

Nicholas Hoult Breaks Silence Regarding Ex Jennifer Lawrence's Leaked Nude Pictures

By Katie Gray

Nicholas Hoult has broken his silence regarding the leaked nude photographs of his ex-girlfriend, Jennifer Lawrence. The silver starlet and 'Hunger Games' star admitted in a Vanity Fair article that they were intended for then boyfriend, Hoult himself. Lawrence, the Oscar winner, said, "I was in a loving, healthy, great relationship for four years. It was long distance, and either your boyfriend is going to look at porn or he's going to look at you." The pretty pair split in August. Hoult said, "It's a shame," according to UsMagazine.com. Furthermore; “It’s shocking that things like that happen in the world,” he stated. Meanwhile, J Law is currently dating Coldplay’s lead singer, Chris Martin. The couple is surely cautious, given the fact that we live in a crazy world.

What are some ways to keep the intimate details of your relationship under wraps?

Cupid’s Advice:

In our society today, it’s hard to maintain privacy due to the fact that we are living in the age of technology. It can be difficult to keep all of the intimate details of your relationship behind closed doors. Cupid has some ways to keep the intimate details of your relationship under wraps:

1. Your lips are sealed: Kiss and DON’T tell! If you keep the intimate details of your relationship to yourself, then nobody else can find out and it will remain confidential. It’s totally understandable to discuss the personal aspects of your relationship with your close friends and family. However; make sure it’s people you can fully trust. Also keep in mind, you never know who is overhearing your conversations – so make sure the stories you are discussing are those that you don’t mind if the world were to know. It’s safest to keep your lips sealed, just not too sealed!

2. Pay attention puhlease: With the internet and social media, news spreads rapidly like wildfires. People talk and gossip, people post and blog. Since this can occur so quickly, the information isn’t necessarily true – but that won’t stop the private details of your relationship from being out there. Don’t post too much information online. It’s a good idea to monitor your social media and make sure you always have tabs on the whereabouts of your phone, laptop, camera, video-camera, iPad, iPod, etc. You never know when those could be stolen, if someone has made copies of your information, or if someone has hacked into your personal accounts. Monitoring these will allow you to maintain the privacy you deserve!

3. What happens in 'Vegas' – stays in 'Vegas': It's human nature to want to have privacy in your life and, of course, in your relationships too. When in Rome, do as the Romans do. It's absolutely acceptable to live your life and engage in the kind of relationship that you and your partner both decide on. That being said, it can be really nice to keep the details between you and your partner only. There is a big difference between you and your partner being private, and keeping the entire relationship a secret. It can be refreshing to keep things between just you two. It provokes an 'us against the world' type of feeling which can be enticing!

Jennifer Lawrence Is Back in 'Hunger Games' Sequel 'Catching Fire'

By April Littleton

The sequel to The Hunger Games begins right where the first left off. Katniss Everdeen (played by Jennifer Lawrence) returns home after winning the 74th Annual Hunger Games with Peeta Mellark (played by Josh Hutcherson). After a brief celebration, the pair must once again leave their friends and family in order to embark on a “Victor’s Tour.” While visiting the other districts and preparing for the 75th Annual Hunger Games, Katniss realizes that a rebellion is slowly creeping its way into her world.

Should you see it:

This film will obviously be the first on your list to see if you’ve already watched its predecessor. The Hunger Games: Catching Fire is one of the most highly anticipated movies to be released this month, so you should definitely stop by your favorite movie theater or drive-in and see what all the fuss is about.

Who to take:

The Hunger Games: Catching Fire would be great to see with a boyfriend since it's guaranteed that there'll be plenty of action to keep his attention. Plus, who wouldn't want to see Jennifer Lawrence on a big screen for a couple of hours? If you don't have a significant other to take, a few family members or some girlfriends will do the trick as well.

What are some ways to stay connected with loved ones when you're miles apart?

Cupid's Advice:

Depending on the type of lifestyle you have, it might not be possible for you to see your family and friends on a regular basis. A situation like this can be tough for a person to handle, especially if they're used to spending time with their loved ones often. Thankfully, with the way technology is set up now, we are able to keep in close contact with the people we love. Cupid has some tips:

1. Call regularly: Whether it's for an hour or a quick five minutes, call your family and friends just to let them know you're thinking about – especially if you're on the road constantly. If your schedule doesn't really allow you the time for much conversation, send a few text messages. Your loved ones want to stay in the loop with your life and they want to make sure you're OK. Keep them updated, it's the right thing to do.

2. Video chat: Technology nowadays makes it possible for almost every individual to see each other face-to-face using a cell phone or laptop. Even if you by chance have neither of these, a portable webcam doesn't cost too much. Besides, seeing your family in real time will be worth the money you spend on the equipment.

3. Snail mail: Sending a letter or postcard is your next best option when all else fails. Mailing off little gifts and/or notes to all of the people you care about is a little more personal than just a standard e-mail. Plus, your loved ones will have something of yours to really hold on to until you get back from your travels.

