Parenting Advice: How to Keep Your Kids Motivated Throughout the Rest of the School Year

By Jessica Gomez

Your child's school year is almost over! However, as they approach the finish line, some students may get off track. This is unfortunate considering that they're so close to the end! Having a support system to encourage kids with their studies is essential. The approach to motivating your children can depend on the child's age. However, some methods can be useful for children of any age if they're customized or "tailored" to the girl or boy, and that is where you, the parent, comes in!

Keep your child motivated with this parenting advice, along with some examples from celebrity parents:

1. Stay involved: When you are constantly involved in parent teacher meetings and school events, your child is more likely to keep their interest in school going. Being active in your child's school not only helps you keep an eye on them, but also familiarizes you with the environment they're in for the majority of the week. Being attentive is key. Celebrity couple Beyoncé and Jay-Z stay involved with daughter Blue Ivy's school. Bey volunteered at a fundraiser last year where she performed three hit songs, while Jay-Z attends PTA meetings. And, the duo alternates picking her up and dropping her off to school. If this busy, power couple can make the time, so can you!

2. Create a reward system while keeping yourself up-to-date:

Whether the reward is big or small, a reward is a reward. For example, having your kids do their homework straight after school before taking part in other activities is one way to do it. After doing their homework, getting to play, watch TV, or do any other acceptable activity is a reward. When creating and implementing a reward system, it is important to keep yourself updated with your child's work. Make sure they do their homework and projects, and don't forget to ask them how school went and what they learned. For a little more information on creating reward systems (specifically ones based on the child's age), read on here along with other creative ideas on Pinterest.

3. Encourage them:

This sounds simple, but many parents tend to sometimes miss it. School becomes something they expect their kids to do because they have to, but that does not mean that it requires any less encouragement than any other activity. Sometimes we're focused on tough love or are just not as involved as we should be (back to tip #1 above). Whichever the case, parents need to find different ways to keep their kids going. Be their cheerleaders! Many celebrity parents like Sarah Jessica Parker, Jennifer Lopez, Sarah

Michelle Gellar, Jessica Alba, and David Beckham, took the approach of encouraging their kids on the first day of school by posting photos on social media – photos can be seen here. This can also work toward the ending of the school year because it's an exciting time that should be celebrated.

Related Link: 5 Tips for Co-Parenting

4. Create a nice, clean work space for them: Having a study area free from clutter and unlimited distractions is an important space to have. It encourages you to do work and keeps you situated. Ideally, a good work space will be organized, well-lit, and comfortable. If your child is easily distracted by what's going on outside, their study space should be away from any windows. If they work well in silence, choosing the quietest place is a good idea. If they like some low background music, choose a space where you can set that up. Learn your child's learning and productivity style, and then appoint a space as their study area based upon it.

5. Share a productive and motivating lifestyle with them: Your mentality has a big say in how motivated and productive you are. Besides controlling your way of thinking, there are a few ways to change your lifestyle and your child's. Getting eight hours of sleep is important, depending on your child's age, even 10 hours of sleep is good for them. Many kids don't get the proper amount of sleep, which makes them too tired to be fully focused and productive in school. A good diet is also important because your child needs the energy to do well in school and in the other parts of their lives. Dark fruits and vegetables along with ones rich in Vitamin B (like broccoli, spinach, celery, beets, blueberries, apples, potatoes, and beans) improve memory and cognition and are also good for alertness. And of course, stay fit by exercising together as well.

These are just a few ways to help your child stay motivated for the rest of the school year – there are many more! Being a parent is a huge responsibility, and in order to do the job right, you have to know your child and incorporate different aspects of life into your parenting style, like described above.

Food Trend: Foods to Help Fight Springtime Allergies

By Rachel Sparks

Springtime is incredible. We can finally shed those extra layers, the greenery is coming back, the world is colorful from thousands of blossoms, and all the animals and birds come back. It's a time of life and renewal, until allergies kick in. What can ruin a magnificent springtime? Itchy eyes, a runny nose, and an incessant cough. Hilary Duff, Jessica Alba, and Tori Spelling are all known for their suffering from allergies. Cupid has the best food trends to help kick your allergies to the curb.

These food trends will help you survive the dreaded allergies of springtime!

