Now 46, she shares her story in Good Housekeeping's May cover story, "I feel very grateful that I had the courage to say no when I did and say yes when I could, that I waited to find the right mate and to have this little family. There's something about this time in my life where I feel like it's never going to get better."

What are some benefits to stepping into marriage slowly?

Cupid's Advice:

You are excited about being able to tie the knot with that special someone. If you're so excited, then why wait? Cupid has some reasons why waiting can be better than jumping the broom too quickly:

1. Experience: When you wait to get married, you gain more experience and you get to know what traits you want in a partner and what you don't want. This way when you're ready to say "I Do", you will be sure that the person you are saying it to is really the one for you.

2. Divorce: Getting married young runs a higher risk of ending up in divorce than getting married at an older age. When you're young, you're still growing and your aspect of life is still changing so your likes and dislikes may change.

3. Stability: When you are young, you are just starting off in the business world and you are not completely financially stable. This may cause problems and arguments between you and your partner, especially if you are married. If you wait until you are both financially stable, your life and a married couple will run a lot smoother.

Are celebrity crushes OK to have while you’re in a relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Celebrity crushes are for the most part harmless. Of course, your real life partner should always be your first priority.

Here are some guidelines:

- 1. Star struck: It's okay to joke from time to time about your celebrity crushes, but always let your partner know that he is the priority and will always will be your main squeeze.
- 2. Role play: It's not for everyone, but you may want to act out a scene from your favorite film starring your Hollywood crush. Cast your partner as your celebrity flame to make it interesting!
- 3. Don't be hypocritical: If you can have a celebrity crush, then so can your partner. Double standards never help a relationship.