Jennifer Lawrence and Nicholas Hoult Are Spotted Back Together

By April Littleton

According to People, Jennifer Lawrence and Nicholas Hoult have been seen together multiple times since their split in January. In late April, they were spotted getting cozy in a restaurant in Los Angeles. An onlooker said it “looked like a date.” The former flames dated for two years after meeting on set of the film X-Men: First Class.

What are some factors to consider before getting back together with an ex?

Cupid’s Advice:

Couples breakup and makeup all the time, but reconciling isn’t always the best thing for two people. It’s hard to let go of all of the good memories you shared with an ex, but you can’t put yourself in a situation where you’ll just end up getting hurt again. However, sometimes a second chance is all a couple needs to make things right. Cupid is here to help:

1. The length of the breakup: How long have the two of you been broken up? If the split is recent, it’s not a good idea to consider getting back together with your ex just yet. You need to move on from the relationship and all of the emotions that come with it before you'll be ready to make the decision to reconcile. After all, there's a reason the two of you didn't work as a couple the first time around.

2. Think about the relationship: What made you and your former flame date in the first place? What was the relationship like before the breakup happened? If there were more good times than bad, the relationship may be salvageable. If you can't see any foundation to build on, let the past be the past and start fresh. Romantically, the two of you might not be a good fit, but maybe a friendship can form in the future.

3. Same goals and values: A relationship will only be successful if two individuals have the same long-term goals or they are at least willing to meet each other halfway. Do you want a big family? What if your ex doesn't want children? Your former boo has always wanted to marry as soon as it felt right, while you prefer to take things slow. The differences between the two of you are too important to ignore. Trying to rekindle the romance will only lead to more heartache.

As for rumors that these two Hollywood hotties are dating, the Best Actress winner says, “He’s my brother.”

How can you help your friends find love?

Cupid’s Advice

You often know what’s best for your closest friends—and you should, considering the amount of time you spend together. When it comes to dating, they sometimes don’t quite get it right and may ask for your input. Cupid offers some tips on how to help them find the love they deserve.

1. Find the right person: Your best friend has been single for a very long time and asks you to set her up with someone. Where do you even start? Don't just find any guy on the street that looks nice. You don't want to be responsible for setting your friend up with a creep! Consider an old friend from college or a colleague who you really like. Make sure you know him well before introducing him to your friend.

2. Don't force it: Not everyone enjoys the idea of blind dates. In fact, a lot of women fear the concept or become repulsed by the sheer thought. Try planning a group hangout and invite your two friends who you are setting up. They might hit it off, or they might not. Either way, your friends won't be left feeling ambushed or awkward.

3. Express your opinion: All too often, our close friends end up dating guys that are no good for them. Their boyfriends don't respect them and refuse to treat them right, let alone pay for dinner. Unfortunately, your friend is so in love that she sees right past the flaws. Try pointing out the negative sides to her man without bluntly telling her to end their relationship. Sometimes, the only way to help the people close to you is by letting them figure things out for themselves.

Celebrity Hair & Makeup Artist Predicts Anne Hathaway

Will Steal The Red Carpet at The Oscars

By Whitney Baker and Nicole Cavanagh

Celebrity hair and makeup artist Julia Papworth finds her inspiration just about everywhere: from fashion magazines or local newspapers to sites like Pinterest and Vine, she's always looking for new looks to try. "It's important to find an image you love and then take it and make it your own," she said. By making a few small changes, you can create a unique style that will represent your particular personality and specific style.

Although Papworth focuses on hair and makeup, she often collaborates with stylists to ensure that, together, they're creating "a full package." Fashion and jewelry must align with hair and makeup to invent a character, whether it's for a red carpet, a work meeting or even a first date.

Speaking of red carpets, for the 2013 Academy Awards, Papworth hopes to see a lot of old school Hollywood glamour. To her, there is nothing better than a woman just being pretty. “No gimmicks or crazy blue eye shadow and insane hair. I just love beautiful looks and classy dresses. That’s what the Oscars are all about!”

Two great examples of this style from the 2012 Oscars are Emma Stone and Penelope Cruz. Stone took a risk by wearing red, a color that redheads often avoid. Her polished updo paired perfectly with the dramatic neck of the Giambattista Valli gown, making for a very sophisticated look on the young starlet. Cruz, on the other hand, opted for a romantic and flowing periwinkle dress by Armani Prive, which was both “stunning and super vintage.”

So who will steal the show this year? Anne Hathaway, according to Papworth. “She has been on point all year long and has been more adventurous with her pixie cut,” the stylist shared. Many women with short hair think they can’t be stylish or feminine, but Hathaway is a prime example of how to do it right. She keeps her look fresh and varied, mainly by “playing with color.” Changing your lip color or even your nail color will give your style a bit more edge when you have a short and simple haircut.

Papworth is also excited to see what Jennifer Lawrence, Quvenzhané Wallis and Jessica Chastain will be wearing. For Lawrence, she hopes to see a pretty, polished updo. As for Wallis, she always likes to see how the younger stars manage to look beautiful while still being age-appropriate. Chastain should wear a color that complements her luscious red locks, such as emerald green or deep plum.

