see your friends and family releasing details about their relationship does not mean you are obligated to do the same thing. If you are looking for some reasons to keep your relationship under wraps at first, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You're just starting out: When you are just beginning a new relationship and aren't sure where it's going, you may wish to keep the details to yourself. There is no shame in waiting a few weeks or months before sharing your relationship with others, especially if you are waiting to see if you're going to be with this person long-term.

2. Keeping it casual: If you and your current partner are just looking to keep things casual, then there may be no reason to post about it. You may not want to overshare about this relationship if you do not see yourself dating this person long-term, or are still open to meeting other people.

3. You want privacy: Some people simply want privacy in a relationship and do not wish to make all the details public. Whether you went through a public break-up in the past or simply do not want to answer endless questions about your new partner, seeking privacy is an understandable reason for keeping things under wraps.