1. Probiotics: You've heard of the wonders of probiotics. They're great for balancing bacteria in your belly to make sure that your insides work without any issues. Guess what else they do: fight allergies! Studies have shown that babies who feed on breastmilk where the mother took probiotics during and after pregnancy are less likely to have eczema and other forms of allergies. The good news for adults: we can skip the milk and go straight to the probiotics for some relief.

2. Sinus clearing spices: Spices like anise, fennel, horseradish, and mustard act as natural decongestants. If you're feeling stopped up in the nose, eating or drinking some of these spices help break up the congestion in your nose so you can breathe a bit easier.

3. Bioflavonoids: Say what? Bioflavonoids are proven allergy relief because they act as mast-cell stabilizers, which decrease the number of cells that react to allergens. Fewer cells reacting means fewer allergy symptoms. Where can you find these miracle workers? In apples, onions, tea, and red wine.

4. Omega-3's: Yup, that fish oil trend you've heard about for years is legitimate and well worth jumping on the band wagon. Along with happy vitamins that help balance your emotions and the memory-boosting elements, your swimmer friends contain EPA and DHA. Both EPA and DHA reduce allergic reactions. The best source: cold water fish, such as salmon, sardines, trout, tuna, bluefish, and herring

5. Local Honey: Our personal favorite: honey! It's sweet and delicious, great in dessert, teas, or even on a spoon. If you've ever had a cough, your mom may have made you drink tea with honey. The honey sticks to your throat, calming any irritation. But it gets better. Local honey uses local pollen, the very thing that causes your allergies. Ingesting this is a natural way of boosting your body's resiliency against local allergens.

Get a Knockout Look with This One-Two Punch in Hairstyles

When you pick up the latest copy of your favorite hair magazine, you'll find all kinds of interesting looks that'll likely draw your interest. The big question is, which one should you try? Are any of them worth a go, or should you stick to the same style you've been wearing for a few years now? If you're looking for a new look, you couldn't do better than picking what are considered two of the hottest trends of the moment, namely hair extensions and balayage. While each is a phenomenal opportunity for you to upgrade your 'do in style, when combined they can be even more of a showstopper.

Here's what you should know about these two of the most in-demand hair looks around.

Balayage—Is It Worth All the Fuss?

Balayage is a hair technique that's been getting tons of press as of late. All the latest Hollywood actresses, models, and music stars, such as Heidi Klum, Selena Gomez, Halle Berry, Ciara, Jennifer Anniston, and Jourdan Dunn, have been donning looks that are based on the balayage process in which color is "painted" into the hair by hand, rather than stylists using foil. Jennifer Lopez, who's been known to have arguably the best hair in the City of Angels, has been a great example of a star who's worn a balayage-based style with extraordinary flair.

The technique looks much like the ombré style, and, in fact, women frequently use the names interchangeably, although they are not the same at all. Since balayage is a technique itself, it can be used to achieve an ombré style. Otherwise, it's identifiable trait is that it starts higher on the head than the ombré look does, but both have the characteristic gradation in color, going from dark to a much lighter shade, with ombré extending all the way down to the very tips, or ends, of the hair.

Balayage is well-loved for many reasons. One of them includes the fact that it doesn't quite require as much maintenance as the ombré style. It's not unheard of for women with balayage to not need any kind of touch-up for as long as six months, even. Another reason why it's much loved is that it's fine for all different hair types and lengths (except super-short styles).

Hair Extensions

Not only has Jennifer Lopez donned tresses with balayage, but she's also been photographed with stellar hair extensions. She joins a long list of actresses and other celebs, such as Jessica Alba and Paris Hilton, who've discovered this amazing way to go glam really fast. Non-celebs are also increasingly getting them added; even teens are opting for extensions so they can be prom-ready. On a slightly more serious note, more women are also discovering that extensions, while being great to add length can, more importantly, also add density; for women with thinning hair, it's therefore a true godsend. They no longer feel embarrassed by their thinning hair.

Before you dash off to your stylist to get extensions, make sure this is one of their areas of concentration. What you want to do is go to a salon with a hair specialist who really knows how to apply hair extensions, like Colorado's Elle B, a full-service hair extension salon in Denver, with specialists in hair extensions who are 100 percent certified. If you go with an uncertified specialist, it's a huge gamble; you run the risk of having it poorly done that can ruin your own hair. Hair loss has even been reported. A well-qualified specialist can guide you about the best products you should use to avoid any kind of long-term harm to your hair.