This classic style holds true for men and even couples too. Papworth is a big fan of the clean, classy look that Justin Timberlake has been rocking lately. In terms of couples, “it’s nice to have a picture where you look like you go together.” You and your man – famous or not – should complement one another and support each other’s style. In addition to predicting the looks for this Sunday’s big show, Papworth is also a go-to source for everyday style, something that comes in handy if you’re getting ready for a first date.

Take a look at her three tips below and keep them in mind as you’re primping and hoping to impress that new guy.

1. Be comfortable. “If your uncomfortable in anything you’re wearing or how you look, all your going to do is think about that. If you’re wearing uncomfortable shoes, you’re not going to be able to hear a word your date is saying because you’re just going to think about how your toes hurt.”

2. Keep it simple. Simplicity is always best when it comes to date. You may be “super wound up and excited and want to make a big splash when meeting someone for the first time, but honestly, people want to see you and hear you and what you have to say.” Something simple, classy and chic is the best way to translate your personality to fashion and beauty.

3. Don't experiment. A first date isn't the time to try anything new. You always want to put your best face forward, so stick to something that works rather than something that might work. Don't test run a new hair color or makeup product. Of course, experimenting isn't always a bad thing. It's easy to get stuck in a style rut and do the same thing with your hair and makeup; Papworth has even fallen victim to this mistake.

Stepping out of your comfort zone may be challenging, but you have to give yourself some “tough love” and just do it. It's also helpful to turn to those around you for their opinions. “Confide in your girlfriends. They'll give you that extra push.” You should chat with your stylist too: he or she can help you find something new that you can recreate at home.

As Papworth says, “It's about finding that perfect marriage.”

You can catch Papworth's work on 'Legit,' an FX comedy on Thursdays at 10:30 p.m. EST.

Jennifer Lawrence Compares 'Hunger Games' to Kim Kardashian's Divorce

After a battle almost as fierce as The Hunger Games itself, actress Jennifer Lawrence scored the role of Katniss for the upcoming film. During an interview with Parade magazine, Lawrence related people's love for the Hunger Games with Kim Kardashian's divorce. "I was watching the Kardashian girl getting divorced, and that's a tragedy for anyone. But they're using it for entertainment, and we're watching it," said the actress. "The books hold up a terrible kind of mirror: This is what our society could be like if we became desensitized to trauma and to each other's pain."

How do you keep your divorce as drama-free as possible?

Cupid's Advice:

Going through a divorce without any complications or disagreements is unheard of, but Cupid has some tips to keep things as drama-free as possible:

1. Keep quiet: Blabbing about your divorce to everyone you know will only get the rumor mill churning, and before you know it you'll have more stress than you started with. Lucky for you, you're not Kim Kardashian who had the world watching her mistakes and eventually her marriage's demise.

2. Stay private: The divorce is your business and your ex's business, so be respectful of that and be appropriate when dispersing any information on the matter. You don't want or need outsiders getting wrapped up in your affairs.

3. Act maturely: You and your ex may not like each other anymore, and that's why you're separating, so be on your best behavior until you're out of each others hair. Things can get messy when emotions are running high, especially in court where decisions about money or children are being discussed, so don't give the judge or your ex-partner any ammo to use against you.

Check Out the First Blockbuster of 2012: 'The Hunger Games' !

2012's first big movie is right around the corner. The Hunger Games not only features a strong female heroine, it also features a complex love triangle. The upcoming action film stars Jennifer Lawrence, Liam Hemsworth, and Josh Hutcherson as the love struck teenagers who may be forced to take each others' life. Katniss and Peeta (Lawrence and Hutcherson respectively) are both selected for the Hunger Games, a reality TV sensation in a dystopian future where teenagers fight to the death. But the two of them suffer a connection as they are supposed to play up their relationship to get more viewers. However, Katniss also has Gale (Hemsworth), a hunting partner that she has suppressed feelings for. Who will Katniss choose? Will she have to kill Peeta?

Should You See It? In a word, yes. The Hunger Games looks to be an exciting movie and could be a great date movie that both parties will enjoy.

Who To Take: You or your significant other may enjoy the action, but The Hunger Games also has a loyal fanbase who read the book. A group of friends may work for this one as well. Just don't take your mother, the gore factor is pretty intense.

Are you forced to kill your significant other? How to get out of that and other difficult situations.

In The Hunger Games, Katniss is potentially forced to kill someone she has a connection with. While you may not share this problem with her, in many ways it's a classic Romeo and Juliet style problem. Here are some ways to get through really tough situations that test your relationship like nothing else could.

1. Prove everyone else wrong. People pit you against each other just to prove that it cannot work. If you and your significant other can prove them wrong then you have won.

2. Stick together. If you can't stick together and be there for each other then you have nothing. If you can comfort each other and only worry about yourselves rather what everyone else thinks, you two have the right stuff to pull through these difficult times.

3. Do what is best for them. If it is meant to be then do whatever it takes. Sometimes that includes leaving until things can get better. If it is meant to be then it will happen, but maybe now there is simply too much going on for any one person to handle. Do what you have to do and hopefully things will work out for the best.
