How do you announce your divorce to family and friends?

Cupid’s Advice:

When divorcing, it’s always better to tell your family and friends right away rather than procrastinating. Here are some ways to break the news:

1. All at once: To avoid telling the same story time and time again, round everyone up at once. Invite your soon-to-be ex-husband or ex-wife, and just as you announced your marriage to them, announce your divorce.

2. Don't mind judgment: Divorce is frowned upon by many people, and this may happen once you break the news to the important people in your life. However, you should overlook any negativity, because at the end of the day, you are doing what's best for you.

3. Keep it cordial: No matter what the reason for the divorce may be, let your family and friends know that you will be mature about the situation. Keep it civil with your old lover. This should release a lot of the tension in the room and prevent any misunderstandings between your ex-husband or ex-wife and your family and friends.

It’s always great to see loved ones supporting one another.

1. Take an interest: Whether it’s a record release bash or a simple dinner with co-workers, attending these events shows that you respect your partner and what he or she is doing in life.

2. Have a romantic evening: After a big business deal is closed or an important project is finished, plan a nice, romantic evening with just the two of you. It shows that you've been paying attention to what they are doing and that you're there for them no matter what.

3. Simply tell them: If you're proud, then say it. Shooting a quick text that says, "Good Luck, and I'm so proud of you" on your partner's big day goes a long way.

J.Lo's Ex Seeks Revenge on 'American Idol'

How should you handle a vengeful ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Seeking revenge on an ex is never the best course of action and rarely brings closure to either party. However, if you are victim of an ex's constant harassment, you need to protect yourself without making the situation worse.

1. Try to work it out: If you hear anything about your ex feeling vengeful, this may be the time to meet in a neutral location and talk things over. Tell your ex that he has every right to be angry, but that hurting you as a result is taking things too far.

2. Ignore it: If you can't get to your ex in time, and he starts sending you cruel text messages or spreading rumors, ignoring his actions can put a quick stop to them. Remember the old adage "misery loves company." If he sees that he's not getting to you, he'll have no motivation to continue.

3. Legal action: Most of the time it doesn't come to this. However, if you are being stalked, threatened, or physically hurt, you need to seek legal action, perhaps in the form of a restraining order.

Revenge may be the wrong course of action, but celebrities aren't innocent to taking part.

How do you find time for love when you have a busy schedule?

Cupid's Advice:

Like most people, you probably take on more than you should.

You manage to get by, but would love to feel that you've accomplished tasks instead of just getting through them.

Cupid has some great ways to strike a balance:

1. Put it down on paper: The first thing you should do is write down your schedule on a calendar in advance. Then, mark your top priorities with easy-to-read bold colors. Staying organized is key!

2. Share your activities: If you and your partner have equally busy schedules and find that you never see each other, take an hour each week to compare notes. With effort and a little schedule juggling, you'll find some quality time to spend together.

3. Avoid distractions: Sure, you may be tempted to watch a Survivor re-run with your beau even when you still have work to do, but it's best to resist, resist, resist! Losing focus and concentration in the middle of a project means it will take even longer. Being efficient and completing tasks will give you quality time together.