Balayage Plus Hair Extensions

What many women don't realize is that they can get various treatments done on their hair extensions as if it were their natural hair. Remember, hair extensions made of human hair are still human hair, which means a stylist can still treat the hair with the balayage process to help you achieve incredibly streaked hair just as if it were done au natural. This combination creates a truly original crown of hair that would surely set you apart and thoroughly confuse anyone about what's real and what's not.

Long and Short of It

Getting either balayage or hair extensions, or both, is a great way to add dimension and density to your hair. It can add a fresh new look and produce a fresh new you. If you're looking to free yourself from the same styles, try these hot looks out for a change.

Celebrity Couple Predictions: Chrissy Teigen, Jessica Alba and Eve

By Shoshi

For today's post, let's look at three celebrity couples with happy and strong relationships – one twosome settling into married life, one duo with two adorable daughters, and one pair of newlyweds:

Chrissy Teigen and John Legend: This beautiful supermodel and her husband are just simply one of the cutest couples in entertainment. They were together for seven years before the sexy singer put a ring on it, and now, the couple appears to be blissfully married.

What makes these two work is that they allow each other to be who they are. In case you haven't noticed, Teigen is a bit of a wild woman, while Legend is more reserved. It's a great balance in their relationship, and there is a wonderful foundation of love and respect that keeps them going strong.

Baby energy is swirling around Teigen, so expect an announcement that they will be welcoming a bundle of joy by late September or early October. I keep seeing two babies arriving at the same time, which could be a sign of twins. Once Teigen starts to have kids, she will have a clothing line for little ones, which will be a huge success around the world. It will be such a hit that she will pretty much drop modeling to focus on being an entrepreneur.

Jessica Alba and Cash Warren: There are rumblings that this pair are having marital troubles due to The Honest Company founder being the breadwinner. They met on the set of Fantastic Four – she was the lead actress in the movie, while he was a production assistant. At the time, Alba was the more famous of the two, but who knew she would go from being a B-list actress to a savvy entrepreneur and spokesperson?

Fans, rest easy: Alba and Warren are not separating or getting a divorce. They are best friends and trust each other with everything. However, there is a some tension in their marriage. Warren is trying to figure out how to leave his mark on the entertainment business by being known as more than “Jessica Alba's husband.”

Luckily, Warren is beginning to gain some ground as a producer. He will end up producing a movie that gets him some notoriety and even nominated for an award – and Alba will be there right by his side, cheering him on. This couple will continue to go strong.

Eve and Maximillion Cooper: Eve is officially off the market! This past weekend, she married her longtime boyfriend, Gumball 3000 entrepreneur Maximillion Cooper, in an intimate ceremony in Ibiza, Spain. The two met at the Gumball 2010 rally when Eve was a participant in the race, and they have been together ever since.

While some may think that they're an odd couple, they are a great match. Eve became really clear about the type of relationship that she wanted, and she made big changes in her life for love, including moving to London. Long story short, girlfriend did what she had to do to get her dream guy. It can also be said that the singer is exactly what Cooper was looking for. After his first marriage ended, he wasn't sure he would get married again, but now, he cannot imagine his life without Eve; she is his backbone.

Recently, the rapper formed her own label and released an album, but all of that is going to take a backseat now. She's going to focus on her new television show about interracial couples and getting pregnant. Cooper has four children with ex-wife Julie Brangstrup, but Eve is so ready to have a little one of her own with him. She also recently said that her stepchildren want her to make them a brown baby sister. A baby is indeed on the way but not until 2015.

Celebrities Who Lose Baby Weight Fast

By April Littleton

We're all envious of the women we see on the front cover of magazines who seem to lose all of their baby weight as soon as they deliver their child. Some of us blame Photoshop because there's no way these celebrities can drop those pounds so quickly. While other readers credit the rapid weight loss to plastic surgery. This method might be used among some of the famous stars we know, but some of them still enjoy getting their bodies back in the right way:

1. Jenna Dewan-Tatum: Just six weeks after giving birth to her first daughter Everly last May, the Witches of East End star was back to work – in a size zero. “I wasn’t one of those girls who’s obsessed with losing weight, but that was a pretty good motivator. I thought, I’ve got to fit in the clothes I wore before!” she said in an interview. Dewan-Tatum managed to lose her baby weight so quickly due to the strict diet and regiment she stuck to while pregnant. “I think a lot of women find out they’re pregnant and are like, ‘Let’s go crazy and eat ice cream every day!’ To me, it was, ‘I’m growing a human being, and I want to give this little soul the best nutrition I can,” she said.

