'The Bachelor' Star Nikki Ferrell Opens Up About Celebrity Breakup with Juan Pablo Galavis

By Whitney Johnson

On the red carpet prior to Monday night's premiere of The Bachelor, former winner Nikki Ferrell opened up to host Chris Harrison about her celebrity breakup with Juan Pablo Galavis – and surprisingly she had nothing but nice things to say about her celebrity ex! According to UsMagazine.com, the pediatric nurse shared, “I’m not a quitter. I tried everything, and he tried too. It wasn’t just a one-side thing. We real-life tried, not TV-tried.” She added, “I knew I was never going to be the number one priority. He has a daughter...but there’s a difference between being the second priority and the seventh priority.”

Not everyone speaks so highly of their celebrity ex like ‘The Bachelor’ winner Nikki Ferrell. What are some factors to consider when someone asks you about your ex?

Cupid’s Advice:

Everyone handles a breakup differently. Maybe you want to hide under the covers and consume pint after pint of Ben & Jerry’s Phish Food until your heart begins to heal. Or perhaps you can’t help but spill intimate details about your relationship to anyone who will listen, including that stranger who sat next to you on the subway. So what is the best way to respond when someone asks you about your ex? Cupid has some tips:

1. Think before you speak: It’s tempting to say exactly what’s on your mind (nice or not) when it comes to chatting about your ex and your intense breakup. Instead, when you’re alone, really think about your relationship and come up with a blanket statement to share with anyone who asks for more information. Take a cue from The Bachelor winner Ferrell and consider something as simple as, “We tried our best to make it work.”

2. Keep private details to yourself: If you find yourself saying too much when family or friends inquire about your recent heartbreak, start a journal. Celebrity couple Nikki Ferrell and

Juan Pablo Galavis were pretty upset about their celebrity breakup. How can you stay positive when ending a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

We've all been there: a bad breakup that makes you feel like you'll never be happy again. We know being strong is challenging, but staying positive can help you get through the tough times that are ahead. We know this celebrity couple will get through it and so can you. Here are three tips on how to stay positive when going through a split:

1. Forgive and forget: A big part of being positive is learning to let things go. Not all relationships work, so there is no reason to blame yourself or your ex. Learn to move on and remember the good times you shared.

Have 'The Bachelor' Celebrity Couple Juan Pablo Galavis and Nikki Ferrell Split?

By Emily Meyer

It looks like The Bachelor celebrity couple Juan Pablo Galavis and Nikki Ferrell have called it quits after trying to salvage their rocky celebrity relationship. For those who watched the controversial couple on The Bachelor and VH1's current season of Couples Therapy, it should be no surprise that there will be no more roses passed between the two of them. According to People.com, Ferrell dumped Galavis seven months after audiences watched him decline to say "I love you" to the 27-year-old pediatric nurse on the finale of The Bachelor. It seems she has finally grown tired of his childish behavior: On Sunday, she unfollowed the reality star on both Instagram and Twitter and then posted a harsh quote that appears to be aimed towards Galavis. She posted, "Isn't it pathetic how we waste so much time on certain people and in the end they prove that they weren't even worth a second of it."

'The Bachelor' winner Nikki Ferrell had a tough time figuring out when to end her celebrity relationship. How do you know when it's time to call it quits in a long-term romance?

Cupid's Advice:

We all want that perfect connection with someone, but we know that relationships and love are hard work. As difficult as it is to admit, time changes things, and sometimes, a breakup is for the best. So how do you know whether to stick around or back out of a longtime love? Cupid has some tips:

- 1. Your connection has faded: If you and your partner have lost sight on what brought the two of you together, then it's time to say goodbye. A healthy relationship is one where the passion is constantly flowing. Rather than convince yourself that you belong together, you should be reminded every day of why you're in love with this person.

2. You're fighting more often: When it comes to relationships and love, it's important to remember that it's okay to fight. It's not about how much you argue with you partner but how you resolve your issues as a team. If the fighting becomes more serious and filled with anger, it's time to break it off.

3. Your vision for the future is no longer the same: A must in any relationship is to share the same goals and hold similar ideas for what you want. Whether it's the number of kids you'd like to have or where you want to live, make sure to be on the same page as your partner. If you find you're disagreeing over these big items, how will you ever agree on the little things?