2. Jessica Alba: This Hollywood actress used unconventional methods to loss weight after giving birth to daughters Honor Marie Warren (born 2008) and Haven Garner Warren (born 2011). “I wore a double corset day and night for three months,” Alba told Net-a-Porter. “It was sweaty, but worth it,” she added.

3. Gwyneth Paltrow: The Iron Man 2 actress is also known for her commitment to physical fitness. After giving birth to daughter Apple (born 2004) and son Moses (born 2006), Paltrow worked out for two hours a day with celebrity trainer, Tracy Anderson. “It was not easy and, when I started it, it was by far the hardest thing I have ever done – but I really was seeing results so it motivated me to just work through it,” she said, according to the Press Association.

Celebrity Couple: Jessica
Alba and Cash Warren
Celebrate Five-Year Anniversary

By Kerri Sheehan

Jessica Alba and husband Cash Warren are still happy in love five years after walking down the aisle! The two met on the set of Fantastic Four and have two daughters together, Honor, 5, and Haven, 3. According to UsMagazine.com Alba dished to iVillage, "Making time for our relationship in our daily routine – even though it's surprisingly predictable and may not seem as spicy as our spontaneous pre-kiddo days – [it] really helps keep the romance alive."

What are some little romantic things you can do to make your anniversary special?

Cupid's Advice:

There are many ways to make your anniversary special. Here are some suggestions from Cupid:

1. Hidden envelopes: After being married for five years the honey moon phase tends to dull down a bit. Take this day to remind your partner of the reasons why you love them by stashing hidden messages around the house. Their morning cereal box, their brief case, and taped to their shampoo bottle are some clever places to hid them!

2. Make a mixed CD: Almost everyone uses music to express their feelings and mark special times in their life. Include songs that remind you of your partner and songs that define your relationship.

3. Do a scavenger hunt: Leave clues where your spouse will see them and bring them to all of the places where your “firsts” happened, ex. First date, first kiss etc. Be sure to be waiting at the end of the hunt with flowers and big smile.

Celebrity News: Earth Day In Hollywood How Celebrity Families Go Green

By Jenny Schafer for Celebrity Baby Scoop

Hollywood is going green!

On April 22, more than one billion people around the globe will participate in Earth Day. In celebration, let's take a look at eco-friendly celebrities like Jessica Alba and Tori Spelling who inspire others to protect Mother Nature.

Look through our list of high-profile families who minimize their carbon footprint.

Tori Spelling:

Tori Spelling and Dean McDermott are proud parents of four kids: sons Liam, 6, and Finn, 6 months, and daughters Stella, 4, and Hattie, 1.

The reality TV mama recently opened up to Celebrity Baby Scoop about going green “everyday,” not just one day out of the year.

“Everyday is Earth Day in our house,” Spelling said. “We definitely try to teach our kids to take care of the earth. Just the other day, actually, in fact it was in the playroom, Liam came up and said I turned off the lights in the playroom because I don't want the earth to get sick. It was really cute."

She added: "We teach all about recycling, we compost. We try our best to teach them how to take care of the earth."

Jessica Alba:

From her chic sense of style, to her hands-on playdates at the park, to her eco-friendly business, we can't get enough of Jessica Alba. After creating The Honest Company last year, the mom-of-two is now promoting her debut book, The Honest Life.

"It's a colorful how-to guidebook for people who want to make a healthy and non-toxic home without giving up the fun fashionable things," Jessica recently opened up to Celebrity Baby Scoop. "I hope people will be inspired to make the ideas their own and find what works for them."

She went on to talk about modeling an eco-friendly lifestyle with husband Cash Warren and their two daughter Honor, 4, and Haven, 1.

"First and foremost, we try to model and practice eco-friendly habits for the girls," Alba said. "Otherwise, we talk to them about being mindful and explain that things can be turned into something else one day. This can be as simple as teaching them about recyclables and showing how to sort bottles and cans from trash."

She added: "We also do a lot of DIY crafts like using cardboard boxes to make airplanes and dollhouses—our creative playtime together similarly shows the girls about repurposing old items."

The Sin City star says involving kids in the process is not only fun, but educational.

“Involving children in gardening and cooking is another great way to inspire eco-friendly living,” Alba shared. “Caring for the plants in our herb wall garden helps Honor understand the steps to growing food (including patience!), how it ultimately lands on her plate, and about being a good steward of the planet.”

The proud mom added: “Honor is also a great sous chef when we’re in the kitchen, so being a part of the dinner process encourages her to eat the foods she grows and develops her taste for fresh ingredients. Hopefully, this lays the foundation for children to prioritize their health and that of the planet.”

Tiffani Thiessen:

Audiences first fell in love with Tiffani Thiessen as Kelly Kapowski in Saved by the Bell and later Valerie Malone in Beverly Hills, 90210. Now we love her as event planner Elizabeth Burke in White Collar, and doting mom to 2-year-old daughter Harper.

The actress recently opened up to Celebrity Baby Scoop about the importance of leading an eco-friendly life.

“Earth Day is very important to us,” Thiessen said. “I’ve always been a believer in being green. We as a family recycle. We grow our own veggies and we have water tanks that store rain water and we then use to water our yard.”

Celebrity Baby: Jessica Simpson Celebrates Her Baby Shower

By Andrea Surujnauth

Jessica Simpson celebrated her baby shower on Sunday, reported People. Guests included Simpson's sister Ashlee, close friend Jessica Alba, and hair stylist Ken Paves. In the Tom Sawyer-themed bash, vintage tables, tin pitchers, and a wooden boat alongside the nearby pond were incorporated in the event. Simpson served pigs in a blanket, mini sliders and grilled cheese from a custom station. The mom-to-be was also sure to request Thousand Island dressing for the salad bar, "She's craving it!" says Mindy Weiss, Simpson's party planner. Simpson had a look of pure joy as she entered the party holding her 11-month-old daughter, Maxwell, and patting her pregnant belly. Simpson is expecting a baby boy.

What are some ways to make a baby shower for a second child special?

Cupid's Advice:

You had one baby shower already, so you don't want your second shower to be a carbon copy of the first. How do you make it special? Cupid has some tips:

1. Theme: Creating a theme for your second shower will make it a very special experience for all of your guests. Try not to go with simple themes like baby animals, go with something more out of this world like Jessica Simpson's Tom Sawyer theme!

2. New Games: Don't repeat games from your last baby shower. Try some new ones, or even better, make up your own! Your guests will love playing something different than the regular old baby shower games.

3. Arts and Crafts: Get your guests involved with baby preparation by having a baby headband or baby hat decorating station. The guests can design a headband or hat for your little bundle of joy. It will increase the excitement for the little one's arrival.

Jessica Alba: My Husband & I Are “Kindred Spirits”

By Jenny Schafer for Celebrity Baby Scoop

Mom-of-two Jessica Alba, 31, covers the February issue of InStyle and opens up about life with husband Cash Warren and their two daughters Honor, 4½, and Haven, 16 months.

On her connection with Cash: “I just knew when I met him that I was going to know him forever. It was weird; he instantly felt like family. I’d never felt like that with anyone. We got each other. We’re kindred spirits. On a weekend Cash might say, ‘Go get your nails done with a girlfriend. Haven is down for a nap and Honor and I will play. I know you work hard. You deserve some time for yourself.’ That, to me, is romantic. He’s saying, ‘You matter,’ and that I’m more than just the mother of the kids or the wife who goes out to events with him.”

On celebrating their ancestry: “When Cash and I moved into our family house, we collected hundreds of pictures of our aunties, great aunties, moms and dads, grandmas and grandpas, and sisters and brothers. Then we mounted them in the foyer of our home, covering the wall from top to bottom. Our daughters are continually reminded of where they come from.”

On multitasking: “Sometimes I can take multitasking to a level of insanity. Then all of a sudden the bath is too high and I’ve forgotten to give my daughter the thing she needs for school.”

On being a perfectionist: “Before I had kids, I was very responsible and serious. I used to be all about controlling my environment; Everything had to be just so. Now my idea of perfection is different. You can label bins and have a place for stuff, but when the kids go into the playroom, you’re not going to say, ‘We can’t paint because how are we going to clean it up?’”