Andi Dorfman Says Juan Pablo Needs to Propose to Nikki Ferrell

By Laura Seaman

With Bachelorette Andi Dorfman accepting Josh Murray's proposal, talk of a wedding isn't far behind. "We have not really started making [plans]," says Dorfman. "I think I'm gonna enjoy being engaged for a little while..." According to UsMagazine.com, the newly engaged bachelorette was then asked if she would invite old flame Juan Pablo Galavis to the wedding. "Um, yeah—just gonna be a soft 'No' for now," she responded, later adding, "If he marries Nikki, he gets an invite." The newly engaged couple is talking about a spring wedding, but nothing is for sure quite yet!

What are some reasons to tie the knot?

Cupid's Advice:

Marriage is a huge step to take in a relationship. That's why a proposal is so important! Some couples date for years and never end up married, while others are engaged in a matter of weeks. How do you know when it's time to finally pop the question and take your relationship to the next level? Here is some advice to help you figure it out:

1. You've talked about the future in depth. Marriage is a (hopefully) permanent future together, so all parties involved should know about future plans such as moving, career goals, or anything else that would affect your lives together. Don't leave anything hidden from your partner! Your future plans don't just involve you anymore.

2. You're ready to join the family. Maybe it's been easy to avoid your partner's family so far, but once you're married, you are officially part of the family whether you like it or not. Depending on your partner's family situation, this might mean going to visit them on holidays or joining them on vacations. Make sure you like this family before you become a part of it!

3. You are prepared in every way. This means emotionally, mentally, and financially. If you don't have the money to buy a house, pay for a wedding, or even get a ring, maybe you shouldn't be proposing. Yes, a marriage is a sign of never ending love, but it's also a very legally and financially binding agreement. Make sure you have this figured out before you dive in headfirst!

Juan Pablo Galavis Proposes a Career Change for Nikki Ferrell

By Sanetra Richards

First comes love, and then comes . . . a career change? That seems to be what Bachelor Juan Pablo Galavis is asking of girlfriend and season 18 winner Nikki Ferrell. According to UsMagazine.com, the 32-year-old professional soccer player wants the 26-year-old to use the spotlight to her advantage. "He wants Nikki to work as a model or TV personality in Miami," says a friend of Galavis. Although it is a tempting proposition, the pediatric nurse does not have any plans on leaving her current field of work. "She loves her job," adds the source.

What do you do if your partner is becoming too controlling?

Cupid's Advice:

Loving someone for who they are is part of being in a relationship and sometimes you may brush a few things under the rug because you are accepting who they are. Nevertheless, there is one specific behavior you cannot ignore – controlling. Cupid has some tips on how to handle a controlling partner:

1. Take notice: There was a point in time when you may have thought your partner ordering food for you at a restaurant was a sign of him or her knowing what you like, or maybe you thought it was adorable when they picked out certain outfits (on a daily basis) for you to wear. However, the reasoning behind these “kind” actions soon become clear and you realize it is the need of control your partner must have. Do not overlook these signs. Instead, stand on your own two and let your significant other know you can handle your own. Or maybe even turn the tables onto him or her. Show them what it is like to constantly have their order placed before they have the chance to speak, or tell them what and what not to wear (yes, you should definitely take it to this level). As conniving as it may seem, your primary goal is getting your point across, thoroughly.

2. Communicate: Talk with your partner about any problems that have stemmed from their controlling behavior. Chances are they do not realize they are being officious. Take into mind their feelings before lashing out. Speak in calm manner that is not rooted by anger or frustration. You may even find a reason as to why they are obsessively controlling.

3. Work with your partner: Give them a few tries to adapt to actually not being controlling. If they begin to do something that resembles the behavior, stop them. You may have to repeat this quite often until they get it right. It requires you to be patient and understanding – your significant other may have a very dominant personality and is willing to ease that for the sake of your relationship.

‘Bachelorette’ Andi Dorfman’s Promo Poster Mocks Juan Pablo

By Sanetra Richards

More fish in the sea, right? Well, Andri Dorfman of The Bachelor's season 18 will definitely be testing out the waters in the upcoming round of The Bachelorette. In her first promo poster for the show's season 10, Dorfman lets it be known that Bachelor Juan Pablo Galavis is not on her good side, per se. The poster's caption reads, "She's looking for the right Juan." So where's the catch? Juan is marked out in red with the word "one" below instead. According to UsMagazine.com, the 26-year-old assistant district attorney described her overnight date with Galavis as a bit of a disaster: "Waking up this morning, I could not wait to get out of the Fantasy Suite," she said. "The Fantasy Suite turned into a nightmare. I saw a side to him that I didn't really like, and the whole night was just a disaster." Luckily, Dorfman is not letting that get in the way of her finding love through TV, and ABC is not either. The Bachelorette star went on to say, "I feel mentally all in, emotionally all in, physically all in. I am in the place in my life where I am just so ready for this. I hate to say it because I don't want to jinx myself, and be like, 'I'm so all in and if this doesn't happen it's the end of the world.' But I am ready. I have never felt better in my life about this, and I'm just excited."

What are the best ways to move on from a bitter break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Breakups are far from easy to get over, especially when things went terribly sour between you and your ex. It may come as an utter shock if your ex moves on quicker than you expected. However, do not think you cannot do the same. Cupid has a few suggestions to ease and direct the process:

1. Breakaway: Harsh words were exchanged, feelings were hurt along the way, and there is no way to mend – do not let this prevent you from cutting all ties. If it takes deleting their number from your phone to avoid the heart aching text messages and phone calls, do it. You want to take steps forward instead of backwards. This will gradually take time, but if you are committed to this and the next following steps, considering getting back with your ex will not be an option.

2. Have fun: Make plans with your girlfriends to go out and enjoy a night on the town. Being around people who genuinely love you will help take away some of the stress and tension that was a result of the breakup. Mix and mingle a little bit to see what else is out there. Of course, this does not mean you should jump into another relationship until you are completely ready to take it on. Embrace the single life for the time being!

3. Focus on something else: Pick up a hobby or an entertaining distraction. Those constant thoughts of your ex will soon disappear from your mind. Avoid any hobbies that may trigger a memory that you and your ex shared (remember, you are moving on). Keep on pushing and remind yourself, the relationship ended for a good reason.

What are some ways to know you're being yourself in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Your relationship is going well; everything is all hugs and kisses . . . except there is one problem. You are questioning whether you are still the same person you once were. Cupid is here to give you a few tips on how to maintain yourself in a relationship:

1. Doing what you love: Whether this is a hobby like reading or painting, if you are doing it because you thoroughly enjoy it, a sense of you still remains. The chances of you and your partner having all of the exact same interests are slim to none. So, why not do something that is just for you? A relationship is about union, not about consumption.

As stated before, your life does not revolve around your significant other (there’s no need to drag him or her along). Your friends and family deserve to have just you sometimes.

3. Being vocal: Having a voice in your relationship is vital. Do not think you are obligated to continuously compromise because you will eventually lose that voice, which is a part of you. Instead, inform your partner of what you are feeling or what your desires are and work towards them together.

Cupid's Advice:

It's no secret that planning a wedding can be stressful! There is nothing wrong with asking for help from others, whether it be from your mom, your bridesmaids, or a wedding planner. Consider this love advice and get ideas from your pals' ceremonies:

1. Just ask: If you attend a ceremony or reception that you really like, casually mention your feelings to the bride to ease her into revealing her wedding secrets. It never hurts to ask!

Cupid's Advice:

Outsiders aren't always your best friends. They will nitpick and find every single way to taint the connection between you and your partner. Consider this relationship advice from Cupid:

1. Maintain a sense of mystery: Nowadays, many couples share their most intimate moments to complete strangers without even realizing it. From happy times to the occasional arguments, Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram make it easy to reveal all. Instead, keep your feelings to yourself and let others think what they want about your relationship and love.

2. Focus on the positives: You may feel the urge to air your dirty laundry to family and friends, but be careful. Yes, it can be pretty tempting to vent about something your partner did or didn't do, but if you continuously tell your loved ones the negatives, they'll soon forget the positives. Remember to highlight the good times as well as the bad times.

Cupid's Advice:

Meeting people from other cultures can be shocking, but can you imagine dating someone with a different background? Cupid has some dating advice about what to consider when you're falling for someone from a different culture:

1. Embrace your differences: You were likely raised differently, so don't be too shocked when the two of you do things a bit differently. Don't pressure your partner into doing things your way, as that may feel unnatural to them.

2. Learn something new: Learning about another culture can be quite exciting, so soak up every moment of it! Don't stress too much about your differences, as the two of you can find common ground if you work together.

3. Take up cooking: Cooking is a great way to dive into your significant other’s culture! Just make sure to run the ingredients by each other. For instance, snails and frog legs are a delicacy in France, but here in the States, they’re considered adventurous meals.
